Honor The Dead By Respecting The Living

THIS MAY SAVE A LIFE . . .

Auto accidents – the worst ones – are caused by careless drivers. "That doesn't mean me," you'll say. But you are wrong! Every man and woman who drives a car is careless at some time or other. Behind the wheel when driving your car, practice these simple rules:

- Courtesy Means Safety
- Always Remain Alert
- Don't Pass On Hills Or Curves
- If You Drink – Don't Drive
- Drive With Care . . . Safety Is Your Business

Drive Carefully Over This Weekend!

DEADLINE NEARS FOR KIDS' FREE ADS

Kids, you'd better hurry . . .

Hurry that is, if you are planning to place an ad in the FREE kids' classified section to run in the June 5, 6 edition of all seven Hartley Newspapers.

Deadline for the ads is 10 a.m. Monday, June 3.

If you are 16 or under, the special ads offer you a chance to find a summer job or sell an unneeded item at no cost.

The ads will be printed exactly as written, with misspellings, wrong punctuation, etc., as they appear, to add interest and variety to the feature.

Here are the easy rules:

1. Only boys and girls 16 and under may submit free want ads.
2. Ads must not contain more than 20 words, including your name, address and phone number.
3. Name, address and phone number must be listed or the ad cannot be accepted.
4. No ads will be accepted by telephone. They may be taken or mailed to Hartley Newspapers, Boys' and Girls' Want Ad Dept., 2465 W. Broad-st, Columbus 4, Ohio.
5. All ads must be received by 10 a.m. Monday, June 3.
6. The newspaper reserves the right to edit or reject any ad.

NEW CENTER TO SERVE EAST AREA

CONSTRUCTION WILL BEGIN in July on this new 15.5-acre shopping center to be located at the northeast corner of Livingston-av and Brice-rd. The initial stage of the center, including a Big Bear Supermarket, will be completed by the first of next year. To be called Walnut Hills, the center is being developed by the Coso Corp. and will include a 1,250-car parking lot and buildings covering 175,000 square feet. Split level designs, waterfall, heated walks, ponds, covered malls and a bridge over the court area to second floor shops are some of the facilities being featured in the center designed by Coburn Morgan. The entire project is scheduled for completion by January, 1965. To be located near the termination point of the East Expressway, the center is expected to service East Columbus, Reynoldsburg, Brice, Canal Winchester, Pataskala, Pickerington, Baltimore, Carroll and Groveport.

MAJ. DON GENTILE

New Post Named After War Ace At St. Joseph Cemetery, Memorial Day

The world's most decorated flying ace, the late Don Gentile, who called the Hilltop home, will be honored once again.

On Memorial Day, the Major's former wife, now Mrs. Jesse Beitman, will officially name "Don Gentile Post 532," American Legion, at services in St. Joseph Cemetery.

The Post dedication at Gentile 11:30 a.m. will be preceded by a 10 a.m. Cemetery Mass, and a 21-gun salute ceremony by Southway Post 144, American Legion, at 11 a.m.

Ralph Montenaro, 3324 Mary, will become commander of the new post, which will be located at 2322 Sullivant-av.

A chaplain from Lockbourne Air Force Base will deliver the memorial to Gentile, at graveside services.

Guests invited to attend the ceremony include Columbus Mayor W. Ralston Westlake, Gov. James A. Rhodes and Col. O. F. Lassiter, commander 801st Air Division, Lockbourne AFB, with the "Officers' Guard."

Gentile, who was killed on a routine flying mission near Washington, D. C., Jan. 28, 1951, was decorated for his flying prowess in World War II and Korea by the United States, Italy (twice), the King and Queen of England and the British government; Belgium, France and Canada.

His war record includes 32 enemy aircraft destroyed, nine probably destroyed and six damaged.

He won 17 medals, including the American Distinguished Service Cross, with one Oak Leaf Cluster; Distinguished Service Flying Cross with seven Oak Leaf Clusters, the Silver Star and the Air Medal, with thre Oak Leaf Clusters, as well as a special citation from former president Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He was born Dec. 6, 1920 in Piqua, O., joined the Royal Canadian Air Force in 1941 and transferred to the U. S. Army Air Force in Sept., 1942.

Gentile completed 188 combat missions.

Major Gentile was discharged in 1946 and went to work as sales and service director for an aircraft firm, where he worked until Dec. 6, 1947, when he accepted a commission in the Air Force.

He was the father of three children, Don S. Jr., Joseph and Pasquale.

Gentile's greatest tributes probably are those paid him by other great men of his time. Some of them are:

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower: "He was a one-man Air Force".

President Franklin D. Roosevelt: "I call him Captain Courageous."

Britain's Prime Minister Winston Churchill: "If we had 100 Gentiles and 100 Godfreys (Gentile's wing man), England could sleep easy tonight, for come the morning and the ground would be strewn with Luftwaffe."

Herman Goering, chief of the German Air Force in World War II: "I would give two of my best squadrons for the capture of the Italian-born Gentile and the English-born Godfrey."

An open house, starting at noon, will be held at the Don Gentile Post hall on Sullivant-av.

Preaident Andrew Johnson, who was a tailor, never went to school until he met Eliza McCardle, a schoolteacher. She taught him and, after holding a number of political offices, he became president of the U.S. She met him when she was 16 and married him during the time she was his teacher.

Campers' Show

A bonanza of information, exhibits and demonstrations on outdoor recreation will be presented Saturday and Sunday, June 1 and 2, at the Central Ohio Camping Show, at the Franklin County Fairgrounds, Hilliard.

The show, ... nsored by Memorial Post 614 of the American Legion, will feature items of interest to campers, hikers and archers. It will be open from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. during both days. Admission is 50 cents for adults, 75 cents for couples and $1 for the whole family. All proceeds go to Legion child welfare and community service programs.

Stadium Theatre Announces 1963 Summer Season

OSU's Stadium Theater 1963 season will open on June 18 and close on Aug. 11. The eight-week season will include two musicals and four plays.

Ringing up the season for five performances from June 18 to 22 will be Mary Chase's world famous comedy. "Harvey." It tells the story of a man in constant happiness and his friend Harvey, an invisible six feet, one and a half inch tall rabbit.

Following in the line-up will be the delightful and romantic musical comedy, "Little Mary Sunshine." This musical spoof of all the operettas of early this century will play for 10 performances from June 26 to July 6, omitting the night of July 4. In an off-Broadway run in New York City "LMS" ran for almost three years, delighting audiences every night.

Third in the season from July 9 to 13 will be "Children of Darkness." This play has been called one of the best American comedies ever written. It takes place in the jailer's room of Newgate prison in 1725 and is an earthy comedy of corruption.

From July 16 to 20 Enid Bagnold's comedy "The Chalk Garden" is scheduled.

Lawrence and Lee's "Inherit The Wind" will be produced from July 23 to 27. The play is based on the famous 1920's trial in Dayton, Tenn., concerning the teaching of evolution. The play has many moments of both comedy and suspense.

Closing the season for 12 performances from July 31 to Aug. 11 will be the famous musical comedy "Where's Charley?" by Frank Loesser and George Abbott. Based on the world's most famous and popular comedy, "Charley's Aunt," this musical ran long in New York and on the road with Ray Bolger.

The Gate 10 Box Office for Stadium Theater will open on Monday, June 10. Season Thrift Strips are now available by mail. Orders should be sent to Stadium Theatre, Box Office, 154 N. Oval-dr, Columbus 10.

Educators To Sponsor New Technicians

The Columbus Area Technician School sponsored by the Columbus Board of Education will open its doors in September at 245 W. Broad-st.

Students will receive two years of college-level training, designed to produce a technician who can occupy a position between the graduate engineer and the skilled craftsman.

Three areas of training are available—business data processing, electronic technology and mechanical technology.

For further information, contact Clinton E. Tatsch, director, 221-3766, or write to the above address.

Hartley Newspapers carry more individual (not dealers) miscellaneous for sale ads in the classified section than any other Columbus newspaper.

Tribute Set For Boys Of Dixie

May 30 won't be the end of Memorial Day as far as one Columbus cemetery is concerned.

Commemorative service will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday, June 2, at Camp Chase Cemetery, 2900 Sullivant-av, burial place of 2260 "Boys in Gray" who were imprisoned here during the "War Between the States." The Sunday nearest the birthday of Confederate President Jefferson Davis is usually selected by the Dixie Chapter, United Daughters of the Confedracy, for the ceremony.

The chapter will be assisted in the program by Camp Chase Post, American Legion, and the 37th Division ONG Band. Fred J. Milligan, president of the Ohio Historical Society, will be the speaker.

The Second Ohio Volunteer Infantry will fire salutes. Representatives of five veterans groups will be special guests.

Capitol Rejects Union

The International Assn. of Machinists was rejected by the employes of the Capitol Manufacturing Co., 153 W. Fulton-st as their union representative.

The National Labor Relations Board held the election where 183 votes were cast against the union and 123 ballots were in favor.

Summer School Programs Set

Secondary summer school classes, available in all academic subjects where there is sufficient registration, will be offered by the Columbus Public School system from June 17 through Aug. 9, at designated schools throughout the city.

Cost will be $20 for each unit of credit for Columbus residents, and $40 for students who reside outside the school district. The fee is payable the first day of school.

Also starting on June 17, an eight-week summer program of free instrumental music instruction will be offered for pupils in grades five through 12.

And an art program is planned for pupils who will be in grades seven through 12. Cost of art materials will be $10 for pupils in the district, and $20 for those outside the district.

Classes will meet from 8 a.m. until noon.

MUSIC

The instrumental music program will be offered in the 10 senior high schools and at Westmoor Junior High.

Classes will meet between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m., and are designed for pupils in Columbus Public Schools.

ART

The art program, to run from June 17 through Aug. 9, will be held at Eastmoor, South, Linden - McKinley, Westmoor and Crestview.

Two sessions will be held daily. Older pupils will meet from 8 to 10 a.m., and the younger pupils, from 10 a.m. until noon.

DRIVER EDUCATION

Summer education driver classes will start June 17 at Eastmoor, Linden - McKinley, South, Westmoor and Whetstone, open to Columbus School District pupils. The fee is $15.

Additional information concerning summer programs is available from any school principal or by calling CA. 8-3821, Ext. 222.

TO ALTER HOME

Robert Weidner, 4404 Dundee-av, has been issued a permit to alter a frame building. Construction is valued at $1000.

THE NEXT CALL might be for a long haul and Harry Carney, Rt. 3, Circleville, wants all vehicles at Hertz Rent A Truck, 73 W. Main-st, to be in excellent condition. Carney has been a mechanic with the Hertz organization for the past 13 years.

A Truck For Every Occasion Is Offered By Hertz Rent A Truck

"We furnish everything but the driver." That statement by Albert VanGundy, manager of Hertz Rent A Truck Service, 73 W. Main-st, might be used as the motto of the local truck rental firm. "Everything" in this case would refer to equipment, truck of any size except semi-trailer, insurance and the convenience of having the use of a truck for almost any purpose without making the large investment required to own such a vehicle.

A mechanic, who has been employed by the local Hertz firm for more than 13 years, keeps all trucks in tip-top running condition so the renter is assured of safe, dependable truck transportation. Manager VanGundy adds to this his years of experience in helping the renter select the right truck for the right job.

"Helping choose the right size truck in good condition for those long trips can make a lot of difference to the person not used to driving a large van. The only thing we require is that the driver have a valid driver's license and has some experience at handling the type of truck he wants to rent," added the manager.

VanGundy suggested that anyone interested in using a Hertz truck call in advance to make prior arrangements. In many cases all the vehicles are requested for certain days and there are none left at the terminal for use by the person who has not called in advance.

All rates quoted by the management of the firm include gasoline and oil. Low cost insurance is added to the quoted rate and the deposit left with the firm is added toward paying the cost of renting a truck after the customer has finished using it.

Hertz Truck Rental is part of the Hertz Rent A Car system in Columbus and offers the same well-known service offered by this firm all over the United States.

Current equipment includes late model Chevrolet, GMC or other sturdy trucks, pick-ups, panel, stake and van bodies in one-half, one, one and a half, two and one-half-ton and larger sizes. All trucks are serviced regularly and maintained in excellent, clean condition.

For any type of trucking job the customer will find that within a few moments a trained truck expert will help make arrangements to speed him on his way with a truck that is right for his needs. Trucks can be rented or leased for an hour, a day or a week with no worry about mechanical condition, service or insurance from Hertz Rent A Truck.

LION's ROAR

By Connie McCleary

Band, GAA Elect Officers; Name Spring Sports Captans

Seventeenth Annual Girls' Athletic Club Banquet, "Aiming for Action," was held May 23 at Ilonka's.

Officers installed were Connie Julian, president; Cheri Papier, intramural manager; Joyce Knupke, vice-president; Carolyn Schneider, secretary, and Shyla Jones, treasurer.

The program also included the presentation of varsity letters, awards to intramural tournament winners, and junior letters to girls having participated in 15 or more sports in three years of GAC.

The place of women in sports was the topic of speaker, James Lorrimer, founder of the Ohio Girls' Track Club.

At a Sports Awards Assembly, also held May 23, awards were made to participants in spring sports and captains were announced for the 1964 season. New captains are Mark Engelman, tennis; Bob Peterson, golf; Walter Wallace, baseball, and Rick Harbold and Tom Leukart, track. Shyla Jones was also named head cheerleader for next year.

Cheri Papier, Bexley junior, recently took first place in the Women's Doubles Division of the Midwest Open Ping Pong Tournament held here in Columbus. Cheri also placed as runner-up in the Junior Miss competition.

Newly elected officers of the Bexley High School Band for 1963-64 are Bob Barr, president; Rick Davis, vice-president, and Cheri Papier, secretary-treasurer. Librarians will be Janet McCleary and Betty Langfitt.

"Gates" — to learning, organizations, athletics and enjoyment — was the theme of the 1963 Bexley yearbook, the Bexleo, passed out to subscribing students May 27 in homerooms. This year's editors were seniors Gail Gertner and Mary Jane Chittenden.

Hartley Newspapers carry more individual (not dealers) miscellaneous for sale ads in the classified section than any other Columbus newspaper.

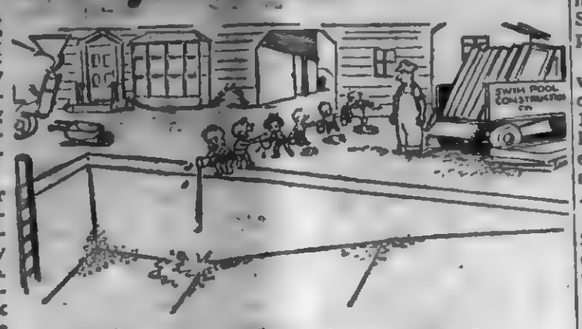
Aire-Flo In New Location

The Aire-Flo Corporation, local representative of Lennox and York heating and air conditioning equipment, has announced the moving of their facilities to a new location at 2587 N. High-st.



Frank Alexander, president of the firm, said the move from the former location at 2599 N. High-st, was completed recently without interruption in service to customers.

The new facilities have been completely remodeled and modernized to provide efficient service. The two-story, 11,000 square-foot building houses all Aire-Flo operations, including general offices, sales, engineering, installation and service departments.

BCIA Pays Tribute To Those Who Made City Pool Possible

A tribute was paid to builder, architects and trustees of the Bexley Civic Improvement Association (BCIA) Sunday when a group of Bexley residents showed up in bathing suits to announce the scheduled opening of the huge community pool on June 15.

"A-swimming we will go, a-swimming we will go—"

The finalizing of plans for the grand opening of the 292,000-gallon "L" shaped, $100,000 pool, was done on site by BICA Chairman William L. Birch, Pool Manager Don DeJong and lifeguards, Rick Davis, Jeff McLelland, Sue Antle and Kit Butler.

The luxury pool, measuring 40 by 42 feet, 13 feet deep in diving area and 77 by 82 feet in the swimming area, will open with an intensive swimming instruction program.

Pool facilities will include a 20 by 25 feet children's wading pool, men's and women's dressing rooms, toilet and shower facilities, snack area and a 100-car parking facility at the west end of the pool.

Viewing the oversized, Olympic, 8,000 square-foot pool, which is large enough to accommodate 400 swimmers, DeJong announced that registrations for Red Cross swimming instruction classes, to be given without charge Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to noon during the summer, are being taken now.

Other programming will include competitive swimming as well as general supervised swimming throughout the summer months.

The Bexley Civic Improvement Association noted the enthusiastic response of Bexley residents.

Many of the 900 families who have purchased loan certificates to make the community pool a reality have met other residents who make Sunday afternoon sojourns to Jeffrey Mansion Park to see the progress of the construction.

A ribbon-cutting ceremony, with reigning queen, band and Bexley notables, is planned for the June 15 opening.

Birch said information on purchase of loan certificates and season pool memberships can be obtained by Bexley residents from Mrs. John Ferguson, 801 S. Remington-rd, BE. 1-9785.

Cap Concert Slated June 2, 'Under Stars'

The Capital University Concert Band will present its annual "Concert Under the Stars" Sunday, June 2, at 9 p.m. on Bernlohr Field.

Featured as cornet soloist will be Charles W. Orr, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Orr, 1031 Shady Lane-rd, Whitehall. A junior in the music education curriculum, Orr is a soloist with the North American Band.

Under the direction of Professor Wilbur Crist, the concert band this year made two weekend tours in Ohio, appearing on the Bluffton College Concert-Lecture Series, and was guest clinic band at the Canal Fulton music festival.

TO BUILD ADDITION

L. G. Stronsnider, 614 S. Elizabeth-av, has been issued a building permit to construct an addition to a frame home at the same address. Construction is valued at $2 000. Contractor is W. H. Marshall, Inc.

Council OK's Zone Changes

Columbus City Council approved two rezoning requests following public hearings at the Monday night session.

A change from single-family residential to two-family rental units was approved for the south side of E. Mound-st between Waverly and Weyant-sts, and a similar change was granted for a 1.1-acre tract on the south side of E. Mound-st, east of Hampton-rd.

In each instance, council approval was granted despite a recommendation against the changes by the City Planning Commission and staff.

The Fabric Doctor

"What Suggestions Have You For Garment Care?"
—Mrs. I.D.S.

Dear Mrs. I. D. S.:

Perhaps it is time to make recommendations regarding the garments or fabrics to be cleaned or laundered. Too often the cleaner or launderer must experiment or guess as he endeavors to remove soil and stain.

When sending fabrics to be cleaned, write on a piece of paper what caused any spots. Some spots need special treatment such as perspiration and fruit juice stains. Mercurochrome or argyrol often found on bathroom towels are in this class, too. Identify the spot.

Tell what special fibers are in the garment. Does it contain Dacron, Dynel, Orion or other synthetics?

Do you want the finish restored? There may be a slight extra charge, but if a water-resistant finish is desired, say so. If sizing is needed, ask for it. Spot resident finishes also disappear with repeated cleanings.

Remove fancy belts, buttons, ornaments. Glued or plastic items may dissolve or stiffen in cleaning. So remove them or ask your cleaner to do so.

"Permanent" pleats seldom are. Ask your cleaner to press them, special.

In knitted or felt garments, shrinkage frequently occurs. If you want them reshaped to size, give the cleaner your measurements.

Taking care in this manner helps you get more pleasure and better service from your garments. You'll show yourself to be wise and thrifty.

Our Wish: A Safe Round-trip

The irony of Memorial Day makes for a sad reflection. We honor the dead with a bloodbath of highway slaughter that is little short of barbaric.

Motoring safety can be the difference between a round trip and a funeral. But all too often safety loses out to the personal belief that sudden death always comes to the "other fellow."

It might be interesting, Mr. Motorist, to know that your odds of becoming the "other fellow" are growing shorter. The "other fellows" established a new record for membership during 1962; 40,500 of them achieved the "once only" experience of death.

There is the secondary group of motoring casualties, 2,345,000 persons who were injured; some of them crippled for life. Each of them was pretty much like you, Mr. Motorist, until he suddenly became the "other fellow."

Consider if you will that truck drivers, as a group, constitute a relatively safe segment of the driving public. They are bombarded by company safety personnel with the idea of "defensive" driving. They drive for a living —and they drive in a manner best calculated to keep them living.

Consider also, Mr. Motorist, that almost nine of every 10 traffic accidents are caused by driver error and lack of judgment, and that about 80 per cent of all accidents occur in clear weather and on dry roads.

Our holiday wish for you is one that which only you can make come true. It is a wish for a safe round-trip.

Grads, From Now On You Help Yourself

To all area high school graduates and graduates-elect we offer congratulations and our best wishes for a secure and productive future.

For many of you graduation represents the reaching of a plateau in the climb toward the higher challenges of a college degree.

It is the time in life that marks the end of physical stature and the beginning of mature, intellectual growth.

To a great extent, you are now masters of your own destiny. There is no law that says you must remain in school. You will find willing help and counsel if you are eager to learn—and others waiting to take your place in college if "space" is all you choose to occupy.

Whereas high school is "fed" to you with or without your consent, college is education "cafeteria style." You help yourself, or you go intellectually hungry. We admonish you to help yourself freely; to learn well that you may live better.

An Editor's Outlook . . . by Jenkin Lloyd Jones

What Ever Happened To Keynes?

In 1935, when John Maynard Keynes was preparing to write his book, "The General Theory of Employment, Interest and Money," he said in a note to George Bernard Shaw, "I believe myself to be writing a book on economic theory which will largely revolutionize—not, I suppose at once, but in the course of the next 10 years—the way the world thinks about economic problems."

Jones

He revolutionized economic theory, all right. Or at least those who claim to be following his theories have. He is held up as an advocate of and an apologist for the wildest government extravagance, and politicians who love to curry votes by spending public money revere his memory. Only he wasn't in favor of that at all. He must be twirling in his grave.

Keynes was neither evil nor stupid. He was a brilliant Cambridge don who judged men and balance sheets so well that he made a couple of million dollars while lying in bed. That is, he used to examine the morning financial reports, phone a few orders to his broker, and rise to spend the rest of the day in more intellectual pursuits.

Keynes was already famed as the greatest economist in Britain when the Great Depression fastened itself upon the world. While financiers and statesmen kept assuring citizens that recovery was "just around the corner" Keynes pondered the fact that it stayed there.

According to traditional boom-bust theory a boom occurred when general confidence in future profits raised the investment level. This expanded production and employment and everything roared. But if confidence were shaken by failures due to overborrowing, or if the market's needs appeared overfilled then investment contracted, investors hoarded money, and activity fell off. When the "glut of savings" reached a certain point, according to the traditional economists, the interest rate would fall, industry would find borrowed money a bargain again, and expansion would start at once.

But in the Great Depression Keynes found that savings evaporated, too. In 1929 Americans were saving at the rate of $3.7 billion a year. Three years later Americans as a whole were not only saving nothing but were drawing down on their personal reserves. Corporations which had saved $2.6 billion over taxes and dividends in 929 were, by 1932, losing a total of $6 billion. In the same period corporate investments plummeted from $15 billion to $886 million.

Now the truism was plain. Prosperity is not tied to wants. It is tied to buying power. Heaven knows, at the bottom of the Depression everyone had plenty of wants. Consumers wanted goods; labor wanted jobs; industry wanted orders and stockholders wanted dividends. But there was a paralysis in the money-flow. The economy was in balance, but at a stagnation level.

So Keynes reasoned that government spending might trigger the recovery. He wrote:

"If the treasury were to fill old bottles with bank notes, bury them at a suitable depth in disused coal mines which are then filled up to the surface with town rubbish, and leave it to private enterprise to dig the notes up again, there need to be no more unemployment . . . It would be more sensible to build houses and the like; but the above would be better than nothing."

When Keynes visited the United States in 1934 he was received with open arms. Franklin Roosevelt wrote to Felix Frankfurter: "I had a grand talk with K and liked him immensely." For here was a man who not only approved but made both a patriotic and an economic virtue of government spending. Since the beginning of time politicians had been dreaming of a sound excuse for spending more than their government took in.

But this was only part of the Keynes theory. Government spending was useful only in getting enterprise going again.

"How soon will normal business enterprise come to the rescue," he wrote in a letter to the New York Times. "On what scale and for how long is abnormal government expenditure advisable in the meantime?"

Get the word "abnormal." For Keynes was a sound money man. "By a continuous process of inflation," Keynes stated, "governments can confiscate, secretly and unobserved, an important part of the wealth of their citizens . . . There is no surer, no subtler means of overturning the existing basis of society than to debauch the currency."

Nor was he as has been charged, a devious promoter of collectivism. "How can I accept," he asked, "the (communist) doctrine which sets up as its bible, above and beyond criticism, an obsolete textbook which I know not only to be scientifically erroneous but without interest or application to the modern world?"

Keynes' thesis was simple. In paralysis, government primes the pump with expenditures that exceed income. In recovery government restores its credit by reducing public debt.

Alas for Keynes! He underestimated the moral weakness both of governments and citizens. Once given the rationale for public debt everybody loved the spending. Wants became "needs." In good times as well as bad the debt rose. No political party dared make a serious effort to reduce it. Congress simply kept raising the debt limit. And now, with business faltering under heavy corporate and private taxes, the proposal is made to cut the taxes but to keep the spending at $100 billion.

Poor Keynes. He recommended that we have a before-dinner highball to reduce that tired feeling. And now we lie sprawled, surrounded by empty bottles.

Frosting On The Cake

By "UNCLE DOC" ROSS — U.S.A.

Every day we read in every paper sad-sack news stories about "what ails our kids today?" It seems high time for more attention to be given to the many marvelous things youngsters are accomplishing in this generation in so many sane and sound areas of achievement.

Music, scientific research, recreational leadership, safety education, public service; the list is endless of fine and socially sound things these inspired and inspiring teeners are doing.

Careful objectve investigation shows that where Mom and Pop are on the job as real parents who have proper balance between love and rigid discipline, the quotient of high grade elementary and secondary educational programs is higher from year to year.

"The growing pains are, of course, just as severe and tedious as ever, but the ratio is growing as each year's high school seniors graduate and go into life or higher education.

Faith in Almighty God, belief in old fashioned honesty, and willingness to work, control the lives of millions of our present generation from age 10 to 20. Total lack of faith in anything and utter disregard for the eternal verities are also manifested in each generation to be sure, but where home and church and school work together in sound character training, most of these youngsters are going to make the grade in life by the time they are 30.

It had better be so, because they, not us, are going to "call the shots" sooner than any of us realize.

Variety . . . by I. F. Howell

REMEMBER THE LIVING, TOO

Very properly we set aside one day a year as a memorial to the gallant dead of all our wars. Compared to their sacrifice in giving the "last full measure of devotion," there is little we can say except that we do remember.

But there is much we can do, not the least of which is to see to it that "they shall not have died in vain" by preserving and guarding the precious heritage of freedom that they were willing to defend, even unto death. This is the true meaning of Memorial Day—not the speeches, not the parades, not the show of the colors, appropriate as they are, for they are but the symbols of the reality of devotion.

Beyond all this we can honor the dead by remembering the living. All about us, in and out of hospitals, totally or partially disabled, are thousands of men, quietly going about, if they can, doing the things that must be done. They say little about their troubles. They take time out when they must, then turn back to their work when they can. Small blame can be laid, and surely not by the rest of us, if, at times, a few become discouraged.

These are the forgotten. These are they who risked life and almost gave it in defense of this land while the rest of us were doing something else or nothing. They don't want pity. They don't want to be called heroes. All they want is the assurance that we know and remember that they did what they could when it had to be done. Surely a race that can split atoms and probe into space should have gumption enough to recognize the dignity and humanity of their fellowmen who have gone beyond the call of duty and still carry their wounds to prove it.

It says here . . . .

The best way to honor the dead is to remember the living.

MEMORIAL DAY

Today flags are flying at half-mast—
In honor of all those who gave
Their lives in their country's service
And now rest peacefully in the grave.

They remain in our memory
Not just for one day each year—
They fought for freedom and democracy
And the land we all hold dear.

Let's try to keep the ideals
They fought for in foreign lands—
They gallantly did their best,
Now the future is in our hands.

But it takes more than a flower and a song
To assure that they died not in vain
We should make use of our nation's power
Good will and friendship to gain.

—Lena Linn

Leftovers . . . by John McPeek

Most Commuter Sentences Are Better Left Unsaid

Years ago humorist Robert Benchley wrote an article on how to avoid shipboard bores when traveling abroad. The most effective guise to discourage such earbenders, he found, was to assume the pose of a deaf mute.

McPeek

The only drawback to this imposture was that often it would hamper Mr. B's style if perchance he were to find on board a cutie traveling unattached. Naturally, to effect a shipboard romance, a mute tongue presented quite a handicap . . . even for such an urban cherub as Mr. B.

But that is neither here nor there, for Mr. B., having departed this planet in 1945, probably is no longer concerned with such earthly problems—if any. The only point is to express regret that the humorist did not devote equal attenion o the problem of persons who converse raucously on public conveyances, particularly city buses and commuter trains.

Certainly, not even the most ascetic of us would find objection to persons talking on such vehicles if they would do so in modulated tones directed only to the ears of willing participants. Unfortunately, this seldom is the case. On the contrary, most of these people seem to possess abnormally robust lungs and apparently believe what they have to say is, or should be, of profound interest to every captive passenger. If it is summer and the windows are open they yell even to nearby pedestrians.

Inasmuch as most commuters are content to bury their noses in newspapers, magazines or books, or gaze out the windows in quiet contemplation, it doesn't seem unreasonable that other riders should conduct themselves with the same deportment that a less mobile library would demand.

The talk usually dwells on such mundane topics as junior's sinus condition, the price of artichokes, the forthcoming P-TA musicale, hubby's expanding girth, Fido's mange affliction, or last summer's exciting vacation to a relative's hog farm in Nebraska.

As a Chicago commuter who spends 90 minutes a day on a train, the first thing I do upon entering the coach is to seek out an unoccupied seat as far removed from any pair seated together. If there is a pair of women seated together, I give up and fly to the next coach.

But it seems I travel under a dark cloud. Invariably, within a few stops, my ears are buffeted by the vacuous shrillings of late comers. And not even clouds of heavy cigar smoke will quiet them or chase them away.

So Mr. B, if you could lay aside your harp long enough to send us poor battered commuters a heavenly tip on how to cure this problem, pray do so.

We Are Responsible For Our Freedom

In your Bible, Acts 22:28 reads: "And the chief captain answered, with a great sum obtained I this freedom." And Paul said, "But I was free born."

We have a kinship with both these men. Every American can say with the Apostle Paul, "I am free born." (Or every American ought to be able to say that.) The racial tensions in Birmingham and elsewhere point up the tragic fact that there are some millions of Americans who have not been born free. The Civil War and the Emancipation Act were supposed to set them free. We ought to do all we can as patriotic Americans to see to it that every man and woman in America is given real freedom. We ought not falsely claim that all Americans are free simply because their freedom is provided in the Constitution.

Rev. Wines

The chief captain in our Scripture text paid a great price to obtain the freedom which came as a Roman citizen. Freedom is always costly. It is easy for people to receive the gift of freedom; a freedom others paid for with their lives, but when they do not pay the price to preserve it they lose it. After the Federal Convention, Benjamin Franklin was walking down the street in Philadelphia when a woman accosted him and asked, "Well, doctor, what have we got — a republic or a monarchy?" "A republic, madam," he replied, "if you can keep it." History is made up of the struggles of men grappling with evil forces in order to save what gains they have made.

Many may not realize it but the seeds of freedom are sown in the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ. Our Lord offers a freedom to all men which is basic to other freedoms. (John 8:36) "Whom the Son maketh free is free indeed."

It cost God much to purchase freedom for man. The price was far more than any man or all men collectively could pay. It was God's love for man which prompted His willingness. "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son. . ."

Salvation, which is freedom from sin and its condemnation, is every man's most desperate need and every man's birthright. Christ died for all that "whosoever will" can be freed from sin's bondage and woe.

On Aug. 1, 1836, the British Parliament abolished slavery in the West Indies. When the decree went into effect a year later, 20,000 slaves came together in Jamaica. It is said they put on white robes. At 11 p.m. July 31, 1837, they knelt and, with faces turned upward, waited an hour. As the clock struck the hour of midnight, they arose and shouted joyously, "We are free! We are free!"

Every Christian of every generation has been able to shout with the joy of a freedom no less real when Christ has struck the shackles of sin from them. But it is only as His saved people enlist their redeemed lives in sincere devotion and faithful service that they remain free.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Local Produce Plentiful For Holiday Menus

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Bananas, pineapple, strawberries, home grown rhubarb

Vegetables—Greenhouse tomatoes, asparagus, new potatoes, home grown salad vegetables, peppers, sweet corn

Meats and Poultry—Steak "specials," fryers, hams, sausage meats, ground beef, large eggs

Other—Ice cream, cheese, frozen: corn, peas, limas, lemonade.

Many vegetables are now coming from local farms that can add interest to your menus for Memorial Day weekend—and, at reasonable prices. For picnic baskets or patio meals you'll find good field grown leaf and bibb lettuce, dark green romaine, crisp radishes and green onions.

Mrs. Franks

For indoor meals, enjoy the freshness of the local spinach and other cooking greens before hot weather comes to stay. New beets with their fresh tops are a welcome addition to many produce counters, and offer the variety of an old-fashioned dish of boiled beets-and-greens. Don't overlook asparagus while it's coming from nearby farms; the quality stays good.

Greenhouse tomatoes always add an extra touch to salads or picnic baskets. You'll like their featured prices in many markets this weekend. Shipped-in produce is also increasing—more snap beans, cucumbers and vine-ripes at slightly lower prices. Expect sweet corn to be featured often, if present prospects in Florida materialize.

As for fruits, this is still between seasons for heavy supplies, although things are looking up. If you're wanting top quality strawberries expect the price to be high, as supplies are below normal for this time of year. At this writing, the California berries are beauties and there are some good ones from Kentucky, Illinois and eastern states.

You'll find watermelons with special price tags for the holiday weekend and some good values can be found on Valencia oranges and lemons. Mexican pineapples—those big ones that look green when they are ripe—are in peak of season. Tartarian sweet cherries, early peaches and a few blueberries are in markets at luxury prices.

This is the weekend to watch for meats suitable for grilling or for picnics. Besides the items listed above, spareribs, wieners and bacon are good values in many stores.

Eggs—any way you use them—give a lot of high-quality protein for your money. Production remains seasonally heavy and prices are expected to stay on the low side through spring, with some increase likely by early summer when supplies become moderately smaller.

Be sure to shop the dairy counter carefully. The whole roster of dairy products is there ready for the dairy industry celebrations that start next week. Some items are sure to be featured each week.

WARRIOR INFIELDERS READY FOR 'HOT ONES'

EASTMOOR'S FINE City League diamond mark this spring has received plenty of boost from this quartet of Warrior infielders who have been cutting off the 'hot ones' for coach Marsh Mobberly this season. The inner defense consists of, left to right: senior second sacker Dana VanHorn, soph shortstop Ron Bollic, soph catcher Mike Gornall, senior third baseman Frank Shannon and senior first sacker Vince VanHorn.

Warrior Drive Falls Short; Whitehall's CBL Hopes Die

Eastmoor rolled to three City League diamond victories during the week but the triple win wasn't enough for the Warriors to catch Linden as the Panthers nailed down the City title with a pair of victories.

The Warriors opened their final drive with a 3-1 verdict over South as Jerry Aggas and Jerry Myers combined to limit the Bulldogs to five hits.

DOUG CROMER and Myers allowed West but three hits the following afternoon as Eastmoor clubbed the Cowboys, 6-2, and then Aggas two-hit Walnut Ridge Friday for a 6-0 victory.

But the Warrior push fell short as Linden toppled North, 4-3, and clinched the pennant as Lynn Fitzer no-hit Central, 3-0 Friday. Linden finished with a 9-1 loop mark while Eastmoor closed out at 8-2.

WALNUT RIDGE closed out its '63 slate over the .500 mark by splitting a pair. The Scottles blanked East, 4-0, before falling under Eastmoor's last-minute flag rush Friday.

John McQuaid shutout the Tigers on three hits and fanned 12. The Scots supplied McQuaid with all the runs he actually needed in the second inning with a pair of tallies.

WHITEHALL'S HOPES for a share of the CBL baseball title went out the window Friday as Mt. Vernon saddled the Rams with a 3-1 setback.

Whitehall outhit the Jackets, 7-6, and got three runners aboard on Mt. Vernon bobbles but the Rams could cash the baserunners into no more than one run.

Bill Dildine's two-hitter against Bexley the day before earned the Rams a 5-0 win and had temporarily vaulted them back into the CBL lead.

THE LIONS did no more to help Whitehall out in the Central Buckeye title picture, dropping a pair to the league leaders—8-2 to Arlington and 6-0 to Worthington.

St. Charles gained an even split in four games during the week. The Carolians recovered from a five-run first-inning outburst by East to down the Tigers, 7-6. The Cards snapped a six-all tie, winning the game in the fifth without benefit of a hit.

Grove City sidetracked the Carolians, 7-1, Friday before the Cards split a pair with Springfield Catholic Saturday.

ST. CHARLES dropped the CCL opener, 8-7, in extra innings despite a six-run third. Pinch-hitter Bobby Walters singled in the winning tally in the nightcap, however, to protect the Carolians' one-game lead with a 7-6 victory.

Jack Diamond's two-hitter and three-run homers by Terry Moore and Gary Plank paced Hartley to a 9-1 decision over DeSales in another Central Catholic contest last week.

Academy split a pair to complete area diamond action. The Vikings dropped a 4-1 verdict to West Jefferson before bouncing back to trip University, 8-2, on Dan Fouche's fine one-hitter.

PIT STOPS

By BILL GRAY

The 1963 racing season got off to a chilly start Friday night at Columbus Motor Speedway. There was also sadness in the air, at the loss of one of auto racing's greatest boosters.

Bob Rader, for many years photographer at the track and other tracks in Central Ohio, passed away Friday afternoon at the age of 39.

Bob was always on hand with his camera to get the action as well as the winners and the trophies. Bob, I know, will be missed by us all. To his parents, Floyd and Grace Rader of Grove City, we extend our deepest sympathy.

DON GREGORY made it two wins Friday night as he took a heat race as well as the 25-lap feature event at the South Side oval.

He was trailed in the feature by Joe King and Marvin Willet. King and Willet also took the two semi's. Gary Weist was winner of the consi.

Sunday night brought out the super modifieds and the late models. Kurt Kraft took first place honors in the super modified 25-lap feature with Keith Weaver and Larry Bruce following. Larry Penelton won the semi.

IN THE LATE models, Paul Parks took most of the honors, winning the heat race, as well as the 20-lap feature. Keith and Chad Weaver followed him in that event. Keith Weaver was winner of the consi race.

Thursday night, the Speedway will hold its Memorial Day race, with both flying stock and super modifieds. There will be a 50 lap-per for the modifieds and a 35-lap feature for the flying stocks.

On Saturday night, the USAC midgets will go in the 50-lap feature event with some of the drivers from the Indianapolis 500 on hand.

There will be no racing on Friday night but both the modifieds and the late models will be back in the running Sunday night.

Top Putters Accept Bids For Tourney

Ten touring tournament regulars on the summer schedule of the Professional Putters Association have accepted special invitations to compete in the $50,000 National Putting Open in Cleveland, Ohio, July 5-7.

Tournament Director Dale C. Brady of Fayetteville, N.C., headquarters of the PPA, announced the acceptances and said "these top regulars along with about 15 others will go directly to Cleveland without having to take part in qualifying competition."

THE REMAINDER of the 325-man Cleveland field will come from 100 qualifying sites scheduled from coast-to-coast June 2, 9, 16, 23. Each of these 100 sites will qualify two pros and one amateur.

The local site for the qualifying round is the Putt-Putt Miniature Golf site on S. Hamilton - rd. Competition for a berth in the Cleveland tourney will be staged on Sunday, June 23.

The first ten exempted touring regulars include last year's surprise National Open Champion, Paul Garrison of Indianapolis, Ind., who won a three-man play-off at Cincinnati, Ohio.

The $50,000 purse at Cleveland will be the richest putting tournament ever held in the world.

Race Companion Pens '500' Memo To Driver

City Hospital
Indianapolis, Indiana

Dear Jack Turner,

I offer this note as an apology for my inability to pull you through the trials last week. I understand now that you have decided to retire since your time-trial accident so you won't be in need of my services any longer.

As you lie there in your bed, I suppose it sounds shallow of me to say that you are one of the fortunate ones with only a crushed vertebrae and multiple burns.

WE HAVE driven many races together, you and I. I hope you can appreciate my situation. Each year my task seems to become more difficult, particularly in this one tomorrow.

Actually, our relationship has been longer than many I have accompanied on the straightaway and sharp turns. I was riding with Bill Vukovich when he won in '53 and '54. And I was with him when he died in flames in '55.

Pat O'Conner was a likeable fellow. We got along fine until '57 race when his career was ended abruptly at the brickyard.

BUT YOU MUST understand, I can't drive with them all. Even I have limitations. Too many of you ask for too much at the 500.

It isn't my nature to question, but sometimes I wonder why they let it go on each year. They can't use that tired old excuse about "a proving ground for motor performance, brakes and tires."

After all, the big auto manufacturers have training tracks of their own now, safer and better engineered for the development of their products.

AND THE drivers themselves. You fellows aren't the Sunday amateurs behind the wheel. You are pros with technical know-how and the best possible command of your machiney. And yet —

Let's be honest. What can I possibly do when a tire blows or you experience mechanical failure or there's a pile-up up ahead? At this point, you're on your own.

Maybe it's kind of ironic that this race will come on a day when I will be even more helpless out there on the highways. After all, through 1959, there was only one death per race at the 500. I cannot boast of such success outside the oval.

EXCUSE MY smile, but I remember a warning when Motor Age proclaimed in 1919, "The cars are getting too fast (88 miles an hour)." Your friend, Parnelli Jones, flashed by the pole at better than 151 MPH in his qualifying run last week.

Should be a good crowd tomorrow, Jack. Track officials figure upwards of 150,000 will jam the stands and infield to see a new track record or maybe something else they have become accustomed to seeing down through the years.

Me? Yes, I'll be there tomorrow as I have been every Memorial Day for the past 47 years, riding beside every participant.

But as for you, Jack. Now you may rest and reconsider your narrow brush with fate. Others won't be so fortunate.

Your faithful friend and companion,
Lady Luck

Double Your Pleasure — Go Camping, and Boating

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

WITH SCHOOLS dismissing the camping season goes into high gear. For something different this year you might combine camping and boating—the two sports go together. Areas where boat moorage is available next to campgrounds include these state parks: Rocky Fork, Indian Lake, East Harbor and South Bass Island.

Another possibility closer to home would be a weekend canoe trip on a local stream, and camping out one or two nights. This would be on private land, and permission from the farmer must be obtained. The Olentangy, Big Walnut and Big Darby are ideal for an outing of this kind.

Most of the innovations in outdoor gear lend themselves to a boating-camping-fishing vacation. Tents that go up and down in seconds, cooking equipment that does the job in a hurry and improvements in lighting, sleeping and heating equipment help make a combination trip more enticing.

PERHAPS THE MAIN attraction of such a trip is that the whole family can pursue different sports. Dad can go fishing in the morning, while the rest of the family swims or hikes. Afternoons may be reserved for water skiing, or just a leisurely trip in the boat. After that can come games or other activities at the campground.

You see many campers today pulling a tent trailer or travel trailer with a sturdy but lightweight boat loaded on top of the car. This is an ideal combination for smaller waters, or if water skiing is not on the list of fun. Other campers concentrate on a larger boat, and much of their camping gear is stored in the hull for transporting. When you arrive at your destination, you set up camp and then launch your boat.

IT IS NOT HARD to find locations for this sort of weekend or vacation. The ones mentioned above are not far from this area, but there are a number of suitable spots in other state and national parks. Reciprocal boat licensing has opened up throughout the country this ideal of a combination trip.

Traveling to new places is a lot of fun, but there is also the danger of unfamiliar waters and different weather conditions. You should study the boating regulations of each state that you go into, and knowing the standard navigational markers is a must. Caution should be the by-word during a camping and boating trip.

Another tip is to query the gasoline companies before you plan a combination jaunt. Most of them publish folders that show where fuel and other supplies are available along waterways. These are most helpful.

Good sailing, and good camping. Maybe the fish will bite too.

Bexley Netmen Impressive On Area Courts

Bexley High School's 1963 tennis team has compiled an excellent 13-3 record for the season thus far, including five Central Buckeye League victories.

The Lions, coached by Dave Weis and captained by Irv Godofsky, have racked up double wins over Eastmoor, Newark, Chillicothe, Grandview, and Delaware. The netters have also defeated Portsmouth, Worthington, and Columbus Academy.

GODOFSKY, Jeff Schmidt, Mark Engelman, Dave Frasch, Dan Dick, Bob Greene, Mike Melton, and Joel Slaven earned letters for Bexley this season.

High points of the year have been victories over Worthington and Academy on May 9 and 16, respectively. Godofsky, Schmidt, Engelman, Frasch, Dick, Green, Melton, Slaven, and Mark Paine scored victories in these matches.

Greene and Melton won their doubles match against state-wide power Upper Arlington.

With Juniors Engelman and Schmidt and sophomores Frasch, Dick, Greene, and Melton returning, the Lions have sufficient power to fare well in CBL competition next year.

25 YEARS SERVICE

Carolians' Jack Ryan Honored At Anniversary Banquet June 19

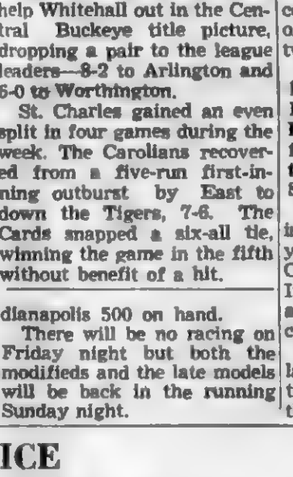
Silver-haired Jack Ryan, one of Central Ohio's best known high school coaches, will be toasted at a special silver anniversary banquet to be held in his honor June 19 at the Youth Center on the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Billed as the "Jack Ryan Appreciation Banquet," the event will mark Ryan's 25 years of coaching at St. Charles Prep. He coaches all three major sports at the E. Broad-st school.

THE BANQUET, scheduled to get under way at 6:30 p.m., is being sponsored by the St. Charles Alumni Assn., the St. Charles Carolian Club and the St. Charles Stagecrafter Mothers Club.

Except for time out for duty in the U.S. Coast Guard during World War II, Ryan has spent his entire career at St. Charles.

Under Ryan's guidance (wartime years are included), St. Charles football, basketball and baseball teams won 888 games while losing 371. This is an impressive .705 won-lost percentage.



WHILE RYAN has enjoyed success in all three major sports, his record in baseball is particularly impressive. Sparked by his personal enjoyment of the game, he established St. Charles as a perennial baseball power.

Excluding the current season, Cardinal teams have won 382 games and lost 143 since Ryan took over the coaching reins in 1938. Record books show St. Charles has enjoyed 22 consecutive winning seasons on the diamond.

Cardinal baseball teams reached the district tournament finals 12 times in the past 22 seasons. They came through with a district championship eight times and also won one regional baseball crown.

ST. CHARLES also won the Metro League baseball championship every year the league existed. In fact, the Cards were unbeaten in the loop. They continued their winning habits in the Central Catholic League, taking the title in 1959-60-62.

Also under Ryan, St. Charles teams have won summer league baseball championships too numerous to mention.

Jack Ryan

Cardinal basketball teams also have fared very well under Ryan's tutelage. Their record during the past 25 years shows 373 victories and 150 defeats. At one stretch before the war, St. Charles boasted a 76-5 cage mark.

IN FOOTBALL, St. Charles won 133 games and lost 78 during the 25-year span. Although Ryan has never had an unbeaten grid season, he came close seven times. St. Charles teams in 1940-44, 1952-53, 1956-57 and 1959 suffered only one setback each.

Last fall, when the Central Catholic League played its first grid schedule, St. Charles emerged with the crown.

Many Ryan-coached players went on to star in college. Some won All-American fame. Bob Duffy moved on to Tulane University when he won All-American basketball honors in the early 1940's. Jack Dowd earned a spot on the 1953 Little All-American team for his grid play at Xavier University of Cincinnati.

ANOTHER ST. Charles grad, Jim O'Neill, won All-American baseball honors in 1952 when he pitched Holy Cross College to the NCAA diamond championship. O'Neill won three games in the best-of-seven series.

Besides his coaching and teaching duties at St. Charles, Ryan also is active in other youth work — particularly in the Catholic Youth Council which offers a full program of athletic competition on the parish level.

Now 47, Ryan is a 1934 graduate of Rosary High School and earned his degree at OSU in 1940. He and his wife, Elaine, have five children, Kathleen, Patty, Jackie, Jimmy and Joseph.

THE RYAN FAMILY lives at 2299 McCutcheon-rd.

Dave Savely of 2883 Wicklow-rd, is general chairman of the banquet.

Committee members include George Vargo of 303 Hinman, secretary of the St. Charles Alumni Assn.; Dave Nardone of 7481 Stahl-rd, Orient, and Mrs. Howard Lloyd of 4100 Wright-av, Whitehall.

The banquet is open to the general public. Tickets may be secured from Savely or from Ed Murphy of 2694 Westmont-blvd.

Mayor Names Baseball Week For Whitehall

Walter B. Moling, Mayor of Whitehall, has proclaimed the week of June 1-8 as "Baseball Week." Here is the text of his proclamation:

TO THE CITIZENS OF WHITEHALL, OHIO:

WHEREAS, the great American sport of baseball has made substantial contributions toward the strengthening of our young people by permitting the enjoyment of friendly competition; and

WHEREAS, the requirements of baseball have helped to develop an alert, active, physically fit youth; and

WHEREAS, baseball as a sport has given enjoyment to millions of spectators of all walks of life who watch it being played; and

WHEREAS, it is vital that in a highly complex society as we enjoy that a sport such as baseball be fostered and promoted because of the good it does; and

WHEREAS, it is important that the citizens of Whitehall be reminded of the many virtues of this great American sport.

NOW THEREFORE, I, Walter B. Moling, Mayor of the City of Whitehall, Ohio, do hereby proclaim June 1 through June 7, 1963, as and by virtue of my official position I do hereby urge all citizens of Whitehall, Ohio, to observe this week and to cooperate with the Whitehall Boys' Baseball Association who are directing this observance.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of Whitehall, Ohio, to be affixed this 24 day of May, 1963.

Surplus Commodities Aid Those In Need

Many a homemaker with a hardworking husband has found herself at wit's end trying to stretch a dollar.

Her family grows and the cost of living spirals, but the pay check fails to keep pace.

There is, however, one help for her, of which she may be unaware.

Commodity surplus foods are available for the asking if her budget shows the need.

The Distribution Center the fairgrounds has many features of a supermarket—mountains of food, grocery carts and long lines at the check-out counter.

Only two things are missing—variety and a cash register.

Though one might regret the former, few can object to the lack of a sales tape-spewing register.

And taxpayers might rejoice knowing the government has found at least one way to cut the monumental storage bills the price support program has entailed.

On each of the four days a week the center is open, about 20 tons of food that the US government has purchased under the agricultural stabilization law is given to those in Franklin County who have a proven need for it.

As part of the county's welfare program, persons on relief and welfare are automatically mailed cards entitling them to draw on the supplies in ratio to the size of their families.

It is in the home where there is an income that just isn't big enough, that all this is news.

The questions most frequently asked by a new applicant are "Who's eligible?" and "What do you get?"

To establish eligibility one must certify to the Department of Public Welfare that his personal income is less than the standards established by the department ment for a family of its size, that savings are less than $300 and cooking facilities are available.

These standards are arrived at through the use of a rather complicated schedule, but larger families with less than $50 a month income per member would usually be eligible, and a retired couple with no income except social security would also qualify.

The food given out varies, but currently includes cheese, butter, powdered milk, chopped canned meat, lard, wheat cereal, flour, cornmeal, peanut butter, beans and rice.

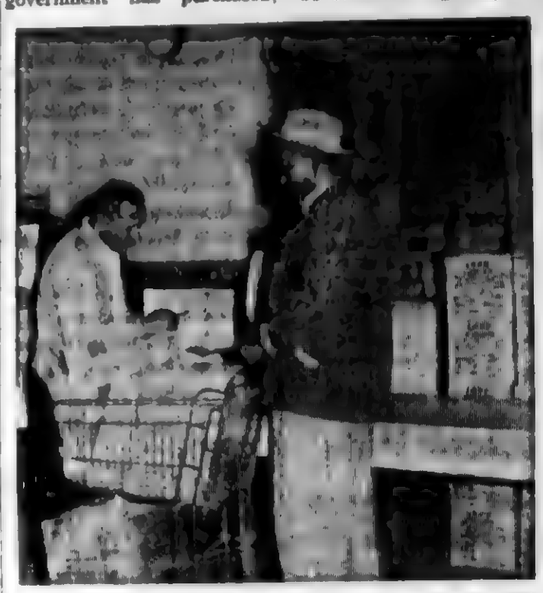
The size of the family and the product determines the monthly allotment.

For example, a tin of meat weighing almost two pounds, is allowed for each individual with a maximum of 10 cans for one applicant. No one receives more than two pounds of peanut butter.

Though the person living by himself receives a 10-pound sack of flour only semi-monthly, the large family is eligible for 30 pounds.

According to Harry Stewart, interviewer, and Albert Reed, warehouse manager, a family of seven can receive about 109 pounds of food, valued at retail cost at about $30.

Answering past criticism that recipients have been observed using taxi cabs to pick up the supplies, Stewart stated that such action is neither "unusual or imprudent."



He pointed out that no one can carry more than a hundred pounds of food, and those who cannot find other transportation would be penny-wise and pound-foolish to refuse to invest cab fare in $30 worth of food.

One day recently the center passed out 1990 pounds of butter, 1685 pounds of lard, 1951 cans of meat, 2028 pounds of wheat, 3280 pounds of powdered milk, 7790 pounds of cornmeal, 1852 pounds of rice, 3108 pounds of soup beans, 477 pounds of peanut butter and 2027 pounds of [illegible].

But no matter how much is given out, there is always a surplus for those in need.

LONG-TIME MOVING VAN driver, Grove Tippet, 1045 E. Rich-st, draws surplus food for his family to stretch the budget until he can get back to work after a stroke last year. Though his doctor says he can never again pass a physical for truck-driving, Tippet hopes soon to find employment packing dishes and such for a transit company for which he worked so many years.

WITH 13 MOUTHS to feed it is no wonder that Edward Walker, 1425 Gerald-av, claimed, "I just couldn't get along without this food." Formerly a construction worker, Walker's activitiy is now limited by a slipped disc in his spine. Charlie Gwean, full-time employe of the Welfare Department, here puts eight pounds of butter in his cart, completing Walker's monthly allotment.

Prince Charles was born to Princess Elizabeth of England and Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, Nov. 14, 1948.

LEGAL NOTICES

PUBLIC NOTICE

Public Hearing will be held by the Council of the City of Whitehall, Ohio, on Tuesday, the 2nd day of July, 1963, at 7:30 P.M. at the City Hall, 380 South Yearling Road, to consider the following:

ORDINANCE NO. 67-63
AMENDING ORDINANCE NO. 138-62, PASSED THE 6TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1962, AND AS SUBSEQUENTLY AMENDED, AS TO SECTIONS 8, 9, 10, 11 AND 12, REPEALING SECTION 98 (JURISDICTION AND POWERS), AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY

WHEREAS, the Council desires to clarify certain sections of the Zoning Ordinance and to better define and regulate the issuance of Special Permits; and

WHEREAS, the Council desires to remove a section (Section 98) of this ordinance which largely conflicts with the definitions of another section (Section 83); and

WHEREAS, the Planning and Zoning Commission has considered and reported favorably on the amendments as set forth below; and

WHEREAS, the Council has held a public hearing after publication of notice according to law; NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WHITEHALL, OHIO:

SECTION 1. That Ordinance No. 138-62, passed November 6, 1962, and as subsequently amended, be and the same is hereby amended in the following manner:

Section 8.

GENERAL COMMERCIAL DISTRICT.

In a General Commercial District no buildings or premises shall be used and no buildings shall be erected which are arranged or intended or designed to be used for other than a use for one or more of the following specified uses:

(1) appliance sales and service; art display and storage, including making of displays; bicycle repair shop, billboards and advertising signs not in advance of any building line, bookbinding, bowling alley; clothes pressing and cleaning (using non-inflammable liquids), clothing store; dancing school, dry goods store; electric substation; frozen food locker, furniture store; grocery store; hardware store, hotel; men's ready-to-wear, millinery shop, motel; notions store; plumbing shop; restaurant; school (trade), shoe store, super market; tinsmith, tire repair shop; wallpaper store, women's ready-to-wear;

together with parking facilities necessary for such uses as set forth in Section 40 of this Code.

(2) Buildings and premises in a General Commercial District may also be used for any use permitted in Section 7, Local Commercial District, of this Code.

(3) Special Permit — General Commercial

The City Council may, by Special Permit, and subject to such protective restrictions as are deemed necessary, authorize the location, extension, or structural alteration of any of the following buildings or uses, in a General Commercial District. If recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission, such permit may be authorized by a vote of a majority of members elected to Council. Otherwise, the same shall require the concurrence of six (6) members thereto. Additional requirements of Section 11 shall also apply.

assembly hall, auto park; cabaret; dance hall; fish market; laboratory, experimental and/or testing; new automobile and/or truck sales agency, used automobile and/or truck sales lot, new and/or used trailer sales agency and/or lot; pool room, private club, poultry market (killing and dressing for sale at retail on premises); retail filling station; skating rink, storage garage; veterinary hospital for small animals; wholesale business

(4) In a General Commercial District a pool room or dance hall shall not be located within 400 feet of a school.

(5) Adequate off-street loading and unloading facilities must be provided and so designed that any standing vehicles using them shall be within the property lines and be either visible from streets within all business districts or not nearer than 50 feet to such streets.

(6) Parking must be provided in accordance with the provisions of Section 40 of this Code.

Section 9.

INDUSTRIAL DISTRICT.

In an Industrial District no buildings or premises shall be used and no buildings shall be erected which are arranged, intended or designed to be used for other than any use permitted in Section 8, General Commercial District, of this ordinance or for one or more of the following specified uses or any combination thereof:

(1) Any manufacturing, processing or treatment plants of any kind, unless prohibited by Section 10 of this ordinance.

(2) Storage in bulk of, or warehouse for, such materials as building material, contractor's equipment, clothing, cotton, drugs, dry goods, feed, fertilizer, food, fuel, furniture, hardware, ice machinery, metals, paint and paint materials, pipe, rubber, shop supplies, tobacco or wood. Underground storage of liquid fuels, petroleum products, or petroleum, or volatile oils, to be stored in separate unit tanks or not to exceed 20,000 gallons each, to be constructed of steel, with all joints riveted, the location and installation thereof to be under the direction and supervision of the building inspector. The tanks for such underground storage shall be constructed as follows: 4,000 to 10,500 gallons capacity, minimum thickness of material ¼ inch thick; 10,500 to 15,000 gallons capacity, minimum thickness of material 5/16 inch; 15,000 to 20,000 gallons capacity, minimum thickness of material ⅜ inch, or to comply with the regulations of the State Fire Marshall. Unloading, storing or sale of materials or products or structures for such purpose on a railroad right of way.

(3) Wholesale business, wholesale bakeries, manufactured food products, manufactured confections, garment factories, cigar factory

(4) Newspaper, show, magazine and book printing.

(5) Cold storage plant, [illegible] works, brewery or distillery, central milk distribution station, creamery, ice cream plant, ice plant, grain elevator.

(6) Carpet cleaning, steam laundry, dry cleaning and dyeing establishment, laundry employing more than three persons.

(7) Freight or trucking terminal, railroad yard, foundry, vulcanizing shop, blacksmith shop, wood working shop, monument shop.

Section 10.

PROHIBITED USES.

Within the City of Whitehall no building or premises shall be used, and no buildings shall be erected which are arranged, intended, or designed to be used for any of the following specified uses:

(1) Acid manufacture; including hydrochloric acid, nitric acid, picric acid, sulphuric acid and sulphurous acid.

(2) Bars and night clubs except where the principal business is that of a restaurant.

(3) Beer and wine carry-outs.

(4) Bronze powder or other metallic powder.

(5) Cement, lime gypsum or plaster-of-paris manufacture.

(6) Distillation of bones, coal or wood, or the manufacture of any of the by-products of such distillation.

(7) Explosive manufacture or storage thereof in bulk.

(8) Fat, grease, lard or tallow manufacturing, rendering or refining.

(9) Fertilizer manufacture from phosphates or organic matter.

(10) Gelatine, glue or size manufacture

(11) Hamburger stands, drive-in restaurants, frozen custard stands or any business which dispenses food or beverage and does not provide a place for all of the customers to eat inside the building.

(12) Incineration or reduction of dead animals, garbage, offal or refuse, except that which is produced on the premises and goes into private incinerators, operated in a manner to insure complete combustion and free of offensive odors and smoke.

(13) Mineral insulation manufacture.

(14) Motion picture house.

(15) Motor bus terminal.

(16) Nitrating of cotton or other cellulose [illegible]

(17) Outdoor theatre.

(18) Rayon manufacture.

(19) Slaughtering of animals except poultry.

(20) Stock yards.

(21) Storage or processing of hides.

(22) Trailer parks or trailer camps.

(23) Any other trade, industry or use that will be injurious, hazardous, noxious, or offensive to an extent equal to or greater than any one of the enterprises enumerated above.

Section 11.

SPECIAL PERMIT USES.

(A) The City Council may, by Special Permit, and subject to such protective restrictions as are deemed necessary, authorize the location, extension, or structural alteration of any of the following buildings or uses, or an increase in their height, in any district from which these are prohibited or limited by this ordinance. If recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission, such permit may be authorized by vote of a majority of members elected to Council. Otherwise, the same shall require the concurrence of six (6) members thereto.

(1) Aviation field, public swimming pool or skating rink.

(2) Crematory or cemetery.

(3) Feat house, penal or correction institution, sanitarium for the insane or feeble-minded.

(4) Lumber yard, planing mill, basket material factory, furniture factory.

(5) Manufacture of paper, plaster, paint, enamel, lacquer, oil cloth, linoleum, sauerkraut manufacture, cider mill, or tobacco (chewing) manufacture.

(B) Before issuance of any Special Permit for any use of the above buildings or uses, the following conditions shall be complied with:

A public hearing in relation thereto shall be held before the City Council. The Planning and Zoning Commission shall study and within a reasonable time after the date of application for such Special Permit, shall report to the City Council regarding the effect of such proposed building or use upon the character of the neighborhood and upon traffic conditions, public utility facilities, and other matter pertaining to the public safety, or general welfare, and also report any and all recommendations concerning protective restrictions which may be deemed necessary. No action shall be taken upon any application for a proposed building or use above referred to until said public hearing has been held and action taken by Council.

Section 12.

NON-CONFORMING USES.

(A) A use of building or land, existing at the time of the enactment of this ordinance may be continued even though such use does not conform with the provisions of this subdivision for the district in which it is located. No enlargement or expansion shall be permitted.

(B) A non-conforming use of a building or land which has been abandoned shall not thereafter be returned to such non-conforming use.

(C) A non-conforming use shall be considered abandoned:

(1) When the intent of the owner to discontinue the use is apparent, or

(2) When the characteristic equipment and the furnishings of the non-conforming use have been removed from the premises and have not been replaced by similar equipment within ninety days, unless other facts show intention to resume the non-conforming use, or

(3) When it has been replaced by a conforming use, or

(4) When it has been changed to another use under permit from the City Council.

(D) Nothing in this ordinance shall prevent the reconstruction or replacement of a building wholly or partially destroyed by fire, explosion, act of God or act of public enemy or prevent the restoration of a wall declared unsafe by the Inspector of Buildings. No building arranged, designed, and devoted to a non-conforming use and conducted without abandonment as stated hereinabove, may be reconstructed, structurally altered or enlarged, or in any lawful manner extended so as to increase the floor space thereof over that existing, unless the use of said building is changed to conforming use, and any building which has been so used without abandonment may be replaced by a new building on the same area and used for non-conforming use, said new building not to contain more than the original floor space of the replaced building and to conform to all building regulations of the City of Whitehall, Ohio.

SECTION 2. That Section 98 of Ordinance No. 138-62, entitled "Jurisdiction and Powers," passed November 6, 1962, and as subsequently amended, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SECTION 3. That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, safety, health and welfare of the City of Whitehall. Such necessity exists by reason of the fact that the City is growing rapidly and there are many structures being contemplated which require a change in zoning so as to protect property values and assume proper municipal growth. Wherefore, this ordinance shall take effect and be in full force immediately after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

CASE NO. 188

Public Hearing will be held by the Council of the City of Whitehall, Ohio, on Tuesday the 2nd day of July, 1963, at 7:30 P.M., at the City Hall, 360 South Yearling Road, to consider the request of Cherly Realty Corporation, Inc., for a change in zoning of the property located adjacent to the Ohio National Bank, east of Hamilton Road and south of East Broad Street:

Being part of a 7.96 acre tract and more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the centerline of East Broad Street, at the northeasterly corner of said 7.96 acre tract;

thence South 0 degrees 32 minutes and 30 seconds East, along the easterly line of said 7.96 acre tract, a distance of 909.08 feet to a point at the southeasterly corner of said 7.96 acre tract;

thence North 89 degrees 43 minutes West along the southerly line of said 7.96 acre tract, a distance of 360.68 feet to a point in the easterly right-of-way line of Hamilton Road;

thence in a northerly direction along the easterly right-of-way line of said Hamilton Road, and along a curve to the left, a chord distance of 179.77 feet to a point of tangent;

thence continuing along the easterly right-of-way line of said Hamilton Road, NORTH (assumed), a distance of 130.6 feet plus or minus to a point at the southwesterly corner of a 1.062 acre tract leased to the Ohio National Bank, said point being SOUTH, along the easterly right-of-way line of said Hamilton Road, a distance of 233.66 feet from a point at the intersection of the easterly right-of-way line of said Hamilton Road, with centerline of said East Broad Street;

thence North 78 degrees, 34 minutes East, along the southerly line of said 1.062 acre tract, and parallel to the centerline of said East Broad Street, a distance of 200.00 feet to a point;

thence NORTH, along the easterly line of said 1.062 acre tract, and parallel to the easterly line of said Hamilton Road, a distance of 233.66 feet to a point in the centerline of East Broad Street, at the northeasterly corner of said 1.062 acre tract;

thence NORTH 78 degrees 34 minutes East along the centerline of East Broad Street, and along the northerly line of said 7.96 acre tract, a distance of 134 feet plus or minus to the place of beginning, containing 3.53 plus or minus acres, subject however to all legal highways and easements of record.

Said property is presently zoned General Commercial and A-1-A Single Family Residence Districts and it is requested that rezoning to A-O, Apartment-Office District, be granted to permit the construction of a motel (Holiday Inns of America) and purposes incidental thereto, including a restaurant. Proposed ordinance and report of the Planning and Zoning Commission are on file in the office of the Clerk of Council at the City Hall.

Whitehall-Yearling RAM-blings

BY ANNE MALAY

'Deep South' Theme Chosen For Junior-Senior Prom

The Whitehall - Yearling Junior class has finally disclosed its theme for this year's junior-senior prom. It is "The Deep South." The dance will be held Friday from 9 to midnight. Gym decorations will include magnolia trees, a "southern plantation," fields of cotton, gardens, murals, running waterfalls, and a garden swing in which couples may pose for portraits. Rick Monroe's Dance Band will play.

The Whitehall - Yearling Honor Society held a banquet at Haft's Restaurant, Reynoldsburg, for the 13 newly inducted members. The following will be officers during 1963-64: Mike Reuter, president; Margaret Leeseberg, vice-president; Patty Matchett, secretary; and Garry Stine, treasurer. The new members also received their pins.

The junior class sponsored a showing of "The Mouse That Roared" May 28 at the high school. Proceeds will help finance the prom, May 24 was the last fine-free day in the school library.

The Latin Club is making plans for a banquet at the Desert Inn. The date has not been revealed.

The Town Criers, a group of Whitehall - Yearling folk singers, composed of Joe Hughes and Gerry Ramsey, juniors, and Mike Short and Roger Roberts, seniors, has been featured at two Whitehall-Yearling "Hootenannies" held during lunch periods. The admission, five cents, and students may, if they wish, sing along. The Dixieland Band was also a feature at the first show.

Miss Ohio Mobile Home Is Named

Mildred Casto, 578 Parkdr, was named Miss Ohio Mobile Home during the Ohio Mobile Home Convention. May 20 and 21 at the Neil House Hotel. Senator Tennyson Guyer, Sandusky, and Vicki Jo Boyer, Dayton, last year's queen, crowned the new queen at a banquet held at the end of the convention.

Master of ceremonies for the banquet was former Columbus Mayor M. E. (Jack) Sensenbrenner. Guests included many state senators, representatives and public officials.

Canada Goes After Vacation Business

For the past ten years I have made from two to three sojourns into Canada each summer and each time I have been impressed with the remarkable development that is taking place.

On crossing the border into our neighbor country to the north, at either Windsor or Buffalo, one is impressed by the new and modern buildings and the vast number of American industries that have established plants there. Actually, the countryside as well as the city is almost identical to ours until one heads directly north.

Soon after leaving the outskirts of Toronto, heading toward North Bay, the wide open vastness of one of the world's finest vacationlands begins to open up and the country gets more interesting as you proceed north.

Well do I remember how, on my first trip up that way many years ago, it was quite difficult to find good motel accommodations or good restaurants. Today, however, this has changed and overnight accommodations are plentiful and good restaurants are not so far between.

The old established rule still applies in Canada — if you want the best meal you are safest in visiting the hotels. On the way up this time we dropped in at the Empire Hotel in Huntsville where the food was quite tasty and a smorgasbord salad table left such an impression that I am sure we will be future customers of

Safety Director's Billiard Hall Protest Heard In Whitehall

VFW LAUDS WHITEHALL ATHLETE, SCHOLAR

Over strong protests from Safety Director Richard Moling, Whitehall council Tuesday night passed an eight-page ordinance allowing pool and billiard operations in the city.

Prior to the time when the ordinance was read, Moling urged that the solons not only defeat the measure but, further, that they "pass an ordinance making billiard halls illegal in Whitehall."

The safety director's main concern seemed to be late-hour and Sunday operations of the D and D Billard Parlor on E. Main-st. This hall was opened recently in the building formerly occupied by the Whitehall Post Office.

Moling said that the police department had made "numerous checks" on the firm's operations and found that they stayed open "sometimes until 6 a.m., and on Sundays."

Moling cited this as a "breech of faith" and maintained that the firm's owners had previously met with council's safety committee and "promised" they would close at "reasonable hours and on Sunday."

Dave Feinstein, 25, a Bexley High graduate and part owner of the firm, said that they "had been closing at

COLUMBUS' FIRST LADY

JOANNE PICKING, 3500 Scottwood-rd, was named the first-ever Miss Columbus Friday night in the Town and Country Shopping Center. Miss Columbus runner-up was Gloria Jean McBride who, Wednesday evening, placed second in the Miss Ohio Contest in Cleveland while Joanne ended among the top ten, also. Miss Picking is the 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Picking of Wooster. (For complete details and picture coverage of the Miss Columbus pageant, see page 3).

Jackpot Now $46

The jackpot in the Hartley "Confederate" Money Contest is on its way back up after being emptied two weeks ago by a Hartley Newspaper subscriber.

A new total of $46 in "Confederate" cash is now available to the finder of the lucky "5" emblem hidden in one of the 72,000 Hartley Newspapers printed this week. Twenty readers can win one "Confederate" dollar by finding the "1" insignia in 20 Hartley Newspapers.

To find out how you can be a winner and spend your "Confederate" dollars just like real cash, be sure and read the list of rules and winners inside this paper.

Playgrounds Open June 12

Organizing a summer of play for hundreds of East Side youngsters is no easy task.

The Columbus Recreation Department, however, manages to do it in grand, championship style and this year is no exception except, maybe, for the fact that the plans are a wee bit larger.

The department plans to open 81 supervised summer playgrounds (13 in the Eastern Review area alone) which is four more than last year.

Doors open Wednesday, June 12, and remain open until Aug. 23. The city will maintain a Monday-through-Friday schedule of organized fun. Hours will be 12:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Playground highlights during the rest of June will include:

June 12-13 — Junior Jet Baseball League meetings. June 14 — Flag Day. June 17 — Physical fitness tests begin. June 20 — Playground pet shows.

June 21 — Section pet shows (6:30 p.m.) at Beatty, Glenwood, Linden, Schiller and Whetsone. June 24 — Playground tournaments in four squares, horseshows and tetherball.

June 26—Playground clown contests and June 28—City-wide clown contest which will be held in City Hall.

Indian Village Day Camp trips for boys and girls eight through 12 will be offered for each playground. East side children will be picked up at Thompson and Krumm areas July 22 and at James-rd and Leawood areas July 29.

Playgrounds in the East Side area include:

Courtright School, 1712 Courtright-rd; Fairmoor

Eastmoor's 'Uncle Miltie' Plans To Leave Civil Service Position

"Uncle Miltie" is calling it quits.

He's laying up his traveling gear and accepting his retirement papers from federal Civil Service after putting in over 35 years, and clocking well over a million miles of travel in the liaison service for the Department of the Army.

Milton Pierson, 378 North Roosevelt-av, will be 70 years old on June 28.

On June 1, the U. S. Army Mobility Support Center honored this veteran member of its world-wide maintenance liaison team with a retirement ceremony and party at the Officers' Mess, Defense Construction Supply Center.

This big, amiable native of Chicago, dubbed "Uncle Miltie" by junior liaison men out of respect for his experience in the technical aspects of Army Engineering, makes the flat assertion "I've been in every big city in the United States, the width and breadth of Canada and Alaska and know like a book such typical tropical areas as Panama and Puerto Rico."

He began his federal service career in 1919 with a five-year stint with the Interstate Commerce Commission in railroad evaluation work. He followed this with several engineering construction type jobs on dams and roads before his assignment in the procurement division of the Office of the Chief of Engineers in Washington, where he was responsible for the purchase of over a billion dollars in engineering type equipment during World War II.

He began 17 years on-the-road in 1946 as the first civilian liaison man with the Chief of Engineers' Mainten-

Hubby's Good Turn Backfires As Wife Grieves Cat Loss

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Barring Halloween, it isn't very often that a cat makes the news.

But when a little long-haired calico named "Puff" becomes indirectly responsible for a standoff between a South Side couple and the Humane Society and when the same feline falls victim to an old wives' tale, that's another story.

Let's start at the beginning.

Last May 24, Mrs. Judy England and her husband, Leland, obtained "Puff" from the Humane Society Shelter on Groveport-pk. The receipt reads $2.59 for the purchase of the pet.

Since then, Mrs. England gave birth to a baby boy.

While she was at the hospital, her husband evidently got swept up in his worrisome role as an expectant father, remembered the superstition about cats being dangerous around babies and whisked the furry feline back to its shelter home.

Events took a turn to the serious.

Mrs. England has taken "Puff's" plight to heart and the new mother's physician, Dr. Donald McBride, is quite concerned about the effect that the loss of the cat has had on Judy.

"She's stewed herself into a pretty good upset over this thing. It would be well if she could get the cat back — for her own health's sake," Dr. McBride commented.

At the same time the good doctor dispelled (for the record) any and all rumors about cats and babies —leaving well-meaning husband Leland higher up in the air than a kitten on a hot, tin rooftop.

"There's no truth at all to the superstition," the doctor added. "Cats are, at times, known to be jealous and the only slight danger existing is that it may scratch the child."

The Englands (yes, even Leland is back in the search after realizing his wrong) can't get any satisfaction from Tom Justice, who heads the society, as to what may have become of the cat.

Justice maintained that records of a cat's disposition are kept for 30 days and that the Englands didn't come in during that period. The Englands, however, claim otherwise.

"We get some 8,000 cats here a year," added Justice. "We can only find homes for some 60 to 75 a month. The rest we put to sleep. I just can't say what happened to this one. I have offered to give the Englands another cat if they wanted one."

Alas, Judy won't settle for a substitute. "I've cried more than one night over 'Puff'," she says with obvious concern. "I won't have another cat."

The couple have advertised in the newspapers but to no avail. They are getting some help from Mrs. Kathleen Brunson who is placement director for the Cat Welfare Association here.

The search is still going on with the Englands calling "here, kitty" throughout Franklin County. They're finding cats of all shapes and sizes — even a few stray dogs — but no "Puffs."

If you know the whereabouts of this cat with mixed colors of grayish black, yellow and white, you can reach Mrs. England, 70 Woodrow-av, at HI. 4-8692.

It's not so much that Judy wants "Puff" back but more that she wants assurance that the cat has a good home.

What self-respecting "mother" wouldn't?

Bexley Residents Receive Heart Association Awards

Service awards presented at the recent annual meeting of the Franklin County Heart Association (May 22) included four to Bexley residents.

Silver medallion for 15 years' service was awarded to Robert H. Schoene, M.D., 404 Brookside-dr, a charter member of the association; a bronze medallion for 10 years' service was awarded to M. R. "Mike" Hausman, 2739 Brydendrd, and a five-year award was given to S. Douglas Dobson, 132 Preston-rd.

Also, a 15-year service medallion was awarded posthumously to the late Carl M. Mitcheltree, a charter member and former association treasurer, and was accepted by Mrs. Mitcheltree, 2 Sessions-dr.

All presentations were made by William W. Davis, M.D., Westerville, outgoing president.

The 15-year medallion is in recognition of "distinguished leadership and outstanding achievement in serving humanity through the heart cause." Dr. Shoene is a member of the Scientific Council of the Central Ohio Heart Association, which covers a 50-county area, and has served as a board member of the Franklin County Association.

Inscription on the 10-year medallion, which Hausman received, reads "In Appreciation of Distinguished Service and Leadership in Advancing the Heart Program."

Hausman's many services include that of heading the 1958 Heart Fund drive here as general chairman and serving as president of the Franklin County Heart Association in 1960.

He is currently a member of both the executive committee and board of trustees of the Central Ohio Heart Association, and was recently appointed a COHA delegate for the fifth time to the annual meeting of the American Heart Association which will be held in Los Angeles in October.

The five-year medallion is "For Meritorious Service in the Fight Against Heart Disease." Dobson is a member of the Franklin County Heart Association and has been active in Heart Fund drives, including serving as co-chairman of the Industrial Division.

Adventists To Conduct Bible School

Children of the community, ages five to 14, are invited to attend a two-week vacation Bible school at Columbus Seventh-day Adventist Junior Academy, 270 Napoleon-av Monday, June 10 to June 21.

Enrollment will be held at 9 a.m., June 10.

Classes will meet from 9 a.m. to noon on week days, and will include craft and nature study as well as Bible study on the subject, "God's Children."

Capital Regents Hike Tuition Cost $100

A tuition hike of $100 was approved by the Capital University Board of Regents at its semi-annual meeting held on campus Monday night.

Effective at the start of the 1964-65 school year, the tuition rate will be $1000 for students enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences and $1100 for those enrolled in the Conservatory of Music and nursing curriculums.

Room and board, raised $100 at the December board meeting, will apply for the 1963-64 school year. Men students will pay a total of $720 for room and board, and women $740.

Capital is anticipating an all-time high enrollment next fall, according to James P. Shultz, vice-president of student affairs. Shultz told the Regents nearly 500 freshmen will join the 900 returning upperclassmen.

FIRST MISS COLUMBUS: JOANNE PICKING

Hurry-Scurry Behind The Pageant Scenes

A few last minute entries hurried to be included in the Miss Columbus competition, car drivers blinked convulsively as they wheeled their autos into the sun during the pre-pageant parade and microphones were in their usual good voice blurting out unscheduled wails.

A cold breeze whipped through Town and Country Shopping Center during judging time and the bathing beauty entries wished they had brought some hip boots.

There were countless last-minute touches with lipstick, powder puff and mirror glances. There were anxious moments when some of the flowing formals came close to the hot on-stage lights.

Ulcerated judges stretched their necks to get a final look before grading the contestants on appearance in a swim suit, poise, personality, charm and evening gown.

It was a big night Friday, May 31, as the first-ever Miss Columbus was crowned.

LINDA PENDLETON
Last Minute Rush

Rosa There, Too

Personable MC Jack Denton was as surprised as anyone when faithful Rosa Sauls, age unknown, showed up for the Miss Columbus Pageant.

Rosa is like Jack Parr's Mrs. Miller and appeared some 25 times on the Jack Denton Show, which formerly aired from WLW-C, TV-4.

"I haven't turned the set on since," said Rosa smiling. "I was heartbroken." Rosa lives at 1500 N. Fourth-st and is, really and truly, a grandmother.

Joanne Crowned 'Miss Columbus'

BULLETIN

CLEVELAND, O. (Special)—Miss Gloria McBride, runner-up in the Miss Columbus contest Friday, placed second in the state-wide Miss Ohio contest here at the Chateau Club late Wednesday evening. Miss Columbus herself, Joanne Picking, ended in the top ten, also. Cleveland's Andrea Getzlaff, 18, was named Miss Ohio.

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Sunny afternoon skies and a warm summer night, youth and enthusiasm — what more could be asked? They all highlighted the Miss Columbus pageant of 1963.

First with the judges was winsome Joanne Picking, 3500 Scottwood-rd, a fetching Miss of Wooster vintage who even stole the show from pageant host Jack Denton. She was sponsored by the Darling Flower Shop.

Picked as second place runner-up was Lex Mayer's entry Gloria McBride, 21, of 1367 Stelzer-rd.

Gloria is a graduate of Groveport High an da former Little Miss Cincinnati. She's the daughter of Margaret Barber.

Other winners in the local contest, sponsored by the Town and Country Merchants Association, included: THIRD — Gloria Helber, Willoughby, O. FOURTH — Linda Blair, 36 Pinewood-dr. FIFTH — Barbara Klein, 4083 Andrus-av. SIXTH — Sue Skeen, 326 Deshler-av.

The 21-year-old Miss Picking was head drum majorette at Wooster High for three years, participated actively in the school's speech department.

After being graduated in 1960, she started working as a secretary at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station in Wooster.

In Sept., 1962, she was employed as a private secretary at the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co.

She lives at the Scottwood-av address with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Purdy. She has another aunt and uncle here, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cochran, 4369 Olentangy-bl.

"So you see," she smiled, "I feel right at home here in this friendly city and hope to remain for some time."

CAROL BALLANTYNE
Queen Of Judges

Carol Picked Fairest From Judges'Panel

Out of the seven judges who fussed and fumed over the selection of Miss Columbus Friday night in the Town and Country Shopping Center, one pretty was chosen the unofficial queen of the lot.

She's comely Carol Ballantyne, 22, 108 N. Virginia Lee-rd. The fetching Miss was selected for her judging position since she was the official French interpreter for the Miss Universe contest in Long Beach, Calif., three years ago.

Other judges included Ed Fisher, local sportswriter; John Auble, Jr., Hartley Newspapers; John Poeppelmeyer, Capital University publicist; Sam Tiberi, hair stylist, and Bill and Ruth Kettle, Stevens' Finishing School directors.

Fun And Fantasy . . .

Like the birth of the goddess, full-blown from the head of Zeus, Miss Columbus Pageantry sprang forth from the head of one Mrs. Janet Cardi, Miss Universe coordinator, who hasn't dreamed as large as this in a long time.

Jan Cardi

And Bill Grover, Town and Country publicity man, and Wayne McClelland, the Penney's Store decorator who designed the stage, and Rogers Vien, manager of the Boston Store and president of the Town and Country Merchants Association, dreamed right along with her.

They went from idea to drawing board to workmen's hands in a Miss Columbus cycle which is expected to get bigger, better and farther out into the world of fantasy every year.

The Miss Columbus parade started out at 6:30 p.m. Friday and glittered its way throughout the Town and Country Shopping Center.

It was a big, bright evening for Miss Joann Picking who proudly wears the Miss Columbus crown. She's the start of an era here and Columbus is glad of it.

WHITEHALL MAYOR Walter B. Moling seemed to be enjoying himself during the pre-pageant parade. And why not, with scenery like Peggy Thacker of Lancaster riding in the same car. The mayor presented trophies to the winners.

PAGEANT HOST Jack Denton gets a kiss from contestant Linda Sue Boggs (left) and sixth runner-up Sue Skeen. Miss Skeen represented the Kahiki Supper Club and Miss Boggs was Haydocy Pontiac's entry.

Bless 'Em All . . .

Girls, bless 'em.

No one can do without 'em.

—And, who would want to?

More curves than a sousaphone. More glitter than their crowns. More variety than a marching band. And more popular than "Beautiful Ohio."

What's a glittering parade without its waving charmers? A slinky swim suit without its filling? And a microphone's a mere dash of metal without a gowned, smiling, charming, poised, pert young lady talking into it.

Coming or going, strutting or sitting, from any angle (or, perhaps, curve), girls can never be replaced.

SALAD MOLD POPULAR FOR SUMMER

Meals have an extra spark when a pretty dish is included. It can be a colorfully garnished meat platter or casserole, a light chiffon cake with a surprise filling of ice cream or a molded salad such as this one made with oranges and strawberries.

Fruited salad is especially appealing now when fresh fruits are plentiful. Milk gives a smooth creamy texture and extra nutrition to the salad. And, the salad will give a spark to the whole meal.

FRUITED SALAD

⅓ cup sugar
2 tabls. unflavored gelatin (2 envelopes)
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup orange juice
2 tsps. grated aronge rind
2 cups milk
1 cup diced orange sections
1 cup sliced strawberries
1 No. 2 can fruit cocktail, well drained
Watercress
Orange sections, optional
Fruit salad dressing.

Blend sugar, gelatin and salt. Stir in orange juice. Heat over hot water until gelatin is dissolved. Add orange rind and milk. Chill until partially set, stirring occasionally. Mold in orange sections, strawberries and fruit cocktail. Pour into mold. Chill until firm.

Unmold on watercress. Garnish with strawberries and orange sections if desired. Serve with dressing made of equal amounts of whipped cream and salad dressing. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Rummage Sale Slated By St. Raphaels Guilds

Guilds of St. Raphaels Home will hold a rummage sale Saturday, June 8, at St. Stephens Community House, 379 E. Barthman-av.

Anyone wishing to donate clothing or household items may contact Mrs. Fred A. Hays, chairman, 1489 E. Broad-st, 258-6803, for pick-up, or deliver them to St. Raphaels before June 7, or to Stephens, the evening before the sale.

Prospective Members Honored With Tea

STACCATO UNIT, Women's Association of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra, held a tea in honor of prospective members at the home of Mrs. E. R. Wilkin, 3789 Dehner-dr, May 25. Hostesses were Mrs. Robert E. Lucas, Mrs. William Fearon and Mrs. Frederick H. Woods, and Mrs. Raymond B. Hudson, president of the Women's Association, was the honored guest. New officers of Staccato Unit are Mrs. Richard L. Jackson, chairman; Mrs. Robert E. Lucas, vice-chairman; Mrs. E. R. Wilkin, secretary, and Mrs. Ralph E. Scholl, treasurer. From left are Mrs. Marvin Buckholtz, Mrs. James McCarty, Mrs. Norman Hosanky and Mrs. C. R. Andrews, and Mrs. Raymond B. Hudson, president of the Women's Association of the CSO, standing.

The stage coach schedules of 1835-36 called for a two-day trip from Columbus to Sandusky, the Ohio Historical Society reports.

Lord Cornwallis and 10,000 British and Hessian troops invaded New Jersey's Bergen County Nov. 19, 1776, at Closter Dock.

Breakfast Nog Adds Variety

Some people bound out of bed eager to greet the day while others arise more slowly. For both fast and slow risers, breakfast is a must to carry on the morning's activities.

All too often, breakfast menus fall into routine patterns and become dull. For an out of the ordinary breakfast beverage, try Coffee Nog.

Accompany Coffee Nog with ready-to-eat cereal topped with sliced fresh strawberries and cold milk. Add a cheery breakfast table note by placing a flower in the straws of the Coffee Nog.

COFFEE NOG

4 eggs
½ cup sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons instant coffee
¼ cup cold water
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 cups milk
½ cup heavy cream
Nutmeg

Beat eggs with sugar and salt. Dissolve coffee in water; add to eggs. Stir in vanilla and milk, blending well. Pour into mugs or glasses. Spoon heavy cream on top of each drink and sprinkle with nutmeg. Place a daisy or other flower into the centers of the straws before serving drinks. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Trio Charged

A Dallas, Tex., trio was charged with possession of burglary tools, drugs and narcotics equipment May 28 when Columbus and Whitehall police raided an E. Main-st motel.

British troops launched a surprise offensive in Libya Nov. 19, 1941, along a 150-mile front during World War II.

Many Facilities Made Available To Patrons Of Dar-Lee Range

Covering a combined area of more than 60 acres the Dar-Lee Shooting Range, located a half-mile north of the 8800 block of E. Broad-st on Taylor-rd, provides the shooting fan with some of the finest shooting facilities to be found in Central Ohio.

The range includes 42 acres and contains a 100-yard rifle range, pistol ranges, two skeet ranges and three trap fields. Any caliber weapon can be used on any of the ranges and clay birds or targets are available at the Sports Shop. Refreshments are available at the Club House, also located in the range area.

Shooting privileges are open to the public, according to Wiley Reed, one of the three owners, but the avid fan will find many advantages to buying a membership in the club. Regular shooting costs $1 an hour according to Reed, but the member can shoot all he likes during open hours for $15 per year. Membership also allows the shooter to buy targets at a better price, he said.

At present there are 175 members who belong to the range and an industrial skeet shooting league shoots once a month. At present teams in the league are sponsored by Dar-Lee, North American Aviation, the Whitehall Discount Center, Lockbourne AFB, a Columbus auto dealer and a group of merchants in Mt. Vernon. The next meeting of the league will be June 2, and the public is invited to watch the match.

Shooting lessons are available at Dar-Lee by a professional instructor and can be arranged by contacting the Club House at UN 6-6225. The range is open from noon until 9 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, 9 a.m. until 7 p.m. Saturday, 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. Sunday, and closed on Monday.

Another feature of Dar-Lee is the 25-acre picnic grounds, available on a rental basis for private picnics to organized groups and businesses. Facilities include a shelter house, two fire places, a baseball diamond, horseshoe pitching games and a loud speaker system. Reservations to use this area can be arranged by calling Dar-Lee.

The sports shop, besides offering a complete selection of guns, ammunition and targets, also has a selection of camping equipment, including Right Trailers, for sale and rent. A display of equipment being offered at Dar-Lee will be presented at the Outdoor Camping Show, June 1 and 2, at the Franklin County Fair Grounds, Hilliard.

Dar-Lee Shooting Range was opened in 1959 and purchased in 1961 by Wiley Reed, Alice Nicoletti and William Holzhouse. Since '61 the new owners have added the club house, sports shop and other conveniences. Future plans call for the addition of lights to the pistol range and further expansion of facilities. Visitors are welcome and membership or use of the range is open to the public.

THE JOB IS COMPLETED and the termite problem at this home has been corrected by Extermital Termite Service, 1229 W. Third-av. Hon Bailey, 2457 Wilson-av, left, and Bob Romans, 2545 Wilson-av, are preparing to place their concrete drills back in the truck and move on to the next job.

Extermital Termite Service Offers Insured Termite Control Program

Gaymon Wright, owner and operator of Extermital Termite Service, 1229 W. Third-av, says that termites will cost home owners more than $150 million in repair bills and control measures this year. In order to keep this cost down, he advises home owners to talk with an experienced termite control expert. "If you don't know termites, know your operator," he added.

Extermital Termite Service offers free inspection to home owners, with no obligation. If there is evidence of termite infestation, estimates of cost to treat and repair will be prepared and discussed with the home owner before any work is started.

Prospective home buyers and sellers or real estate dealers may obtain inspections, with written reports, from Extermital at a very small cost.

Since termites are found in every area of Central Ohio and since no structure is exempt from infestation, this service should be an important part of every sales transaction, according to Wright.

It has been found that termites have moved into homes that are less than two years old and have caused extensive damage before they were discovered. Because of this Extermital has prepared a pretreatment plan to eliminate the possibility of termites infesting a newly constructed home. "This plan not only eliminates the need for costly repairs at a later date but also offers peace of mind to the new owner," said Wright.

The Extermital Termite Service uses the Extermital Process, a system which the U.S. Forestry Service has tested for a period of 10 years without showing any signs of losing its termite killing properties. This chemical barrier strategy has been approved by the Veterans Administration and included in the minimum standards of the Federal Housing Authority to overcome the hazards of termites.

During all seasons of the year, due to the comfortable conditions man has provided by central heating, radiant heating in floor slabs and other sources, termites continue to feast on his choice prey, the nation's homes, hidden from sight the entire year, until nothing remains except a shell.

A call to Extermital could avoid this costly damage. This company offers experienced personnel, the best of equipment and chemicals available and a reputation for years of integrity and customer service. This is combined with Extermital's five-year guarantee, with option to renew in three years terms for the life of the structure, to provide customers with the best possible opportunity to insure their homes and properties against the menace of termites.

Carlile Furniture Has Special Sale

"Unwanted by us" is the title given a special sale of one and two of a kind items, left from the sale of components of complete groupings, now being offered by Carlile Furniture Co., 445 N. High-st. These items, along with floor samples, are being offered at great savings during the event by the furniture company which has been owned and operated by the Carlile family since it was founded in 1897.

Easily recognized, nationally advertised brands of furniture is a feature of the store, giving customers the opportunity to choose from hundreds of groupings and single items.

Rosemary Adams, Carlile's home decorator, is available for consultation on decorating ideas at no charge to the store's customers.

Wards Offers 'Nimble' Pictures Of Youngsters

Jack B. Nimble children's portraits, commended by Parents' Magazine, will be available Tuesday through Saturday, June 11 - 15, at the Montgomery Ward Town and Country store.

Specially trained photographers, adept at capturing the charm of each child's personality, will be on hand each of the five days from 12 a.m. to 9 p.m., according to Mrs. Mary Cline, Town and Country store manager. Group pictures of children will also be taken.

Photos are limited to children between the ages of five weeks and 12 years inclusive. No appointments are necessary.

Owen Hays Elected To Pharmaceutical Office

W. Owen Hayes, 2468 Powell-av, Bexley, has been elected to this second three-year term as a member of the governing council of the Ohio State Pharmaceutical Association, the organization of registered pharmacists in Ohio. The election was announced at the 84th Annual Convention of the OSPA in Cincinnati.

Hayes will represent the pharmacists in Council District 9, comprising Fairfield, Fayette, Franklin, Madison, Pickaway and Ross Counties.

Critics Hit Jack's Lbs., Attitude But $'s Roll In

Personally, we're getting a little sick and tired of that pessimistic cloud that too many people seem content to place over 200 pounds plus of the greatest golfer that ever picked up a stick.

We're referring to Jack Nicklaus, and as far as we're concerned the qualifications that the public is setting on his "greatest ever" tab can be buried in the nearest sand trap or hooked into the rough.

THERE'S NOTHING wrong about being cautious, but we're starting to wonder what young Jack has to do to clam up the critics. Apparently some are waiting until the rotund slugger makes a clean sweep of the tour.

If that's what they're waiting for, they might as well make application for Bo Belinsky at the near monastery. Both possibilities are about equally remote.

Nicklaus' critics complain that young Jack is overweight, prone to physical ailments, too easy-going, distracted by too many business interests and snail-like in tourney play.

OK — SO AT 205, Nicklaus doesn't exactly match the image of the trim American athlete. Appearances never carded a birdie or eagle on a golf course and it's certainly possible that a dip in the scales could cut down on Jack's booming drives off the tee.

Physical ailments are about as predictable as next week's weather, so this argument doesn't hold enough water to get a camel across a sand trap.

Nobody on the tour hits the ball farther, more accurately and consistently than Jack Nicklaus. Anyone who can hit a 500-yard green in two shots has to have a distinct advantage. Noone has matched Nicklaus' consistently on the long par-5's.

Those who feel that Nicklaus is too easy-going probably wouldn't put their money on the likes of Tommy Bolt, whose aggressive temperament on the golf course never increased his trips to the bank.

OLD PRO SAM Snead discussed the problem of temperament in a national magazine a while back. He openly admitted that back in his early days the ability to remain calm, cool and collected actually sliced strokes off his game and vaulted him from approaching mediocrity to the limelight.

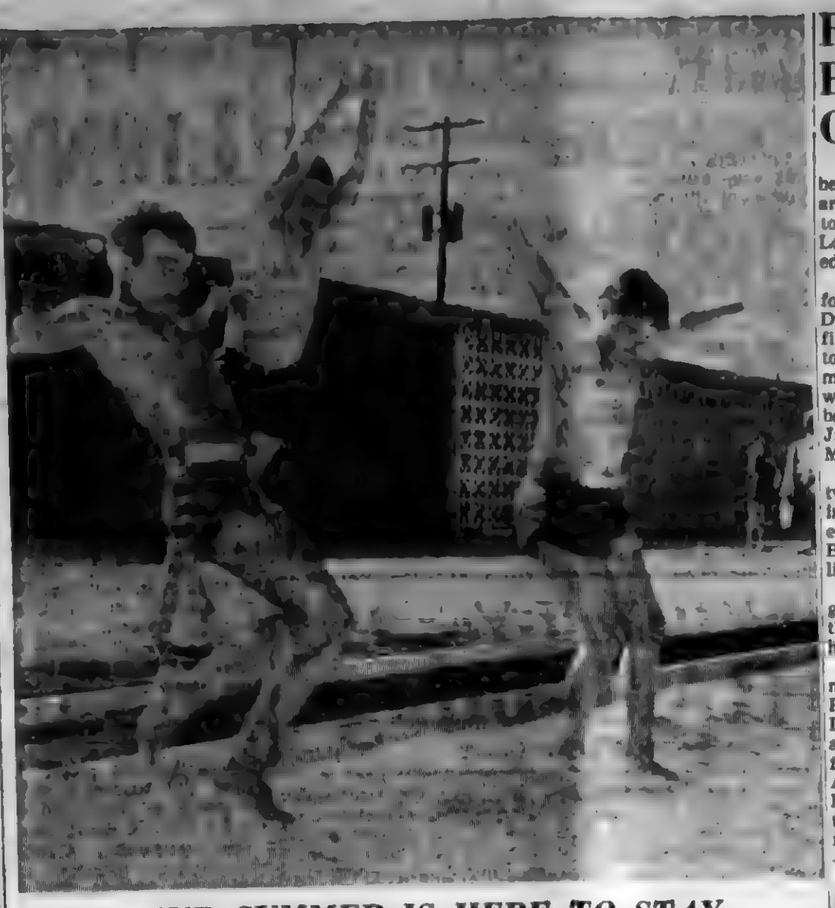
Business interests? Granted, a pitfall for many a successful pro. But Nicklaus' attitude of "win them all" seems to overshadow any early retirement from the circuit ranks. At 23 Jack is smart enough to know that stars lose their glitter all too often, once out of the public eye.

The time-tried adage of "Haste Makes Waste" should be answer enough for the complaint that Nicklaus takes entirely too long between shots. Tournament jackpots aren't enriched for the speedy finishers.

OTHERS SAY Jack is too conservative for his own good. But these are the same guys who win on the long shot once a year and then pay out the nose for the next 364. It might be exciting to take a chance, but the money boys still have plenty of respect for the odds.

Now let's take a look on the other side of the fence. At the tender age of 23, Jack Nicklaus already has his first Open and Masters titles tucked away. The balance of youth weighs strongly in his favor.

If you count his Akron winnings (it's still money, isn't it?), Jack claimed more tournament cash than any other pro golfer in the world last year and is setting the pace again this time around.



What's happened to Arnold Palmer, everyone's asking. Has he lost it? How about those trips to the doctor? The only thing wrong with Arnie, as far as we can see, is Jack Nicklaus.

Youth, tremendous power and determination are pretty strong arguments for golfing greatness. This fellow Nicklaus has all three. Stick with your "picture golfer;" we'll take the local lad—all 205 pounds of him.

BITS OF WIT(T) — President Kennedy might still be right about the lack of physical fitness among our nation's youth, but we're beginning to wonder.

After going through a lengthy four-hour basketball workout on Memorial Day with three 14-year-olds under the burning sunshine of Buchtel, O., we figured that that was enough vigah expended for anybody in one day.

Not so for the boys. They promptly departed on a three-hour hike through the local greenery. Chin up, Mr. President, I think we're winning the battle.

...AND SUMMER IS HERE TO STAY

IF THERE'S anything dearer than the close of the school year to American youth — it's the reopening of the local swimmin' hole. Here three youngsters take advantage of sunny skies and warm temperatures as Holiday Swim Club opened its gates to the zealous swim set last week. Taking the first plunge are, left to right: Ricky Colburn, 3129 E. Fifth-av, Mark Vincent, 3015 Bellwood-ct and John Chapman, 722 Alton.

Seven No-Hitters Bright Stars In Bakenhaster's Success Story

In the realm of the sporting world, the compliment which is both most valued and difficult to acquire is that of the opposition.

Dublin pitcher Dave Bakenhaster had that and the respect of his County League rivals before he even threw his first baseball this spring.

BUT COMPLIMENTS on the part of the opposition aren't always impressive to major league scouts. Like the man from Missouri, they have to see for themselves.

Actually, representatives from all twenty major league clubs did see for themselves this spring and what they saw was impressive, to say the least.

In fact, better than half of the big league eagles had their eye on the Shamrock senior moundsman when he tossed what was to be the last complete game of his high school career two Fridays ago in the state tournament semifinals.

AND YOUNG Dave didn't let them down, pitching his seventh nohitter in two years with a 3-0 blanking of New Paris Jefferson — a clutch win that gave Dublin a spot in the state finals.

The statistics that 'Bake' has piled up in a three-year period, provided by coach Dick Close, are just short of fantastic.

Warming up as a sophomore, Bakenhaster came close to achieveing no-hit fame five times as he recorded five one-hitters.

As an established regular on the Irish nine as a junior, Dave continued his climb toward pitching maturity with an impressive 11-2 won-loss mark which encompassed three no-hitters including a 'perfect game' against Rosary.

SIX OF HIS 11 wins were shutouts and Bake went 25⅓ innings straight at one stretch without allowing a hit. In fact, in a total of 94 innings pitched as a junior, Dave allowed only 38 hits, 38 walks and chalked up 181 strikeouts.

But his '62 effort was just openers compared to his showing this spring. Four more no-hitters went into the record books (Rosary, Reynoldsburg, Cardington and New Paris) as young Bakenhaster closed out the season with an unspotted 15-0 mark. Eight of the victories were shutouts.

BAKE'S IP level rose to 114⅓, allowing him opportunity to fan 263 batters with only 63 baserunners reaching first legitimately, 38 on walks, 25 on base hits.

Scouts could write something favorable in the 'hitting' column this year also as Dave raised his batting average from .274 (1962) to .329, which included five doubles, one triple and three homers. Bake paced Dublin in runs scored this spring with 32.

Rival coaches could mention only one weakness when talking about the righthanded hurler this spring — his temper. But this apparently is not much of a problem any longer as even a bat-pounding Jefferson dugout failed to rattle Dave in his no-hit chore.

BAKE'S FINE spring performance gained him a berth on the County League team and an additional spot on the All-District nine, a selection which will send him to the 'A' All-Star game this summer.

Dave Bakenhaster

Too say that Bakenhaster was highly instrumental in Dublin's baseball success this spring would be a gross understatement. In all, Dave recorded 15 of the Shamrocks, 21 victories.

And, believe it or not, baseball isn't the whole story. Dave also does an above-par job on the basketball court. Selected as the County League's "most outstanding sophomore" two seasons ago, he made the all-league club last season, thanks to his role as the team's leading scorer and rebounder.

SINCE HIS parents' death in 1953, Dave has resided with his older brother Paul and his wife at 5135 Post-rd in Dublin. Last week, the Bakenhasters became Dave's legal guardians.

As for the future, things look bright for the 18-year-old pitching phenom. Big league scouts are waiting in line for a chance to get Dave's signature on the dotted line now that he has completed his high school career.

Three scouts were scheduled to talk contract Saturday with three more due in Sunday with more likely to follow. Bake's journey along the road to possible major league stardom could begin at any time.

Rams, Lions Place Six On All-CBL

Whitehall placed four members of its '63 baseball squad and Bexley added two more to the All-County Buckeye League baseball squad selected by loop coaches last week.

The Rams picked up berths for four seniors—pitcher Bill Dildine, catcher Larry Tedder, first baseman Dave Millington and shortstop Jay Ketzmier. The Lions' two positions were also filled by departing baseballers — third baseman Jim Hoyer and outfielder Jeff McClelland.

BEXLEY NAILED down two honorable mention choices in Joel Brandt and Tim Greiner while Whitehall's Howie Bailey also was named to the list.

Only Worthington was granted as many positions on the all-league team as Whitehall.

HERE ARE the remaining members of the '63 squad: Pitchers — Bill Gabriel and Ira Porterfield, Worthington and John Ward, Delaware; first baseman—Phil Williams, Arlington; second baseman—Doug Welsh, Grandview; third baseman — Dave Coffield, Mt. Vernon; shortstops — Ted Rose, Arlington and Mark Weller, Worthington; outfielders — John Abegglen, Worthington, Tom Pilotti, Mt. Vernon and Tom Reed, Delaware.

Bill Dildine

The 18-man squad was composed of 14 seniors, three juniors (Gabriel, Porterfield and Welsh) and one sophomore (Ward).

Myers, Ishida Gain Berths On All-City

Eastmoor, runnerup in the City League diamond race this spring, gained two second-team berths on the All-City baseball team, selected last week by loop coaches.

The Warriors picked up positions for junior pitcher Jerry Myers and senior outfielder Dean Ishida on the ten-man squad.

CHAMPION Linden McKinley gained four first-team spots to dominate the coaches' selections. None of the selections were unanimous.

All three area CL clubs garnered honorable mention selections. Eastmoor's list included Ron Golden, Frank Shannon, Vince and Dana VanHorn and Ron Bollie. East gained spots for Sherman Lundy, Jim Brown and Mel Smith while Walnut Ridge selections were John McQuaid, Dave Feyh and Dan Wolff.

Here are the first-team members: Joe Middendorf (c), South; Dave Roberts (p) and Mel Williams (of), Central; Lyn Fitzer (p), Paul Grossman (1b), Bob Baker (of) and Don Clark (ss) of Linden; Bob Oakley (2b) and Roger Woerner (of) of Whetstone and Ray Simendinger (3b) of North.

Do You Know Your Sports?

(Editor's note—This is the first of a series of short vignettes on sports popular in this country and abroad).

Bows and arrows go back as far as 25,000 B.C. as far as historians are able to determine. The hunting implements have survived the test of time and are used today by over 100,000 Americans, seeking deer or smaller game and fish.

The arrows are 24-32" long of cedar or aluminum with brass tips. Targets are of four feet diameter with the bullseye centered in 9.6".

BOWS COST from 4 to $40 with arrows running from $3 a dozen up. Heavy paper targets can be purchased for as little as one dollar with $25 the going rate for the oilcloth facing with wood easel and baled grass back.

Basically, the sport of archery, as we know it today, is reduced to target shooting and the number of participants engaged in sending arrows toward the bulls-eye this year has jumped up to six million, as compared to less than one-third that amount seven years ago.

FOR THE INDIVIDUAL sportsman, it is one of the most challenging pastimes in all of sport.

Bows are commonly constructed from one of four materials - Fiberglas, lemonwood, aluminum or red cedar. The length is generally five to six feet and bows are strung with linen or nylon thread.

The U.S. championship will be held Aug. 4-9 at a site yet undetermined. The Hunters Division of the National Field Archery Assn. will hold its field championships July 15-19 at Lake Arrowhead, Calif.

The Buckeye state had two champions in 1962 — Nancy Vonderheide of Cincinnati (Women's amateur - both national and world) and Margaret Tillberry of Springfield (women's pro).

Hoover, Buckeye, Dillon Top Fishing 'Hot Spots'

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

A Hula Popper caught an eye-popper for Hugh Cox, 6493 W. Broad-st, Alton, when he was in Florida several weeks ago. This prize was an 11 pound largemouth bass, which he now has mounted in his living room. Scene of the epic battle was Lake Helen.

There is a lesson to be learned from this fish that will benefit us all. Hugh spent the first two days fishing in the conventional manner down there, slowly trolling large chubs (minnows) at the edge of the pads. The fishing was good but the catching was poor, as they say.

THEN HE NOTICED a disturbance in the pads — was it a bass coming after his bait? No. Just a frog crawling up for a sun bath. Then, whammo! A fish knocked the frog off his perch, and gobbled him down in a swirl the size of a wash tub.

Observing this, Hugh decided the bass must be feeding on the surface. So he began casting Hula Poppers, and his score improved. He took several nice bass, the best, of course, was the 11-pounder. The tip here, is that good fishermen are adaptable — they give the fish what they want at the time.

Fishing has picked up in tempo closer to home, too. Henry Cring, at Paul's Marine, reports that fishing for walleyes and crappies is good at Hoover Reservoir. Last week, John Hodapp, Rt. 2, Galena, took a 26-inch, five-pound two-ounce walleye, by drifting a night crawler.

"MOST OF THE walleyes are being taken on night crawlers," said Cring. "Quite a few anglers are using artificials on them, however, and some popular baits here are the Beno, Mirrolure and Shyster." Biggest walleye this season was caught about two months ago by Bax "Baldy" DeGood, Marysville, who came in with a six-pound, 12-ounce fish.

There have not been many big catches of walleyes from Hoover yet, and Cring thinks the best fishing is yet to come when the water warms.

Heavy stringers of crappies are reported from Hoover, some anglers taking up to 40 or 50. Most popular bait is minnows, and anglers have been successful all over the lake.

A FEW BLUEGILLS are being caught, and the channel catfishing has started and should improve with warmer weather. Bass fishing at Hoover has been rather spotty this season, although two weeks ago Neil Mann, Westerville, brought in a stringer of seven bass ranging from two pounds to five and one-half pounds.

Dillon Reservoir continues to be hot for muskellunge. As this column advised you nearly a month ago, this is the place to go for a trophy fish. Most muskies are being taken on artificials — some fishermen cast them and some troll.

The white bass run at Buckeye Lake has been on for about two weeks, and may be winding up now. It would be a good bet to try for them though during the next few days. Cranberry Island is a prime spot. More are taken on minnows than on artificials. Perch are still hitting at Buckeye, as are a few bass. The bluegills are expected any time now.

Sorry, but it's time to let this typewriter cool down while I go fishin'.

Jets Close Home Stand With Tribe

The Columbus Jets, trying to fight their way back into the 1963 International League pennant chase, concluded their present home stand Sunday with a doubleheader against Indianapolis.

The Jets' two-game set with Richmond closes Thursday evening at 8 p.m. with the Indians arriving the next day for a four-game series.

Parade Closes Whitehall 'Baseball Week' Saturday

Whitehall's "Baseball Week" will come to a close Saturday with a big parade, set to depart from Whitehall-Yearling High Schol at 10 a.m. and terminate at the City Park.

The parade, under the direction of parade marshalls Bill Martin and Linn Hiatt, will include Mayor Moling, city officials and officials of the Whitehall Boys Baseball Assn.

AFTER DEPARTING from the high schol, the parade will progress south on Yearling-rd to Main-st to Hamilton-rd, turning north on Hamilton-rd to Langley and east to the park.

The call to "play ball" will be sounded Monday as the 40-team Assn. gets league play underway. WBBA will field six PeeWee teams (eight-year-olds), 12 Minor League teams (9-12), 12 Major League teams (10-12), six Pony League teams (13-14) and four Colt teams (15-16).

A total of 600 boys will participate in the program this summer.

PIT STOPS

By BILL GRAY

DON TOWNSEND copped the 50-lap Memorial Day race for the Super Modifieds at Columbus Motor Speedway. Townsend edged out Neal Seeva Sunday night to take the feature. Don Gregory was winner of the 35-lap flying stock feature Thursday at the Southside oval.

AFTER A feature win Thursday night at Columbus Motor Speedway Don Townsend was not satisfied and again came up a winner. He was followed by Bob Davis, Dick Diamond and Bob Smith.

Once again Paul Parks worked his way up in the late model feature to take the lead in the seventh lap, finishing in first place with Keith Weaver, Don Trees and Bob Bower close behind.

This week racing takes up at Columbus Motor Speedway on both Friday and Sunday nights.

The big auto race over the Memorial Day weekend was, of course, the big 500 at Indianapolis. The 47th running of the great event was won by Parnell Jones in his Offi-powered special. His average speed was 143.137 m.p.h.

At Charlotte, N.C., Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill., went over the finish line of the World 600 Late Model Stock Race in a '63 Ford to win himself $117,000. Incidentally, he ran out of gas as he took the checkered flag.

Just Thursday at the 500, he hit the wall in the 48th lap, causing him to finish in 27th place.

There were two other cars involved in Sunday's crash, one Chuck Engle of Reynoldsburg.

Three Berths For Tourney Open Here

One of the qualifying sites for the $50,000 National Putting Championship tournament has been awarded to Columbus.

Three berths will be at stake in a 72-hole putting event on the Putt Putt Golf Course located at 599 S. Hamilton-rd on June 23.

THE LOWEST scoring amateur and the two lowest scoring pros will qualify for the richest tournament ever held in the world at Cleveland, Ohio, July 5-10.

The Professional Putters Assn. will conduct one-day qualifying meets at various sites all over the country to determine a field of 325 putters who will enter the three-day competition at Cleveland.

Any qualified amateur or professional putter in this area is eligible to compete in these qualifying tournaments.

Ellery Dr. Property Owners Protest Apartment Proposal

Columbus City Council will conduct a zoning public hearing on Monday evening, June 10, to consider rezoning of 8.41 acres west of Hamilton-rd and south of Ellery-dr.

The request, by Hall Homes, Inc., 22 W. Gay-st, calls for a change from residential to apartment designation. Council had tabled the request at a June 3 public hearing.

Residents of the Ellery-dr area have protested the zoning change. Frank Cullen, 1739 Burlington-av, acted as spokesman for 10 residents who attended the public hearing.

Cullen said that many residents did not attend the public hearing because they had not received prior notice of the hearing date. He presented a petition signed by about 150 area residents who are protesting the zoning change.

Area residents claim that building of the planned multiple dwelling units would reduce property values, overcrowd area schools and create traffic congestion on Ellery-dr.

Cullen said that many more protesting property owners are expected to attend the June 10 public hearing than were present for last Monday's session. He said that handbills will be distributed to affected property owners, and that arrangements will be made to furnish transportation for those who might not otherwise be able to attend.

Charges Filed In Beating Of Eastmoor Boy

Eastmoor High Principal Gordon K. Harris filed charges of trespassing and disorderly conduct in Municipal Court Wednesday, May 29, against two youths accused of being involved in the beating of a student Monday.

They are James P. Bendoff, 18, of 48 S. Weyant-av and James A. Ludwig, 18, of 3067 E. Fifth-av. Similar charges were to be filed in Juvenile Court against a 17-year-old boy.

Harris charged the three drove to the school, left their car and attacked Stanley Fleming, 17, of 2115 Margaret-av. No one was injured.

SummerBook Clubs Set For Local Library

Bexley Public Library, 2411 E. Main-st, is announcing the opening of the summer book clubs, starting June 10.

As in the past, many children in the community meet once a week at the library in small book clubs of their own naming.

They are guided in their reading selections by a library staff member. At the end of July, certificates of achievement are awarded all members.

Library hours will remain 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily, with a 5 p.m. Saturday closing for the summer, starting June 22.

Bexley High School LION's ROAR

By Connie McCleary

Dr. Harold L. Yochum, president of Capital University, will speak on "The Habitual Vision of Greatness" at Bexley High School's 41st annual commencement at 7 p.m. tonight (Thursday) in the high school stadium. Principal C. W. Jones will introduce the 170 graduating seniors, and Hugh Bone, president of the Bexley Board of Education, will present the diplomas.

Baccalaureate was held Sunday, June 2, in the high school auditorium. Speaker for the service was Rev. Robert E. Leake of St. Albin's Episcopal Church.

"Creole Daze" will be the theme of the all-night graduation party at Jeffrey Mansion for seniors and their dates following commencement exercises. The midnight buffet, "Dinner at Antoine's," will carry out the theme. A breakfast will be served to seniors only at the Excelsior Club following the dance. The Class Will will be read, and the pool will be open for swimming.

Senior achievement in scholarship and other areas was recognized at the annual Senior Awards Assembly held Tuesday, May 27. The top 20 per cent of the senior class was honored at the beginning of the assembly, and was seated on stage. The program included presentation of school and civic trophy cups for excellence in many areas, the announcement of National Merit Scholarship Award winners, and the naming of students who received scholarships from one or more colleges. At the conclusion of the assembly, vacation began for seniors.

The school year was over for other Bexley students this week with the end of Tuesday and Wednesday's finals.

Whitehall-Yearling RAM-blings

BY ANNE MALAY

The Senior Recognition Assembly was held Monday morning, May 27. Mr. Peel, the principal, gave the awards.

The following senior class officers were given keys for their year of service: Alan Winner, president; Dave Walker, vice-president; Sylvia Orr, secretary, and Karen Bury, treasurer.

Alan presented Mr. Peel with the traditional senior gift to the school. This year's gift is a glass rack to be used in the library for displaying books. The gift was certainly appreciated, since the library is to be improved for next year's use.

Following the presentation, those seniors who were members of the student council this past year were recognized. Edith Kowalsky and Carol Levy were announced as the valedictorian and salutatorian for 1962-63 school year.

Honor cords were given to the following seniors: Herb Scholes, Ingrid Paulson, Vicki Shipman, Jan Manzello, Carol Levy and Edith Kowalsky. These seniors wore the cords on graduation night, Wednesday, June 5, as a symbol of distinction in scholarship.

Cherry Arbuckle and Edith Kowalsky received full-tuition scholarships. Lynn Srba received a $550 scholarship for art school and Brenda Bird received a partial scholarship to Muskingum College.

Jill Lutz and Sylvia Orr were recognized for their editorship of the "Ramble," school newspaper and the "Aries," school yearbook. Their names will be engraved on the editor's plague.

Donna Finley and Roger Roberts were named the outstanding citizens of the graduating class. Kathy Hannah was awarded the Ethel Barrymore award for her acting in "Mumbo-Jumbo" and "The Remarkable Incident at Carson's Corners." Ralph Rife, first chair horn player, received the four-year award for music nd Roger Roberts the John Phillip Sousa award.

The outstanding distributive education members were also given awards. The assembly ended with recognition for the senior students of the month.

The Whitehall-Yearling baccalaureate service was held Sunday, June 2, at 8 p.m. on the athletic field of the high school. The invocation was delivered by Rev. Warren Jackson of East Livingston Baptist Church and Vicar John Moody delivered the scripture reading. The sermon was given by Rev. William Jarvis of the Whitehall Baptist Church. The senior band played the following selections for the event: "Pomp and Chivalry" and "Grand March."

An awards assembly for the ninth, 10, and 11 grade students was held Friday morning, May 31.

The long awaited junior-senior prom was held at Whitehall-Yearling Friday, May 31, from 9 p.m. to midnight. The theme for the formal event was "Deep South." Rae Peyton was crowned the 1963 prom queen. Rick Monroe's dance band was also featured.

Will Dedicate Nurses' Home

Ohio's professional registered nurses will dedicate their $100,000 new state headquarters at 4000 E. Main-st, Whitehall, Saturday, June 8.

Eighty leaders of professional, political and civic organizations have been invited to attend the 4 p.m. ceremony and reception. An open house for members will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. the following day.

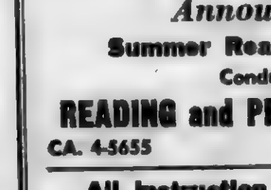
'Confederate' Jackpot Beginning To Climb

Again the "Confederate" money jackpot being offered by Hartley Newspapers is beginning to pile up. A total of $46 is now available to the lucky reader who finds the "5" insignia hidden inside the white space of an advertisement inside one of the 72,000 newspapers published this week. The insignia is always printed in a bright colored ink.

If the finder is a paid subscriber to a Hartley Newspaper the "5" emblem is worth the entire amount to the jackpot. If not a paid subscriber the emblem is worth $5 in "Confederate" cash.

All "Confederate" money will be accepted just like genuine U. S. currency, for goods or services, by any advertiser in a Hartley Newspaper during the week the emblem is discovered.

Twenty "1" emblems were stamped in bright colored ink inside an advertisement in 20 newspapers this week. These emblems are good for $1 in "Confederate" money if the page containing the number is mailed in to the Hartley Newspaper Office, 2465 W. Broad-st, before noon on Monday following delivery of the paper.



Finders of the "5" emblem must bring their winning newspaper in to the Hartley Newspaper office to claim their prize.

The single winner of one "Confederate" dollar in last week's contest was C. W. Hall, 788 Sullivant-av. This means $24 worth of emblems were not discovered and this money has been added to last week's unclaimed jackpot of $22 for the new jackpot total of $46. This is done each week until the entire jackpot is claimed.

This contest is not open to employes or carriers of Hartley Newspapers or their families.

Ask Teenagers To Aid ALSAC

A city-wide call for teenagers to help Danny Thomas in his war on leukemia has been issued today by the Columbus and Franklin County Chapter of ALSAC (Aiding Leukemia Stricken American Children) at their headquarters, 2396 Wellesley-ln, (Lane Shopping Center), Columbus.

The door-to-door "Teenagers March Against Leukemia" is set for Sunday, June 16, and thousands of teenagers will join this crusade to help Danny Thomas fight leukemia and other catastrophic diseases at St. Jude Research Hospital, Memphis, Tenn.

Adding to the excitement of the Teenagers Drive, Bobby Rydell, famed singer and actor, will invite the top 10 teenagers to be his guests when he appears at Veterans' Auditorium in early August of this year. The top 10 will include the five top teenage leaders who recruit the most teenagers, and the five top marchers who bring in the most money. The invitation includes a luncheon date and free tickets to his show, "West Side Story."

Area leaders and marchers are still needed. Teenagers willing to help in this crusade are asked to call the headquarters office, 486-0265.

Thursday, June 6, 1963 Eastern Review—9

Heading the list of foods in good supply at reasonable prices for June are: milk and dairy products, beef, broiler-fryers, eggs and early summer vegetables. These are items that will help keep food costs in line.

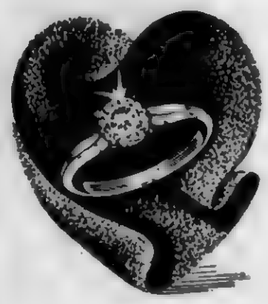
Mrs. Franks

As usual during June, milk and dairy products are featured often. June is Dairy Month and for good reasons. Milk production reaches a peak at this time. Plentiful milk also means plenty of ice cream, all kinds of cheese, butter, buttermilk, sweet and sour cream, and a host of other dairy related foods.

Supplies of top quality beef are expected to continue at high levels with plenty of cuts available that are suited to barbecuing and other forms of summer fun. The heavy demand for steaks and ground beef this month will cause retailers to mark chuck cuts and ribs at prices that will keep them moving. So, look for frequent good buys on all longer-cooking cuts.

Fresh pork supplies will be lower than for the last few months, but there are lots of hams and other cured pork products in storage. Bacon, pork sausage and Canadian-style bacon grilled over the coals are especially tempting for an early morning cook-out.

Marketings of broiler-fryers for the month are expected to be about the same as a year ago, and prices about the same also. Hens out-do themselves laying eggs at this season, and prices are probably at the lowest level for the year. Present low prices warrant the use of extra eggs . . . one of the best and most economical protein buys you'll find.



A host of summer vegetables are heading for markets in June. Among the bargains of fresh vegetables will be cabbage, new potatoes, sweet corn and carrots. Lettuce should be particularly abundant. Local greenhouses will supply us with good tomatoes throughout the month. We're sorry to see asparagus go. Next week winds up a wonderful "grass" season, when local growers will make their last cuttings for the year.

June is also the month for homegrown strawberries and this week heavy shipments are coming from California. We are also getting strawberries from several eastern states and Michigan market men say that, barring weather setbacks, their crop will be beautiful this year, with peak shipments coming after June 15.

Watermelon supplies are liberal, cantaloupes from the West are on the increase and pineapple quality is at a peak. The first blueberries are here and shipments of southern peaches are arriving from a larger and better crop than a year ago. California also expects a good peach crop and are shipping early varieties. So, it looks as though we will have plenty of peaches in spite of the fact that there will be a few local ones this year.

Going Away? Don't Blab It!

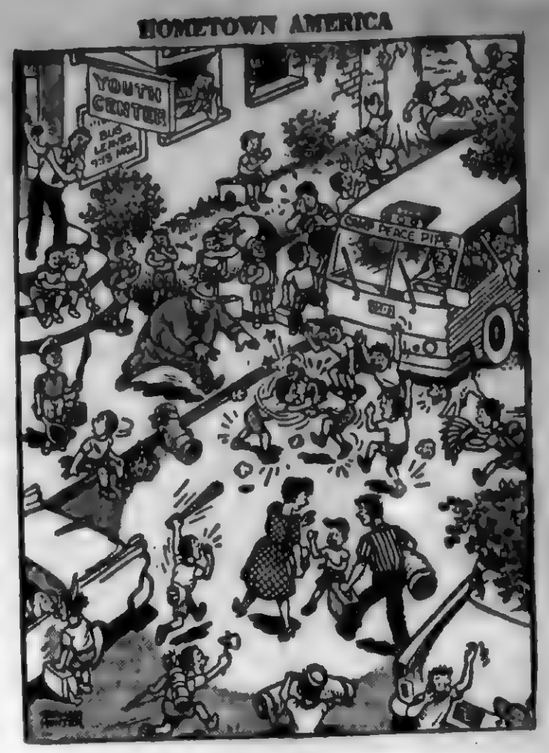
Burglary Prevention Week in Ohio will end on June 8, but it is a pretty safe bet that burglars will not give up operations because a week has been set aside to thwart their efforts.

We agree with Columbus Police Chief George W. Scholer that, while there is no such thing as a burglar-proof home, there are steps that can be taken to keep the burglar's activity to a minimum.

If you're leaving for a weekend or longer, Chief Scholer suggests that you:

1. Notify your police department when you'll be leaving and how long you expect to be away.

2. Cancel all deliveries, such as milk, bread, cleaning, etc. Also, be sure to discontinue the newspaper or arrange to have it sent to your vacation address. (May we suggest the latter.



3. Have a neighbor, or your postoffice hold all mail until you return.

4. Arrange to have someone mow the lawn and sweep the sidewalk once a week. Arrange to have somepick up any circulars or handbills that may be left on your porch.

5. Leave your shades and blinds as you normally do; closed blinds keep the sun out, but also make an effective screen for the burglar.

6. Never advertise your departure with an item in the local paper. Give the story about your vacation to the newspapers after you've returned.

HOMETOWN AMERICA

Show 'Em A Way To Get Home

Summertime has a way of bringing out the wanderlust in our little four and five-year-old darlings. Many times, the return trip home is effected by way of the police station.

A child of this age generally knows, and will recite his full name. But he seldom knows, or can remember, his address, or the street name.

A long street name or address is difficult for a little child to remember. But there is an alternative bit of informaion that will help to identify the child—the first names of his mother and father.

Armed with the child's full name and the first names of his parents, police can generally determine the street address by consulting the city directory.

Drill your little ones on these three short bits of information. It may some day shorten the fright (for both child and parent) when a child is lost.

Vacation Jobs Then Back To School

It is the time, again, when many area high school youngsters will be making the rounds of potential employers for summertime jobs. It is good training for the teenagers and, for the most part, they are a productive work force.

But we can't help wondering how many of the job-hunting youngsters have no intention of returning to school in the fall. How many will use the jobs they gain as extra leverage to pressure parents into letting them drop out of school?

Employers would do well to give prime consideration to those students who provide reasonable assurances that they intend to complete high school. Such an attitude on the part of the employer would provide good "long run" protection. It would also protect the youngsters who are not yet sufficiently mature to realize the importance of a high school diploma.

Statistics reveal that the beginning of the fall term marks the period of highest number of school drop-outs, It seems to us that many youngsters would be less inclined to leave school if they knew there were no jobs for the uneducated. It is better that they learn this fact while they are still enrolled in school.

Pope Enriched Our Age

Pope John XXIII is dead.

The 81-year-old pontiff of the Catholic Church completed his earthly stay Monday, but not before he had left an indelible mark on a world tormented by conflict, prejudice and fear.

As the first pope to emerge from the working class in more than a century, John XXIII quickly found his way to the hearts and spirits of the people who had come to view the papal visage as somewhat distant during the reign of his predecessor—a more austere Pius XII.

Visitors to the Vatican, including officials of the Russian government, returned home with positive impressions of the Catholic leader "with the benign expression and huge hands."

A man marked with humility, John XXIII's ascent to the papal throne came as much of a surprise to church hierarchy who pointed to his age as a distinct disadvantage to his assumed task.

'Not much was expected of the venerable leader who was described at his coronation as a "transition pope."

But persons everywhere, from hospital beds to the high seats of world leadership, were soon to learn of the energy of the aging pontiff as he made frequent trips outside the confines of the Vatican to spread his word of peace among men.

A short time after John XXIII was elevated to the spiritual leadership of the Catholic world he launched his plans for the mammoth undertaking—the first Ecumenical Council in more than a century began to take form.

His own spirit became that of the council.

Pope John did not live to see either his council or hopes of peace bear immediate fruit. But the legacy of hope he has left behind will be revered long after the cries of "Viva Papa" echo through the Vatican chancels in honor of his successor.

For this, he may be remembered eternally.

Guest Pulpit . . Little Word Bears Great Significance

There is one little word in the Book of Acts you may not have noticed. However, the Revised Version capitalizes it; and so do Moffatt and Goodspeed in their translations. It is just the three - letter word "Way." In the Bible it is used hundreds of other times when it is just an ordinary noun meaning a road, or a path, or a customary form of doing something. But here it is distinguished apart by the translators.

Rev. Alexander

It is particularly used in connection with Paul. When he started as a persecutor of Christians, to Damascus it was that "if he found any that were of the Way he might bring them bound to Jerusalem." Some years later when Paul was preaching in Ephesus and persuading the people about the Kingdom of God some of his hearers grew stubborn and "spoke evil of the Way." Then when Paul's preaching was too much for the silversmiths who made images of and shrines for the great goddess Diana it is said, "there arose no small stir about that Way." Paul had found something which he had gone out to persecute and suppress but which now he preaches with power. It is called "the Way."

In his Roman letter Paul says it is Jesus Christ as the Son of God and the Gospel of God, declared to be such with power by "the spirit of Holiness and the resurrection from the dead." To the Corinthians he said, "I determined to know nothing among you but Jesus Christ and Him crucified." But read on and you will find that this one word becomes a volume of life and a way of life. It means a brave and reasoned and yet a childlike relation to "the God and Father of all, who is over all and through all and in all. It becomes an exhortation to love, joy, peace, longsuffering, gentleness and self-control. There is no tribalism in it, no nationalism, no color lines, no sectarianism.

Yes, persecuting Saul found Christ and in finding Christ he found the Way. He, along with those other early Christians, was proud to be a member of the Way.

With Philip we have asked, "How can we know the Way?" Jesus has answered, "I am the Way and the truth and the life." Can others see by our lives that we belong to "the Way?"

An Editor's Outlook . . . by Jenkin Lloyd Jones
. . . Oh Well, Their Lamb Chops Are Good!

Just about every commentator who claims to be on the ball has done a piece about the inside of the Central Intelligence Agency. So here's mine.

When you call the C.I.A. the telephone girl doesn't admit that you've gotten through. She merely repeats the number. That has undoubtedly confounded many thousands of foreign spies.

Jones

When you drive out to the C.I.A., which is about eight miles along the super highway to Dulles Airport in Virginia, the turn-off is merely labeled "B.P.R." B.P.R. stands for Bureau of Public Roads, which, true enough, has its headquarters in the vicinity. But the modesty of the much more glamorous C.I.A. must confuse many foreign agents and when they inadvertently wind up at the airport it is hoped that some of them will simply take the next plane home.

One other thing—when I arrived at the front entrance the cop at the door greeted me conspiratorially as "Colonel." This no doubt indicates that colonels in the Army G-2 disguise themselves in business suits and drive around in dirty brown Chevrolets with Oklahoma licenses.

Oh, yes. And the security officer who takes you up to the executive wing unlocks the elevator with a key. And the lamb chops in the director's dining room are wonderful.

This about wraps up what I found out.

My "contact" in this expedition was my old schoolmate, Lt. Gen. Marshall S. (Pat) Carter, the C.I.A.'s deputy director and general manager. I had practically invited myself out to lunch. I was going to pump him.

While waiting for the general to appear, his aide, Col. Stanley J. Grogan, served up the first course and I yanked the pump handle on him a couple of times but nothing came out except some fascinating army reminiscences. He did admit that there are eight major sections to C.I.A. and his personal pass is good only for admission to three of them.

I thought he looked pretty reliable and should have been good for four or five, anyway.

Pat Carter came in in time for the chops and I really started to plow the ground. I mentioned all the books I had read about the Gestapo and the Russian M.V.D. and the British M-16 and then I adroitly speculated about the make-up of the C.I.A. and how so many people misunderstood it and that only a few newspapermen, like me, really sympathized with its problems.

Generally, this sympathy approach goes big and causes people to blubber, bawl and tell you everything they know. But from Pat and the colonel I received about the same number of yups and nopes that you get out of an old Gary Cooper re-run. It was soon apparent I was interviewing myself.

Well, the C.I.A. is the only agency of government taxpayers have to take absolutely on faith. You can't audit it. It draws its money from all kinds of vague appropriations. Like other intelligence agencies around the world 90 per cent of its work is "open." That is, it amasses information from published sources, translates, indexes it and scores this data in miniature photography and, so far, an estimated 40 million punch cards.

In short, the C.I.A. relies a lot more on clerks and diggers than on cloaks and daggers.

It's simple to record a mass of facts, but how to retrieve them when you want them is a huge stumper. In the amassing of facts the Russians have it easy because people in free countries publish just about everything. But in retrieval the C.I.A. thinks it's tops. If you want to know about a Red agent named Vladimir who lived in Marseilles in the 40's you're supposed to be able to press the proper buttons and out of 100,000 cards two or three will drop.

How can Americans find out if they're getting their money's worth—whatever that money amounts to? They can't. They merely have to assume that if the President and a handful of top officials are satisfied they should be satisfied, too.

Under federal law the C.I.A., alone of all agencies, doesn't have to reveal the number, names or salaries of its employes. It can enter into secret contracts without bids. It can hide its travel expenses. It can admit up to 100 aliens a year without accounting for them to immigration.

Strangely, we learn most about the C.I.A. from our enemies. It was the Russians who huffily revealed that the C.I.A. had tapped the cables in the main Russian communication tunnel in Berlin. They revel in C.I.A. bloopers, too. Most books about the C.I.A. are written from foreign sources. The C.I.A. neither confirms nor denies.

As President Kennedy said in his speech dedicating the new $42 million dollar building: "Your successes are unheralded—your failures are trumpeted."

Well, General Carter and I had a fine lunch reminiscing about old school friends. Then I descended with the security officer in the locked elevator, passed the guards in the great marble entryway, and when the cop at the door called me "Colonel" again I saluted smartly.

True, the note pad in my pocket was still fresh and clean. But the noon hour hadn't been entirely wasted. Those lamb chops were real thick.

Frosting On The Cake
By "UNCLE DOC" ROSS — U.S.A.

This crazy old wobbling world is suffering from the worst dose of "adventures in audacity" by countless professional soldiers of fortune, that rational people can only marvel about.

The papers are filled with "firing squad" news. Summary executions are taking place in localities all over the so-called backward countries. Hundreds of these fellows who started out to "sit in the seats of the mighty" are now dust in some unmarked six by six hole in the ground.

Pip-squeak Napoleons are a dime a dozen everywhere and poor old Uncle Sap is paying the shot. Every age in human social evolution has had both giants and midgets who were congenital pathological egos. They had to "feel important" as Dr. George W. Crane says so aptly, and therefore, being both audacious and articulate, these adventurers in knavery find it too easy to exploit ignorance and avarice and cupidity anywhere that temptation reared its ugly head. All of them, without exception, bear no love for the "common people." All they are interested in is rifling some sort of quasi-public treasury and for a brief period always, basking in the fake sun of prominence, and success.

The long suffering but still sacred Constitution, is now gasping for its very breath. Crooks get elected and then have the wit to fix and manage the right people in both parties and it is no wonder that our dollar is now worth less than forty cents and the Federal Government is actually bankrupt.

There is a cure for our own internal national sickness, but the people, not the politicians must apply the anti-toxin of work and faith and stop electing crazy spenders to any office, in either party. Reducing taxes and boosting the national debt is the high road to utter disaster. Allowing men like Hoffa and Bierne and Reuther to run the country is not doing the "poor working man" one bit of good. It is the very folly that will destroy even the legitimate labor movement. Give us a Congress that will put this insane dues collecting racket under the Anti-Trust laws, and we will see business begin to make some money and the unemployed get jobs.

Drive our own "political soldiers of fortune" out of office and Uncle Samuel will get well again awfully fast.

Off The Beaten Path

There are many places in Beautiful Ohio where you can go for a one-day drive. One such is one we made recently down the Scioto Valley.

You can take U.S. 23, a four-lane highway, or Ohio 104 from Columbus to Portsmouth. They coincide from Chillicothe to Waverly. From either just north of Chillicothe, you may see to the east, Mount Logan, the scene from which the Great Seal of Ohio was designed.

From Portsmouth you go west on U.S. 52 to Friendship. Turn to your right and there onto Ohio 125. You will pass Roosevelt Lake on your left in the Shawnee State Forest. In Adams County you will drive over several miles of new, well marked pavement. You will want to pull off to see the many magnificent views.

West Union, seat of Adams County, is a charming village. The 1871 red brick court house with its white cupola stands on a full square with stores, restaurants, and a newspaper office adjoining. It reminds you of the Plaza in Taos, N. Mex.

Backtracking a few miles, you take Ohio 348 to Lucasville, back in Scioto County. In Otway you will see an old covered bridge set aside in a recent program as a historical site. Traffic is diverted to the new 348.

Elevations are called hills, mountains, but mostly "knobs." They are from 1000 to about 1300 feet high.

Watch for chuckholes. They haven't all been fixed after the hard winter. Watch, too, for wild creatures. You may see at close range, as did we, a groundhog and a flock of turkey buzzards.

There are other roads and spots of interest, too, nearby. Choose as you wish.

It says here . . . .

You don't have to travel half way around the earth to see beauty.

Act Breeds Danger

To the Editor:

Sometime during the night of Wednesday, May 29, two flares were taken away from barricades on the southwest corner of Ogden-av and Grace-st.

They were placed there to protect passers-by and also to protect newly laid sidewalks.

Those responsible for same lifted the corner manhole cover and threw the flares into the sewer, leaving the manhole open. Anyone crossing the street could easily have fallen into the sewer.

It took a policeman valuable time away from other duties to rectify the act.

Was that act a smart thing to do — endanger the life of another person?

Does your child get all four 7

In order to maintain a balance in personality, your child must be given proper training in all four areas of life. He must develop physically. His mental powers and social behavior should be cultivated. But most of all, the spiritual side must find expression.

Vacation Bible School provides this spiritual expression so necessary to full development. Here your child works and plays with others of his age. In this same place he learns about God and the time-honored custom of church attendance. The daily schedule is arranged to give just the right amount of time and emphasis to all activities.

First Congregational Adding $225,000 Unit

Construction began Monday, June 3 on the new Christian education building at First Congregational Church, 444 E. Broad-st, to be completed within eight months.

Contract for the $225,000 project has been awarded to Garwick and Ross, according to W. Frederick Laird, 260 S. Parkview-av, chairman of the building committee. Others on the committee are William C. Heer, 2259 Canterbury-rd, and Robert W. Irwin, 2775 Edgewood-rd.

The new building, to be connected with the church at the northwest corner, has been designed by Brooks and Coddington, architects. During construction only the Ninth-st entrance will be open.

The new two-story structure, will be 45 by 95 feet, with a 21-foot connecting passageway to the main church building.

North and south end walls will harmonize with the church, constructed of the same Pennsylvania stone. Other walls will be of reinforced concrete.

Interest will be added to the new building, Laird says, by 71 windows of imported and domestic colored glass in random geometric patterns.

The connecting unit will have 18 more windows.

Thirteen rooms are included for the enlarged youth program which the new building will make possible, according to Rev. Chalmers Coe, 200 Ashbourne-rd, senior minister.

The main building at First Church, Gothic in style, was erected in 1931. It includes a sanctuary, seating 1076, a social hall accommodating up to 500, church school rooms, studies, offices and library.

2:30 a.m.," but that he would occasionally "drop back in after hours to clean up the establishment and engage in some bookkeeping."

Attorney A. C. Strip, representing the billiard firm, offered that the city never had "an official ordinance" establishing hours of operation but that D and D Billiards would "faithfully confirm" with the regulations set down in the new piece of legislation.

Moling, who had the gavel of Council President Walter Siemer hammered at him a number of times, pressed further that the cost of a billiard license be set at $1000 and "appropriate fees for each table, starting with $500 for the first table."

The legislation passed by council, however, requires a $25 license fee and $25 for the first table with a $10 fee for each additional table. The eight-page ordinance also sets forth requirements of fees, specifications of buildings and other such rulings.

In other action:

- Council passed an 11-page ordinance providing for the regulation of closing-out sales of "distressed merchandise," and establishing a sales commission and providing for a $25 license of such sales and revocation of such license.
- Tabled, on the request of Charles Kibler, an ordinance to change the zoning map for the Noble property at 586 Hamilton-rd. Action was put off until the July 2 meeting.
- Created the office of deputy city auditor and appropriated $2100 from the general fund for the deputy auditor fund.
- Authorized Service Director Robert Mickey to purchase insurance for hazards arriving from the use of city-owned vehicles.
- Approved the report of the assessment equalization board on the improvement of Collingwood-av. from E. Main-st to E. Broad-st.
- Adopted two resolutions accepting the deed of easement for certain right-of-way purposes for properties owned by Luetta Callicoat and Lillie Gain.
- Gave second reading to an ordinance prohibiting the accumulation of junk, trash or waste on premises not properly zoned for such purposes.
- Gave second reading to an ordinance prohibiting the storage of unregistered and/or junk motor vehicles on property not properly zoned.

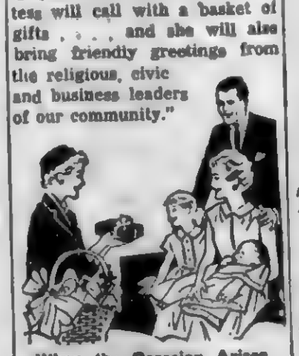
this fine eating establishment.

Some of the finest highways in the world, running through some of the most beautiful country in the world, are attracting thousands of Americans across the border and Canadians are more and more alert to the value of this vacation trade. The welcome hand is out at every corner but the moderate prices you pay will bring a welcome bargain. (Incidentally, currently the American dollar is worth about 7 cents more than the Canadian dollar, which means that every time you cash a $20 bill you get $1.40 extra in Canadian money in return.)

This Would Happen



Many a fisherman who casts plugs in Canadian waters in an effort to land a big Muskie finds that he must do so many years before he actually connects with one of the big boys.

This past week, however, two of our party had the good fortune of landing a 16 lb. and 19 lb. Muskie, caught on Red Daredevils while casting.

It couldn't have happened at a worse time — the Muskie season doesn't open until June 20.

Pierson and his wife Jean have resided in Columbus for the past eight years. He estimated that his travels have kept him away from home fifty per cent of the year and some years as much as 200 days. Would he do it again? "By all means," he replies. "Travel is wonderfully broadening and offers the privilege of meeting an endless variety of interesting people."

But, he and his wife have at least one more cross country trip to make before settling down for good. They'll depart for North Highland, Calif. (near Sacramento), in mid-June to visit their daughter, Sally, who is married to an Air Force captain. They'll settle in California where most of the driving will be on the golf range.

Southeast Cornerstone Service Set

Southeast Christian Church will lay the cornerstone at 3 p.m. Sunday, June 9, for its new sanctuary, education and administrative units located at 3330 E. Livingston-av at Barnett-rd.

The congregation, formerly known as the Wilson Avenue Christian Church and located at Wilson and Fulton-st, had its beginning in 1894 on Columbus' near east side.

The new building is expected to be ready for occupancy by Sept. 1. Kenneth Coy is minister.

Wise Re-Elected

Herbert Wise, Bexley resident, 182 N. Cassingham, has been re-elected for a second term as chairman of the Ohio-Kentucky Regional Board of the Anti-Defamation League.

The announcement came at the league's 14th Regional Board meeting at the University Inn in Columbus on May 18 and 19. Among other things, Wise is immediate past president of the Big Brothers Association here.

GREEN THUMB

GREEN THUMB . . . is the way of describing those that have a way with plant life. The ones, who are so gifted, will tell you that to be successful with plants, you must see that they have plenty of water. God knows too, that a soul must be watered in order for it to mature and grow.

". . . and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not." Isaiah 58:11

Attend Church Regularly and receive your spiritual nourishment.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH . . . THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

LEGAL NOTICES

PUBLIC NOTICE

Public Hearing will be held by the Council of the City of Whitehall, Ohio, on Tuesday, the 2nd day of July, 1963, at 7:30 P.M. at the City Hall, 360 South Yearling Road, to consider the following.

ORDINANCE NO. 67-63

AMENDING ORDINANCE NO 135-52, PASSED THE 5TH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1952, AND AS SUBSEQUENTLY AMENDED, AS TO SECTIONS 8, 9, 10, 11 AND 12, REPEALING SECTION 28 (JURISDICTION AND POWERS), AND DECLARING AN EMERGENCY

WHEREAS, the Council desires to clarify certain sections of the Zoning Ordinance and to better define and regulate the issuance of Special Permits, and

WHEREAS, the Council desires to remove a section (Section 28) of this ordinance which largely conflicts with the definitions of another section (Section 28), and

WHEREAS, the Planning and Zoning Commission has considered and reported favorably on the amendments as set forth below, and

WHEREAS, the Council has held a public hearing after publication of notice according to law; NOW, THEREFORE,

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF WHITEHALL, OHIO:

SECTION 1. That Ordinance No. 135-52, passed November 5, 1952, and as subsequently amended, be and the same is hereby amended in the following manner:

Section 8

(23) Any other trade, industry or use that will be injurious, hazardous, noxious, or offensive to an extent equal to or greater than any one of the enterprises enumerated above.

Section 11.

SPECIAL PERMIT USES.

(A) The City Council may, by Special Permit, and subject to such protective restrictions as are deemed necessary, authorize the location, extension, or structural alteration of any of the following buildings or uses, or an increase in their height, in any district from which these are prohibited or limited by this ordinance. If recommended by the Planning and Zoning Commission, such permit may be authorized by vote of a majority of members elected to Council. Otherwise, the same shall require the concurrence of six (6) members thereto.

(1) Aviation field, public swimming pool or skating rink.

(2) Crematory or cemetery.

(3) Penal house, penal or correction institution, sanitarium for the insane or feeble-minded.

(4) Lumber yard, planing mill, basket material factory, furniture factory.

(5) Manufacture of paper, plaster, paint, enamel, lacquer, oil cloth, linoleum, sauerkraut manufacture, cider mill, or tobacco (chewing) manufacture.

(B) Before issuance of any Special Permit for any use of the above buildings or uses, the following conditions shall be complied with:

A public hearing in relation thereto shall be held before the City Council. The Planning and Zoning Commission shall study and within a reasonable time after the date of application for such Special Permit, shall report to the City Council regarding the effect of such proposed building or use upon the character of the neighborhood and upon traffic conditions, public utility facilities, and other matter pertaining to the public safety, or general welfare, and also report any and all recommendations concerning protective restrictions which may be deemed necessary. No action shall be taken upon any application for a proposed building or use above referred to until said public hearing has been held and action taken by Council.

Section 12.

NON-CONFORMING USES.

(A) A use of building or land, existing at the time of the enactment of this ordinance may be continued even though such use does not conform with the provisions of this subdivision for the district in which it is located. No enlargement or expansion shall be permitted.

(B) A non-conforming use of a building or land which has been abandoned shall not thereafter be returned to such non-conforming use.

(C) A non-conforming use shall be considered abandoned:

(1) When the intent of the owner to discontinue the use is apparent, or

(2) When the characteristic equipment and the furnishings of the non-conforming use have been removed from the premises and have not been replaced by similar equipment within ninety days, unless other facts show intention to resume the non-conforming use, or

(3) When it has been replaced by a conforming use, or

(4) When it has been changed to another use under permit from the City Council

(D) Nothing in this ordinance shall prevent the reconstruction or replacement of a building wholly or partially destroyed by fire, explosion, act of God or act of public enemy or prevent the restoration of a wall declared unsafe by the Inspector of Buildings. No building arranged, designed, and devoted to a non-conforming use and conducted without abandonment as stated herein above, may be reconstructed, structurally altered or enlarged, or in any lawful manner extended so as to increase the floor space thereof over that existing, unless the use of said building is changed to conforming use, and any building which has been so used without abandonment may be replaced by a new building on the same area and used for non-conforming use, said new building not to contain more than the original floor space of the replaced building and to conform to all building regulations of the City of Whitehall, Ohio.

SECTION 2. That Section 28 of Ordinance No. 135-52, entitled "Jurisdiction and Powers," passed November 5, 1952, and as subsequently amended, be and the same is hereby repealed.

SECTION 3. That this ordinance is hereby declared to be an emergency measure immediately necessary for the preservation of the public peace, safety, health and welfare of the City of Whitehall. Such necessity exists by reason of the fact that the City is growing rapidly and there are many structures being contemplated which require a change in zoning so as to protect property values and assure proper municipal growth. Wherefore, this ordinance shall take effect and be in full force immediately after its passage and approval by the Mayor.

By order of the Council of the City of Whitehall.

CASE NO. 143

Public Hearing will be held by the Council of the City of Whitehall, Ohio, on Tuesday the 2nd day of July, 1963, at 7:30 P.M., at the City Hall, 360 South Yearling Road, to consider the request of Charity Realty Corporation, Inc., for a change in zoning of the property located adjacent to the Ohio National Bank, east of Hamilton Road and south of East Broad Street:

Being part of a 7.95 acre tract and more particularly described as follows:

Beginning at a point in the centerline of East Broad Street, at the northeasterly corner of said 7.95 acre tract;

thence South 0 degrees 39 minutes and 30 seconds East, along the easterly line of said 7.95 acre tract, a distance of 608.08 feet to a point at the southeasterly corner of said 7.95 acre tract;

thence North 88 degrees 43 minutes West along the southerly line of said 7.95 acre tract, a distance of 380.69 feet to a point in the easterly right-of-way line of Hamilton Road;

thence in a northerly direction along the easterly right-of-way line of said Hamilton Road, and along a curve to the left, a chord minutes East, a chord distance of 178.77 feet to a point of tangent;

thence continuing along the easterly right-of-way line of said Hamilton Road, NORTH (assumed), a distance of 120.6 feet plus or minus to a point at the southwesterly corner of a 1.062 acre tract leased to the Ohio National Bank, said point being SOUTH, along the easterly right-of-way line of said Hamilton Road, a distance of 333.86 feet from a point at the intersection of the easterly right-of-way line of said Hamilton Road, with centerline of said East Broad Street;

thence North 78 degrees, 34 minutes East, along the southerly line of said 1.062 acre tract, and parallel to the centerline of said East Broad Street, a distance of 200.00 feet to a point;

thence NORTH, along the easterly line of said 1.062 acre tract, and parallel to the easterly line of said Hamilton Road, a distance of 223.66 feet to a point in the centerline of East Broad Street, at the northeasterly corner of said 1.062 acre tract;

thence NORTH 78 degrees 34 minutes East along the centerline of East Broad Street, and along the northerly line of said 7.95 acre tract, a distance of 184 feet plus or minus to the place of beginning, containing 3.53 plus or minus acres, subject however to all legal highways and easements of record.

Said property is presently zoned General Commercial and A-1-A Single Family Residence Districts and Ctt is requested that rezoning to A-O, Apartment-Office District, be granted to permit the construction of a motel (Holiday Inns of America) and purposes incidental thereto, including a restaurant. Proposed ordinance and report of the Planning and Zoning Commission are on file in the office of the Clerk of Council at the City Hall.

By order of the Council of the City of Whitehall.

Employment Opportunities Needed For Youth: Gabele

Higher education and advanced training is being more universally recognized as a key to better career job opportunities, as evidenced by some 52.2 per cent of this year's local high school graduates who have indicated that they will be college bound.

However, local employment specialists and civic leaders voice a great concern for those graduates who will not attend college or technical schools and who are in need of immediate employment opportunities.

Of the 5910 youngsters graduating from Columbus and Franklin County High Schools this spring, an estimated 2500 will be actively competing for the available job openings, Ralph E. Gabele, Columbus Area manager of the Ohio State Employment Service, declared recently.

This estimate has discounted those graduates who have already secured employment and also those who will probably not seek jobs. It does not, however, include those additional graduates who will trek to the capital city from outlying sections of the state to seek employment. Neither does it include the undetermined number of high school drop-outs who are seeking jobs, Gabele said.

Employment for young people has always been an important factor in any community and it becomes increasingly so with the growing number of teenagers who will enter the labor market in this and succeeding years.

Although local employment and job openings are currently at a high level, many of the job listings are for special skills or experiences not possessed by young graduates. Gabele pointed out that some employers who have been unable to locate workers in needed skills might possibly find it advantageous to change basic job requirements and hiring practices in order to hire younger workers. In many cases this would enable an employer to build his organization for the years ahead which, statistics show, will have a heavy concentration of older workers over 45 and of younger workers under 20.

"Employment opportunities for our youth today are a very real investment in tomorrow's profits and should concern every business and industry in the community," Gabele concluded.

Nearly 300 job-seeking graduates took advantage of the local OSES "Job Opportunity Day," Saturday, May 18, to explore job possibilities. Special emphasis will be devoted during the next several months to the placement of 1963 graduates through local employment offices.

Missile Tester Installed At N.A.

A hypersonic shock tunnel with an operating time of five thousandths of a second per test run is being built at North American Aviation's Columbus Division to evaluate heat transfer effects and pressure distribution on models of high speed missiles.

The new tunnel, built by North American at a cost of $42,000, is similar in operating principle to a wind tunnel, except that it uses pressurized helium forced through a narrow tube causing it to expand to speeds 16 times the speed of sound at a temperature of 4000 degrees Fahrenheit. This in turn circulates over a missile mounted in a test chamber and the responses are recorded by gauges and meters to indicate the missile's reaction to high speeds and extreme heat.

Howland Gets Post, Trip To Norway

Dr. Daniel Howland, associate professor of industrial engineering and director of the Systems Research Group at the Engineering Experiment Station at Ohio State University, has been elected to the executive committee of the Military Operations Research Symposia.

With this post, he will have security clearance with all components of the Department of Defense.

Dr. Howland, of 2696 Fairav, has also been named to attend the third International Conference on Operational Research to be held in July in Oslo, Norway.

He will present a paper on "A Model for Hospital System Planning," based on research conducted at University Hospital.

Pair Fined In Sale Of Fireworks

A Columbus resident and a Groveport man were given maximum fines in Whitehall mayor's court Tuesday on charges of illegal sale of fireworks.

Charges against the pair were filed after a Whitehall youth was taken to Riverside Hospital with injuries sustained when one of the firecrackers exploded in his hand.

Robert L. Swartzlander, 23, 700 Blacklick-rd, Groveport, was fined a total of $100 and costs on two charges, while James T. Falter, 18, 1404 S. Roosevelt-av, was fined $50 and costs on one charge of illegal sale of fireworks.

The injured youth, Robert Rauch, 960 Duke-rd, is reported in "good" condition at Riverside Hospital. A Columbus plastic surgeon has performed two operations on the boy's injured right hand.

Ends Training

Marine Pvt. John R. Wiley, son of Mrs. Velma J. Smith of 110 Beechtree-rd, recently completed recruit training at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif., and is slated to report to Camp Pendleton, Calif., for advanced infantry training.

W. Jeff Boy Is Drowned

Ronald Hughes, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Haines of R.R. 1, West Jefferson, drowned in 10 feet of water Tuesday, despite efforts to save him.

The boy had been trying to swim the 100-yard wide Big Darby Creek, five miles south of Plain City near Beach Bridge off Lucas Pike, when apparently exhausted, he went down 60 feet from shore.

His brother Danny, 18, and another companion witnessed the drowning. Danny attempted to pull Ronald up, but was unsuccessful.

Funeral arrangements are being made by the Blauser and Baker Funeral Home in West Jefferson.

Name Local J. A. Winner

Leroy Belhorn, vice-president of City National Bank, has announced that Ecojac, a Junior Achievement Co., counseled by the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., is the winner of the local Junior Achievement annual report contest. Ecojac was led by President Thomas B. Drake, a junior at St. Charles High School.

Runner-up winners were: first, Westco, counseled by Westinghouse Electric Corp.; second, Colo-Co-Fab, counseled by Columbus Coated Fabrics Co.; third, Jabsco, counseled by Ternstedt Division of General Motors, and fourth, Ja-Bak-Co, counseled by Columbus Bolt and Forging Co.

Junior Achievement is a national organization for high school youth to experience the operation and the rewards of the free enterprise system. The report submitted by Ecojac will compete in a national contest with reports from other Junior Achievement groups.

Class Of '58 At Whitehall Sets Reunion

The 1958 class of Whitehall High, 675 Yearling-rd, is planning its first-ever reunion Friday evening, June 14, at the Desert Inn Supper Club.

According to a class spokesman, a number of invitations have already been sent out but there are still some classmates whose whereabouts are unknown.

They are urged to contact Robert Addison at the high school or John Auble, Jr., at BE. 7-9500 or BR. 4-1155.

A social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. with a dinner and dance to follow.

Camp Fire Girls Alumni To Meet

The Alumni Association of the Franklin County Council of Camp Fire Girls will hold a family picnic at Camp Wyandot, Sunday, June 9, from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Anyone who has ever had a past connection with the Camp Fire Girls is invited to attend.

Soft drinks will be sold at the dining hall and at poolside and there will be camp fires burning to roast hot dogs, marshmallows, hamburgers or steak.

There will be swimming, tours of the camp at 11 a.m. and 3:30 p.m., games at 3 p.m. and an alumni meeting at 2 p.m.

To find Camp Wyandot, take Rt. 33 south from Lancaster and turn right at the first road past the Hocking County line. It is just past Sugar Grove and there will be a sign to point the way.

Musician Retires

D. Talmadge Crawshaw, 109 S. Burgess-av, has retired after 14 years as minister of music at Glenwood Methodist Church.

He will remain in his position as director at Schiller Recreation Center.

A new music director will be hired by the time full choir participation resumes in the fall.

Will Tour

Mrs. Virgie E. Rogers, in charge of public relations for Goodwill Industries of Central Ohio, 1331 Edgehill-rd, will leave June 10 for a tour of the Holy Lands. She will attend the Ninth World Congress for Rehabilitation of the Disabled in Copenhagen, Denmark.

J.C. Penney Store Opens New Vitamin Department

The J. C. Penney Department Store, Town and Country Shopping Center, has announced the opening of a new vitamin department to offer top quality vitamins at the lowest possible prices.

All Penney vitamins meet government requirements for quality and are also inspected by the Penney laboratories to insure that the highest standards of quality, purity and consistancy are always maintained.

Larry Brown, department manager, has extended an invitation for everyone to compare prices with other nationally known vitamins and check Penney's formulas which are guaranteed to maintain potency for two years.

"Any vitamin products we offer are the same high quality merchandise found throughout the rest of the store at a substantial savings in price to our customers," he added.

Relle Named President Of E. Civitan

Ference M. Relle, 3487 Roswell-dr, has been elected president of Eastern Civitan for the upcoming year. He will be installed June 12, 6:30 p.m., during a dinner party at the Maennerchor.

Other new officers include Otto C. Heinzerling, president-elect; Paul K. Uhrig, vice-president; Frank S. Barker, secretary, and Paul T. Bowsher, Jr., treasurer.

Board members selected are J. Robert Callahan, John J. Boyd and Herman Luckoff.

Relle succeeds Bert G. Kausek to the president's post.

THIS WAS the scene when students entered the New Orleans-decorated Jeffrey Mansion for Bexley High's all-night graduation party. Among other things, the parents pinned boutonnaires on the boys (as shown here). Note the artificial foliage which consisted mainly of real rose bushes with bogus flowers.

BexleyOKs Building At Capital

By BETTY DAFT

Bexley Council approved plans during regular session Tuesday night for Capital University's new $650,000 administration building which is to be named for the school's president, Dr. Harold Yochum.

In other action, council:

• Gave the go ahead to Councilwoman Ruth Mann and her Parks and Forestry Commission to build a $300 bicycle path on the Jeffrey Mansion grounds.

• Agreed to a proposal to build eight brick garages for the Mellman Apartment building on the northwest corner of E. Broad-st and Gould-rd.

• Expressed their intention to cooperate with Columbus' plans to clean out Alum Creek from Cliffton-av south to Livingston-av.

MULTI-STORY JOB

Capital's proposed administration structure, part of the university's $10-million "Decade of Decision" 10-year university's $10-million "Decade of Decision" 10-year cated east of Huber Hall, across from Bexley Hall on E. Mound-st.

Bids on the $650,000 building will be reviewed by the Board of Regents executive committee on July 24. Groundbreaking is planned for this summer.

Principal contributors to the project were the late Mr. and Mrs. Ray Saylor of Berea, O., who donated $100,000 to the building fund with the stipulation that it be named after President Yochum, who is in his 17th year at Capital.

HIKERS AND BIKERS

The blacktopped bicycle path — which will also be for the benefit of hike-takers — is being built in keeping with recreational activities surrounding the new first-ever pool there.

The path will start at the gate at the corner of Parkview and Cliffton-avs and wind its

Schedule Laid Down For Fourth

William LaRue, vice-president of the Eastern Columbus Jaycees and general chairman of Whitehall's Fourth of July civic celebration, has announced a tentative schedule of events.

A parade down Broad-st at 1:30 p.m. will open the day's festivities. Some 25 units will parade, including a marching band, honor and color guards.

All Whitehall youths are urged to decorate their bicycles and participate in the parade.

At 2 p.m., judging of the bicycles will be held, and awards made for the most colorful and most imaginative in the parade. Also at 2 p.m., an American Legion baseball game will be held on Whitehall High's diamond.

On the Robinwood Plaza of the Town and Country Shopping Center will be a horseshoe tournament, and the opening of the "midway."

Various organizations and churches in Whitehall will sponsor booths on the midway.

At 3:30 p.m., there will be an archery demonstration, as well as foot races, sack races and a tug of war for the children.

At 4 p.m., the Whitehall Fire Department will stage a water battle in the field just south of the Town and Country Shopping Center, across from the new post office on Robinwood.

At 4:30 p.m., there will be a pet parade, featuring pets of all varieties, brought in by the Whitehall children.

At 5 p.m., a dog show will

Columbus Girl Is Second In Famed Miss Ohio Contest

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

Boswelling the recent activities of a one Miss Gloria Jean McBride, it's easy to see how she could feel the plight of a girl who's always a bridesmaid but never a bride.

Curvy Gloria, 21, of 1367 Stelzer-rd, was first runner-up in the recent Miss Columbus competition here and, out of sheer desire, entered the Miss Ohio contest ("More out of curosity than anything else," she said). She placed second in this one, too.

"Maybe some girls would be quite disappointed to come that close and yet be so far," she said with a smile.

Not with this lass, however, who (if anything) feels it was "quite an honor" even to be included in the list of entries.

Of course she was excited about the Miss Columbus competition, but her feelings of elation over the Miss Ohio contest in Cleveland last week were as evident as the spotted face of a five-year old with the measles.

"It was just wonderful . . . I've never seen a pageant more beautiful," she talked in spurts to reporters, obviously still gasping for breath over the second place distinction.

Although quite conscious about her diet (and who wouldn't be with a 36-23-36 tape measure reading, in the usual order) Gloria couldn't help but decide that the food served the entries in Cleveland's Chateau Club was the highlight of the entire event.

"It was steak, steak, steak every time you turned around," she commented. "I've never seen so much wonderful food as they shoved at us during those three days of the contest. I broke four New

Moral Duty Ordinance In Whitehall

Whitehall Council meeting next Tuesday will feature a second reading of an ordinance calling for payment of $10,170.20 to the North Haulage Co.

The ordinance is the result of survey information presented to the city by James Maxwell, Jr., attorney for the garbage hauling firm. It would, according to ordinance language, constitute "full settlement as a moral obligation" for alleged previous underpayment by the city.

In an Apr. 17 letter to Robert B. Mickey, Whitehall service director, Maxwell instituted a claim for $9,114.36 covering alleged underpayment from Jan. 1, 1962, through Mar. 31, 1963. The

There's a moral in here somewhere, and if you can figure it out you're a lot brighter than this writer, if you enjoy small triumphs.

It concerns what could be easily termed a "phenomenon," called Buckeye Girls' State, scheduled to set up shop, so to speak, at Capital University Saturday afternoon.

The rub is that this will be the largest week in the 17-year history of Girls' State and observers close to the situation are predicting that it may soon surpass (in size) Buckeye Boys' State operations on Ohio University's campus in Athens.

Mrs. Lester Merritt, director of government since Girls' State conception, finds it hard to understand the progressive enormity of this growth. She does know that 1,205 girls will be on hand this year — compared to a slightly higher 1,300 at Boys' State.

The growth is even more startling when you glance at last year's roster when 1,118 girls attended and, in comparison to Girls' State beginnings when 304 met in gov-

Have Your 50-Star Flag Out On Friday

In all corners of the globe Americans and their friends will pause for a few minutes this Friday, June 14, to pay a special tribute to our national emblem on its own special day, Flag Day, 1963. It is especially noteworthy that our servicemen from Korea to France will take this opportunity to demonstrate for their friends in foreign lands their respect and love for the American Flag.

Without exception every American should display "Old Glory" on this special day as their tribute to our way of life and as a sign of respect to the history of our great nation.

If you do not have a proper flag to display on this patriotic day, be sure and order yours today.

For a limited time Hartley Newspapers is making a special offer to readers of this newspaper to furnish a brand new 50-star flag, suitable for outdoor display, at much less than you would normally pay.

The big 3"x5", colorfast cotton flag, complete with pole, halyard, top decoration and window holder, usually sells for $5.98. During the offer the flag kit, along with a one-year subscription to your favorite Hartley Newspaper, valued at $3, can both be purchased for a total of only $5.

An advertisement on the inside pages of this newspaper contains the complete offer and a coupon that can be filled out and mailed, along with

THERE ARE 42 STARS on this old American flag discovered in the attic of her father's home by Mrs. Esther Brook, 709 Lilly Chapel-rd, West Jefferson. The flag belonged to Mrs. Brook's grandfather, E. E. Taylor, who operated a drug store on Main-st in West Jefferson for many years. The 12-foot-long flag was only manufactured during an eight-month period between the admission of Washington, the 42nd state, Nov. 11, 1889, and the 43rd state, Idaho, July 3, 1890. It is printed on bunting, rather than sewn, and is in a remarkably good state of preservation.

Bexley High Grads Get Star Billing At Annual Party

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

All of the excitement and fantasy that surrounds the public appearance of a movie star bloomed (along with artificial roses and magnolias) for Bexley High students last Thursday evening.

The occasion was the annual parental-conceived graduation party at Jeffrey Mansion — the seemingly ageless home on Parkview-av which curiously resembled a Southern plantation with the New Orleans motif.

SHE COULD HAVE DANCED ALL NIGHT?

The mansion was divided off into a staggering number of activities to keep the grads awake for the all-night affair and, in keeping with our movie star angle, one couldn't help but feel it was like viewing many Selected Short Subjects.

So, if the maestro will be seated at the mighty Wurlitzer (as in movie houses of another year) we'll begin.

First, maestro, a few bars of "I Only Have Eyes For You" to set the scene as the students entered the front door of the gaily decorated party house. A line in that song goes something like "Are The Stars Out Tonight . . .?" and this, too, is appropriate since the students were photographed like movie stars on motion picture film which was rushed to the developer and brought back in time for a 4:30 a.m. showing.

Next, maestro, a little music along the lines of "Getting To Know You" as the students found out a new side of their parents Thursday evening. First, a number of parents waited at the front door to greet the arrivals and to pin boutonnaires on the males. The oohs and ahhs started almost immediately when the smiling graduates caught first glimpses of the decorating creativity provided by Mr. and Mrs. George Hays and their adornment contingent.

And now, if the maestro will play "You Must've Been A Beautiful Baby" we'll take a look on the second floor where an entire room was devoted to one of the party's most unusual activities: Baby pictures. Under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Counter, baby pictures of

Patrol Opens New Exam Station In Whitehall

The Ohio State Highway Patrol has opened its second Driver License Exam Station at 166 S. Hamilton-rd, Whitehall, in the Fairport Shopping Center.

According to Patrolman A. P. Giuffrey, the new station is to relieve the amount of examinations currently being made at 702 17th-av, across from the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

Over 61,000 examinations were given there last year.

Hours of operation for the new station will be Tuesday through Saturday (8 a.m. to 5 p.m) for driving exams by appointment and Tuesday through Friday (same hours) for pre-exams by appointment.

Temporary license examinations will be administered during all hours of operation without appointment.

One of the advantages of the new location is that the Hamilton-rd bus (to E. Main-st) runs right past the structure to make it more easily accessible to interested persons. There is no bus service to the other exam site.

The station opened for business June 11.

ermmental sessions, it's almost unbelievable.

One of the biggest tasks facing the projects' sponsors, the American Legion Auxiliary, is providing for the great influx of government-minded young ladies.

Mrs. Merritt hinted this week that perhaps "Capital's campus may not be large enough to contain the project in the near future." It'll certainly be a break in precedent since the Legion ladies have been making camp at Cap for the entire 17 years of the program's existence.

Officials at Capital reported that "there has been some discussion" about the size problem, but stated that nothing "definite" had been said about changing the Girls' State location.

Dr. Frank Bretz, vice-president of academic affairs at Capital, did state that there were plans to begin Girls' State earlier next year to prevent "fewer conflicts on campus."

There have also been rumors that Capital would like to put in additional summer sessions which have been prohibited due to Girls' State operations from June 15 to 23.

Regardless, this year's program is going on schedule with the traditional candidate inauguration Wednesday at 8 p.m. in Mees Hall.

Ohio's Governor James Rhodes will give the opening address, with Supreme Court Judge Paul Herbert handling swearing-in duties. The girls, representing all of Ohio's 88 counties, will elect officials under a two-party (Federalist and Nationalist) system.

Largest group of girls will be from Franklin County, which has 61 representatives.

Three Receive Commissions In Military Service

Three area men received reserve commissions in their selected branch of the U. S. Armed Forces during spring quarter commencement exercises at Ohio State University's St. John Arena on June 7.

Named second lieutenants in the U. S. Army Reserve were Daniel W. DeHayes, Jr., 2886 Castlewood-rd, and Fred H. Able, 2760 Bryden-rd. DeHayes was also one of seven men named "Distinguished Military Graduates" during the ceremonies.

Joseph F. Funaro, 1765 Huy-rd, was one of seven receiving a commission as a second lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve.

All receiving commissions had completed four years' training in the university's ROTC program.

The oath was administered by Capt. Joseph W. Beadles, Jr., professor of naval science.

During the entire afternoon, the midway will be open for that old fashioned stroll on the Fourth of July.

From 6 to 9 p.m., games will be held under a large tent at the end of the midway. At 7 p.m., Whitehall Mayor Walter B. Moling will present awards that have been won during the day for the various events.

Bill Robinson, local disc jockey, will emcee a teenage dance hop from 7:30 to 9 p.m., held on the blacktop section of the plaza.

At 9 p.m., a torch relay will start from the plaza, and make its way through the Town and Country Shopping Center, before ending at the Robinwood field for a gigantic fireworks display. The July Fourth fireworks demonstration will be the biggest Whitehall has ever seen, according to LaRue.

An organization or church group desiring a booth on the midway has until Saturday, June 15, to request space from LaRue. He can be reached at 235-3829.

Rivaling her own excitement was that of Gloria's mother, Mrs. Margaret Barber, who commuted back and forth between Columbus and Cleveland during the three days.

Of course, Mrs. Barber has felt this kind of excitement before, since the beauty business is nothing new to Miss McBride. She was Little Miss Cincinnati, an Island Girl at Lincoln Lodge and Little Miss Coney Island. She was also selected Miss Casablanca at the Casablanca Hotel in Miami, Fla.

She's an employe of the Equitable Life Assurance Society in Columbus.

Miss Columbus, Joanne Picking, was named to forth place in Cleveland, also. "We're quite proud of our two Columbus girls," said Mrs. Jan Cardi, the Miss Universe coordinator for the Miss Columbus wing-ding here. "They're survived two nights of elimination among some of the most beautiful girls I've ever seen in a beauty contest."

ordinance figure includes an additional $1,055.84 to include the month of April.

The claim hinges on the failure of the city to adhere to terms of the original contract with North, and pertaining to a count of living units to be taken each December.

Mickey said that the city did not make a count of residential units in December, 1961. His original report of a count in December, 1962, cited an increase of only 89 units, based on records of the city building department.

Following the letter from Maxwell, an actual count of residential units was made by the city. This count, Mickey said, showed 6,200 units eligible for free garbage collection. This represents an increase of 24 over Maxwell's count.

Mickey said that the city has been paying the North firm on the basis of 6,200 units since the May payment. The yearly annual increase will amount to $12,282.

North was paid on the basis of 5,050 eligible units at the time of the original contract, signed in January, 1961. The present 6,200 figure, however, does not represent the implied 1,150 increase in eligible residential units.

Authoritative sources report that the 5,050 figure was based on money available for garbage collection service, rather than actual number of residential units. The actual number of units at the time of the original contract was approximately 6,000.

In another development involving the North firm, Maxwell and Columbus businessman, Joseph F. Smith, have been retained by the firm as consultants. Smith will serve as manager for the company.

Maxwell pointed out that the transaction does not involve any transfer of ownership in the North firm. Ownership and all stock remain with the present owners, he said.

"North Haulage," he said, "provides Whitehall with service at rates lower than anywhere in Ohio, including municipally owned operations."

The "moral obligation" ordinance carries an emergency clause, and could be passed during Tuesday's session if the necessary votes are garnered to waive the third reading. It is expected, however, that the ordinance will be held for a third reading.

It was also announced that formal opening of the new pool has been scheduled for July 4 at 3:30 p.m.

CREEK CLEARANCE

Mayor W. A. Schneider's comment, "We're tickled to death to get the junk cleared out the creek," summed up council's sentiments on Columbus' $20,000 plan to clean debris from the waterway.

Main cooperation on Bexley's part will be to provide for easements from residents' property bordering on "solemn Alum" which hasn't been flowing as freely as usual.

OPEN-DOOR POLICY

Robert L. Mellman's request for garage construction triggered a slight discussion on whether or not the structures would be in the car port category, not that it matters.

"They'll have three sides, but no doors," said Mellman.

Area Woman Heads UA Drive

An Eastmoor resident, Mrs. Arthur Loeb, Jr., 3040 Elbern, is general chairman of the 1963 residential solicitation in the United Appeal campaign.

Mrs. Loeb has charge of the division through which some 5,000 women are being recruited to cover all households in Franklin County during the campaign this October.

Her appointment was announced this week by Dr. Harold L. Yochum, Capital University president, the drive's general co-chairman.

Mrs. Loeb has served as worker, team captain and colonel in past campaigns, working on both the house-to-house and special gifts phases of the women's solicitation.

Mrs. Loeb's civic work extends to two other UA supported services. She is on the board of Columbus Public Health Nursing and is treasurer of the Joseph Schonthal Cancer Ray, a supporting group of the Columbus Cancer Clinic.

Now, a chorus or two of "Life Is Just A Bowl Of Cherries" or "Yes, We Have No Banannas" to salute Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lieberman, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Schmidt and Mr. and Mrs. David Evans. The Liebermans had charge of a breakfast, the Schmidts handled dinner arrangements and the Evanses furnished the soft drinks and snacks.

"Bells Are Ringing" would be appropriate for Mr. and Mrs. William Hoyer for their reservations and telephone efforts and let's hear "You Ought To Be In Pictures" for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howe who took care of all photography arrangements.

Next, a little clanging music, maestro, please for Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Kotzin who did publicity and beat the drums so that the public would know that Bexley parents are taking a deep concern in the welfare of their offspring.

Our bill of fare won't be complete without "Memories Are Made of This" for Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kahn, who furnished favors for the graduates to scrapbook. Lest we forget "Let Me Entertain You" for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glick who had charge of entertainment and music.

If the maestro isn't all tuckered out by now, try "This Could Be The Start Of Something Big" for historians Mr. and Mrs Keith Ault who undoubtedly will rewrite history in chronicling Thursday night's event. "Y'all Come" would fit for Mr. and Mrs. Morton Grumble and their invitation crew while an adaption of "We Knew You Were Coming So We Baked A Cake" strains would apply to Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bidlack and their registration committee.

Finally, a chorus of "Thanks For The Memories," maestro (and, the entire Bexley graduating class will join in this one) for Dr. and Mrs. Clark Pritchett, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Chittenden, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brandt, Mr. and Mrs. Don Elsass, Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. Irving Gertner who headed up all the committees.

Please play it loud enough so that it can be heard to the far reaches of Central Ohio. It was a symphony worthy of the volume.

BEXLEY HIGH DATES TEN YEAR REUNION

Bexley High School, class of 1953, will hold its 10-year reunion Saturday, June 15, at Arlington Arms Motel. Cocktails at 6 p.m. will be followed by dinner and dancing.

Robert Weller is in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. John N. Page (Barbara Bidlack), Jack Haunty, Raymond Wagonhorst, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Weiffenbach (Mary Creager), Mrs. Robert Schiff (Shirlie Wilson), Jim Soteriades, Reed Davidson and Joe Outhwaite.

Members of the class interested in making reservations may contact any of the above class members.

FESTIVAL OF ARTS BEGINS

THE DRAMATIC ARCHITECTURE of Park Towers, by photographer Richard Dewitt, CPP, will be one of the pictures featured in a pictorial display of downtown Columbus which is included as an exhibit in the Festival of Arts. The pavilions, containing many of the displays, located around City Hall in downtown Columbus, will open Thursday, June 13, at noon and remain open until 10 p.m. Pavilions will also be open Friday through Sunday from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. Art displays and exhibitions of performing arts will be included in the four-day festival.

Pet Shows, Day Camp Leads Early Playground Activity

City supervised playgrounds which opened June 12 already have some special events under way.

Pet shows will be held at each of the 31 locations Thursday, June 20. On the following Friday evening (June 21) sectional pet shows, open to all children and their pets, will be held at Glenwood, Schiller and Beatty Recreation Centers. Pets should be registered by 6 p.m. to be ready for show time, 6:30 p.m.

Registrations are now open at all playgrounds for summer day camp visits to Indian Village. Cost is $2.50 for the week, which includes bus transportation. West Columbus youngsters will attend the week of June 17, leaving from Sunshine or Glenwood centers.

West High Class Of '53 Schedules Reunion June 22

The West High School June Class of 1953 will have its 10th-year reunion party June 22 at the Desert Inn, Columbus.

Class President John R. Morison (191 Guernsey-av) said that about 150 members of the class and their wives and husbands are expected to attend the party, the first the class has held as a group since its graduation from West High.

The original graduating class had some 220 members.

Morison said the reunion party will begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Desert Inn with a social hour. This will be followed by a dinner and "reunion program." A dance, with music by Jerry Johnston and his orchestra, will cap the evening's programs.

At the "reunion program," prizes will be awarded to various class members, including the one who traveled the longest distance to attend, etc. Morison will act as master of ceremonies for the program.

Schacht Reports ACP Progress

Indications are that Agricultural Conservation Program practices were carried out on more farms in 1962 than in any other year since 1953, according to Carl W. Schacht, chairman, Franklin Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee.

Preliminary estimates put the total number of farms participating in ACP in 1962 at around 1,270,000 — about a five-per cent increase over the 1,217,000 farms participating in 1961. Of this number, about 200,000 were "new" participants — where conservation work had not been done in recent years.

In Franklin County, ACP practices boosted conservation on about 174 farms last year. Program practices completed on participating farms included such practices as liming, tiling, land shaping, and establishment of permanent pastures.

The ACP for 1963 — the 28th program year—is now well under way. In Franklin County, 138 farmers have already requisted ACP cost-sharing to help expand soil, water, woodland, and wildlife conservation work needed on their land.

Outdoor Fun At Blacklick Woods

A summer in the out-of-doors is ahead for children who take advantage of the Columbus Metropolitan Parks Junior Explorers and Senior Explorers programs. The Junior Explorers include children nine through 12 years of age, while the Senior Explorers include children 13 years and older. Both groups meet every Saturday at 9 a.m. in the Nature Center at Blacklick Woods Metropolitan Park.

Summer activities include hiking, making displays, cook-outs, overnight camping trips and field trips to areas which have outstanding natural features.

Many of these activities help the children to qualify for outdoor jobs when they are older. Some, who enter college, find summer employment in camps throughout the country.

Scout Council Annual Meet

Central Ohio Council, Boy Scouts, will hold its 46th annual meeting and recognition dinner, Saturday, June 15, at the Ohio Fairgrounds Arts and Crafts building.

In all, 381 scout-sponsoring units of eight counties will be represented at the big report session, conducted at 3:45 p.m. by Art Bogen. Entertainment for women will be held at the same hour.

At 7:30 p.m. Saturday the annual council recognition dinner will be held in the auditorium of the building. More than 600 local leaders and wives are expected. Fred Morr, Ohio director of Natural Resources, will speak.

Among others taking part in the day's activities will be Dr. C. Maurice Welting, Dr. Joseph Bugl, Lou Vierek, Robert Laux, Benny Collins, Bishop C. J. Issenmann, Duane Gettinger and Troop 12, Paul Handel, William E. McKenzie, Adam E. Weaner, Stanley E. Smith.

Dr. William Hutchison, Vernon Sanford, Ernest Hawbecker, Edward Sloan, Robert Mende, Byron Redman, Jr., E. M. Erickson, Lt. Col. Larry Sunderland, Rev. Sam Beattv, Rev. Richard Dodd, C. A. Gimre, C. O. Rawlings, M. E. Sensenbrenner, and Henry Flaherty.

Pudding Variation Is Easy And Nutritious

A tasty variation of an old favorite is rice pudding served with fruit.

Two ingredients — eggs and milk, enhance the nutritional value of this pudding and precooked rice decreases the preparation time. Milk is essential in everyone's diet, and by usink milk frequently in recipes will help the family receive the correct amount of milk each day.

Rice pudding and fruit would be the perfect ending to an easy summer dinner menu of cold fried chicken, bread and butter sandwiches, a garden vegetable salad and milk.

RICE PUDDING WITH FRUIT

⅔ cup package pre-cooked rice
3 cups milk
2 eggs, slightly beaten
⅔ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
Fruit

Combine rice and milk. Bring slowly to a boil; remove from heat. Blend beaten eggs with sugar, salt, vanilla extract and nutmeg. Add hot rice, stirring constantly. Pour into buttered 1½ - quart dish; set in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven, 375 degrees, 40 minutes or until pudding is thickened throughout. Stir several times during the first 20 minutes of baking. Chill.

Spoon alternate layers of rice pudding and strawberries into parfait glasses. May also be served topped with orange sections or as a topping for pineapple slices.

THIS 26-MAN aggregation comprised the 1963 New Albany baseball squad which finished County League competition with a 4-3 record—good enough for a third-place tie. The Eagle players are, left to right, front row: Dave Holliday, Tom Henry, John Cox, Walt Cruise, Floyd Thompson, John Tinon, Dave Whitcraft and Joe Butsko. Middle row: manager Ron Simpson, Bob Breaning, Mike Potochina, Marv Howard, Rick Norris, Bill Chappelear, Perry Morrison and Craig Schneider. Back row: manager Dave Kellett, manager George Wolfe, Marty Kries, Dennis Scott, John Sheppard, Mike Carpenter, Mike Doras, Bill Shover, Rod Brown and Emmett Gorby.

DIAMOND MEMORIES - PART I

Rebounding Horsehide Helps First Franklin County Champs

(Editor's Note — Charles F. Coon of Groveport, played baseball for the first Franklin County League championship team in 1903. The first of his series on the national pastime on a local level at the turn of the century appears today).

By CHARLES F. COON

Superintendents Dietrich of Groveport and Gruver of Worthington, in addition to organizing high school oratorical contests, decided in the winter of 1902-03 to form a Franklin County Baseball League.

However, only Hilliard, Worthington, Westerville, Reynoldsburg, Canal Winchester and Groveport entered teams.

ONE OF THE most interesting games came when the schedule called for Groveport to meet Westerville on the Otterbein College field. The college friends of Westerville High crowded into the diamond to rattle Groveport.

Supt. Dietrich finally pulled out his watch and declared if the rooters did not leave the field in three minutes, he felt the game to Groveport. His order was respected but by this time the damage was done and Groveport lost.

Revenge came a week later when Westerville journeyed to Canal Winchester. Hilliard was ready to forfeit its game to Groveport but it was decided that the game be played with each team being allowed one outsider as a substitution.

GROVEPORT ROOTERS traveled to Canal Winchester for the Westerville game and, believe it or not, rooted for C-W, who won the game and set up a required playoff game between Groveport and Westerville on Memorial Day.

Since the game could not get underway until Memorial services were concluded, Westerville did not arrive until 3:30, traveling to Groveport by train on the Hocking Valley (now C & O).

The contest was moving along on a close basis until the seventh inning when Groveport relaxed or weakened. With only one out, Westerville filled the bases.

McILVAINE, WHO had transfered from Worthington to Westerville in mid-season and was the top batter on the field that day, came to bat.

He got hold of one of Coon's pitches and the ball sailed far over the head of the center fielder. It traveled into an apple orchard and met head-on with the trunk of a tree, rebounding through an open board fence - directly toward the fielder!

Pandemonium broke loose and in the midst of the yelling, the fielder threw the ball to third base. Fred G. Bale, who had been on second and figured he had plenty of time to score, decided it might be better to try for a return to third.

BUT IN MAKING his turn, Bale twisted his leg (a cripple to this day) and did not get back in time. Instead of a grand-slam, there were now two outs with only one run scored. The ginger was gone and Groveport won the game —and the championship—8-5.

This year was the first one for baseball suits for Groveport and they were provided by the merchants of the village. Games were financed by the passing of the hat, a far-cry from the commercialized idea of today.

HERE ARE the members of Groveport's 1903 championship team:

Charles F. Coon, Groveport, pitcher (capt.); Harry I. Long, Columbus, third base; J. Chase Rarey, deceased second base; Ernest G. Rarey, Los Angeles, Calif., center field; Vernon E. Wildermuth, Tempe, Ariz., short stop; Ora Morehart, deceased, 1st base-pitcher; Ernest S. Sallee, deceased, left field; Karl D. Shaw, Columbus, catcher; Vernon E. Lowry, deceased, right field.

Shaw, Lowry and Wildermuth were members of the '03 class and Ernest Rarey was a member of the '05 class with the remaining members of the team graduating in 1904.

A continuation of baseball stories for this year (1903), 1904 and 1905 will appear in a later edition.

PERMIT SUSPENDED

The Ohio Liquor Control Commission has announced suspension of a D-2 permit at the J.&J. Tavern, 1789 Leonard-av, from June 10 to July 15. The permit, for sale of high-powered beer and wine on premises and for carry out, was suspended for Sunday consumption of intoxicating liquor in and upon the permit premises on Feb. 10.

Inspection Lanes Will Be Held At Shopping Center

There will be a voluntary motor vehicle check lane set up in the Reynoldsburg Shopping Center, from 4 to 7 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 13, 14 and 15.

The inspection lanes will be under the supervision of the Reynoldsburg Police Department and the Auxiliary Police Unit. Lights, brakes, horn, windshield wipers, exhaust pipes, tires, steering and window glass will be checked.

There will be no citations issued, since it is a voluntary program. However, warning tickets will be issued for all deficiencies, to have them repaired within 72 hours.

Know Your Postman . . .

Roland Reuter

What do postmen do on their days off? Not all of them take a walk. Take this week's "postman celebrity," Roland H. Reuter, for example. He enjoys bowling and gardening when not working out of the Livingston Avenue Station.

Reuter, Rt. 2, Canal Winchester, has been with the postal service for 14 years.

His current route (which he has been walking for two years) is bounded by Teddy-dr on the north, Dickens-dr on the south, Gertrude and Effner-rds on the east and Country Club-rd on the west.

RICHCREEK PROMOTED

James A. Richcreek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer C. Richcreek of 714 Ericksonav, Whitehall, a crewmember aboard the ammunition ship USS Shasta, was promoted to his present rate May 16 as a result of his succesful participation in the February Navywide examination for advancement in rating.

CHIC HAIRDO

This season you can update the classic and give a fresh look to your hairdo. If you have been yearning for a simple style, that is also chic you may have a hairdo that is reminiscent of the '30s. It's ideal for the woman with straight hair who wants the pleasing flair of a bit of curve to soften the basically tailored effect.

Have a chic hairdo for the warm weather. It should be easy-to-manage for the hot, humid season but arranged to suit you specifically. Iva's Beauty Salon, 3978 E. Broad Street, Columbus. BE 5-5474. Town and Country Shopping Center.

"Why Should My Drapes Be Damaged In Cleaning?"
—MRS. P. I. B.:

Dear Mrs. P. I. B.:

They shouldn't be damaged in cleaning, if they are cleaned frequently enough. Your slipcovers and bedspreads, soiled from contact, are sent for cleaning far more often than drapes. They seldom are damaged. When drapes are changed twice a year, some homemakers put them away without cleaning. Their first cleaning comes after they are three, or more years old. The cleaner is told to "be careful" because it is the first time they have been cleaned!

Damage to drapes from sunlight or fumes in the home may not be noticed because of the bulk of a drapery fabric or its soil. Some heavy fabrics have been known to fall apart from their own weight after several years of uncleaned use.

Laboratory tests show that in nine cases out of ten, when a drapery fabric "falls apart" in drycleaning, the cause is exposure to light, faulty dyes that weakened the material or household fumes. It is not the drycleaning that causes the damage.

Another disappointment is shrinkage. Many drapery fabrics do not meet the standards of wearing apparel and the "2% allowable shrinkage" in "pre-shrunk" fabrics can shorten the length of a long drapery by inches.

Your cleaner handles your drapes gently and carefully They will not be damaged in cleaning.

Many Patients Of Multiple Sclerosis Unaware Of Help

Multiple sclerosis patients in the East Side area are being served by the Franklin County Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Society, a United Appeal agency.

There may be other MS patients, however, who are missing out on vitally needed help because they are not known to the agency. "In an effort to get all such patients registered for service, the society is staging an educational program this week on the use of its services," President John M. Emory announced.

Emory reported that 210 patients are now served by the agency, but possibly that many more in Frankli: County are not yet being helped. All MS patients not registertered should phone or visit the office at 544 S. Drexel-av, Bexley (237-5449).

Dependent upon individual need and circumstances, the society offers such services as family counseling, transportation, clinic, physical therapy and orthopedic devices.

Agency officials explain that multiple sclerosis is a disease which strikes the central nervous system, causing a chronic crippling condition which keeps progressing. It hits primarily at young adults in the 20-to-40 age range.

Part of United Appeal's allocation to the society goes for research which it is hoped can eventually find a cure. The rest of the funds goes for local patient aid programs.

WILL ADD GARAGE

Carl Haag, 2753 Eastminister, has been issued a building permit to construct an alteration to a frame home and add a two-car concrete block garage at the same address. Construction is valued at $2,000.

TO ALTER BUILDING

Sisson Stern Co., 1266 E. Broad-st, has a permit to alter a brick building. Construction is valued at $1,000.

NEW GARAGE

Robert Barcus, 4610 St. Anthony-ln, Whitehall, has received a permit to build a frame garage valued at $1,645.

LINDA TAPIA, the first "Miss South Side" sponsored by the Council of South Side Organizations and elected last July Fourth, is ready with her crown when the new Miss is selected at Southview Park. Lithesome Linda was graduated from South High this month.

South Side's Fourth of July Event Is Gaining Momentum

It's too hot for snowballing, but what other adjective can be used in describing the Fourth of July activity plans in the South Side?

In fact, that's the very same adjective selected by John Marshall, chairman of the Council of South Side Organizations' July Fourth committee.

This is the first year Marshall has been at the helm of this major event in the area and he has a tough act to follow when ol' reliable Mike Mileusnich (now CSSO president) stepped down after coordinating the celebration for the past two years.

There are several factors entering into celebration this year that justify the old "bigger and better" line. For instance:

• There's added interest in the Council's second "Miss South Side" race since last year's winner, Linda Tapia, was a runner-up in Miss Central Ohio competition and is a possible contender for Miss America.

• For the first time, Ohio State championship softball tournaments will be held on Southview field starting at 1 p.m. And there are several South Side "Y" Inter-church all-star games planned.

• The Council has dealt out more money this year for its gigantic fireworks display which, even in leaner past years, has been an awesome and colorful expression of patriotism.

As usual, refreshments will be available and there will be pony rides for the children and entertainment in the evening, featuring the Marion-Franklin High band.

The beauty contest is scheduled to go on at 8:15 p.m. with local radio, TV and newspaper personalities serving as judges. The fireworks will be ignited at 9 p.m.

Marshall reminds that South Side girls (living within the limits of Livingston-av south to the city limits and between the Scioto River and Alum Creek) are still being urged to sign up for the beauty competition.

The deadline for entering is midnight, July 1. Entry blanks are available at the South Side YMCA, 190 Southwood-av. Or, just call there (HI. 4-2151) and tell them you're interested. It's as easy as that.

The only real requirement (besides living in the area) is that the young lady must be between the ages of 15 and 21.

"I really isn't fair to say that the South Side Council is doing this celebration alone," ever-fair Marshall pointed out. Giving credit where it's due, he pointed out that the CSSO is really in a co-sponsorship with South Side businessmen.

Their contributions have furnished a majority of the funds for staging the event. At press time, the following South Side merchants and civic groups had contributed:

South Side Business and Industrial Association, Erfurt's Market, Gager Kelm, Inc., Topper Steel, Swift and Co., Virginia Homes, Inc., Columbus Lace Cleaning Co.

George Shustick & Sons, Inc., Inland Products, Inc., Ewan Cleaners, Weller & Lund, and Ohio Bedding Co.

ENTERS RACE

Karen Nutter, 2685 S. Cassady-av, a pretty 16-year-old Marion-Franklin High student, was the first contestant to enter the race for Miss South Side this year. Deadline for entering is midnight, July 1.

Is Secretary

Judy Holt, a sophomore at Capital University, has been elected secretary of her 1963-64 junior class. Miss Holt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell L. Holt, 1036 Grandon-av, Bexley, and is in the elementary education curriculum at Capital.

SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION

The Columbus Board of Education, 270 E. State-st, has received a building permit to construct an addition to a masonry building at 4938 Beatrice-dr. Construction is valued at $84,000. Contractor is Wagenbrenner Construction Co.

TO ALTER HOME

Charles Weilin, 130 S. James-rd, has a permit to alter his home. Construction is valued at $1,200.

John D. Metzger, 718 Grandon-av, Bexley, has been issued a construction permit to finish a second floor at the same address. Construction is valued at $1,500. Contractor is Howard D. Anthony.

BUILDING PERMIT

Whittaker Funeral Home, 720 E. Long-st, has obtained a building permit to construct an alteration to a masonry building. Construction is valued at $1,400. Contractor is George Snyder and Sons, Inc.

EXPLAINING PARTS of a tank that will be part of the equipment at the new Army Reserve tank battalion on Roberts-rd is S/Sgt. Charles E. Stamper, 318 S. Huron (right). Listening is crewman sp/4 David Diamond, 2031 W. Broad-st.

Reserve Tankers Will Open Quarters Here

A new Army reserve unit has been formed and will headquarter in this area, at 4100 Roberts-rd.

The new unit is a tank battalion and has openings for qualified high school graduates or high school seniors.

The six-month active duty plan is in effect for the tank outfit, and positions are open for radio repairmen, mechanics, tank crewmen and food service and administrative personnel.

According to the battalion commander, Maj. Jerry H. Stilson, 6900 Linworth-rd, a high school graduate can enlist this June and be home in time for Christmas.

Maj. Stilson said the reservists have access to modern technical training, such as electronics and automotive mechanics.

For more information contact Capt. Frank E. Davis at TR 6-5293 or TU 5-6497.

TO ALTER HOUSE

Hershel L. Smith, 2172 Delmar-dr, has received a construction permit to build an alteration on to a frame home at 2810 and 2812 Azelda-av. Construction value has been set at $1,300. Contractor is Clifford Bailey.

CRUMPLED, TWISTED SCRAP, a pair of gloves and a lone shoe remained at the spot where two cars met head-on near the intersection of Lockbourne and Obetz-rds last week. Mrs. Mary D. Stadler, 45, of Hamilon Meadows, driver of the south-bound Buick above, was killed instantly. Stephen P. Swofford, 19, passenger in the other car, was pronounced dead on arrival at the hospital. Garland Oates, 19, driver of the second car, was released from Mercy Hospital this week. Both boys, college freshmen, are the sons of Lockbourne AFB personnel. Hamilton Police Chief Frank Bonner, who was the first officer at the scene of the accident, did not press charges against Oates, as his investigation indicated that though the young man had just completed passing a string of cars, he had regained his proper traffic lane before the point of impact.

Job Openings Announced In Reynoldsburg

Mrs. Phyllis Geohagan, secretary of the Reynoldsburg Civil Service Commission, announces that open competitive tests will be conducted in Reynoldsburg High School, 6699 E. Livingston-av, for several job openings.

Tips On Preventing Burglaries

Prepared as a Public Service by the BURGLARY PREVENTION WEEK ADVISORY COMMITTEE, 11 S. Morgan St., Chicago 7, Ill.

Connect Timer To Lamp

Leave a lamp or two connected to an automatic timer to turn lights on and off each evening. This makes the house look lived-in and is a good protective measure.

Lock All Doors

Be sure all exterior doors are securely locked. Use a pin-tumbler cylinder lock or safety latch.

Stop Deliveries

Be sure to have your mail held and all deliveries suspended during your absence. Notify local police of the dates you'll be away.

Partly Draw Shades

Make certain that drapes or shades are not completely drawn. Leave them as you normally would when you are home.

Close Garage Doors

Always close your garage doors. An empty garage with doors open will catch the attention of any thief and indicate no one is home.

Put Away Tools

Never leave ladders or tools lying around where prowlers can get at them—they may be used to get into your home.

Whitehall Graduates Class In Traditional June Service

The 1963 graduating class donned the traditional caps and gowns for commencement exercises Wednesday evening, June 5. Seniors marched into the auditorium in time with familiar processional, "Pomp and Circumstance" presented by the concert band.

Following the national anthem, Rev. Felix Coyle of Fairmoor Assembly of God gave the invocation.

Valedictorian Edith Kowalsky and salutatorian Carol Levy delivered brief recitations.

Speaker of the evening was Rabbi Jerome D. Folkman of Temple Israel. His speech emphasized that education must go on. The procedure of commencement, according to the rabbi, is not a termination of education, nor is it just the beginning.

"Rather, graduation from high school is merely a stopping place before the extension of formal education. Rabbi Folkman stressed the idea that in an ever-changing society, learning must never terminate.

"The opportunities for learning are great. If our nation is to remain a free one, we must be a learned nation. If we are to control our own destiny, we must have training and knowledge on a continuous basis," he said.

The rabbi added that life must have a direction to follow and a goal. "Knowledge and motivation are the keys to success," he stated. If our lives are lacking in these respects, we are victims of chance."

Seniors received their diplomas, and Rev. Peters of Reformation Lutheran Church delivered the benediction.

The concert band played the recessional, "Grand March," and the seniors left the auditorium for the last time.

The strain and tension from exams was finally over last week. Students received their grades Friday.

The two WYHS Senior Band members accepted into the Columbus Youth Symphony Orchestra are Steve Samuelson, violin, and Anne Malay, clarinet and bass clarinet. The two alternates from Whitehall are Bambi Markham, flute, and Patty Matchett, oboe.

MAIL CARRIERS THANK WHITEHALL DOG WARDEN

The old-time comedy situation of a postman being harassed by the dog may have been closer to the truth than many realized.

A recent letter from Charles R. McKenney, branch 83, station carriers representative, to Whitehall Mayor Walter Moling seemed to verify it.

It reads:

Dear Sir:

All the letter carriers of the Whitehall Station 83, Robinwood-av, would like to thank you and more so the efforts of James Bound, the dog warden.

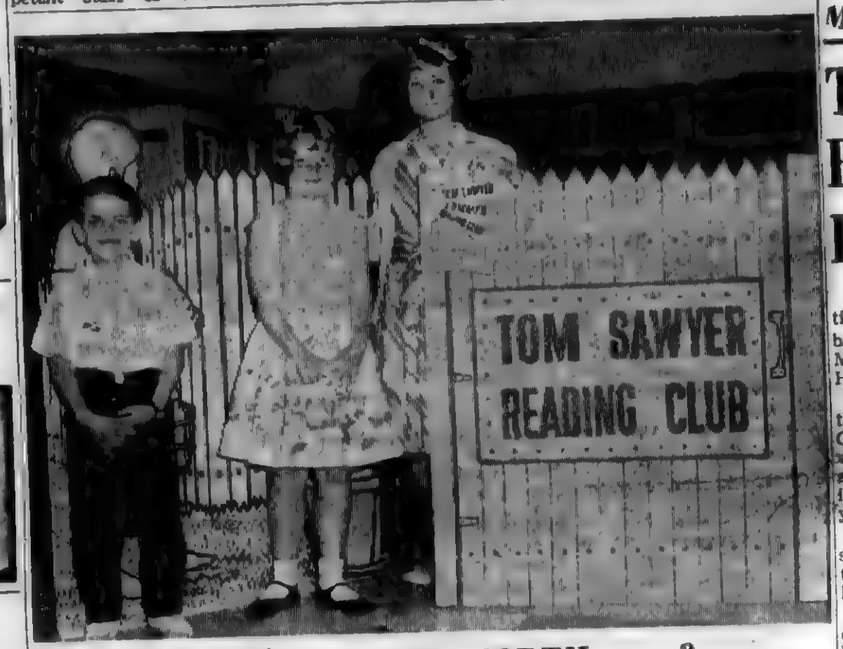
This has been a great help to make mail delivery a more safe and less hazard job to perform, after the past winter and with spring here Jim has really made our work much better, at least from the stray dogs and not having as many dog bites.

We all know and discuss his pleasant way of asking people to keep the dogs under control. We have heard good reports and hope this short note will be our way of thanking both yourself and Jim. We consider the carriers here very lucky to have this service.

Sincerely,
Charles R. McKenney

Columbus Academy Camp Opens June 24

The Columbus Academy Day Camp will open its 19th season Monday, June 24, and run for seven weeks, closing Friday, Aug. 9. Enrollment is open to boys and girls from four and a half to 10 years of age.



The purpose of the camp is to afford a program of constructive activities and purposeful play in small congenial groups. Frederick Rosser is in charge of the camp, assisted by a capable and competent staff of counselors, who are specialists in their field. Swimming instruction will be given by Frank McGraw, head coach of the Columbus Academy swimming team. Beginning, intermediate, and advanced swimming courses will be offered.

The camp begins at 9 a.m. and ends at 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. Luncheon is served at noon in the school dining room. The day is divided into periods devoted to the usual camp activities; nature study, sports, projects, etc. In addition, there will be special classes for those who desire to make up academic work or improve their reading. To supplement the work in remedial reading for the third and fourth grade children, visual training with the tachistoscope is offered.

Facilities of the Columbus Academy are available to the summer camp. These include a large athletic field, swimming pool, tennis courts, and a gymnasium for use on rainy days. Fishing is fair to good in nearby lakes and streams.

Tuition for the seven weeks is $140, which includes the noon meal. An extra charge of $50 is made for those who have instruction in school work or remedial reading. Tuition charges for less than seven weeks will be pro-rated.

The group will be limited, as last year, to 60 children. Early enrollment is advised. Further information may be obtained by telephoning CL. 2-3101.

BOOK IN HAND WORTH . . . ?

ENROLLMENT STARTED last week at all 13 branches of the Columbus Public Library for the Tom Sawyer Summer Reading Club. Boys and girls from six through 12 must read a dozen worthwhile books during the summer to earn a diploma and a completed reading diary to show to teachers when they return to school in the fall. Here, Mrs. Janine Brimm, assistant librarian at Whitehall Branch Library, 4371 E. Broad-st, explains club rules to Sue Ann Kocks, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kocks of 780 Bernhard-rd; and to Dale Allen Lewis, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lewis of 4267 Beechlawn-rd.

Two Groups Hold Joint Installation

Two area service organizations held a joint installation banquet Wednesday at the Maennerchor Club, 966 S. High-st.

The Eastern Civitans and the Eastern Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce held what is believed to be the first such joint venture in installing officers for the upcoming year.

August Simmons, past state lieutenant-governor of the Civitans, installed Ference Relle as president of Civitan.

Donald Hummer, Ohio Jaycee vice-president, did the honors for T. N. (Jack) Jackson of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Pat Hummer served as installing officer for the Jaycee Wives Club, when she administered the oath of office to Mrs. Phillis Jackson.

All officers and directors of the three organizations take office on July 1.

Other dignitaries present were Wallace Stover, Ohio district governor of Civitan; Stanley Taylor, Ohio district lieutenant-governor of Civitan; Bert Kausek, retiring Eastern Civitan president; Ben Jones, national director of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and J. Rogers Vien, outgoing president of the Eastern Columbus Jaycees.

Guest speaker for the evening was E. J. Keirns, director of the Ohio State Exposition Center.

Two youths involved in the beating of an Eastmoor High student May 27, pleaded innocent to charegs of trespassing and disorderly conduct Friday in Municipal Court.

Judge William Brooks continued the case of James A. Ludwig, 18, 3067 E. Fifth-av, to July 12, and the case of James P. Bendoff, 18, of 48 S. Weyant-av, to July 22.

Council Nixes Rezoning Of Berwick Manor Area

Columbus City Council rejected a mass rezoning in the Berwick Manor Subdivision during regular session Monday night.

Developers sought approval for a shopping center, offices and apartments, but council nixed it in accordance with a large delegation of area residents who opposed the rezoning move.

Also rejected was a request to rezone eight acres in Thunderbird Acres on the far East Side for four-family apartments.

In other action, affecting East Siders, council:

- Authorized Service Director Ernie Stork to execute release of nine strips of land of Clinton Estates No. 5.
- Rezoned seven tracts of land located in and around Olde Orchard Subdivision, east of McNaughten-rd and north of Cherry Hill-dr.
- Defeated a rezoning request for land on the west side of Elizabeth-av, 140 feet north of Livingston-av.

TO BUILD ADDITION

Allen E. Gastil, 712 S. Weyant-av, has a permit to build an addition to a frame home, valued at $1,500.

Helen L. Guiter, R.N., 580 Park-dr, is the new director of nursing services at Grant Hospital, succeeding Mirian Petchner who retired last week.

Miss Guiter came to Grant a month ago from Barberton Citizens' Hospital, Barberton, O., and is a native of Iowa. She holds bachelor and master's degrees from Chicago's DePaul University.

An Army nurse for four years during World War II with more than two years of service in India, Miss Guiter was supervisor of a Veterans Administration Hospital for six years and served three years as a civilian nurse at the Army's 97th General Hospital, Frankfort, Germany.

She is a member of the American Nursing Association, National League for Nursing, Business and Professional Women and Altrusa Club.

A CERTIFICATE of retirement is presented to Major Donald A. Taylor (right) of 1625 Bostwick-rd, by Col. Gordon C. Gill, deputy commander of the Defense Supply Depot. The major put in over 26 years with the Army.

Retreat Ceremonies Held For East Sider Major Don Taylor

Retreat ceremonies were held recently at the Defense Supply Depot for East Sider Major Donald A. Taylor, 1625 Bostwick-rd, on the occasion of his retirement from active duty with the Army.

Taylor's military career started in April, 1934, when he enlisted in Company "F," 118th Infantry, South Carolina National Guard for six years, while attending Wofford College, from which he received his BA in liberal arts in 1939.

Major Taylor was out of the military service from 1940 until May, 1943, when he reentered on active duty with the United States Army. In June, 1944, he was commissioned a second lieutenant from which he advanced to his present rank of major in June, 1958.

The military career of the world-wide traveler has taken him to many foreign countries, including such places as France, Germany, Japan and Korea, plus numerous posts and stations throughout the United States which includes perhaps his most interesting tour when he served as assistant professor of military science and tactics at Clemson College from 1953 to 1956.

Among the many awards and decorations Major Taylor has been presented are the Army Commendation Ribbon with Oak Leaf Cluster, Medal for Humane Action, Korean Presidential Unit Citation and the Berlin Airlift Device.

The 46-year-old major is married to the former Margaret Price of High Point, N.C. They have two children, Margaret B., 18, and Donald, Jr., 14.

At the time he retired, Major Taylor was special assistant to the plans and program officer at the Defense Construction Supply Center at Columbus.

Pro Ref Lists NBA Officiating 'Greatest'

Anyone who didn't know Dick Sheldon was a basketball referee would only have to watch the wide assortment of signals emanating from the life guard chair he fills during the summer months at a local pool to get the message.

Sheldon, who switched over to the now defunct ABL after a short term in the National Basketball Association, talked about the pros last week when we stopped in at his establishment to escape the soaring temperatures.

WE THREW a curve at Dick with our first pitch by asking him to list an all-NBA five. He responded by placing Elgin Baylor and Bob Pettit at the corners, Bill Russell at the post and Bob Cousy at one guard. Jerry West and Oscar Robertson shared the remaining outside spot.

"The toughest thing about breaking into the NBA," Sheldon said, "is recognizing the difference in personnel. Everybody's an All-American. Since playing basketball is their bread and butter, they give you a harder way to go during the game.

"But after the game's over, everything's forgotten. These guys play every game separately. They're perfect gentlemen. They respect you for putting them in their place."

SHELDON supplemented his comment by recalling a run-in with Celtic coach Red Auerbach. "He was yelling at me the whole game but I just ignored him. When the game was over, he came up to me and said he thought I did a good job but that next time I better toss him out when he got too loud on the bench."

Funny things happen in the course of ball games and more often than not the referee is put on the spot.

Contrary to high school or college ball, no time out is called by the referee in the NBA when a player loses a shoe or breaks a shoestring. In his very first NBA game, Sheldon was confronted with this problem.

"IT WAS JERRY West's first year in the league. During the game, he tossed a pass. Just as he passed, his shoe came loose and he yelled at me, and I blew the whistle. Well, the pass was intercepted and the other team started a fast break.

"I don't know to this day whether he actually twisted his ankle or was just pulling a fast one."

Sheldon tabs Cousy as the greatest player he's ever seen and also the nicest guy in the NBA. "During one game, Bob apparently got it on the wrist as he was shooting and the ball fell short. When he passed me on his way back down the floor, Bob smiled and said "Dick, I don't miss 'em that bad'."

WE ASKED Dick about NBA play, which has a reputation of being rougher than any other league. "There's a line you've got to walk in relation to fouls. You have to decide if the contact had any bearing on the scoring. This is the separation point.

"Anyone of these guys could be the best actor in Hollywood. You have to do a certain amount of anticipation. You have to learn to think like the players and coaches while you're out there."

Eventually the discussion got around to Wilt Chamberlain. We wondered about the scoring king's rash of fights and ejections last season.

"YOU HAVE TO remember that they give Wilt a rough way to go. He takes a pretty rough beating each game. After games I've seen him with red welts all over his body."

Wilt's long reach came in handy in particular during one game in Philly when Sheldon became the target of a quart of orange juice tossed his way by an incensed fan.

"Wilt helped me wipe it up off the floor and told me not to let that kind of a guy bother me."

THE CHARGE HAS often been made that the pros ignore defensive play. "There's more defense applied than meets the eye," Sheldon says. "Since pro basketball employs the fast break to such a large degree, oftentimes there's no chance to set up a defense. But they play defense. Look at Bill Russell — a tremendous defensive player."

Why do some top collegiate scorers make it big in the pros while others fail to make the grade?

"Just being a top scorer isn't the whole story. Stamina is very important. These fellows play a 90-game schedule plus a heavy exhibition slate. The traveling alone takes a lot of energy."

AND HOW ABOUT the referees themselves? "They don't hire any fat men in the NBA. You have to stay in shape. They want you to be within three or four feet of the ball during the game and you work down the center of the court in pro basketball—not on the outside."

Sheldon lists his top thrills as officiating the game in which Elgin Baylor set a single-game scoring record with 72 points (since broken by Chamberlain and standing in Madison Square Garden between Cousy and Robertson during introduction before 14,000 fans.

BEWARE!

IF YOU CONSIDER golf your passport to pleasure, you'll probably run into one or all three of these characters on your local links this summer. This trio is to be avoided at all times on the fairways and greens. They are easily recognized by their lack of golfing etiquette. Calendar, Not Clock, Should Be Fish Guide

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

The telephone rang, and there was a prospective vacationer on the line. "When is the best time to go fishing?" he asked.

Well now, this is quite a question — almost as famous as "To be, or not to be?" It is easy to answer though, for the fishing is good all the time, someplace. A better question would be "where should I go fishing this month?"

THE FISHING is "good" in the middle of the winter. Statistics gathered by the Ohio Division of Wildlife show that there are more fish caught per hour of angling effort by fishing through the ice.

Fishing for crappies was "very good" this year at Hoover Reservoir and Big Darby Creek. But the time was April and early May.

Bass fishermen generally concede that May is their best month, and the smallmouths cut loose this year on schedule around the islands in Lake Erie and in local streams. The largemouths also cooperated in a number of farm ponds, and in Burr Oak Lake and Hocking Lake. So the bass fishing was "good" in may and incidentally, is still worth your while.

TO THE BANK fisherman who likes to dunk worms and minnows, fishing is best in the spring. What with bullheads, crappies and bass all looking for a meal, he can hardly miss.

But what about now, this month? There are several "good" possibilities. Most spectacular are the white bass in the western end of Lake Erie. They travel in voracious schools, and a spinner tossed in their direction will bring a strike on every cast. You can find white bass by two or three methods.

When you see a flock of gulls and terns wheeling and diving into the water, it means that a school of white bass has chased a school of shiners to the surface. The bass are feeding under the water, and the birds are reaping a harvest on top. Approach the school, with caution, and do not cut through it with your boat. Fishing such a school is a never-to-be-forgotten bonanza.

SOMETIMES YOU will see two or three boats congregated, and this may mean a school of white bass. A third method is to cast over reefs and to points of shoreline in hopes of locating a school. But the important fact is that June is the proper time, and party boat captain Elden Hales, at Catawba Marine, reports that they have already started.

You can also expect "good" fishing closer to home. The walleyes will be hitting better at Hoover Dam this month. The drop-offs and ledges seem to be the most productive spots, and nightcrawlers used with a spinner are deadly. Some anglers troll a plug very slowly for walleyes.

Bluegills are hitting artificials on the surface right now, either rubber spiders or flies. They provide "good" fishing for those who go out with flyrods. Admittedly, this is not everybody's sport. But bluegills might be called "Ohio-trout" for they provide many hours of superb fishing enjoyment for the light-tackle clan. Bluegills are being caught this way at most lakes and farm ponds.

NIGHT FISHING will also produce for you. If you like to still fish, then this is the season for channel catfish. They will be caught in numbers starting this month, and the fishing will continue right up to cold weather.

Bass, especially big bass, are also caught by nocturnal anglers. The advantage here is that you do not need to take off from work for good fishing, that is, if you can do without some sleep. If you don't like to fish at night, then for the "good" bass fishing in June you should be out early in the morning and just before dark.

Clinic Set Saturday; Toronto Here Friday

The first annual Central Ohio Homeplate Club baseball clinic will be held Saturday in Jet Stadium at 10 a.m.

Jet officials welcome all boys from 8 to 18 years to attend the clinic which will be directed by manager Larry Shepard and coach Clyde Sukeforth. Many of the Jet players will be on hand to instruct the boys on the fundamentals and fine points of the game.

THE TORONTO Maple Leafs invade the Stadium Friday evening for a three-game set. Friday will be Agonis Club Night with ticket sale proceeds helping to send under-privileged boys to camp.

Do You Know Your Sports?

(Second in a series)

Ever since the day Orville and Wilbur managed to keep the first "flying machine" airborne, Americans and their overseas counterparts have engaged in aviation contests.

The first tests involved endurance and then speed, altitude and stunting took precedence as flying sportsmen soared toward new records each year.

TODAY'S SLICK jet aircraft have broken most of the existing records but more than 500,000 private plane owners still have a taste for upstairs competition.

Remarkably, about 18,000 of the private plane pilots are women.

In recent years, skydiving became a subsidiary branch of sporting aviation until the present day when it has devedoped into an individual form of competition.

ANOTHER BRANCH of sporting aviation is model air-craft. The Academy of Model Aeronautics estimates that there are over 250,000 model plane builders in this county alone.

Prices in this sport range greatly. The common hand-launched glider sells for as little as 50 cents while radio-controlled crafts are priced for as much as $500.

The '63 model championships will be held in July at the Los Alamitos Naval Air Station in California.

OHIO CAN CLAIM two champions in the '62 air race championships and model plane competition. Mrs. Jean Hixson of Akron served as co-pilot in the Powder Puff Derby, arriving at the finish line first in a flight from Oakland, Calif., to Wilmington, Del., last year.

In the model division, of airplanes, Cleveland's Larry Miller copped the senior national title last year.

GONNA BE MISSED'

Starling's 'Smitty' Wraps Up 53-Year Coaching Career

By JACK WITTENMEIER

Carl V. Smith escorted his little group of incoming seventh grade students through Starling Junior High Friday on "get acquainted day." His guided tour was different in one respect this year. After 42 years at the Central Avenue school, it was to be Smitty's last official day.

It was perhaps fitting that Smith's last function should be one of guidance. Since 1910, he has filled that need of youth in both the classroom and on the athletic field.

A THREE-SPORT athlete at South High, Smitty's relationship with sports is one of long standing. Early memories could recall positions as a basketball referee and service as the first lifeguard (along with Chic Harley) at the old Olentangy Park.

Smith, who was recently honored by the City Recreation Department for 50 years of service, joined the department in 1910 and soon became the first director at Schiller Park.

Ten years later, he became one of the city's first three gym teachers, working the five South Side elementary schools. "Each school had gym classes twice a week then," Smitty explained. "I'd go to one school in the morning and another in the afternoon."

IN 1921 Smitty began his 42-year term at Starling. His physical education classes were conducted then in the south section of Central High until West High moved to its present site from the Central-av location.

Besides his duties as gym teacher,, Smitty filled the position of coach for all of Starling's athletic teams until 1960.

Although his coaching duties were widespread (even wrestling in the late 1920s), baseball was his number one interest as he guided Starling to 13 diamond championships.

A LIST OF Smith pupils who advanced to great heights in the sporting world would be too numerous to list but names like All-American football great Hopalong Cassady, Major Leaguer Bob Kline and Jet General Manager Harold Cooper could be mentioned in passing.

Smitty has seen revolutionary changes in the realm of physical education — the greatest, perhaps, in facilities. "Today, we have a locker for every boy to store his gym clothes. Back in the 20's, everybody played in street clothes."

Smith had to go along with the argument that physical fitness among youth today is below par in comparison with his playing days. "Even though the facilities are far better today, television and the automobile have cut down on the fitness of today's youth."

"I CAN REMEMBER walking from my home on Indianola-av to South High, playing ball after school and then walking back," Smith recalled.

Insight into his own youth has helped Smitty in his work with youngsters. "There are still a lot of kids who think they have to fight their way to the top with their fists. I try to make them see that their brain is as important as their strength."

Although Smitty refuses to consider himself a good student, he is a graduate of law school and holds degrees in both education and physical education from OSU.

LOOKING BACK over his long career as teacher and coach, Smitty was quick to admit that he'd "do it over again. I'd rather be associated with kids. I've never really seen a bad one. One thing about kids, they're genuine and they're honest."

And what about now? Where does Smitty go from here? "I've got plenty of things to keep me busy," Smitty said. "For one thing, I love to travel. I'd like to take my wife to see some of the places I've visited around the country."

Smitty also admitted he's got some catching up to do in the hunting and fishing department on his farm in southern Ohio.

CARL SMITH carried a truck full of memories home with him Friday when he closed the books on his teaching and coaching career at Starling.

Maybe one of the most rewarding in 42 years came near the close of our interview when one of his charges stuck his head around the door of Smith's office to say, "I'm gonna' miss you, Smitty."

Scott French Blanks Rams

Scott French and Steve Ortman teamed up to provide Hartley with a 6-0 win over Whitehall in the Central Ohio Summer League's opener Tuesday.

French limited the Rams to four hits and fanned eight while Ortman drove in three runs—two RBI's coming on a two-run third inning homer.

Hartley provided French with all the runs he needed when the Hawks exploded for four tallies in the first frame.

Gregory Streak Hits Four In CMS Friday Feature

When the weekend's racing programs, at the Columbus Motor Speedway, got underday, Don Gregory, Don Townsend and Paul Parks, each had won two-straight feature events, in their own particular racing category, but only Gregory, in the flying-stock division, came through with his record intact.

Friday evening, Gregory outlasted Bill Powell and Garry Wiest, to run his feature wins to three-straight, in the stock 25-lap feature.

SUNDAY NIGHT, Urbana's Neal Sceva snapped Townsend's streak at two, as he copped the super-modified headliner, ahead of Bob Smith and Townsend, who ran two and three, respectively.

The late-model feature went to Don Trees, of Plain City, who outdistanced the entire field, in his fast 1958 Ford convertible. Bob Bower, was second and Vern Schrock, third.

No one could pick the first five finishers, in order, in either Friday or Sunday nights' features, so the Speedway's game of "Total," will have $800 in the jackpot, for this coming Friday night's flying-stock races.

Extended School Year Plan Working Well In Columbus

(Last of a two-part series)

The advantages and disadvantages of a "four-quarter" system of school operation seem to neutralize each other. There is evidence of progress, however, in the Columbus version of the "extended school year" program.

Joseph L. Davis, executive assistant to Dr. Harold H. Eibling, superintendent of Columbus public schools, cites "two distinctly different definitions" of the extended school year.

One, he says, means "compulsory attendance of all pupils for an additional period of time beyond the present 39-week scheduled." The other, he continued, "encompasses activities sponsored by a board of education that involves either pupils or professional personnel on a voluntary basis for any portion of the summer intermission."

Based on the second definition, Davis reported, Columbus already has developed a fairly comprehensive extended school year program.

"During the summer of 1963," Davis said, "we shall operate secondary instruction programs at 12 centers, elementary school art programs at approximately six centers, and an instructional music program for children in music programs also through 12.

"Furthermore," Davis continued, "we shall retain a number of professional personnel in service for at least a portion of the summer working on instructional materials, television lessons, etc."

Under existing programs, Davis reported, Columbus children can:

Make-up for failures, accelerate progress towards graduation, develop greater facility in the basic skills, and pursue special interests or refine special talents. Students may also "open up" their high school program by taking required courses during the summer and fill in their schedule during the regular school year with a wider variety of offerings.

"In effect," Davis says, "they can enrich and extend the regular program."

The extended school year concept as practiced within the Columbus public school system has resulted in better use of buildings, greater use of teacher talent and improved learning opportunities, Davis said. He also pointed out that the plan does not require a drastic departure from present practices.

Other program benefits listed by Davis included the opportunity for teachers to supplement their incomes and, to a limited extent, explore and test new ideas relating to content and methods of curriculum.

Davis reported that the alternate plan—compulsory attendance for all children—would cost an approximate $900,000 in operating expenses for each additional week of school. (The present program is partially self-supporting through tuition charges.)

In his analysis of the extended school year program, Davis listed seven areas of potential growth for the program. They are:

1. Establishment of additional summer instructional and training centers.

2. Consideration of a tuition-free arrangement to encourage wider participation in the program.

3. Transfer to summer of some of the extracurricular activities currently conducted during the ragular school year, particularly large-scale activities (such as baseball) involving many pupils.

4. Special seminar-type offerings at all grade levels.

5. Scheduling of study trips about the city, county and possibly to more distant destinations.

6. Sponsoring of occupational and/or vocational experiences.

7. Offering of foreign language courses.

Davis also reported several possible innovations which should be of benefit to teachers. One would involve the setting up of paid teacher taskforces to develop:

Teaching materials, special programs and materials (for modified classes, disadvantaged pupils, etc.), curriculum-materials centers on a school-by-school or regional basis, and identification of appropriate teaching materials (such as textbooks, films, filmstrips).

Such a taskforce could also conduct individual group research projects, and study various policies and practices (such as the promotion policy, grading practices, testing program, etc.).

"The chief advantage of these activities," Davis said, "would be to free teachers of important responsibilities that they now must discharge during the school year, which could have a tendency to avert their attention from the instructional obligation which they have to their pupils."

In summary, it can be said that the (voluntary) extended school year plan seems to offer a maximum number of benefits gained by a "four-quarter" plan, while holding disadvantages to the minimum.

DISTRICT DINNER

The White Oaks District held their annual district recognition dinner May 28, at Lockbourne AFB. A record total of 270 people attended.

Scouters and adult leaders were presented awards and reports from various committees were given. The Keyrings Quartet entertained with a Sing-a-Long program.

Receiving the Scouters Keys, which represent three years as a leader, were Vern Boetcher, Seymoure Hickman, Lloyd Douglas, Gerry McMillan, William Tucker and Vern Wagner.

Den Mothers with three years at that post were Eris Green, Mickey Heil, Ila Maxwell, Laura Orsolini, Betty Wagner and Hildegard Bozeman.

The following men were awarded the Scouter Award, which shows more service than the Scouters Keys: Judson Althause, Edward Berry, Donald Cook, Harlan Elmore, Marvin Graeler, Paul Heil, Art Jacob, William Kane, Walt Mastenbrook, Art Mittendorf, C. E. Richards, John Widmayer and James Wilson.

Charles Henderson and Stephen Dickerson received the Commissioners Award, for service as a neighborhood commissioner.

Veteran Awards were presented to Lloyd Douglas, 15 years; Ray Jacobs, 15 years; Cecil E. Richards, 15 years, and Barney Seltzer, 10 years.

Tom Currier, neighborhood commissioner, was recognized for having contributed the name "White Oaks" when the district was renamed. He also wrote the song for the White Oaks District.

The officers for the 1963-64 season were installed. The committee is composed of Harold Fleck, chairman; Dick Hawkins, vice-chairman; Ed Davis, organization and extension chairman; Ray Bidwell, advancement chairman; Paul Benidict, finance chairman; Jim Stolzenbach, public relations; Don Cook, camping and activities; Sam Robeano, leaders training; Harlan Elmore, health and safety and Harold Wood, explorer chairman.

On the Commissioner's staff are Sam Krouse, commissioner; Charles Henderson, Art Jacob, and Bill Kane, assistant commissioners and Jud Althause, Bill Astley, Hasson Baldish, Hank Bobulsaid, Bob Burnett, Tom Currier, Steve Dickerson, Lloyd Douglas, Harlan Elmore, Bob Fowler, Rodney Hetzer, Charles Marshall, Art Mittendorf, George Neibler, Bob Roesch, and Bill Tucker, neighborhood commissioners.

The Women's Reserve for the district is headed by Esther Fleck and Mickey Heil.

Senior Citizens Center

275 McDowell-st

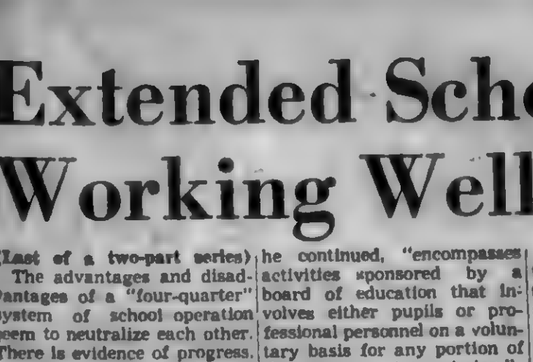
By POLLY SEIDEL

Senior citizens are looking forward to several festivals that are reminiscent of olden days.

An old - time strawberry party is planned for June 14, from 5 to 6 p.m. If the weather permits and the planting on the grounds between the recreation center and the beautiful new high-rise apartment are completed, the party will be held in the lovely outdoor gardens, to add to the festive air.

On Wednesday, June 12, the monthly euchre party will be held in the Senior Center auditorium. This party has become more and more popular and the attendance has increased until this is one of the big parties of the month.

Score cards are purchased at the door for 25 cents and there are prizes. Girls from the insurance agencies volunteer their help with punching the score cards so that a very pleasant evening of card playing is provided. Mrs. Harriet Evans is chairman of the party.



Little Theater Group To Meet

A newly organized little theater group, as yet unnamed, will meet at Cubbage Corners, Cubbage-rd, near Westerville, Monday, June 17, at 8:30 p.m.

Dr. Charles Ritter, associate with Ohio State University Speech Department, will continue a workshop series pertaining to acting, stage directions, reading for tryouts and directing.

Interested adults are cordially invited to attend and take part. For further information as to the workshop, meeting, or directions to Cubbage Corners, call Mrs. James Boylan at 882-7201.

An Editor's Outlook . . . by Jenkin Lloyd Jones

Keen Crew Handles O'Hare Hot Spot

Contrary to some lurid reports, they are not going crazy up in the O'Hare tower. They just have a right to go crazy.

Chicago's O'Hare Field is the busiest airport on earth. She handles about 1,400 flights a day, including half of the pure jets in the nation. More than 45,000 passengers use O'Hare each day. You might say the air is a little crowded.

Jones

Between six and seven p.m., O'Hare tower takes care of 140 take-offs and landings. That's a movement every 25 seconds. It takes a pretty special kind of a man to keep these birds from meeting each other in the air.

A couple of these men are George H. Niles, chief controller, and Robert C. Schwank, assistant chief. Niles got his start back in '38 at the old Midway tower when there was nothing faster than a DC-3, when one man handled the whole works and even announced the departure gates to the waiting passengers.

Schwank, another Midway product, remembers the soupy old days when the pilots hunted for the "cone of silence" on the old N and A ranges and the controller opened the tower windows and listened for the engines. It's a little different now.

You take the tower elevator to the fifth floor and climb the stairs to the big observation room. Why, the place is run by kids! Supervisor Jim Hanten is 29 years old. There are seven tower men on this morning shift, average age about 24. But if the atmosphere is relaxed there is no skylarking. This is deadly serious business.

The boy on Ground Control guides the planes from the loading fingers to the run-up point or from touchdown to the loading fingers. The Clearance Delivery man sees that pilots have their approved air routings. Flight Data is in touch with the big Chicago Air Route Traffic Control office 20 miles away in Aurora, which operates a radar antenna with a 150-mile range. The Runway Utilization Clerk logs the traffic on each runway. And finally — and this is the hot one — Local Control clears for takeoffs and landings.

Every 60 or 90 minutes the boys change jobs.

"The strain of performing a single chore too long lowers their efficiency," explains Niles. "Variety keeps them sharp."

The glassed-in tower used to be all there was to air traffic control. When the tower told you goodbye you flew by Bugscuffle, if you chose, or Hootnanny Junction and at any altitude that pleased you. But no more. The big planes are now on routings as rigid as railroad tracks.

Oncoming jets can close at 20 miles a minute. A DC-8 can overtake a DC-3 at the rate of 450 miles an hour. The tower can mother planes in the landing or climb-out pattern by merely looking at them. But it is in the area beyond visual range out to 100 miles that air control is critical. For that is where the jets are cutting up or down through altitudes reserved for the turbo-props, the piston planes, and the lowly sport-jets.

On the first floor of the O'Hare tower, in a black chamber dimly lit by luminous radar scopes, the delicate region from the landing pattern to about 15 miles out is handled by seven men sitting at a huge console.

In the center are the two radar vector controllers. Flanking them are their coordinators. Outside of them are the radar handoff controllers who receive the responsibility of incoming planes from Chicago A.R.T.C.C. or hand them off as they depart. There is an additional scope watcher who works the south satellite fields of Midway and Meigs.

You used to identify a plane among all the blips on the scope by asking it to make a turn. Now you merely tell a pilot to switch on his transponder and what appears as a twin blip momentarily becomes a single. So fast is this ID system that the jets which used to let down in a complicated teardrop pattern now come straight in, and the "stacking" of five years ago over Chicago's five holding patterns is rare now, even in sour weather. Chicago's landing minimums are now down to a 200-foot ceiling and a half-mile visibility.

Have you noticed that your airline flight is crookeder than it used to be? Have you wondered why, in fine weather, you sometimes fly southeast for a few minutes when your destination is southwest? This is part of the game of rigid separation. Your pilot is routed over specific omni-ranges and he had better make them sharply and not cut corners.

But there is some new freedom, too. Meteorology has now progressed to a point where a jet-stream-seeking pilot enroute from San Francisco to New York can find his favorable winds over Twin Cities, or Omaha or Tulsa or even Dallas. But Air Traffic Control wants to know precisely where he is. He can't change his mind without permission.

Lash-Ups? There are going to be mistakes, and now and then near-misses and occasionally a major tragedy. The problem has grown so big and come so fast. But America's towermen are a blooded breed.

They don't put the sissies up there, or the indecisive or the flippant. Every time the wheels thump on the runway and the stewardess goes into her pleasant "Come Again" sales pitch the boys behind the big glass windows and in front of the big green scopes have won another.

Church Council Affects Neighborhoods

The General Council of the Catholic Church now in progress has been covered in the press regularly, but I thought it might be good to mention a few of the ways it will affect the average person in our neighborhood.

Msgr. Kulp

Though the bishops and representatives of many Christian groups are not in session this month, the committees, the research and discussion continue at full pace for the next session in September. And the average person in every neighborhood is receiving first consideration. Thus, much time was given to planning the worship of the Church so it would be easier to follow — exchanging universal Latin for local languages; making the ceremonies clearer in meaning; giving the Scriptures a bigger part — all so that everyone stepping into a Catholic church would feel immediately as a participant.

Then there is a great effort to make Catholic teaching easier to understand. We say revealed religion rests upon the Bible and tradition. Tradition is too easily misunderstood. It does not mean legend, custom. It means the instruction the Apostles received and gave but did not write down. Others did write it down but not in the Bible, and today everyone uses it somewhat but we need a new word for it.

Part of the work of the Council is to streamline the organization of the Catholic Church so it can be apostolic in two ways: able to make adaptation for the sake of bringing the purity and fullness of Christ to every neighborhood, and second, to preserve a living link with Christ through His chief of Apostles, Saint Peter, whose successor, the Pope, carries so much responsibility for every individual soul.

A big task of the council also is to set up ways to confer with all Christian groups of good will concerning Christian unity, for the Lord prescribed "one flock and one shepherd." While Catholics would not set aside Christ's revealed truths, many, many things can be negotiated such as language, ceremonies, the clergy's customs and many customs that have built up over the centuries.

Every locality may profitably have such dialogs. Let us pray that all these things may bring much good to souls.

Msgr. James Kulp

FLY YOUR NATION'S BANNER
FLAG DAY, JUNE 14.

Remember Flag Day

Friday is Flag Day. It is an opportunity for each of us to renew our patriotic ferver by displaying our national emblem.

Many heroic deeds have been inspired by our flag, but how many of us will keep Old Glory packed away in a closet when it should be on display as visible evidence of our love of country? How many more of us do not even own a flag?

Let's get back to the "Grand Old Flag" days of George M. Cohen. Let's remember that we all have a partnership in the freedom, tradition and history represented by the Stars and Stripes. And let's meet the responsibility of our partnership by showing pride in the heritage that has been won for us by the blood of our fathers and brothers.

And as we fly the flag on patriotic days, let us rededicate ourselves to our country and its traditional freedom.

Variety . . . by I. F. Howell

THIS IS MY LAND

This is my land, where in this strange, new age
Anticipated and remembered things
Become the living seeds of memory.
This present is a fateful rendezvous
Of past and future blended into one.
This is my land, where freedom's shrines endure.
This is my land. May freedom's beacon light
Forever guide and guard us and all men
Into a golden time of righteous peace.

Each year in this great and good land thousands, perhaps millions, of the young and the old visit our patriotic shrines. Hundreds of places have been saved from oblivion by people who have cared and have remembered the costs that were spent to establish and preserve our freedom.

These places are of great variety and too many to list here, but information about them is easily available from many sources. One could scarcely see them all in a lifetime.

Some are fields where grass and trees and flowers now cover the soil of sacrifice. Others are places where our great were born or lived. Still others mark the steps in our national growth from the Atlantic to the Pacific and beyond.

It says here . . .

Patriotism is the strong arm that upholds freedom's flaming torch.

Pamper Dad On His 'Day'

With Father's Day coming up on Sunday, June 16, we would like to suggest a few suggestions to make his day a happy one.

Let him sleep a bit late in the morning. (He'll probably be tired from his Saturday night card game or late TV watching.)

Don't remind him that he forgot to mow the lawn on Saturday. And if he didn't keep his promise to wash the car — so what? It can just as well be done next week.

If Father isn't the picnicking type, forego the urge in favor of a quiet day at home. And please don't grouse at Dad's selection for TV viewing. (Maybe you'll eventually learn to like baseball.)

In other words, let the "Old Man" do what he does every Sunday, but, because it's Father's Day, don't complain about it.

Keep On Your Toes Keep Toes On You

The power mower is a wonderful convenience. It must also be recognized as a potentially dangerous tool. As easily as the power mower can whisk off blades of grass, it can cut off toes, or mangle a foot.

The same power mower that glides so quickly over the lawn can hurl a stone, piece of metal, or other object with the force and effect of a bullet.

Here are some power mower safety rules well worth remembering:

1. Know the operation of your mower, and carefully instruct anyone who is to use it.

2. Don't allow young children to operate a power mower (any more than you would allow them to use any other potentially dangerous power tool).

3. Clear the area to be cut of all rocks, stones, sticks, wire, broken glass and other debris before using the mower.

4. Provide self protection by means of long, heavy denim trousers and heavy shoes.

5. Don't allow anyone to stand around while you are using the mower. Bystanders are even less protected than the person using the mower.

6. Cut hills and banks crosswise instead of up and down. This will prevent loss of control over the mower, slipping into it, or having the mower slide into you.

7. Never attempt to remove any object from the mower until the motor has been completely stopped.

Follow these rules, and the chances are excellent that the only thing cut will be the grass.

Frosting On The Cake
By
"UNCLE DOC" ROBB — U.S.A.

Every so often, in the life of any free people, there comes a time when statesmen take the place of double talking politicians, and once again some right things begin to happen.

Facts take the place of fiction and truth supersedes appeasement with evil, and action takes the place of cowardice.

Something sacredly new in man's experience on this planet came out of the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia almost 200 years ago. It was the will of free men, deciding to establish a way of life that had its base and roots deep in the soil of man's passion to be free.

Free from ignorance; free from exploitation of the many by a few whose god was power and privilege and gold instead of God.

The right to know; the right to aspire; the right to accumulate private property honorably and be allowed to keep a large portion of it. The right to serve without conceit and give of one's self without shame.

Today, we see a growing army of political opportunists all over the world who worship glory instead of God. Who seek "importance" instead of the health of their own soul.

Then, when the darkest hour impends, this same free people awakens to the truth and some man arises who seems destined to become the next great oak in the forest of American statesmanship. History tells us about Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, Teddy Roosevelt.

We are now ready for the fourth cycle of the present 30 years of Populist insanity. His name is not yet engraved upon the minds of people, but he will because Almighty God still has this great land by the right hand.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

No Need For Panic On The Sugar Situation

By ESTELLE B. FRANKS

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Strawberries, melons, bananas, peaches, lemons

Vegetables — Greenhouse tomatoes, new potatoes, lettuce, cabbage, green peppers

Protein Foods — Beef chucks and rounds, cured pork products, fryers, large eggs milk, and dairy products.

With the fresh fruit season coming on rapidly many families will need extra sugar for table use, as well as for canning and freezing fruits. So, concern as to the sugar supply and the future retail price is natural.

Although sugar prices have risen sharply since the beginning of the year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture says that the sugar tonnage available to the United States in 1963 will likely maintain the same average per capita distribution as during 1958-1962. Therefore, there should be no shortage of sugar unless normal purchase patterns change and people start hoarding.

Mrs. Franks

Why the problem then? For the past two years sugar consumption exceeded production, following several years of production exceeding consumption. Europe—where many sugar beets are raised — has had unusually bad weather, reducing the crop. Cuban sugar production has been cut back sharply. And the demand for sugar throughout the world keeps growing due to increasing population and the needs of emerging nations.

Although the U.S. is the largest sugar importer in the world, demands (in relation to the supply available) from other nations have increased to the extent that these other countries have bid the price of sugar up to a point where the world sugar market is higher than the U.S. market.

Even though fewer acres of sugar were planted, accompanied by unfavorable weather, a carry-over of eight million tons from the 1961-'62 season will be used to make up the difference in needs.

Within the U.S. a little over half of the available sugar goes to industrial users, principally canners, confectioners, bakers, soft drink bottlers, and manufacturers of ice cream and condensed milk. The other half goes directly to the consumer in the retail market. Each person in the U.S. consumes about 100 pounds of sugar annually. This includes that used in processed foods.

Perhaps the quickest way you, as a consumer can help stabilize sugar prices is to buy sugar as you need it, just as you normally do.

Grassroots Philosopher 'Dusty' Mixes Wit And Deep Thought

By PATTY HARTLEY

Journalist, author, philosopher, wit and family man—meet Thurman (Dusty) Miller.

Dusty, retired newsman of the Wilmington (Ohio) Daily News Journal, has been busy since he left the newspaper business after 50 years. An average of three times a week he is delighting audiences at dinners, club meetings, conventions and commencements.

Dusty has his own philosophy about life and the people that make the world go 'round. At 81, he still is as spry mentally as he is physically, and he doesn't miss a trick.

Commenting on a curvaceous model of the fair sex, he exclaimed: "What she didn't have, she didn't need!"

Dusty says he has spoken "in every city you can name" in the U.S., as well as in Canada and Mexico. Next month he will make his annual sojourn to the Buffalo (N.Y.) Kiwanis Club for an engagement.

With his wife, Gracie, Dusty attends First Community Church, although the couple belongs to the Friends Church in Wilmington. It is evident when talking with them that their common faith has been a bond that has carried them through more than 50 years together.

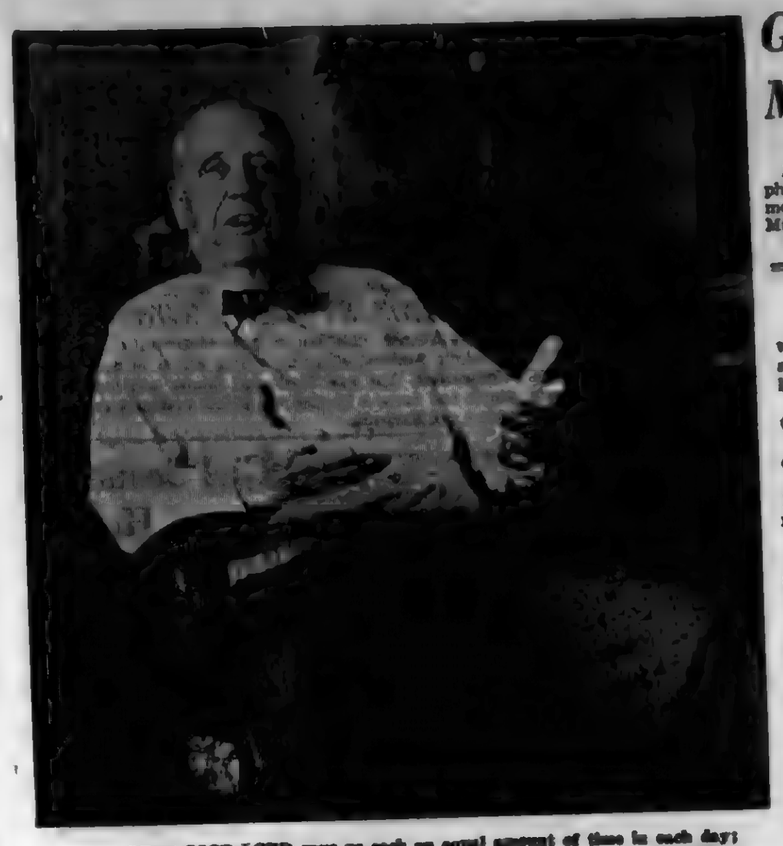
Dusty often tells of his busy life at home, too. "I keep three typewriters going—I use one while the other two are cooling off." His typing entails, for the most part, correspondence to friends all over the country.

A self-made poet, Dusty clips pictures from magazines and newspapers, adds a bit of appropriate verse, and sends it off to friends for birthdays, holidays or just special occasions. The cards are "provoked by circumstances," Dusty says.

The Millers moved to the Arlington area three years ago when Dusty retired. They chose Columbus as their new home because one of their two sons, Gene, resides here. Many family pictures deck the walls of the Miller home, including photos of their five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

At home Gracie helps Dusty proofread his work or discuss his coming speaking engagements. Her favorite chair is a Remedy rocker ("They used to call them Boston rockers," she said). Dusty says, "She rocks with a good bit of 'vigah'."

Although mail is delivered to his home daily, Dusty won't let the postman take his letters to be mailed. He walks the several blocks to the corner box every day "except for three or four days last winter when it wasn't fit for man or beast," he added.



Dusty began his journalistic career at the age of 12 when he started writing for the Hillsboro News, he said. The paper served as his first schoolbook as he learned to read from it.

A graduate of Wilmington College, he served on the board of trustees for over 35 years. Wilmington Rotarians made him a lifetime member of their group before he migrated to Columbus.

Dusty and Gracie Miller are grateful for their health and their more than half-century together. They are members of the Hartley Newspapers' Golden Wedding Club and Dusty has been speaker for several of the annual parties of that group.

"People in this world have no reason to complain," Dusty said, "especially about the weather. They should just be glad they're here to enjoy it. We must live each day as it comes."

And we hope many more days will come to Dusty and Gracie.

"THE GOOD LORD gave us each an equal amount of time in each day; what we make of it is our own doing," says grassroots philosopher Dusty Miller. Dusty says he lives each day as it comes.

Millerisms

"Nothing in this world is so grand as doing something when you like to do it. Everything's your attitude. What are you going to do with a person who hates people and loathes what he does?"

"Where I play golf the greens committee has to meet to decide whether to replace the turf or return the place."

"The Good Lord is so mindful of you and me, He puts close to us those people with His own spirit."

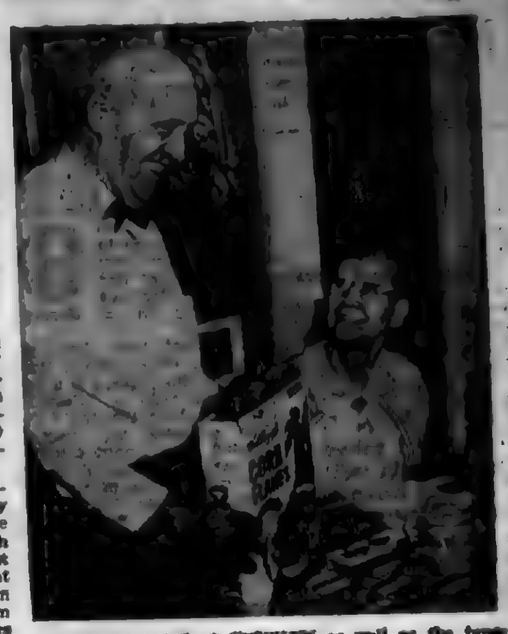
"The new cars have so many new fangled gadgets—I've been waiting all these years for them to make an automatic choke for the back seat."

"Nothing carries more radiance than delight in living."

"At the little country church I used to go to, they shipped preachers in and unloaded them on us. It was a 50-50 deal, though; they had to take us sight unseen too!"

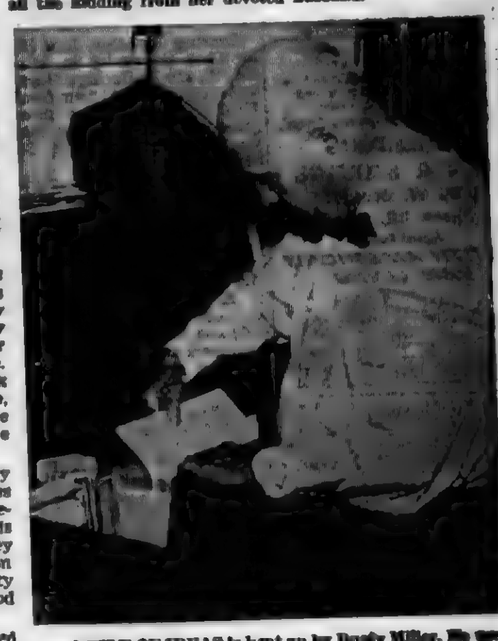
"You can't build an iron curtain around people who have open minds and open hearts. The most practical thing in the world is an open mind."

"Don't ever watch a newspaperman run a typewriter—it's unorthodox!"



"Did you ever have an experience that put a lot of emphasis on the ratio between the importance of you and other people? Don't take yourself too seriously."

"I can't drive a golf ball out of a sandtrap, but I can talk it out. My preacher used to say I knew the relatives of his golf ball on both sides of the family."



"There's an opportunity in citizenship, but there's an obligation about it. It has to be a balancing equation."

"'Very' is the most over-worked word in the dictionary."

"Life is not an ordeal. It is an opportunity."

HANDY IN THE KITCHEN as well as the typewriter, Dusty prepares breakfast every morning for Gracie, his wife of over 50 years. Gracie quietly sits back and takes all the kidding from her devoted husband.

A FILE OF IDEAS is kept up by Dusty Miller. He uses these clippings and verses on original cards sent to friends for various occasions, or for no reason at all.

STILL SPRY AT 81, Dusty Miller walks to the corner mail box every day to keep in shape. "I'm luckier than a lot of old folks," he said.

JACKPOT IS GROWING

$69 In 'Confederate' Cash Available To Lucky Reader

There's "Confederate" cash waiting for some lucky person right now at the Hartley Newspaper office! Although the bills may be a little old, you'll find they're right up to date when you spend hem at any place of business advertising in a Hartley Newspaper.

To collect your share of the loot, being offered this week by this paper, you must come up with a "Confederate" emblem like this "1". The emblems are always printed in a bright colored ink and placed somewhere in the white space of an advertisement on the inside pages of the paper. Not every paper contains an emblem, only 21 of the 72,000 copies printed.

Any reader finding a "1" emblem can collect $1 in "Confederate" cash by merely sending the page containing the winning insignia to Hartley Newspapers, 2465 W. Broad-st. The "Confederate" cash will be mailed to the winner.

To win this week's jackpot of $69, in "Confederate" money, you must come up with the "5" emblem, like the one shown in this column, and be a paid subscriber, the emblem is worth $5 in "Confederate" bills.

Like the "1" insignia, the "5" emblem is printed in a bright colored ink, but it appears in only one copy of this week's edition of Hartley Newspapers. If you find a "5" emblem you must bring the paper containing it to the Hartley Newspaper office to claim your prize.

Winners of one "Confederate" dollar in last week's contest were Mrs. Allen J. Pipelow, 4940 Dublin-rd, and R. D. Fannon, Jd., 858 Stephen-dr, W. This means that $23 in "Confederate" money not claimed in last week's contest was added to the jackpot to make up the cash available to this week's winners.

This contest is not open to employes, including carriers of Hartley Newspapers or members of their families. All entries must be received by noon on Monday, following publication of the paper, in order to be eligible to win in the contest.

76 Buckeye Boys Staters Leave For Ohio University

Leaving Thursday, June 13, for Ohio University in Athens, O., are 76 Buckeye Boys' State representatives from Franklin County. The delegates were selected from this year's junior classes in 34 high schools.

John L. Worrell, commander of the newly merged 12th District Council of the American Legion, predicts that Franklin County will have the largest delegation enrolled. The boys are being sponsored by 22 Legion Posts, Worrell said, and co-sponsors are 38 civic and other organizations, businesses and individuals.

Service clubs acting as co-sponsors include the East Side, Hilltop (two), New Albany, Gahanna, Bexley (two), Whitehall, and Groveport Lions Clubs; the Hilltop (two), West Side and West Franklin Kiwanis Clubs; the West Columbus and Eastern Civitan Clubs, Western Optimists and the Bexley Business and Professional Men's Club.

Other assisting groups are the Walnut Ridge Boosters, 13 Club, Columbus Elks, East Side Business Association, the Hilltop Business Association, and a group of Southway Post 144 members who call themselves the "East Side Outpost."

Other co-sponsors are Bobb Chevrolet, Ann-Ton's restaurant, Garland Equipment Co., Harmony Farms Dairy, Ackerman Drugs, Red and White Trading Post at Powell, Judge Russell Leach, Dr. S. H. Bergman, the Leo Yassenoff Foundation and the Truro Township Fire Department.

American Legion Posts in the Hartley Newspapers area and the number of delegates they are sponsoring are the following:

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW LAZARUS STORE BEGINS

THE NEW LAZARUS Northland Store, covering 200,000 square feet, will include three selling floors and be more than twice the size of Lazarus West on W. Broad-st. A separate building will house the department store's auto accessory and tire center. The new store scheduled to open in August, 1964, will be part of Central Ohio's first mall-type regional shopping center which is now under construction. The new Northland Center will include 85 stores and cover a 71-acre site at the southeast corner of Morse and Karl-rds.

KEEPING IT all in the family, so to speak, the Hilliard and Franklin County Fair Board has selected hometowner Stan Robinson to head a list of WLW-C, TV-4 stars in the featured grandstand entertainment. Robinson (extreme left) is a Hilliard resident. Others in the show, are from left, the Al Waslon quintet, Perky Jeanne Cummins, Al Waslon himself and Clay Eager. A special added attraction will also be named later, the board announced. The fair runs Aug. 12-17.

TO CLOSE OUT 50TH YEAR

TV-4 Stars Will Head Franklin County Fair Grandstand Offering

The WLW-C, TV-4 "Cavalade of Stars" will be the grandstand attraction for the 50th anniversary of the Franklin County Fair, it was announced this week by the Hilliard and Franklin County Fair Board.

The headliner act has been booked for 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 17—the final day of the fair which begins Aug. 12.

The "TV Cavalade," with popular personality and Hilliard resident Stan Robinson as emcee, will feature country and western musician Clay Eager, the Al Waslon TV quintet, songstress Jeanne Cummins and musical comedienne Nancy Courtwright.

The ensemble will present a show of variety and audience participation, fair spokesmen said. An extra added attraction to the group is yet to be announced but has been promised.

Robinson is best known, perhaps, for his role as TV-4 weatherman and co-host of the morning "A.M. Show" at 9 a.m. on WLW-C.

Eager, emcee of the weeknight "Jamboree" at 7 p.m. on TV-4 has been a country-western music expert since his youth. He was emcee of the "Midwestern Hayride" for a time.

Waslon is the music director of the "A.M. Show" and a former arranger-pianist with the orchestras of Jimmy Dorsey, Buddy Morrow and Phil Napoleon.

Jeanne is currently viewed as songstress on the "A.M. Show" and on "Green Thumb" each weekday morning at 7:25 on TV-4. A show business veteran, she has been singing professionally since the age of five.

The review is scheduled to last a full two hours.

Eibling Heads Building Group For Red Cross

Dr. Harold H. Eibling, superintendent of Columbus schools, will head a building committee of Red Cross board members to develop plans for a new building on the recently acquired site of the present headquarters, 995 E. Broad-st.

Other members of the committee included Mrs. P. Webster Huntington, Mrs. Jack Neel Taylor, John B. Piehn, Richard A. Borel, David Chesses and Robert W. Greer.

Henry L. Wagner, chapter chairman, said tentative plans call for a building large enough to house both headquarters facilities and the Columbus Regional Blood Center now located at 812 E. Broad-st.

Stadium Theater Offers 'Harvey'

Roy Bowen, managing director of OSU's Stadium Theatre, announces that the first attraction of the Gate 10's fourteenth annual season will be "Harvey," the famous comedy hit that captured the imagination of Broadway theatregoers for over four years, and a Pulitzer Prize as well.

This play concerns an imaginary rabbit, six feet one and a half inches tall, whose constant companionship with what is probably the world's most ingratiating tippler, has created more laughter than any play in modern times. It will open at Stadium Theatre, Tuesday, June 18, for a five-performance engagement through June 22.

Girl Scout Camp Holds Open House

Open house will be held at Girl Scout Camp Ken-Jockety on Sunday, June 16, from 2 to 5 p.m. The camp is located on Hubbard-rd, which goes north from Rt. 40 between Alton and West Jefferson.

Miss Dorothy Gamber, the camp director, and her staff, will be present to welcome friends and relatives of girls who will be attending two-week sessions at Ker.-Jockety this summer. Tours will cover the central portion of the camp as well as the units where special activities are planned. June 16 is the only visiting day of the summer.

BUSINESS REVIEW

REMOVING THE DENTS in an automobile is one of the many repair services offered by Walter's Auto Service, 155 N. Ninth-st, by competent mechanics and repairmen. In this case "Curley" Lambert, 1925 E. Hudson-st, is busy putting a front fender back into shape before the paint is added to its original finish.

Reasonable Cost And Guarantee Offered By Walter's Auto Service

A former truck-driver, Walter Zimmerman decided to open his own garage and auto repair firm about five years ago to offer his many friends quick service at a reasonable cost. Since then the business has grown and expanded until today Walter's Auto Service, 155 N. Ninth-st, offers just about every type of auto repair and service possible.

One of the main specialities of the auto service is all phases of body and fender work, including painting of cars. This specialty, in charge of "Curley" Lambert, has proved to be an asset to not only the garage but also to customers who find the need to have a dent removed from the "old buggy."

The garage offers competitive prices and free estimates for any type of automotive repair from an engine overhaul, to a valve grinding job to rebuilding a transmission. The firm also handles a complete line of Delco batteries and other automotive accessories.

Although the garage is open daily, except Sunday, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., 24-hour wrecker service is available by calling CA. 1-9311 after business hours or CA. 1-9334 during weekdays.

All mechanical repairs and body-fender work is guaranteed 30 days by Walter's Auto Service.

Finding the garage is best accomplished by either driving north from Long-st on Ninth-st or turning east from Cleveland-av, one block north of Long-st. As Zimmerman pointed out, "It's a little out of the way, but we feel the service and prices are well worth it to our customers."

Parade Of Homes To Show A Typical Russian House

A typical Russian house, built from Soviet plans, will be on display during the 1963 Parade of Homes which opens in Forest Park Saturday, June 15, at 1 p.m. and continues through Saturday, June 23.

According to Jack Esper, Parade chairman, the single family Russian home is being built according to plans from the Library of Congress which originally appeared in a journal published in the Soviet Union. It is being built locally by Melvon, Inc.

"This house," Esper said, "is not the biggest or the smallest available in that country, but it is typical of their single family housing. We feel it will be interesting and educational for Columbus residents to actually compare this house with the kind of homes we have in the United States.

"Naturally, this is just one of the outstanding attractions are 34 homes in all styles and featured in this year's Parade of Homes," Esper continued. "The real stars of the show architecture built by 32 builders, all of whom are members of the Home Builders Association of Greater Columbus."

Hours are 1 to 10 p.m. Saturdays and Sundays and 5 to 10 p.m. on weekdays. Forest Park is located on Karl-rd, between Morse-rd and Rt. 161.

A plan book carrying floor plans, description and a rendering of each Parade home will be given to visitors as ied by adults.

Admission is 50 cents for adults. Children under 16 admitted free when accompanthey enter.

Name H. A. Jahn Bogen & Bogen Superintendent

The appointment of H. A. (Hal) Jahn as superintendent of the installation department has been announced by Arthur D. Bogen, president of Bogen Heating & Air Conditioning Corporation.

Jahn has been associated with Bogen, Bogen and Bogen for six years. He is a graduate of RSES schools as well as several manufacturer's training schools. He has had many years experience in servicing all types and models of furnaces and air conditioners.

Assisting Jahn in layout work will be Pat Jackson, who has moved up and through the installation department, after working in all phases of the department. He has been with the company since 1954.

Bogen's have installed two-way radios in all the installation equipment, as well as service trucks, and have expanded their shop facilities to provide better service to customers.

will be honored at the banquet.

Ohio State Bank Has New Office

The sixth banking office of the Ohio State Bank, one of the area's fastest growing financial institutions, was opened Monday at 3355 E. Livingston-av.

John Buker, manager of the new branch office, said services offered will include checking, thrifti check and savings accounts, traveler checks, Christmas Club, money orders, drafts and collections, and loans for business, commercial, real estate, property improvement, personal and financing purposes.

Employment Opportunities Needed For Youth: Gabele

Higher education and advanced training is being more universally recognized as a key to better career job opportunities, as evidenced by some 52.2 per cent of this year's local high school graduates who have indicated that they will be college bound.

However, local employment specialists and civic leaders voice a great concern for those graduates who will not attend college or technical schools and who are in need of immediate employment opportunities.

Of the 5910 youngsters graduating from Columbus and Franklin County High Schools this spring, an estimated 2500 will be actively competing for the available job openings, Ralph E. Gabele, Columbus Area manager of the Ohio State Employment Service, declared recently.

This estimate has discounted those graduates who have already secured employment and also those who will probably not seek jobs. It does not, however, include those additional graduates who will trek to the capital city from outlying sections of the state to seek employment. Neither does it include the undetermined number of high school drop-outs who are seeking jobs, Gabele said.

Employment for young people has always been an important factor in any community and it becomes increasingly so with the growing number of teenagers who will enter the labor market in this and succeeding years.

Although local employment and job openings are currently at a high level, many of the job listings are for special skills or experiences not possessed by young graduates. Gabele pointed out that some employers who have been unable to locate workers in needed skills might possibly find it advantageous to change basic job requirements and hiring practices in order to hire younger workers. In many cases this would enable an employer to build his organization for the years ahead which, statistics show, will have a heavy concentration of older workers over 45 and of younger workers under 20.

"Employment opportunities for our youth today are a very real investment in tomorrow's profits and should concern every business and industry in the community," Gabele concluded.

Nearly 300 job-seeking graduates took advantage of the local OSES "Job Opportunity Day," Saturday, May 18, to explore job possibilities. Special emphasis will be devoted during the next several months to the placement of 1963 graduates through local employment offices.

BOARD ACTION ASKED

Assigned Book Cited By Whitehall Father

Eugene Bednar, 4104 Powell-av, appeared before Whitehall school board members Wednesday night during the regular session to protest use of Walter Van Tilburg Clark's "The Ox-Bow Incident" as assigned reading for members of an 11th grade class.

Bednar told board members that his daughter's class was assigned to read the book several months ago for the purpose of class discussion at a later date. The book was purchased at the Whitehall-Yearling book store, he said.

In a 10-minute statement to the school officials, Bednar cited 11 passages from the book containing profane language.

He asked board members if "foul language, taking the Lord's name in vain and lusty description is a necessary or required phase of education," Bednar said he instructed his daughter not to read the book.

Bednar prefaced his remarks to the school board members by reading an editorial carried in the Eastern Review of May 23 under the heading "Printed Garbage Infects."

"As a parent," Bednar told the board, "I respectfully request that you not encourage my children to read or use foul language, or take the Lord's name in vain. As a citizen and taxpayer I demand that the board order abandonment of such practices in the school system."

Board members asked Bednar to furnish them with a copy of the statement he read, and said that they would check into the matter for further discussion at the next regular meeting.

Defense Dept. Worker Retires

The U. S. Army Mobility Support Center, 52 Starling-st, recently honored Edmund E. Loomis on his retirement from Federal Service. Loomis, who resides with his wife Iva at 695 Whittier-st, has worked the past 15 years with the Department of Defense.

Formerly the owner of a 60-acre farm near Bowling Green, O., he attended the Ohio State University's College of Agriculture. He came to the Columbus General Depot in 1948 following 14 years employment with the Wegner Brewery.

Loomis is a member of the First Congregational Church. He is the father of two sons and one daughter, the grandfather of four children and has two great-grandchildren.

The retirement observances included the gift of a "money tree" plus a silver dollar for each year of service, a bouquet of pink roses for Mrs. Loomis, a congratulatory letter from the Center's Commander, Colonel G. A. Sweeten, two personal poems from co-workers and a potluck luncheon.

HAUS UND GARTEN TOUR BILLS WUCIUS WONG

And Here The Twain Shall Meet

THE WROUGHT IRON gates, typical of German Village architecture, make a curious background for Wucius Wong and his easel as the Chinese artist prepares for his one-man show, an added attraction at the day-long Haus und Garten Tour Sunday, June 23.

It won't be all a "beer and skittle" atmosphere when German Village dons its best bib and tucker for the fourth annual Haus und Garten Tour a week from Sunday.

One man will be hard at work.

When the Maennerchor begins to harmonize and the Lederhesen Five German band bursts into polkas, there will be no tears of nostalgia for him.

Such melody is a far cry from the haunting, sing-song music of his native land.

And the sturdy German homes, built to endure and restored to their original charm may look pretty "square" to Wucius Wong, gifted Chinese painter who will be holding a one-man show at 246 Sycamore-st.

Versatile, using oils as a medium in addition to the traditional China Ink, Wong is studying at the Columbus School of Art and Design on a Ford Foundation Grant.

Much of the work on display has traveled around the world, as Wong has held shows in Hong Kong, China, Formosa, Saigon, Vietnam and Brazil.

As the shuttle buses weave through the village, the arts and crafts of the Germans who settled the South Side almost a century ago will be on display, and the atmosphere will be that of "The old country."

But Jan Jones of the German Village Society urges guests to take the rare opportunity and enjoy Wong's exhibit which reflects the art of a far older culture than that of the Western World.

Wucius will be glad to see you.

Eastmoor High School's Warriors' Spear-It

By JOYCE WILKERSON

The following students were also recognized at the honors assembly: David Hillenbrand, an award for participation in the Youth Conference on the Atom; John Rosemond, the Agonis Award by Bernie Sully; Bob Eisenstein, Mathematics Association Award; Dolores Huffman, outstanding senior girl, by the Columbus Education Association.

Andy Gorenstein, honorable mention in the Columbus chapter, National Society of Arts and Letters poetry contest; Melva Gornal, award from the Coty Cosmetics for being a finalist in the Miss Teenage America Contest; the poster winners of the contest sponsored by the Jewish War Veterans were: first place, Anita Bauer; second, Kristin Lindholf and third, Ann Stenz.

Eastmoor's Student Council presented the school a banner which will be hung in the gym.

Lynn Balthaser and Carla Globe, two Eastmoor seniors, have obtained a 4.0 average (straight A's) throughout the past four years.

Mike Mirvis was one of 40 Junior Achievement members in the nation to receive the Horace Mosses Foundation Scholarship for his participation in JA for the past three years.

Mary Beth Morris received the Betty Crocker Home Economics award for placing firstt in school on a written test.

Eastmoor students received copies of the 1963 Shield, May 21.

Baccalaureate was Sunday, June 2 in the school auditorium. Senior graduation was June 4 to 7 p.m. in the stadium.

Junior High Commencement was June 5.

Kiwanis Club Warns Against Madcap Use Of Power Mowers

Oren W. Spilker, chairman of the agriculture and conservation committee of the Reynoldsburg Kiwanis Club, sends a reminder that many people become careless in their operation of power mowers and many accidents happen each year.

Spilker has announced many safety suggestions as reminders of these dangers and how to avoid them. "It has been estimated that about 75 000 power mower accidents occur in the nation each year," he said. "I suggest that everyone take a few minutes and read the following safety instructions. They may help prevent mangled hands and cut toes."

• Inspect your lawn before mowing to be sure all bones, stones, sticks, toys and other foreign materials have been removed. When mowing observe the lawn immediately ahead of the mower.

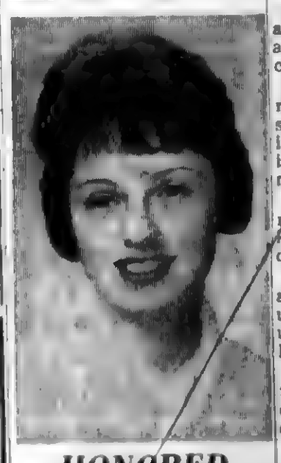
• Request that all spectators, adults and children, keep away from the discharge side of the mower and that they leave the immediate area being mowed. A blade rotating between 2,000 and 3,600 rounds per minute can pick up an object and throw it with enough force to kill someone.

• Keep your hands, feet and loose clothing away from any moving part of the machine. Wear good sound shoes.

• Maintain control of the mower at all times. If it is a self-propelled mower, don't let it pull you. Be sure operator is physically able to handle mower.

• Know how to stop your machine. If it is self-propelled, know how to disengage the clutch.

• Shut off the power unit at all times when the mower is unattended. A child plus an unattended mower sometimes leads to disaster.



• Beware of the electric rotary mower when just shut off; this type "coasts" very quietly and for a long time.

• Cut sideways on a slope, not up and down.

• Always store gasoline in a standard red safety can, never in a glass jug. Fill gas tank when the engine is cool and stopped.

• Always disconnect the spark plug wire before examining or unclogging the cutter blades.

The traditional musical instrument of Serbia is the gusle, a one-stringed instrument played with a bow.

HONORED

RITA Rohr, 3144 Westwick-rd, upon her completion of the requirements for the Ohio Cadet Provisional Teaching Certificate, was honored during ceremonies at the College of St. Mary of De Springs, held Sunday, May 30. Miss Rohr is a 1961 graduate of Bishop Hartley High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rohr.

WORLDS TO Conquer!

Many Young People have just recently stepped out of the world of training and study, and now look to make their spot in the world. These words of encouragement are written for you.

New frontiers are still there to be conquered, there is a place of service for you. Do not be afraid, for in the strength of your youth, you can accomplish much, however, do not shun the advice and help of others. Above all, seek the knowledge of the Lord. "Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel." Psalm 73:24

ATTEND CHURCH REGULARLY

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Who Is To Be Responsible?

Throughout the past several months our newspapers have called attention to the pending Senate bill No. 61 known as the Hospital Immunity Bill. Last week it was approved 19-13 by the Senate.

There are many pros and cons regarding this bill but little has been said on it in Central Ohio while other areas in the state have had a good bit to say.

While we may not have all the answers, it would appear that something is wrong in this bill that would, as we understand it, excuse hospitals from liabilities and mistakes made by staff personnel. Any such mistakes would be strictly the responsibility of the individual person involved.

This is hardly the way that business works, since most businesses are responsible for the actions of their employees while employed at the job. Hospitals are big business and it would seem as such are not entitled to any special concessions of this type.

The bill is being heard in the House on Wednesday and Thursday evenings this week. If you have observations on the bill or would like to learn more about it this is your opportunity.

Whitehall Solons Face Fight On Garbage Fee Ordinance

By FRANK EYAN

Whitehall Council passed the controversial "retroactive" garbage fee ordinance during regular session Tuesday night. The action set the stage for a formal opinion by City Solicitor Paul Haytcher, a likely veto by Mayor Walter B. Moling and possible court action.

Amended prior to passage as an emergency measure, the ordinance calls for payment of $13,773.48 to North Haulage. This is an increase of $3,608.28 over the amount authorized in the original ordinance.

Further amendments to the original ordinance raised the number of residential units covered by the garbage hauling contract from 6,176 to 6,206, and dropped the "moral" obligation terminology of the ordinance.

In dropping the "moral" issue from the ordinance, council members passed the measure as a "legal" obligation of the city to meet terms of the garbage collection contract with North Haulage. In switching to "legal" in drafting the ordinance in its final form, council members reversed an informal "moral" ruling offered by Haytcher.

The council cast identical votes of six "yesses" and one abstention for the emergency clause and for passage of the ordinance. Third Ward Councilman James M. Toomey abstained from voting, explaining that he was an employe of a firm representing the bonding company for North Haulage.

Mayor Moling has 10 days in which to act on the measure. The mayor said he would seek a formal ruling from Haytcher before acting, but that he is "inclined to veto" the measure. He had said previously that he would not have voted for the ordinance if he were a member of council.

Solicitor Haytcher told council members that the City of Whitehall has prosecuted and won what he believes to be the first income tax case in Ohio to be tried before a jury. This should lay to rest, he said, the myth that a jury will not vote for conviction in city income tax cases.

Excepting for the garbage fee proposal, council sailed through passage of six ordinances and one resolution without a dissenting vote.

Passed after third readings were two "junk" ordinances.

Vien Named Jaycee Of Year

Robert Vien, 264 Iroquois Park-pl, Gahanna, has been named "Jaycee of the Year" by the Eastern Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The award was presented at the organization's installation banquet June 12, at the Columbus Maennerchor.

Vien, manager of the Boston Store in the Town and Country Shopping Center, has served as charter president for the first year of the organization.

William LaRue, 4081 Elbern-av, who served as charter vice-president, received the "exhausted rooster" pin, as a Jaycee who has reached the mandatory retirement age of 36.

Vien

LaRue is currently serving as general chairman of the Fourth of July celebration, which the Jaycees are coordinating for the city of Whitehall.

Donald Hummer, state vice-president of the Ohio Jaycees, served as installing officer for T. N. (Jack) Jackson, 3010 Brownlee-rd, who will take office on July 1.

Other officers installed were Roland Gilbert, internal vice-president; William Shanks, external vice-president; Virgil Domer, secretary; Dennis Varvel, treasurer, and directors, George Cook, Gary Jensen, Dave Liddick and Thomas Studebaker.

Eleven Jaycees were awarded their SPOKE certificates for service, participation, orientation, knowledge and enthusiasm they have shown in their first year as Jaycees.

Receiving SPOKE awards were Jackson, Gilbert, Shanks, Domer, Varvel, Jensen, Liddick, Studebaker, LaRue, Paul Knoblauch and Thomas Koettig.

WILKOMMEN! WILKOMMEN!

HAUS AND GARTEN tour guests at the Phillip L. Milford home, 540 S. Sixth-st will be welcomed "Wilkommen" this Sunday by Mrs. Michael Farr, Jr. The authentic Transylvania dress she will wear was made in the old country for Mrs. Susanna Hartig, who now lives at 191 Hanford, by Mrs. Edward Bauemel, 1654 Linwood, who also made her way after World War II to Columbus. Eleven restored homes in German Village will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. the day of the German Village Society's fourth annual tour. As shuttle buses wend their way through the South Side area originally settled by German immigrants, the German Band will play, the Maennerchor will sing, the local artists will paint on the sidewalks, and "Little Germany" will live again. Tickets at $1.50 each can be purchased from society members and will also be on sale at the German Village office, 624 S. Third-st, Sunday. (Story on Page 3)

JULY 4

Day-Long Festival In Bexley

Entries in the Bexley Fourth of July Parade, already increased five-fold over the 15 floats entered in the first event three years ago, signal the community's enthusiastic support of the holiday event.

Launched in 1960 by the Bexley Celebrations Association, this year's parade now numbers 92 floats, and entries are still open.

Fireworks at 8 a.m. will mark the opening of the day's program and serve as a reminder for children to assemble with their decorated bicycles at Maryland School at 8:45. Judging will be held at 9.

The parade will begin at Maryland School at 9:30, move down Roosevelt-av to Mound, travel on Mound to Cassady, and end at Cassingham School.

Tricycles will be judged there.

Bexley Art Guild will hold

Administrators Named At Four Elementaries, Eastmoor Junior High

June, traditional month of school administrative changes for Columbus Public Schools, brought a number of appointments for Eastern area schools.

School Board Tuesday approved promotions and changes of assignment for principals and vice-principals.

The appointment of Norval Goss as the first principal of the new Eastmoor Junior High, to be opened in September, was announced last January, and the assignment of Miss Miriam Hinton as vice-principal of the school, was made at Tuesday's meeting.

Other administrative appointments made this week include, in area elementaries, Paul James, principal of Main Street, Neal Greenfield, principal of Willis Park, Elmer Smith, principal of Eastwood, and Miss Evelyn Swickard, principal of East Columbus.

Norval Goss, first principal at Eastmoor Junior High, has served as vice-principal of Eastmoor High School since 1958.

He received his bachelor of arts degree in education from Dennison University and his master's from Ohio State University.

Goss taught social studies and history at Central High from 1954 until his appointment as a cadet principal in 1957.

Howard Nicklaus, vice-principal of Linden-McKinley Junior-Senior High, was named to succeed Goss at Eastmoor High. The announcement was made last January.

The vice-principalship of Eastmoor Junior High is the first administrative assignment for Miss Miriam Hinton, a cadet principal since 1962.

She received her bachelor's degree from Capital University in 1943, her master's from Ohio State University in 1951, and also attended Indiana University.

Miss Hinton taught business education at Radnor, New Holland and Chillicothe from 1943 to 1952, and then was a teacher and counselor at West High until 1961 when she became a full-time counselor at Whetstone High.

Paul James, also a cadet principal during the past year, will become principal of Main Street Elementary in September.

He attended Ashland College, received his bachelor's degree in education from Capital University in 1960, and his master's from Ohio State University in 1962.

James taught fifth and sixth grades at Siebert Elementary from 1957 to 1960, and then served as a resource teacher in the administration building before becoming a cadet principal.

Mrs. Evelyn DeLoache, now principal of Main Street,

WHITEHALL BOARD RULES

'Ox-Bow Incident' Is 'Unobjectionable'

The Whitehall Board of Education has termed "unobjectionable" a book assigned for 11th grade English reading, and criticized by a Whitehall father who quoted to board members 11 passages from the book containing profane language.

Eugene Bednar, 4104 Powell-av, appeared at the June 12 Board of Education meeting to protest use of "The Ox-Bow Incident" as recommended or assigned reading.

Board members dealt with Bednar's protest during an adjourned regular June meeting Tuesday night, and issued the following conclusion:

"The Board of Education gave careful attention to the objection of a parent relative to the use of the book "The Ox-Bow Incident" in the high school English curriculum. Upon investigation it has been determined that 'The Ox-Bow Incident' appears on the list of "3,000 Books for Secondary School Libraries" as compiled by the Library Committee of the Independent Schools Education Board.

"This book is also recommended for use by senior high school students by the National Council of Teachers of English and is included as a most highly recommended book in the fiction catalog for public libraries.

"'The Ox-Bow Incident' has been acclaimed by literary critics, and the author, Walter Van Tilburg Clark, is a recognized literary figure. The author has stated that he has attempted to parallel the brutal and unscrupulous methods of the German Nazis and hoped to warn against the ever-present element of any society which can always be led to act in the same way, to use authoritarian methods to oppose authoritarian methods.

"Since the book is widely used by secondary schools in this area, as well as nationally, the Whitehall Board of Education does not find 'The Ox-Bow Incident' to be objectionable."

Apply Swift Kick To Young Delinquents

AN EDITORIAL
BY JENKIN LLOYD JONES

Let's try the swift kick on juvenile delinquency.

We've tried about everything else with uniformly disappointing results.

And still the young hoods multiply.

We've tried repeated paroles that end only when the parolee commits a crime so serious that it cannot be ignored.

We've tried Big Brother clubs, and palsy-walsy cops.

We've tried wrecking tenements and building nice public housing. We've tried volleyball and tennis courts and Saturday outings into the woods.

We've tried country club reformatories with no walls and big swimming pools and movies every night.

While the majority of kids are born straight and stay that way, the Hennings Committee of the U.S. Senate reports that 20 per cent of American youngsters between 10 and 17 now have juvenile records. One out of five! Why?

You can't lay it to "underprivilege." In terms of creature-comforts American kids, as a whole, are the most privileged of all kinds. The boy who robs to get a new four-barrel carburetor for his hot rod is not underprivileged. The ticky kid who slugs a woman for her purse in order to buy a "pop" from the corner heroin peddler is not a fugitive from starvation. The vicious gang that beats a crippled boy to death for "kicks" is not struggling for dignity.

Perhaps one of our troubles arises from the fact that do-gooders have drifted into juvenile work and many of these do-gooders are so good themselves that they simply cannot comprehend the psychology of evil.

They give out such soft-headed statements as "There's no such thing as a bad boy," and they keep trying to tie the can of crime to "society" while the young punks smirk and hone their switchblades.

Because the last thing a do-gooder would do is scrag an old lady for five bucks, he cannot understand how a child would do it unless driven by social desperation or uncontrollable compulsions. This being the case, punishment is not in order.

Well, of course, that approach hasn't been working.

But if punishment means putting a kid away in a reform school where he can take advanced courses in crime and vice there is good cause for concern. For reform schools rarely reform. Neither the old bleak reformatories nor the fancy new semi-resort hotels are doing what they were designed for.

They may teach a trade, of sorts, but the inmate generally emerges with a wide acquaintance among the upcoming generations of criminals and a determination to score on the cops next time.

So if no punishment doesn't work and the reformatory punishment doesn't work—what then?

Last summer Judge William J. Obermiller of Whiting, Ind., a Chicago industrial suburb, found himself confronted by a group of youths aged 17 to 19 who had been drinking and fighting on a beach. The defendants ran combs through their luxuriant hair, snapped their fingers and talked "bop" talk. The rest of the gang filled the spectators' benches to listen and laugh. The procedure in such cases had been to parole the defendants to their ineffective parents.

Suddenly Judge Obermiller got a different idea. He summoned three husky policemen to spank the ringleaders. Then he ordered ducktail haircuts shaved off and the defendants to spend the next four weekends cleaning up the beach under police supervision.

This was not according to script. The finger-snapping stopped abruptly. The young spectators slunk away. The beach was cleaned up and delinquency rates dropped fast.

"The trick," said Judge Obermiller," was humiliation. We took the glamor out of it."

Recently in Montana, Judge Lester H. Loble of Helena cut the kid crime rate by junking the rule of

Who Is To Be Responsible?

Throughout the past several months our newspapers have called attention to the pending Senate bill No. 61 known as the Hospital Immunity Bill. Last week it was approved 19-13 by the Senate.

There are many pros and cons regarding this bill but little has been said on it in Central Ohio while other areas in the state have had a good bit to say.

While we may not have all the answers, it would appear that something is wrong in this bill that would, as we understand it, excuse hospitals from liabilities and mistakes made by staff personnel. Any such mistakes would be strictly the responsibility of the individual person involved.

This is hardly the way that business works, since most businesses are responsible for the actions of their employees while employed at the job. Hospitals are big business and it would seem as such are not entitled to any special concessions of this type.

The bill is being heard in the House on Wednesday and Thursday evenings this week. If you have observations on the bill or would like to learn more about it this is your opportunity.

Whitehall Solons Face Fight On Garbage Fee Ordinance

By FRANK BYAN

Whitehall Council passed the controversial "retroactive" garbage fee ordinance during regular session Tuesday night. The action set the stage for a formal opinion by City Solicitor Paul Haytcher, a likely veto by Mayor Walter B. Moling and possible court action.

Amended prior to passage as an emergency measure, the ordinance calls for payment of $13,773.48 to North Haulage. This is an increase of $3,603.28 over the amount authorized in the original ordinance.

Further amendments to the original ordinance raised the number of residential units covered by the garbage hauling contract from 6,176 to 6,206, and dropped the "moral" obligation terminology of the ordinance.

In dropping the "moral" issue from the ordinance, council members passed the measure as a "legal" obligation of the city to meet terms of the garbage collection contract with North Haulage. In switching to "legal" in drafting the ordinance in its final form, council members reversed an informal "moral" ruling offered by Haytcher.

The council cast identical votes of six "yesses" and one abstention for the emergency clause and for passage of the ordinance. Third Ward Councilman James M. Toomey abstained from voting, explaining that he was an employe of a firm representing the bonding company for North Haulage.

Mayor Moling has 10 days in which to act on the measure. The mayor said he would seek a formal ruling from Haytcher before acting, but that he is "inclined to veto" the measure. He had said previously that he would not have voted for the ordinance if he were a member of Council.

Solicitor Haytcher told council members that the City of Whitehall has prosecuted and won what he believes to be the first income tax case in Ohio to be tried before a jury. This should lay to rest, he said, the myth that a jury will not vote for conviction in city income tax cases.

Excepting for the garbage fee proposal, council sailed through passage of six ordinances and one resolution without a dissenting vote.

Passed after third readings were two "junk" ordinances.

Vien Named Jaycee Of Year

Robert Vien, 264 Iroquois Park-pl, Gahanna, has been named "Jaycee of the Year" by the Eastern Columbus Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The award was presented at the organization's installation banquet June 12, at the Columbus Maennerchor.

Vien, manager of the Boston Store in the Town and Country Shopping Center, has served as charter president for the first year of the organization.

William LaRue, 4081 Elbern-av, who served as charter vice-president, received the "exhausted rooster" pin, as a Jaycee who has reached the mandatory retirement age of 36.

Vien LaRue is currently serving as general chairman of the Fourth of July celebration, which the Jaycees are coordinating for the city of Whitehall.

Donald Hummer, state vice-president of the Ohio Jaycees, served as installing officer for T. N. (Jack) Jackson, 3010 Brownlee-rd, who will take office on July 1.

Other officers installed were Roland Gilbert, internal vice-president; William Shanks, external vice-president; Virgil Domer, secretary; Dennis Varvel, treasurer, and directors, George Cook, Gary Jensen, Dave Liddick and Thomas Studebaker.

Eleven Jaycees were awarded their SPOKE certificates for service, participation, orientation, knowledge and enthusiasm they have shown in their first year as Jaycees.

Receiving SPOKE awards were Jackson, Gilbert, Shanks, Domer, Varvel, Jensen, Liddick, Studebaker, LaRue, Paul Knoblauch and Thomas Koetting.

JULY 4

Day-Long Festival In Bexley

Entries in the Bexley Fourth of July Parade, already increased five-fold over the 15 floats entered in the first event three years ago, signal the community's enthusiastic support of the holiday event.

Launched in 1960 by the Bexley Celebrations Association, this year's parade now numbers 92 floats, and entries are still open.

Fireworks at 8 a.m. will mark the opening of the day's program and serve as a reminder for children to assemble with their decorated bicycles at Maryland School at 8:45. Judging will be held at 9.

The parade will begin at Maryland School at 9:30, move down Roosevelt-av to Mound, travel on Mound to Cassady, and end at Cassingham School.

Tricycles will be judged there.

WILKOMMEN! WILKOMMEN!

HAUS AND GARTEN tour guests at the Phillip L. Milford home, 540 S. Sixth-st will be welcomed "Wilkommen" this Sunday by Mrs. Michael Farr, Jr. The authentic Transylvania dress she will wear was made in the old country for Mrs. Susanna Hartig, who now lives at 191 Hanford, by Mrs. Edward Bauemel, 1654 Linwood, who also made her way after World War II to Columbus. Eleven restored homes in German Village will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. the day of the German Village Society's fourth annual tour. As shuttle buses wend their way through the South Side area originally settled by German immigrants, the German Band will play, the Maennerchor will sing, the local artists will paint on the sidewalks, and "Little Germany" will live again. Tickets at $1.50 each can be purchased from society members and will also be on sale at the German Village office, 634 S. Third-st, Sunday. (Story on Page 3)

Administrators Named At Four Elementaries, Eastmoor Junior High

June, traditional month of school administrative changes for Columbus Public Schools, brought a number of appointments for Eastern area schools.

School Board Tuesday approved promotions and changes of assignment for principals and vice-principals.

The appointment of Norval Goss as the first principal of the new Eastmoor Junior High, to be opened in September, was announced last January, and the assignment of Miss Miriam Hinton as vice-principal of the school, was made at Tuesday's meeting.

Other administrative appointments made this week include, in area elementaries, Paul James, principal of Main Street, Neal Greenfield, principal of Willis Park, Elmer Smith, principal of Eastwood, and Miss Evelyn Swickard, principal of East Columbus.

Norval Goss, first principal at Eastmoor Junior High, has served as vice-principal of Eastmoor High School since 1958.

He received his bachelor of arts degree in education from Dennison University and his master's from Ohio State University.

Goss taught social studies and history at Central High from 1954 until his appointment as a cadet principal in 1957.

Howard Nicklaus, vice-principal of Linden-McKinley Junior-Senior High, was named to succeed Goss at Eastmoor High. The announcement was made last January.

The vice-principalship of Eastmoor Junior High is the first administrative assignment for Miss Miriam Hinton, a cadet principal since 1962.

She received her bachelor's degree from Capital University in 1943, her master's from Ohio State University in 1951, and also attended Indiana University.

Miss Hinton taught business education at Radnor, New Holland and Chillicothe from 1943 to 1952, and then was a teacher and counselor at West High until 1961 when she became a full-time counselor at Whetstone High.

Paul James, also a cadet principal during the past year, will become principal of Main Street Elementary in September.

He attended Ashland College, received his bachelor's degree in education from Capital University in 1960, and his master's from Ohio State University in 1962.

James taught fifth and sixth grades at Siebert Elementary from 1957 to 1960, and then served as a resource teacher in the administration building before becoming a cadet principal.

WHITEHALL BOARD RULES

'Ox-Bow Incident' Is 'Unobjectionable'

The Whitehall Board of Education has termed "unobjectionable" a book assigned for 11th grade English reading, and criticized by a Whitehall father who quoted to board members 11 passages from the book containing profane language.

Eugene Bednar, 4104 Powell-av, appeared at the June 12 Board of Education meeting to protest use of "The Ox-Bow Incident" as recommended or assigned reading.

Board members dealt with Bednar's protest during an adjourned regular June meeting Tuesday night, and issued the following conclusion:

"The Board of Education gave careful attention to the objection of a parent relative to the use of the book 'The Ox-Bow Incident' in the high school English curriculum. Upon investigation it has been determined that 'The Ox-Bow Incident' appears on the list of "3,000 Books for Secondary School Libraries" as compiled by the Library Committee of the Independent Schools Education Board.

"This book is also recommended for use by senior high school students by the National Council of Teachers of English and is included as a most highly recommended book in the fiction catalog for public libraries.

"'The Ox-Bow Incident' has been acclaimed by literary critics, and the author, Walter Van Tilburg Clark, is a recognized literary figure. The author has stated that he has attempted to parallel the brutal and unscrupulous methods of the German Nazis and hoped to warn against the ever-present element of any society which can always be led to act in the same way, to use authoritarian methods to oppose authoritarian methods.

"Since the book is widely used by secondary schools in this area, as well as nationally, the Whitehall Board of Education does not find 'The Ox-Bow Incident' to be objectionable."

Apply Swift Kick To Young Delinquents

AN EDITORIAL
BY JENKIN LLOYD JONES

Let's try the swift kick on juvenile delinquency.

We've tried about everything else with uniformly disappointing results.

And still the young hoods multiply.

We've tried repeated paroles that end only when the parolee commits a crime so serious that it cannot be ignored.

We've tried Big Brother clubs, and palsy-walsy cops.

We've tried wrecking tenements and building nice public housing. We've tried volleyball and tennis courts and Saturday outings into the [illegible].

We've tried country club reformatories with no walls and big swimming pools and movies every night.

Jones

While the majority of kids are born straight and stay that way, the Hennings Committee of the U.S. Senate reports that 20 per cent of American youngsters between 10 and 17 now have juvenile records. One out of five! Why?

You can't lay it to "underprivilege." In terms of creature-comforts American kids, as a whole, are the most privileged of all kinds. The boy who robs to get a new four-barrel carburetor for his hot rod is not underprivileged. The ticky kid who slugs a woman for her purse in order to buy a "pop" from the corner heroin peddler is not a fugitive from starvation. The vicious gang that beats a crippled boy to death for "kicks" is not struggling for dignity.

Perhaps one of our troubles arises from the fact that do-gooders have drifted into juvenile work and many of these do-gooders are so good themselves that they simply cannot comprehend the psychology of evil.

They give out such soft-headed statements as "There's no such thing as a bad boy," and they keep trying to tie the can of crime to "society" while the young punks smirk and hone their switchblades.

Because the last thing a do-gooder would do is scrag an old lady for five bucks, he cannot understand how a child would do it unless driven by social desperation or uncontrollable compulsions. This being the case, punishment is not in order.

Well, of course, that approach hasn't been working.

But if punishment means putting a kid away in a reform school where he can take advanced courses in crime and vice there is good cause for concern. For reform schools rarely reform. Neither the old bleak reformatories nor the fancy new semi-resort hotels are doing what they were designed for.

They may teach a trade, of sorts, but the inmate generally emerges with a wide acquaintance among the upcoming generations of criminals and a determination to score on the cops next time.

So if no punishment doesn't work and the reformatory punishment doesn't work—what then?

Last summer Judge William J. Obermiller of Whiting, Ind., a Chicago industrial suburb, found himself confronted by a group of youths aged 17 to 19 who had been drinking and fighting on a beach. The defendants ran combs through their luxuriant hair, snapped their fingers and talked "bop" talk. The rest of the gang filled the spectators' benches to listen and laugh. The procedure in such cases had been to parole the defendants to their ineffective parents.

Suddenly Judge Obermiller got a different idea. He summoned three husky policemen to spank the ringleaders. Then he ordered ducktail haircuts shaved off and the defendants to spend the next four weekends cleaning up the beach under police supervision.

This was not according to script. The finger-snapping stopped abruptly. The young spectators slunk away. The beach was cleaned up and delinquency rates dropped fast.

"The trick," said Judge Obermiller," [illegible] humiliation. We took the glamor out of it."

Recently in Montana, Judge Lester H. Loble of Helena cut the kid crime rate by junking the rule of

Kids Proudly Parade Pets For Fun, Prizes At City Playgrounds

Regional pet shows, first big event of the summer season now in full swing at the 81 playgrounds operated by Columbus Recreation Department, will be staged Friday, June 21, 6:30 p.m. at various locations.

East area playgrounds will participate in the pet shows planned at Schiller Park, Deshler-av at Jaeger-st, and at Beatty Recreation Center, 247 N. Ohio-av.

Taking part in the event at Schiller will be Courtright, James Road, Leawood, Pinecrest, Scottwood and Willis Park School playgrounds.

Among playgrounds taking part in the show at Beatty are Fairmoor, Shepard and Main Street schools, and Franklin Park.

Janet Greene, the Cinderella of television, will be mistress of ceremonies at Schiller, and judges will be Ollie Oelgoetz of the recreation commission, William P. Hoermle and William Fornof of Columbus City Council.

At Beatty Park, Spook Beckman of WTVN Radio will be master of ceremonies, and judging the event will be Municipal Court Judge Russell Leach, Croft Merritt, assistant service director of Columbus, and Gordon Stroupe, assistant city attorney.

Awards will be presented for pets in the following classifications: prettiest, best groomed, most unusual, most obedient, best costumed, smallest, most affectionate, largest, best performer and cutest.

Boys and girls should go to the playground nearest their homes and register pets. It is asked that no insects be entered this year.

A registration card will be given to each entrant, to be taken to Schiller or to Beatty at 6 p.m. Friday. A number will be given to each child as a means of identification.

Following are reports from local playgrounds:

PINE CREST

Pinecrest playground is open for summer fun with Tom Golden, George Fillinger and Lani Robbins in charge.

Special events coming up include a pet show at 1 p.m. Thursday, June 20; Junior Jet baseball league, minor league games at 1 p.m., major league games at 5:15; girls' softball every evening at 7, and boys' softball practice Tuesdays and Thursdays at 1:30.

Monday, June 24, there will be tournaments in four squares, horseshoes and tetherball. Wednesday, June 26, Pinecrest will have its popular clown contest.

Leawood

Leawood School Park opened June 12 with many children in attendance. Arts and crafts are held daily. Children 6 to 9 have crafts from 12:30 to 1:30 and children 10 to 14 have crafts from 1:30 to 2:30.

The annual playground pet show will be held Thursday, June 20, at 6:30 p.m. on the school blacktop. Ribbons will be awarded for winners in various classes. Poster contest winners will also be announced and certificates awarded. Winners of the pet show will be entered in the sectional pet show on Friday, June 21.

The annual playground Clown Contest will be held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 26, at the school. Horseshoes, four square, and tetherball tournaments will start June 24.

Junior Jet baseball has started again this year at the park. Seventy boys have been split into four teams. Games will be played Monday through Thursday from one to three o'clock. Parents able to participate in this program should contact John Seeds at the playground.

At Scottwood

Scottwood Playground Pet Parade will be held Thursday evening, with awards being given for outstanding pets. All children are invited to enter their pets.

A daily arts and crafts period will be held on the playground. Among special projects completed last week was a crepe paper flag for Flag Day, made by all age groups.

Boys' and girls' softball teams are now being formed.

At Shepard

Shepard School playground pet fair will be held Thursday, June 20, at Shepard, 2-3 p.m.

Dogs, cats, turtles and other pets will vie for awards in such categories as "most unusual," "smallest," "best costumed," "most obedient," "most affectionate" and "best performer."

All children, ages 6 to 15, are invited to bring their pets and their parents.

A regional pet show will be held at Beatty Center, June 21.

A slow-pitch softball team for boys age 8 to 12 is being organized, and teams for boys 13 to 15, and 16 to 18 are being organized in a fast pitch league.

Rabies Clinic Is Scheduled For June 21

Low-income families can have their pet dogs protected against rabies at the monthly Rabies Vaccination Clinic, scheduled for Friday, June 21, from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Health and Safety Center Building, 181 S. Washington-bld.

Local regulations require that all dogs over the age of three months must be immunized against rabies.

The clinic is staffed by members of the Columbus Academy of Veterinary Medicine, who volunteer their services. A charge of $1.50 is made to cover the cost of vaccination.

Other participating agencies are the Columbus Health Department and the Humane Society of Columbus and Franklin County.

Orphans To Be Treated At Zoo

For the 58th time since the program started, children from orphanages in Franklin and adjoining counties will be guests of the Columbus Automobile Club at the Columbus Zoo and Zoo Park. The event, made possible by voluntary contributions from club members, will take place Tuesday, July 9.

The children will be treated to a full day of entertainment, food and fun. Youngsters over the age of six years will receive wristwatches and the smaller children will receive other gifts.

The event was started soon after the turn of the century, when club members drove the children in their own cars to the public scene. Today's club members do it "by proxy," by arranging for modern buses to do the transporting.

Whitehall Garbage Fee Tiff Spawns Many Side Issues

By FRANK RYAN

The Whitehall garbage fee hassle has gone the way of most debatable issues arising within the body politic. The question of whether or not the City owes a collectable debt has been clouded by a series of politically motivated stratagems and a number of irrelevant side issues.

Council's action Tuesday night served as a means of more clearly identifying the problem rather than solving it. Six of the seven council members passed an ordinance authorizing payment of $13,773.48 to North Haulage as full settlement of a claimed underpayment over a 16-month period.

The alleged underpayment is said to have occurred because Service Director Robert Mickey failed to make a required annual residential unit count in Dec. 1961, and Dec., 1962, for the purpose of establishing collection costs.

Mickey admits that the required counts were not made by the city in either year. (Score a point for the ordinance backers.)

But, while the contract is specific in demanding the count, the ordinance which put the contract into effect identifies the count as a vehicle for negotiation costs for the subsequent calendar year. The ordinance does not specify who is to initiate negotiations — and there was no attempt by North Haulage to re-negotiate the cost factor prior to Nov., 1962. (Score a point for the ordinance opponents.)

These two points will probably form the basis for eventual determination of the issue by adjudication. That the matter will not be settled short of court action is indicated by expressed intentions of members of the City Administration who must concur with Council if the ordinance is to be ratified.

Mayor Walter B. Moling has announced his intention to seek a formal opinion from Paul Haytcher, Whitehall city solicitor, while stating that he is "inclined to veto" the ordinance.

City Treasurer Francis Shaeffer has said that he will not sign the payment check because he considers the transaction illegal. He said he had conferred with Haytcher. The city solicitor said his advice to Shaeffer consisted of informing him that he could withhold his signature from the check until legal questions are settled.

Shaeffer may not have the opportunity to decline signing the Council-authorized payment because Auditor Walter Helber has indicated that he won't certify the voucher for payment.

Mayor Moling, incidentally, can keep both Helber and Shaeffer "officially" in the wings by vetoing the measure and persuading Council to sustain his veto. (You may be inclined to score one point here for "confusion," but the situation does point up the system of checks and bal-[illegible])

If the "collectable debt" question is settled in favor of North Haulage, the next predictable battle will be over the amount of the debt. The answer will hinge on either the assumed or proven number of residences in Whitehall in Dec., 1962, and Dec., 1963. This might prove difficult to ascertain in view of the fact that no official count was taken by the city between Jan., 1961, and May, 1962.

One sidelight issue deals with the charge that the problem could have been avoided if the Administration (as represented by Service Director Mickey) had not "played loose" with terms of the contract by neglecting to make the required annual dwelling unit counts. (There is some basis in fact for this, so score one point for the Democrats in the coming election campaign.)

Another "side" issue deals with the role played by Attorney James Maxwell, Jr., legal representative for North Haulage. As a matter of fact, Maxwell, who was city solicitor for Whitehall when the original contract was negotiated, has a rather direct personal interest in the final outcome of the issue. He is a partner in a company that is acting as a consultant to North Haulage, and in a company holding an option for outright purchase of the garbage hauling firm.

Maxwell's business connections with North Haulage cannot affect any decision on the "collectable debt question, so score one point for irrelevant information.)

When politics, personalities and motivations are discounted, one must concede that both proponents and opponents of the garbage fee ordinance present legitimate and weighty evidence. (Score one point for fence-sitting.)

GERMAN VILLAGE PREENS ITSELF FOR GALA HAUS UND GARTEN TOUR

"Das Haus Meiner Traeume."

That legend appears on the door plaque of the Phillip Milford home at 540 S. Sixth-st, proclaiming to those who "sptechen Deutsch" that here is "the house of my dreams."

The Milford residence is but one of the 11 homes which will hold open-house during the German Village Society's fourth annual Haus und Garten tour, which will begin at 10 a.m. this Sunday and continue until 6 p.m.

The shuttle buses will run all day from the shelter house on Jaeger and Deshler-av to City Park-av, and north to Livingston. They will then proceed south on Third-st to Reinhard, back up Mohawk-st to Livingston-av, over to S. Sixth and back down Jaeger.

Ticket holders may board or leave the buses at any point, stopping wherever their interests may be.

Churches of all denominations have invited tourists to their early morning services, and restaurants will be open all day.

The homes on display are but a handful of the many turn-of-the-century houses built by German immigrants who settled in the South Side. Through restoration an area only a few years ago slated for slum clearance has been turned into the show place of Columbus.

When the society was formed several years ago, it was with the goal of the members to dedicate themselves to "the preservation and restoration of the property in the German Village area and to the retention of its charm and unique Old World Atmosphere."

The thousands of sightseers roaming the village Sunday will learn how much closer to the dream the founders of the society have come in the past year.

The famed Maennerchor (the male chorus) will present a concert in Schiller Park during the afternoon, and the Lederhosen Five will fill the air with German melodies as they parade through the streets.

The Village Art Colony will hold an exhibit and local artists will demonstrate their technique at easels set out on the streets.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the society and will be on sale the day of the tour at the office, 624 S. Third-st, for $1.50 each.

The committees and members have spent months in preparation for the event which attracts people from several states. They extend a cordial invitation to Greater Columbus residents to see the "miracle in their own backyard."

secrecy. The press was invited to name names. The courtroom doors opened to the public. Parents of wild youngsters suffered the humiliation of being identified with their crimes.

When Judge Loble gave a kid one more chance he didn't make a speech about the Pilgrim Fathers and George Washington. He had a shorter one. He'd say, "Next time you come here bring your toothbrush." They got the message.

In view of these experiences some penologists are suggesting a new approach: the quick, sharp punishment for those youths who have violated at least one parole.

A work farm. Sentences no shorter than three days and no longer than a week. Individual barred cells—no fraternizing. Reveille at 5 a.m. taps at 9 p.m. Books but no TV. A heavy work schedule from dawn to dusk, raising food for the jails, painting traffic signs, pulling nails from scrap lumber, anything useful that's no fun.

Good food for the workers. Bread and water for the shirkers. No glamor. No chance to form a crime club. No chance to develop institutional psychology. Just a few very unpleasant days.

This isn't going to cure the psychopath. But it might re-rail the kid who has an immature tendency to jump the track. Certainly, what we've been trying hasn't been working.

Let's give the swift-kick a whirl.

DonaheyNew Manager Of SBA Office

John W. Donahey, 2838 Sherwood-rd, has been appointed manager of the newly-opened Columbus Branch Office, U.S. Small Business Administration.

James G. Garwick, regional director, sixth region of the Small Business Administration, made the announcement.

Donahey is former Lieutenant governor of Ohio, and is actively interested in civic, business, financial, and Government affairs.

He is the son of "Vic" Donahey, former governor and U.S. Senator from Ohio.

He took the oath of office at 10 a.m. Monday, June 17 in the Columbus SAB office, 102 Beacon Building, 50 W. Gay-st.

Gift Establishes Memorial Fund

A gift of $1,000 through the Ohio State University Development fund has established the Joseph and Helen Skilken Foundation. The grant is in memory of the late Charles and Ethel Skilken, parents of Joseph Skilken, of 405 S. Merkle-rd.

One prohibits the storage of unregistered and/or junk motor vehicles on property not zoned for such purpose, and the other prohibits the accumulation of junk, trash or waste material on premises not zoned for such purposes.

An ordinance authorizing the service director to advertise for bids and enter into a contract for public liability insurance was adopted as an emergency measure.

Council established a clerk's position for the mayor's office, appropriating 1,500 to meet a pay scale ranging from a $250 per month start to $300 after the first year of tenure. (Council amended the ordinance from an original appropriation of $1,200 and a salary range of $225 to $275.)

Also approved as emergency measures were an ordinance and resolution dealing with laying of new sewer and water lines in Hamilton-rd. The project calls for sewer installation from Poth-rd northeast for 380 feet, and north from that point for 1,190 feet. The water line will extend from Poth-rd, northeast, for 1,500 feet.

WITH OFFICERS here and officers there, all from whom permission to pass had to be granted, Donald B. Eicher, 2720 Sonata-dr, managed to make a 100-yard run in 30 minutes at Lockbourne AFB Sunday morning. Having completed his junior year at Drake University in business, he plans to enter flight school after graduation. Here Master Sgt. Lloyd Card questions him at the registration desk.

ROTC CADETS 'SHAPE UP' ON THE DOUBLE

It was "On The Double" and "Yes, Sir!" and "No, Sir!" for the ROTC cadets who poured into Lockbourne AFB Sunday morning to begin four weeks of encampment.

If there was the slightest doubt as to who were the bosses, it was erased in a hurry with gig sticks and military discipline.

Representing ROTC units from 48 colleges and universities over the country, the young men hadn't been given such a rough time since freshman hazing —but they took to it like ducks to water and by nightfall bore a passing resemblance to members of the United States Air Force.

Along with their civilian slouches and Bermuda shorts went any hair longer than three-quarters of an inch and anything but solemn countenances. And it was thoroughly understood that the grass was officers' territory and "square corners" was the order of the day.

After the "wet-nursing" of Col. Eberhard Helmuth, commander of the Summer Training Unit of ROTC Cadets, and his staff, the men who have completed their undergraduate work will be commissioned as second lieutenants. A majority of the 240 cadets are taking their summer encampment between their junior and senior years, and will not become officers until graduation.

Leaving the sack at 5 a.m. the boys will undergo intensive training with lectures, demonstration and actual performance of military duties. All will fly on KC 135 Jet Tanker refueling missions, and the deserving, Col. Helmuth explained, will fly the T33 jet trainers and the F 101 Voodoo Fighters.

A highlight of the encampment is the survival training when each flight is taken to a national forest area in Hocking County and taught to "live off the land." They will be given only field rations and will trap, snare and scrounge for their supplementary diet. Top survival officers have been brought in from far-flung SAC bases to give this instruction.

The Royal Canadian Air Force has added its bit to the strenuous schedule for the boys by the introduction of their 5 BX physical fitness program. In 11 short minutes, to meet the standards set up, each cadet must demonstrate his ability to do 30 toe-touches, 22 sit-ups, 50 chest and leg raises, 42 push-ups and 500 stationary-run steps interspersed with semi-squat jumps.

After a couple of weeks of restriction and regimentation, a bit of relaxation sets in with tea dances and other social events scheduled.

But as the sun beat down on the red-faced neophytes, some doubt arose whether they would all pull through to twist again. One cadet confided, "ROTC was never like this."

Col. Helmuth pointed out that much of the training is based on the premise that an officer must learn to take orders before he can give them.

The cadets are well on the way to learning the first half of their leadership training.

will become principal of Felton Elementary.

Neal Greenfield, new principal of Willis Park Elementary, has been serving as principal of Beck. Ray Kuehner, principal of Willis Park and of Woodcrest, will concentrate his responsibility on Woodcrest only in the fall.

Elmer Smith, transferred from principal of Siebert to the same post at Eastwood, replaces Dale Hurst, who was transferred to administrator of Oakland Park.

Miss Evelyn Swickard, to assume her duties as principal of East Columbus in September, was transferred from the same post at Bellows. Charles Shell, former principal of Sheparad and East Columbus, will head Shepard and Leonard Elementaries in the fall.

MRS. JERRY LEE BLACK

Evangelist Unites Daughter And Fiance In Marriage

Westerville Church of Christ was the setting June 22, for the wedding of Miss Naomi Edith Mason, daughter of Evangelist and Mrs. J. Bernard Mason of Reynoldsburg, and Mr. Jerry Lee Black, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Black, Sr., Columbus.

The bride's father officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mr. Joseph Mason gave his sister in marriage.

The bride wore a floor length gown of nyon tulle over satin, with long sleeves of Chantilly lace and a three tiered lace skirt, featuring a lace panel in front and back. Her finger tip veil of illusion was held by a satin crown.

The bride's only jewelry was a gold bracelet worn by both her mother and grandmother on their wedding days. She carried a white Bible covered with small carnations and satin streamers centered with a white orchid.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Joy Kelly of Zanesville, college roommate of the bride. Bridesmatron was Mrs. J. Robert Black Jr. and bridesmaid was Miss Patricia Ann Knight of Williamstown, W. Va., cousin of the bride.

Another cousin, Sharon Lee Hickerson, served as flower girl. She wore a full skirted pink dacron dress bordered with daisies, and a matching hat.

The other attendants wore identical dresses of dacron, styled with full street length skirts with lace inserts, in blue, yellow and orchid. They carried bouquets of pastel daisies and their only jewelry were gold bracelets, gifts of the bride.

Jeffrey Black, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Mr. J. Robert Black, Jr., of Reynoldsburg, served his brother as best man. Ushers were Mr. Larry Dale Black, another brother, and Carl Schreiner, Columbus.

The Lyric Singers, a vocal group from Ohio Valley College, Parkersburg, furnished the wedding music. Miss Hope Shultz sang. Sanctuary of the church was adorned with a large center bouquet of white gladioli and mums with palms and candelabra on either side.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mason wore a printed white nylon dress with orchid accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Black chose a gray suit dress and pink accessories and her flowers were pink carnations.

Following the wedding a reception was held at Williams Grill in Westerville. The bridal table was centered with a four-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom. Pastel colors of the wedding were carried out in decorations at the reception. Mrs. Prentice Smith, Reynoldsburg, cut the wedding cake. Other hostesses were Mrs. Carl Schreiner and Mrs. Larry Blakeman. Miss Ella Lahmers, Boliver, officiated at the guest register.

The new Mrs. Black was graduated from Reynoldsburg High School and from Ohio Valley Junior College. She is presently enrolled as a junior at Otterbein College in Westerville. She received the first Reynoldsburg Lions Club scholarship and was active in dramatics and chorus at Ohio Valley College and this past year she was assistant editor of the college paper, The Highlander. Mr. Black was graduated from West High School and New York Technical Transmission School in Columbus. He is employed by the city of Columbus as a mechanic.

Following a short wedding trip the couple is at home at 16 W. Park-st, Westerville.

Phi Mus Give Award To OSU Graduate

Phi Mu Fraternity for women presented its annual Outstanding Senior Woman Award at Ohio State to Mary Ann Jones. Miss Jones, of Bainbridge, O., was also recently named outstanding senior woman at the University on the basis of scholarship, character and activities.

Ph Mu's presentation, a monetary award, is made possible by contributions from members and friends and began this year as part of the fraternity's 50th anniversary celebration. It is administered by the University's Development Fund.

STRICTLY PERSONAL
When someone reaches for a permanent wave package at a drugstore we have to bite our tongues! We're not hungry for business because we're famous for permanent waves, but a permanent's not a spur-of-the-moment purchase. You can't wash it out tomorrow. A permanent wave is personal and you owe SPECIAL attention to your only head of hair!
WHISK . . . A RISK!
Just because the package worked last time doesn't mean it will work today! Watch how carefully we make a pre-permanent analysis. Your hair doesn't get the same wave this time unless it's in tip-top shape. Hair texture varies from color rinses, weather changes, different shampoos and change in your nervous system. Its absorbency tendencies change too . . . especially from bleaching or tinting. The time and type of your wave must be ideal for the time it will take your hair to react to the chemical changes.
PLOTTING WITH PURPOSE
Another plus in the way we plan your curl pattern. There's a special spot for each roller that fits the coiffure you get when we've finished. There are special wraps for delicate hair, and when we're through you'll have a fabulous new hairdo. Think of all the time your appearance will count and put the package back on the shelf. Training Classes Develop Skills, Abilities In City's Unemployed

Training programs for unemployed persons in Columbus have spiraled from one class a year ago to five at the present time.

Classes are held on topics ranging from retail food training for blind adults to a welding course. One hundred and six persons are attending the classes, sponsored by the Columbus Board of Education and held under the auspices of the Manpower Development Training Act.

A 13-week program for blind persons, aimed at training them to be managers of food stands or cafeterias, began June 10.

The students, housed at the Beta Theta Phi Fraternity house on 15th-av, will learn from raised graphs and charts, tape recorders and a retail sales unit installed in the fraternity house.

The 24 blind students range in age from 18 to 59 and from one who has less than a high school diploma to another who has a master's degree in chemistry.

Instructors are John Mulherin of Clinton Junior High, and David Cary, South High School.

Carleton Bankes, coordinator of Manpower Development Training for Columbus Public Schools, said he was "particularly proud" of a welding class that started Mar. 18 and will conclude June 30 at Central High School.

Men in the welding class will have had 400 hours of class instruction when the course is finished. Main subjects covered are the theory of welding, blueprint reading, shop math and arc, acetylene and inert gas welding.

Teachers have been Roger Chaney of Central High, and Walter Kefauver, Roosevelt Junior High.

A machine shop training course at Central High School started June 17 and will continue until next March. The men will receive 1,065 hours of classroom training, attending 40 hours a week during the summer months and 25 hours a week during evenings after school opens in September.

Teaching the shop course are William Sedor of Linden-McKinley High, and Isaac Reid of Central High School.

Two other courses, one at Central High School for clerk-typists and another for office machine operators at Whetstone High, have an enrollment of 44 women.

The clerk-typist course will meet for 11 weeks, 30 hours a week, and has an enrollment of 25. Women enrolled in the course needed additional training to meet the hiring standards of employers, according to Bankes.

Teacher in the course is Don List, business teacher at Central High.

The office machine course has an enrollment of 19 women and is taught by Grover Cook, a Whetstone teacher.

The need for courses in the Manpower program are determined by surveys conducted by the Ohio State Employment Service. The OSES selects persons for the course, the Columbus Board of Education is responsible for training them, and the Employment Service then places the students.

Purpose of the training is to develop a skill in order to be employed.

Set 'Star Party' At Blacklick

The Columbus Astronomical Society, in cooperation with the Columbus Metropolitan Parks, is presenting a "star party" on Saturday, June 29, at Blacklick Woods. The program is scheduled to begin at dusk.

Members of the society will erect telescopes in the playfield and interpret various astronomical features for the general public.

A first quarter moon, constellations and meteors will be the main phenomena observed. Discussions about current space probes and the whereabouts of various satellites also will be included in the program.

If the sky is overcast, movies on astronomy will be shown in Beech-Maple Lodge or in one of the shelters.

ON COMMAND SHIP

Charles A. Barans, quartermaster third class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Barans of 1180 Bernhard, and Richard L. Kreutler, airman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kreutler of 2807 Tudor-rd, are serving aboard the command ship USS Wright, which was commissioned May 11 at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard, Bremerton, Wash.

FIRST LINCOLN PARK CLASSES END

Homemakers Enthusiasm High

"And with the money I saved I bought a set of dishes I've wanted for so long," exclaimed Mrs. Mary Taynor, discussing the food preparation courses she has just completed at the Lincoln Park Family Living Center.

She enthusiastically went on to emphasize that it was even more important to her that she had been taught to serve meals which were nutritionally better for her family.

Mrs. Taynor also took advantage of the classes offered in money management and clothing construction.

The Columbus Public Schools and Columbus Metropolitan Housing Authority have joined efforts to establish these courses for homemakers and are holding their first recognition program Friday evening. Eighty per cent of the class will receive certificates indicating their regular attendance with less than 20 per cent absence.

Although the classes drew heavily from women living in Lincoln Park, Mrs. Betty Lou Pyle was one of the "town girls" who caught a bus several times a week in her desire to become a better wife and mother. The courses are open to any Franklin County resident.

"I've learned so much, I just thank the Lord," she said, proudly wearing the first dress that she had ever made. "I just wish you could taste the cinnamon bread and Southern fried chicken I can make now," she added.

Mrs. Essie Wheelwright, who is an advanced seamstress, was wearing a completely lined eyelet dress which she had made for the fraction of the cost in retail outlets. "I think it's too bad that some people just won't take the effort to try to help themselves," she said, indicating impatience with those who while necessarily living with limited budgets could raise their standard of living with proper training in household management.

The attitude of these students is typical of the 22 women enrolled in a total of 30 classes, according to Mrs. Lois Sigler, coordinator of the program.

A second series of classes is scheduled to begin in August, the details of which will be reviewed at the Friday night program.

PUTTING THE FINAL touches on the garments they have made and will model at recognition night at Lincoln Park Family Living Center, 1700 S. 20th-st, are Mrs. Essie Wheelwright at the work table and Mrs. Mary Taynor at the ironing board. Mrs. Betty Lou Pyle, right, has completed her dress and is going through pattern books to decide upon her next venture in making her own wardrobe.

MAKES SUMMER HAY

TRUCK DISPATCHER, typist and clerk for the Columbus Bituminous Concrete Company, Stanley Sells, 1010 Montrose-av, works during the summer to save for his expenses as a sophomore engineering student at Ohio State this fall. The seasonal work of the company makes the employment of college students extremely practical, according to John Stout, secretary and treasurer. The young man's work has been so satisfactory that he has already been assured of re-employment next summer with the organization. The ambitious young man also acts as cashier in the staff cafeteria at Children's Hospital.

'No Left Turn' Issue Okayed; No Action On Gould Traffic

Columbus Traffic Commission last week approved a no left turn ban from E. Livingston-av north on Francis-av from 3 to 6 p.m. and tabled action on the regulation of traffic on Gould-rd between Main-st and E. Broad-st.

John L. Gallagher, chief traffic engineer, explaining the motion for no left turns at the Livingston and Francis-av intersection, pointed out that during the 3 to 6 p.m. peak hours 132 vehicles make the turn from Livingston north on Francis-av.

He added that during the heavy east-west traffic flows, cars are backing up traffic through the intersection of Livingston and College-av, the next street west.

Chairman William W. Neno discussed the necessity for moving heavy traffic east and west on E. Livingston-av, even at the risk of inconvenience to a comparatively few.

The motion was carried without protest.

Chief Traffic Engineer Gallagher, presenting a traffic count for a five-hour peak period on Gould-rd between Main and Broad, gave his recommendations for controlling traffic on the street as:

- Reduction of legal speed limit of 35 miles per hour to a lower speed.
- Reversal of stop signs at Bryden-rd, Fair-av and Dale-av, so that Dale-av would stop for Gould-rd, Gould-rd would stop for Fair-av, and Bryden-rd would stop for Gould-rd.
- Relocation of existing signal at E. Broad-st and Chesterfield, to the intersection of E. Broad-st and Gould-rd.

The commission heard residents of the Bexley side and the Columbus side of Gould-rd express their dissatisfaction with the present speed and amount of traffic on the street, and their concern about measures to control it.

The matter was tabled until the chief traffic engineer works out details with the City of Bexley and presents a definite formal recommendation to the Columbus Traffic Commission.

"For Me to Live is Christ"

"And the Lord shall guide thee continually, and satisfy thy soul in draught, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters fail not." Isaiah 58:11.

"For me to live is Christ," is to be living for a purpose—to serve God by drawing out my soul to the poor, lonely, hungry, and lost. "For me to live is Christ," is to lead men everywhere to Jesus Christ who is the fountain of the water of life. And He has promised that when I am in His service He will guide me, and satisfy me, and I shall be like the flowers in this picture, like a watered garden, sustained by Him.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Stelson Seeking 8100 Books For Program

Wanted: 8,100 books — elementary, high school and college texts.

Requests for these books have come to Columbus from schools and libraries in such places as Ethiopia, Japan, Mombasa, Taiwan, and Zanzibar. All of the requests have been addressed to Stellos Stelson, a quiet, unassuming Greek immigrant living in a bachelor apartment on West Franklin Park.

The present backlog of requests, explains in part, the recent chartering of the International Friendship Foundation, of which Stelson is executive director.

Stelson, a naturalized American citizen, has, for nine years, been carrying on what his friends call "a remarkable person - to - person program." He first became aware of the need for young people in other countries to have access to American texts while serving in the Far East during the Korean War.

Working almost singlehandedly, and paying postage and packing costs out of his own pocket, Stelson, over the years, has sent 21,000 books overseas. Each new shipment has resulted in additional requests from an ever-increasing number of schools, libraries and individual students.

Those wishing to donate books may do so by calling BE. 1-0093 or BE. 5-4422.

Gahanna Man Accepts Washington, D.C Post

William C. Webb, area supervisor for the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training (BAT) in Columbus, has accepted a position in BAT's national office in Washington. This announcement was made today by John R. Newland, Regional Director in Cleveland, who said that Webb will start to work in that city on July 1.

Webb has been appointed to the position of field service representative. Newland stated that the "selection and assignment of Webb to the national office is in keeping with the Labor Department's policy of promoting able officials to positions of greater responsibilities, and thus to provide better service to the public."

A career civil servant with 22 years service, Webb is well known to leaders in labor, industry, state and local government, and vocational education throughout the State of Ohio. He started working for BAT as an apprenticeship representative in Cincinnati in 1941.

Dring World War II, he was transferred to the BAT Columbus office and was promoted to area supervisor in 1944. In the latter position he has been responsible for the voluntary development of apprenticeship, training and retraining in 27 central and western Ohio counties. For several years he has also been the Bureau's State Liaison representative.

In recent months, he has had the added responsibility of handling on-the-job training programs under the Manpower Development and Training Act (MDTA) of 1962.

Webb is a native of Sullivan, Ind., and was educated in the public schools there and at the University of Cincinnati. He served an apprenticeship as a molder and core maker at Terre Haute Malleable Co., where he was employed until 1936. Beginning July, 1936, until March of 1941, he was an international representative of the International Molders and Allied Workers' Union of North America.

Married to the former Margaret L. Cottom and the father of two children, Webb and his family reside in Gahanna.

Active in educational, civic, and church affairs, Webb has been associated with the following organizations: the central Ohio chapter of the American Society of Training Directors, the Governor's Committee on employment of the handicapped, the Institute for Certifying Secretaries, the Board of Stoneybrook Methodist Church, Gahanna, the Gahanna Garden Club, and the Bexley Lions Club.

Elect Officers At Annual Meet

New officers were elected at the Columbus Town Meeting Association annual meeting at the Athletic Club, June 12. They are Judge Robert Draper, president; John Crout, vice-president, and Albert E. Binder, Program Committee chairman.

Re-elected to the board were Harold W. Carlisle, Richard A. Borel, S. S. Davis, Dayle Frazier, Leon J. Ingram, Dr. Richard Meiling, Fred J. Milligan, James R. Riley, Fred LeVeque, Don E. Weaver and Frederick Stecker.

New board members elected were Irvin F. Young, Msgr. Bennett Applegate, J. Robinson McCormick, Kline L. Roberts and Norton Webster.

RECEIVES HIGH AWARD

GREGORY K. WEST, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl K. West, 725 Ericksen-av, Whitehall, proudly displays the God and Country Scout award which he was recently presented in ceremonies held in the Christ Methodist Church, 1480 Zettler-rd, by Rev. James McCormack. Greg is a Star Scout and will enter the ninth grade in Whitehall-Yearling High School this fall. The God and Country award is set up by the Ministers of America and sponsored by the Boy Scouts of America headquarters. Although much higher, the award corresponds to a merit badge. The examinations are handled by the church and reviewed by scout officials. A scout must work with a minister of a church for a minimum of one year and requires high standards before the award is presented.

More Flags On The Way; Place Your Order Today

For the second time since this newspaper offered a 50-star flag kit at a special, reduced rate, by public demand has extended the plan.

In time for the Fourth of July, a new shipment of beautiful 50-star flags will be on hand still at the same, low-price — for our readers.

Hundreds of these flags have already been ordered and delivered. The new supply means it's not too late to get your order in to your favorite Hartley Newspaper.

You receive not only the flag but also a six-foot wooden pole, top decoration halyard, window socket, book of flag etiquette and a one-year subscription to a Hartley Newspaper. The flag kit alone is valued at $5.98 and the usual price of the subscription is $3.

During this offer you regular cost of $8.98, but for both, not for the reg- only $5, a savings of nearly $4.

Elsewhere in this paper you will find an advertisement telling you all about this special offer. Fill out the enclosed coupon and send it with your check or money order to Hartley Newspapers, 2465 W. Broad-st, rightaway. Your flag will be delivered immediately.

Be sure that "Old Glory" is flying in front of your house on the "Fourth." Order your flag today.

Two billion greeting cards are mailed each Christmas in the U.S. This is an average of 50 cards per family.

RESERVISTS CITE PAPERS

RECEIVING A CERTIFICATE from the Ohio Department of the Reserve Officers Association is Marcus T. Orr, Hartley Newspapers' managing editor. The award, presented on June 10 by Brig. Gen. Donald J. Campbell, Ohio ROA president, is in recognition of Hartley Newspapers' editorial support of reserve forces of all military branches in the Columbus area. Gen. Campbell is commander of the 302nd Troop Carrier Wing (Reserve), Clinton County AFB, Wilmington, which has openings for pilots and navigators who are lieutenants and captains. For details contact Air Force Reserve Major Fred Wright, BE. 1-5009.

Gahanna Girl Is 'Maid Of Roses'

Patricia Ann McCall from Gahanna Lincoln High School was chosen the "Maiden of Roses" Sunday evening at the North High-st Park of Roses. She was selected from a group of 37 contestants and received many valuable prizes from the honor.

Supt. Richard Lawwill announced that the colorful pageant was attended by well over 1,000 people, and the roses were in full bloom to add to the occasion.

N.A. Band Will Play July Fourth

The North American Aviation concert band will play in Westerville during the Rotary and Junior Chamber of Commerce clubs sponsoring of the July Fourth celebrations.

Included in the activities for the day are a big parade, ball game, games for children, a public ox roast and a gigantic display of fireworks.

Parade entries are invited from all over central Ohio. Any person, organization or unit desiring to participate in the parade should contact Walter Shelley, Parade Marshal, 882-2317.

The next event in the Park of Roses will be the Maywood Avenue Methodist Church concert at 7:30 p.m., Sunday, June 30. Both religious and popular music will be presented.

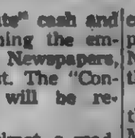
Jackpot Reaches $89

Five Readers Win 'Confederate' Cash

"Confederate" cash is really paying off! During the past week five readers each collected $1 in "Confederate" money, which can be spent just like U.S. legal tender in any place of business advertising in a Hartley Newspaper. Since there was no jackpot winner last week, this week's pot is now up to 89 "Confederate" dollars.

Those who received the lucky money included Mrs. C. Biederman, 2483 Spaatz-av; Leslie Chesnut, 365 Alton-rd, Galloway; J. Craig, 801 Alton-rd, Galloway; E. Rose, 6125 Harrisburg-pk, Orient and J. Cochrun, 6262 Miller-st, Galloway.



Anyone can join the list of winners by finding one of the lucky "Confederate" money insignias in their edition of a Hartley Newspaper.

Each week 20 separate newspapers are hand-stamped with a "1" emblem. It is always stamped in a color other than black and appears in the white space surrounding an advertisement on the inside pages.

This emblem is good for $1 in "Confederate" cash and can be redeemed by sending the page containing the emblem to Hartley Newspapers, 2465 W. Broad-st. The "Confederate" cash will be returned by mail.

To win the jackpot, a reader must find a "5" emblem, just like the one printed in this column, and be a paid subscriber to a Hartley Newspaper. Just like the "1" emblem, the "5" is always printed in a color other than black and appears on an inside page of the paper. There is only one "5" printed in the entire edition of 72,000 newspapers each week. To be eligible to win the prize the finder must bring the entire paper, in person, to the Hartley Newspaper office.

In case the finder is not a paid subscriber to the paper, he is still entitled to win $5 in "Confederate" cash by bringing his paper to the newspaper office.

All "Confederate" money can be spent with any business place advertising in a Hartley Newspaper during the week the insignia is found.

All winners must claim their cash before noon on Monday following publication of their paper. Employes of Hartley Newspapers, including carriers, and their families are not eligible to participate in this contest.

Think About Speed, Slowly

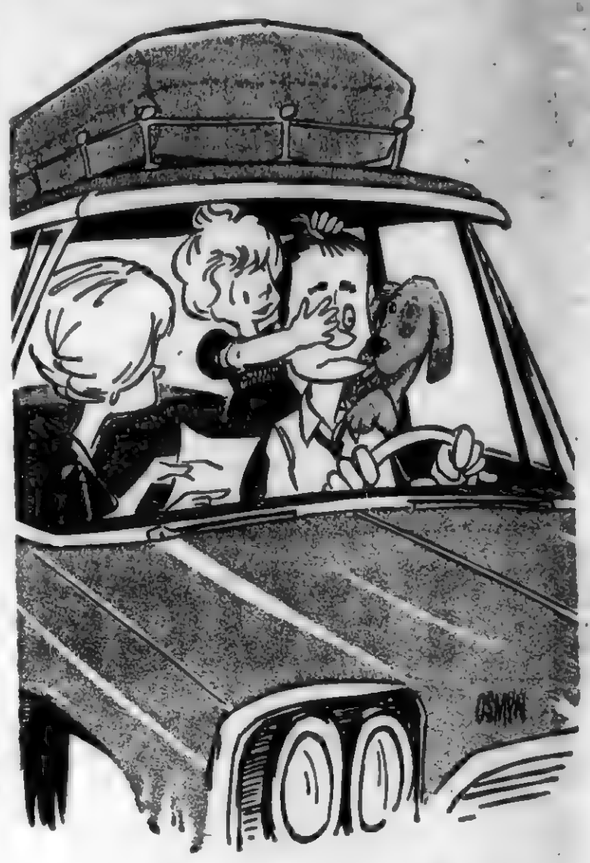
"And just think . . . they're gonna hike the speed limit on the expressway!"

Police Cruiserman C. muttered his disgust between scribbles on an accident report on a recent Saturday night.

This particular accident on W. Mound-st near the Sandusky-st exit was relatively insignificant. The auto of one of our editors, while halted for a traffic light, was smacked from the rear by a tipsy, illiterate, uninsured driver. He had just left the 50-mile-an-hour traffic zone—a road that soon likely will be posted 60.

But the editor and Officer C. also were mindful of the wild, unrestrained traffic on the interchange. Kids out for kicks in their jalopies, cutting in and out, playing bumper tag, and dragging. At the same spot, about a year ago, a young mother was crushed in her car by a speed-crazed drunk who bounded over the divider strip.

Occasionally Officer C. glanced at the "hot car" list on his sun visor, then returned to his lengthy report. "Yessir, if they hike the speed limit, we're really gonna see trouble." Patrolman C. was thinking of the Ohio House-approved bill to boost the speed limit to 70 m.p.h. on rural freeways and to 60 m.p.h. on freeways with paved shoulders within cities. (Columbus has these.) The bill was passed by the Senate this week and now requires the signature of the governor.



State Highway Department officials believe our best freeways are ready for the higher speed limit and that the new law will eliminate deliberate speed traps set up by some small towns. In this, they are probably right.

But Columbus officials will have the right to appeal for a reduction from 60 on in-city expressways. State Highway Director Pearl Masheter cannot institute such action on his own, even though he has the final say. We believe Columbus Traffic Engineer John Gallagher and City Council should prepare such a request.

It's a known fact that traffic authorities often allow a 10 per cent speedometer error factor before making arrests — and motorists take advantage of it. This means we can expect "legal" 67 m.p.h. driving on our expressways soon. These highways are complex enough now, especially to strangers. Why open them up to mass suicide, sure to happen when the new hordes of drivers come with the completion of Interstate 71 and future freeways?

Let's hold the limit to a more sensible 50!

Safety Begins IN the Car

S&L Week Salute

"Savings and Loan Week" is being observed in Ohio through June 22, marking the 75th anniversary of the founding of the Ohio Savings and Loan League. The league is the trade association for 575 savings and loans throughout the state.

Savings and loan organizations play an important role in providing a healthy and stable state-wide economy. In addition to financing two of every three homes sold in Ohio, savings and loan associations and companies are the trustees for more than $7 billion belonging to more than four million thrifty Ohioans.

Ohio is about to embark on a new and intensified drive to attract industry and encourage industrial expansion within the state. It is encouraging to know that we can offer a healthy home building industry as an incentive to other industries.

Shop For The Dealer And Not The Car

From the Better Business Bureau we received ten rules for buying a used car which the Ford Motor Company guarantees to be safer than the old tire-kicking method.

1. Drive it first! Reputable dealers are happy to have you test-drive their used cars because they know they're in proper running condition.

2. Check the speedometer reading! Grease and oil stickers are a good clue. They give you the mileage at which service has been performed. If the tires aren't the originals, you know the mileage is high. If arm rests, gas pedal, clutch and brake pedals show a lot more wear than the speedometer indicates, take the hint!

3. Note the steering wheel play! More than two inches of "free" play either way is too much.

4. Where there's smoke . . .! Heavy, bluish exhaust smoke when you accelerate rapidly is a danger signal.

5. Sluggish pickup on a high mileage car usually means the rings are ripe for replacement.

6. Let a mechanic see it! A good mechanic can spot serious defects you might miss. For example, he can tell normal exhaust smoke from smoke caused by heavy oil burning merely by feeling it with his hand.

7. Insist on a detailed, receipted bill with all the facts about your purchase.

8. A written guarantee! If there is a guarantee, be sure it's in your hands when you close the deal.

9. Know what you're signing! On a financed purchase, be sure the contract is made out and read by you before you sign it. You should get a copy, too.

10. Shop for the dealer, not the car! An established dealer with a good reputation is your best bet.

Variety . . . by I. F. Howell

The Pope of Brotherhood no longer walks the earth.

The late Pope John XXIII reigned little more than four short years. But not since the tragic division of the Church four centuries ago has any Pope done more in the cause of reconciliation. Uppermost in his mind and heart always was the reunion of the "separated brethren" with those remaining within the fold of what he believed the original holy, universal, apostolic Church.

This is neither the time nor the place to discuss dogma and doctrine. More than half a billion Catholics believe the Pope to be Christ's only Vicar on earth. Millions more sincerely cannot agree. And still more know nothing about it. But all this has nothing to do with the dignity and humanity of Pope John XXIII and the love he bore in his heart for all mankind.

Pope John hated evil—the thing in itself—not the people who practiced it. This was why he could give audience to a dedicated communist, an avowed atheist, without making any compromise with evil.

If the Protestant voice means anything, we think it speaks a hope that Pope John's successor will advance the cause of understanding and brotherhood so nobly begun. Truly, as has been said, here was a man "touched by grace." We believe it is the Protestant prayer that the same grace be upon the next Bishop of Rome.

It says here . . .

Mutual love and trust must come before Christian unity.

ONE MAN'S Opinion . .

A White Man's Prayer

By Frank Ryan

There are many blessings for which I am grateful to a loving and merciful God. I am particularly thankful, for instance, that He chose to create me as a white man rather than a Negro.

RYAN

I realize that it does not please God to have my thanks in this matter. I know and believe that ALL men have equal rights in His sight. The problem here on Earth is that all men do not have equal rights in the sight of each other.

The question of racial equality finds my spiritual nature and human nature in almost direct conflict. My spiritual nature has control of my tongue. I decry the fact that the Negro — in both the North and South — is a second class citizen. I am ashamed of a society that places "social leg irons" on the Negro and then bitterly complains that he does not run as well as the white man in the race for personal dignity and social progress.

But my human nature fashions most of my actions in racial matters. In negotiating for the purchase of a home, I asked the realtor its proximity to any "colored section," and how soon he thought the immediate neighborhood might be integrated. I was a bit embarrassed, to be sure, but I asked. The hard, cold and unChristian fact is that I placed a higher priority on property value and social prestige than on human value and spiritual growth.

I am certainly not anti-Negro. But in a sense I might as well be, because I am too much afraid of social sanctions to walk as I talk. I am — subconsciously, at least — ill at ease in most contacts with Negroes whom I number among my friends. How can I accept their friendship when my actions mark me as the proud Pharisee rather than the humble Publican?

I have, however, a consolation and a hope. I can't help feeling that many members of my "white" society (perhaps a large majority) are fighting the same personal conflict that is mine; that we are entrapped by an unwritten social law that does not at all represent our personal views.

Those of us too timid to fight the "social law" can take heart in President Kennedy's effort to (in effect) take us off the hook. He has proposed laws of the land designed to ratify President Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation of 100 years ago.

I pray God that Congress will act before the demonstration mania becomes an actual national madness. I hope for the day when we will stop asking the Negro to "earn" what the Constitution tells ALL of us are God-given rights.

For 100 years the majority of Negroes have followed the "be patient" philosophy. In the meantime, they have been victimized by self-seeking politicians, by radical hot-heads and by the "professional Negroes" in their midst who prostitute the cause of equal rights with phony cries of discrimination.

Yes, I will gladly trade emotionalism for hard and fast laws. We are at a critical crossroads in our history, for we must decide if we are to accept the basic concepts of our Constitution.

If, as we profess in our Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag, we are "one nation, under God, indivisible. . . ." how, then, can we deny equality of opportunity to our brothers in Christ?

As The Twig Is Bent, So Grows The Tree

In Proverbs 22:6 Solomon said: "Train a child in the way he should go; and when he is old he will not depart from it."

We need the cooperation of the whole family to get the youngsters to Junior Church. Unless we are interested in these little ones, what will be the church of tomorrow?

Beatitudes For Children
By Charles H. Wenhold

Blessed is that child who has someone who believes in him and has high hopes for him.

Blessed is that child who has someone to whom he can carry his problems unafraid.

Blessed is that child whose home is a haven of happiness.

Blessed is that child of whom life is a book of knowledge and who is privileged to turn the pages one by one.

Blessed is that child who is allowed to pursue his curiosity into every worthwhile field of information.

Blessed is that child who has someone who understands that childhood's griefs are real and bitter and call for understanding sympathy.

Blessed is that child who is led gently by the hand along the pathway of life by one who is guide, companion and inspiration.

Blessed is that child who has about him those who believe in his divinity and not his depravity.

Blessed is that child whose love of the true, the beautiful and the good has been nourished through the years.

Blessed is that child whose innate imagination has been turned into channels of creative effort.

Blessed is that child whose efforts to achieve have found encouragement and kindly commendation.

Blessed is that child who has learned freedom from selfishness through responsibility and cooperation with others.

Blessed is that child who discovers that all life is a process of education and that each graduation is but a commencement in a higher grade.

Blessed is that home or community or nation which sees in the child the hope of the future and dedicates himself to the realization of that hope.

'He Helped Another . .

To The Editor:

I would like to publicly thank a man who lives in my neighborhood for taking the time to help my daughter repair a bicycle tire at a local service station.

Mr. William Carroll of Kumler-dr in Whitehall spent two hours trying to help another child, although he has several children of his own.

In this day of busy parents, busy children and busy days I feel his charitable act serves to remind us all how we best serve our fellow man through concern for them.

To The Editor:

Prairie Norton PTA thanks you for your kindness and consideration in giving our Youth Employment Service program excellent coverage in your paper of June 13. Through the efforts of your staff and interested and devoted residents of our fine community, this project cannot help but be a success.

Our PTA has searched desperately this year for a service that we could offer that would bring our community together in serving youth. We sincerely hope that this operation will prove to be the answer to our aspirations.

Mr. Harold Hayden, principal of our school, and I express our personal thanks.

Cincinnati Fiasco Or–Keepin' Reds In Black

CINCINNATI, O. — The noise circulating around baseball circles about the improved New York Mets became too loud to ignore after Casey Stengel's crew knocked off the Reds twice Friday and Saturday.

For this reason and because we've always been an avid Jim Piersall fan, we took the journey to the South Sunday for the Reds-Mets doubleheader.

According to Monday's paper, the Mets are still the stumbling, fumbling sore thumbs of major league expansion after the Redlegs had put them back in their place with 11-5 and 10-3 shellackings.

BUT AFTER running the maze at Crosley Field for four hours Sunday, we could never approve or deny the fact.

As the last three of the 18,323 patrons to pour through the gates Sunday, we were already at a disadvantage as far as seeing the game was concerned.

Our two companions, who admittedly were more interested in the downstairs concessions area than anything going on on the field, spent most of the first inning stocking up for the long afternoon.

AFTER A three-inning tour of the upper deck in search of seats, we gradually worked our way to the entrance of the rightfield Sun Deck.

We had almost talked our companions into this proposition when the gateman piped up with the warning that Sun Deck admittance is strictly one way ("once you go in, you don't come back out").

The threat of sunstroke or dehydration turned us back to the lower grandstand area where our companions set out on another effort to keep the Redlegs' concessions in the black this summer.

AFTER THEY HAD gone through their second five dollar bill, somebody spotted a TV set and spirits began to run high on spending the rest of the afternoon viewing the game at that position.

When all appeared lost, we suggested (as a last resort) converting our ticket stubs into box seats. This stroke of genius fell short, however, when the usher escorted us to a section about 30 feet from the leftfield wall.

Since every pair of binoculars at Crosley Field had been sold earlier, we spent most of the rest of the the afternoon watching Jim Owens, Al Worthington and Bill Henry warm up in the Cincy bullpen.

WHEN ONE of the three wasn't blocking our view, we had excellent glimpses of the infield practice between innings.

The day wasn't a complete loss, however, since Piersall didn't let us down. Between games, he appeared under the grandstands long enough to grab a little girl's hat and run away with her in hot pursuit.

Apparently Jim isn't concerned about his .206 BA this season—not with teammates like Al Moran (.197), Cliff Cook (.145) and Norm Sherry (.089) playing regularly.

But now that the Cincinnati fiasco is over, we have only one worry in the world. How do we get rid of those four tickets to the All-Star game in Cleveland Aug. 9?

BIT OF WIT (T) — The Cleveland Indians probably won't win the AL flag this season, but one thing's for sure — they'll have the cleanest ball park.

Ticket stubs will no longer be counted among the litter at the stadium now that the Tribe management has come up with a point system that provide prizes for the ticket stubs that go in the pocket and not on the ground.

GOLF ETIQUETTE–1

TEE OFF–AND IMPENDING DISASTER

EVEN THE WORLD'S worst duffer will tell you that the first shot—the one off the tee—is all-important in compiling a low golf score. But interference, such as your playing partner's head, can be costly—both to your score and his well being. Next time you're out on the links, give the man at the tee plenty of swinging room. Register your game on a score card—not on a hospital chart.

Fishing Should Be Fun, Not Habitual Slavery

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

Have fun on your fishing vacation this year. This is my prescription for your health and happiness today.

Too often, we work ourselves to exhaustion trying to have fun on vacation. If you tumble into bed each night bone-weary after 12 hours on the water, you're not fishing — you're slaving. A person may be forgiven for working too hard but not for habitually playing too hard.

RELAX AND ENJOY yourself. You will not only have more fun and live longer, but you'll probably catch more fish in the process.

Sure, a full stringer represents effort. But it's the manner in which a man goes fishing that makes it play, not drudgery. Most old-timers have learned how to unwind with the help of a rod and feel and detach themselves from the anxieties of their jobs. When the fishing slows down and the warm sun takes effect, they doze off for an hour or so.

You should religiously observe lunch time, by going ashore and getting a hot meal. This could be a shore dinner prepared under the evergreens on a rocky and remote point. Or it could be in a cottage or restaurant. But the important thing is to take a break. If you are away from civilization, lunch is no longer a big chore. Pocket-sized canned heat stoves, powdered soups and beverages make the task simple.

AFTERWARDS, SIT down under a tree along shore. Watch the display of nature around you — birds, insects, a squirrel. You'll see a world you never knew existed. And, let's face it, you really haven't missed any fishing. It will be there later in the day, and you'll be rested and rarin' to go when they do start hitting.

Most of us fish at a leisurely pace at home. We go out at prime times, skipping the heat of the day, a muddy stream or inclement weather. But there is something about the psychology of "being on vacation" that makes us rush around not wanting to waste a minute. The real reason for taking a trip is to waste a little time. This is the only thing that makes it different from staying home.

Vacationitis is not exclusively a disease of anglers. Golfers suffer too. Some want to play 36 holes a day for two weeks, and insist their vacation has been a success as they are carried away on a stretcher. Tourism is worse — to the West Coast and back in 14 days plus hitting 31 states, is pure madness.

You should fish hard enough to catch some, get in some exercise and sleep soundly. But please don't make work out of it. Fishing can be a delightful treasure, but if you grasp it too hard and try to wring pleasure out of it, you will lose it. Have fun on your fishing vacation this year — for your sake.

There were three winners at Columbus Motor Speedway Friday night. Don Gregory picked his fourth straight win in the feature and there were two winners in the game of Total.

Gregory started 22nd in a field of 25 cars and took over the lead in the 13th lap. Sonny Pencial and Joe King gave him a rough time.

SUNDAY NIGHT there was a new winner for the late models. Bob Bower, who has been racing for 15 years, won his first feature event. He edged out Sam Belfiore in the 18th lap. Bower and Belfiore were running bumper to bumper in the last five laps.

Al Smith edged out Neal Sceva and Bob Smith to take the super modified feature at the Southside oval. Sceva and Dick Diamond won in a dead heat in the Semi.

Don Trees, who conked out during the late model feature, did manage to win the pursuit race in five laps. Trees was put on the tail of the feature in the sixth lap for passing on a yellow light.

BOBBY REITZ was back at CMS Sunday night after a long absence. It was good to see him back. However, his car is up for sale.

Several fans have asked about the one time king of the speedway, Jack Bowsher. Jack is doing right well in the late models. He is running the MARC circuit, running at Cleveland this Saturday and at Lancaster, N.Y., Sunday night. Jack has won four features this year with his '62 Ford and is top man in point standings.

Racing sets forth again Friday and Sunday nights at Columbus Motor Speedway with racing getting underway at 8 p.m.

No-Hit Pitcher Collects Own Birthday Present

Mark Aprile couldn't wait until Wednesday to celebrate his 11th birthday.

He got a head start on the festivities Tuesday night as he pitched a no-hitter to pace his Giants' team to a 3-1 win over the Cubs in a Whitehall Boys' Baseball Assn. Little League game.

Mark fanned eight and walked only two during his mound stint. In another league game, the Braves downed the Dodgers, 5-3.

Eastmoor's record earlier in the week, however, as Mel Smith set the Warriors down on a single hit, 3-1.

Whitehall's Bill Dildine bested Groveport's Jim Fox in a pitching duel Sunday as Post 490 downed the Cruisers, 3-0. Ken Saul drove in the first Whitehall run while Terry Tedder plated the insurance tallies in the third with a two-run triple.

Scioto Post split in another pair of games, downing Groveport, 7-3, and losing to Bexley Post, 3-0.

Bob Call and Larry Hammer provided the hitting while John Pettorini limited Groveport to five hits. Jack Diamond's two-hitter provided Bexley with its win over Hilliard.

Teen Golf Loop Opens Monday At Groveport

The Jewish Center's Teen Golf Loop will open this Monday at 10 a.m. at the Groveport Country Club. The league is open to boys and girls, who are Center members, ages 13 to 17, and who have had some golfing experience.

Contact Bernie Schutzberg at the Physical Education office (BE. 1-2731), for further information on the Golf League.

Boys who have signed up for the league include Mike Kaufher, Jay Worly, Mark Masser, Dave Milenthal, Steve Baier, Richard Smith, Steve Michaelson and Barry Rosen.

Lorimer Lauds Civitan Efforts For Olympic Development Plan

Ohio Track Club president Jim Lorimer had a happy ring in his voice last week — the tone of a man who was beginning to see the fruits of his efforts paying off.

Lorimer, who promotes this country's Olympic Development Program as avidly as other's do the space race, lauded the Western Civitan Club, who had just provided uniforms for three young ladies Jim has high hopes for in the future Olympics.

IT WAS LORIMER'S hope last March that area service clubs and other organizations would take the initiative in a program to develop promising feminine track talent with the ultimate goal catching the Russian gals in the Olympic games.

Western Civitan has taken the first step — a lead Jim hopes other organizations might follow.

The three girls Lorimer discussed are members of the Pleasant View Girls Track team, which topped all other area representatives last spring in their annual Invitational.

THEY ARE sprinter Mary Boggs, Sue Kalish, who tosses the softball, and Ellen Upson, who Lorimer has in mind for a try at the pentathlon — the equivalent of the men's decathalon. (The pentathlon includes five events — 80-meter hurdles, high jump, broad jump, shot put and 200-meter run).

Lorimer, who believes the best way to improve is through regular competition, will take his girls to the Regionals in Cleveland next weekend — a warmup for the National Outdoor Women's Championship in Dayton, July 5-6.

Jim Lorimer is a man with his eye on the future. The trials for the '64 Olympics are scheduled for New York City next summer. By that time, he hopes to have his crew ready.

Jim admits that it's quite a job, but cooperation, like that shown by Western Civitan, has helped greatly to lighten the load.

CENTER WRAPUP

All Even In AK 'A' Loop; YYA, Little Leaguers Open

A four-way deadlock in Division A of the Jewish Center's A.K. Softball League highlighted last week's results. Hackman Realty, Wolman's Insurance, Kozy Kitchen and Outdoor Military are tied with two wins and two losses each.

Martin's Market and Seymour Bakery are tied for the lead with three and one marks in the B Division.

MARTIN'S DEFEATED Outdoor Military, 6-4, on a fine seven-hit effort by Dick Stein. Marty Friedman and Burt Berk led the Martin's attack with two hits each.

Al Rosen, Dave Zinader, Jules Margulis and Yoel Youkeles all collected two hits in the loss.

Outdoor led two to one till the bottom of the second, when Jerry Weiner and Freedman hit back to back doubles to put Martin's ahead five to two.

WOLMAN'S INSURANCE took a 2-1 thriller from Kozy Kitchen, making two first-inning runs stand up for the victory.

Ray Hock picked up one R.B.I. with a double and Larry Lawrence the other, also with a double.

Hal Paris picked up two of Kozy's nine hits with a single and a home run for the lone marker. Larry Gordon also had two hits.

HACKMAN REALTY defeated Muffler King, 6-2, with a 13-hit outburst. Hal Block, Leon Marks, Herb Meizlish, Sol Zeldon and Irv Gold all had two hits in the Realtor's attack.

Jonas Rosenthal and Charley Young had two hits each in Muffler King's fourth loss.

Seymour Bakery blasted Ontario, 10-2, as Irv Flox and Saul Milenthal picked up three hits apiece. Sig Wasserman collected three hits, including a triple, for Ontario.

Y.Y.A. SOFTBALL League opened the '63 season with Columbus Steel, Gilbert's Shoes and Robins gaining wins.

In the tightest game of the night, Robins nipped Rosati's Market, 10-9. Rosati's, trailing 10-5, batted back with four runs in the sixth inning. Circuit clouts were hit by Preston Gurwin and Milt Lewin. Cliff Marks and Lewin led the batters with three hits each.

IN A DEFENSIVE battle, Gilbert's Shoes won over Tommy's Pizza, 7-2. Leading batters picking up two hits were Barry Leeman, Bill Goldberg, Jack Alexander, Steve Rosenthal and Irv Galan. The game's only home-run was hit by Barry Leeman.

In the third game of the night, Columbus Steel blasted Burger Boy, 20-4. Billy Mackin led the Steelmen with four hits including two round-trippers. Mike Stein had four hits, including a homer and two triples. Ron Golden with three hits rounded out the Columbus Steel barrage.

Mark Levine punched his first Y.Y.A. homer. Joel Engelman, Herb Grodner and Stu Greenberg hit safely two times.

THE JEWISH Center's Little League opened with four games. Worly Plumbing Supply Company nipped Hameroff and Smith Advertising, 7-6; Green Cabs downed Barney and White Auto Parts, 8-6; Hackman Realty defeated Harry Masser Co. 10-2, and Sokol Bros. Insurance handled Ontario 10-8.

Allen Named Cage Coach At Whitehall

Phillip Allen will serve as the head basketball coach at Whitehall-Yearling High School next season, the Board of Education announced Tuesday evening.

Allen has served as both assistant basketball and football coach at Whitehall for the past seven years and also filled the varsity golf coach position.

ALLEN REPLACES "Shook" Moreland, who resigned his cage position at the end of the '62-'63 basketball season.

C. "Pat" McMillin will replace Allen as assistant basketball coach. McMillin has served as assistant football and head track coach at Whitehall for the past six years.

Rams Split; Hawks Win

Whitehall split a pair in the high school Summer Baseball League during the week while Hartley bounced Reynoldsburg with its third straight setback, 9-5.

The Rams pounded out 15 hits to edge the Raiders, 9-8, in a slugfest, plating the winning runs in the sixth to break a 7-all deadlock.

Westerville's Dick Wenzell bested Jay Ketzmier in a pitching duel Tuesday as the Wildcats slipped past the Rams, 2-0.

Westerville scored single runs in both the second and third frames to record the win on Wenzell's four-hitter. Kitzmier allowed but five hits.

Hartley's Juercich and Foley combined on a four-hitter to sideline the Raiders. The Hawks, who pounded out 14 hits, scored seven runs in the first three innings to put the game out of reach.

Shady Lane Boosters Plan Dance June 29

WEST, G-C ON TOP

Shaffer, Beets Pace Summer BB Leaders

Grove City and West maintained unspotted W-L marks Saturday as both clubs remained atop their respective Summer League divisions with their third and fourth straight victories.

G-C handled St. Charles, 4-0 and 16-1, as Dave Beets blanked the Cards in the opener on a two-hitter. The Hounds, who collected only one hit more, scored all their runs in a big third frame.

Grove City capped a 16-hit attack in the nightcap with a seven-run sixth inning to sweep the doubleheader.

GEORGE SHAFFER and John Goodin provided the Cowboys with tight hurling as West took two from Marysville, 7-4 and 7-0.

Shaffer fashioned a no-hitter in the nightcap (his second of the season) after Goodin had limited the losers to seven first-game bingles. The Broncos backed up Shaffer's effort with a 12-hit attack.

HARTLEY AND SOUTH were forced to be satisfied with even splits in their contests. The Hawks clobbered Brookhaven in their opener, 14-5, but got bounced in the late ingings of the nightcap, 8-3.

South's Bill Howard flipped a five-hitter to save the Bulldogs, 3-2, after Grandview had taken the first game, 5-1.

Ready battled Arlington down to the wire before dropping a pair, 5-2 and 5-4. In other games, Watterson downed Johnstown twice, 7-0 and 11-1.

Here are the league standings:

SECTION I	W.	L.
West	4	0
Watterson	3	1
Arlington	2	3
Marysville	1	3
Ready	1	3
Johnstown	0	4
SECTION II
Grove City	4	0
South	3	1
St. Charles	3	1
Grandview	2	3
Hartley	1	3
Brookhaven	1	3

LEGION WRAP-UP

Chase, G-C, Southway, Eastmoor Big Winners

Tight pitching performances highlighted play in American Legion baseball play during the week as Camp Chase and Grove City paced the Gold Division while Eastmoor and Southway chalked up the most wins in the Blue section.

Top hurling credits were displayed by Grove City's Jon Warden and Eastmoor's Doug Cromer, who recorded no-hitters during the week.

CAMP CHASE and G-C each picked up a pair of wins. Chase showed awesome offense, blasting Columbus Post, 13-1, and Worthington, 21-2.

Mike Gregg and Jim Workman paced the Worthington massacre — the former driving in seven runs with a pair of homers, the latter going four-for-four (three doubles) in Chase's 15-hit assault on five Worthington hurlers.

Grove City was just as effective with Pleasant View's Warden stopping Scioto No. 2 with his no-hitter, 3-0, and Scott Anderson teamed with Dick Gutheil to edge Columbus Post, 5-4.

WARDEN WALKED but two, fanning 13 in his winning effort. Against Columbus Post, G-C rallied for two seventh-inning runs to remain unbeaten Sunday. Eddie Harris provided the batting punch with three hits.

The only other Gold win was picked up by Hilliard as Mike Ryan fanned ten and set down Worthington on two hits, 2-0. Craig Duffey's fifth-inning double drove in both Hilliard runs.

Over in the Blue circuit, Southway Post was most successful, winning a pair without loss. George Maurer checked Bexley Post on four hits to win, 8-2 as Roger Nisley provided the big hit with a three-run triple.

TOM SCHNEIDERER and Maurer shared pitching duties as Southway clipped Capital City, 7-3, Sunday. Larry Uhrig's bases-loaded triple broke up a 3-3 seventh-inning tie to provide the win. Nisley homered for the winners.

Cromer picked up both of Eastmoor's wins. The Warrior hurler, who helped pace Eastmoor to a runnerup finish in City League play last spring, fanned 12 and walked five while blanking Groveport, 3-0, with his no-hit effort.

Cromer's second effort, Sunday against Scioto Post (St. Charles), was almost as good as Eastmoor won, 1-0, on Doug's one-hitter. The loss was a heartbreaker for Scioto's Frank Lally, who yielded but three Eastmoor hits.

STOCKING THE SHELVES of the new Nationwide Auto Parts Store, 3610-14 W. Broad-st, Manager Frank Schaffer checks over one of the many auto accessories to be featured in the center. The grand opening celebration at the new store is now underway with savings on many items

Nationwide Auto Parts Has New Center In West Area

Nationwide Auto Parts have announced the opening of a new center at 3610-14 W. Broad-st, wih a grand opening celebration which started Wednesday.

Included in the celebration will be special prices on many items, including new spark plugs for 38 cents, well-known brands of detergent oil for 37 cents a quart and many other bargains. Everyone visiting the store during the celebration is eligible for a part of $2000 worth of free prizes, including a portable TV set, coffee makers and sets of tires to be given away at the conclusion of the grand opening.

The same low prices and top quality will be featured in the new store that have prevailed in the Nationwide Auto Parts center on the East Side. A complete line of parts, accessories, tires for cars, trucks and hot rods will be stocked at the new store.

Manager Frank Schaffer, a former resident of Columbus and Dayton, returns to this area from Minnesota, where he was associated with another Nationwide Auto Parts Center. He is married and lives with his wife and one daughter at 4890 Medfield-wy, Lincoln Village.

June Saluted As National Dairy Month

This month a stylized flower, symbol of June Dairy Month, is blossoming in newspapers, magazines and food store windows. Food stores are featuring dairy products and their many uses.

It's all a part of the 27th observance of June Dairy Month by leaders in agriculture, business, education, government and scores of other enterprises related to the dairy industry. In view of the national concern about physical fitness, the calling of special attention to the values of dairy products has a particular timeliness this year.

Special emphasis during June Dairy Month this year is on the freshness and convenience of dairy foods as well as on the nutritive values of those products. Suburban homemakers will be reminded of how easy it is to provide good nutrition and good tasting food, even in the informal setting of the patio or cookout, through the use of dairy products.

McDonald's Adds Three New Units

Three new restaurant units of the nationwide McDonald's hamburger chain are coming to Columbus. Construction has already started at 5295 N. High-st, at the Northern Lights Shopping Center and the University City Shopping Center for the new McDonald's units.

The new restaurants are part of a country-wide expansion plan for the McDonald firm, which already has 485 units in 42 states, keyed to serve families, and featuring the well-known 15-cent hamburger.

These three additions will bring the total to 57 McDonald's Restaurants in Ohio. Like other units the new structures will have the same golden arch design that identifies McDonald's from coast to coast and will feature the same items that have contributed to the chain's popularity in the past.

RECEIVES W. T. GRANT AWARD

A FOUR-YEAR college scholarship from the W. T. Grant Co., in honor of the company's founder, William T. Grant, is presented to Judy Yeakle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Yeakle, 106-H Woodcliff-dr, by Joseph Sproviero, manager of the Grant Store, Great Eastern Shopping Center. Judy is a graduate of Whitehall-Yearling High School, is employed by the Great Eastern Grant Store and attends Ohio State University, where she is a junior in speech therapy. OPEN NEW FRANKLIN FEDERAL BRANCH

CONGRATULATIONS ARE EXTENDED by Franklin Federal President Fred C. Kaiser, left, to James W. Bope, manager of Franklin Federal East, 3870 E. Livingston-av, on the opening of the new facility. Vice President Walter Kropp is seen looking on. A Grand Opening celebration with the awarding of 60 weekly prizes, including TV sets, bikes and fishing rod and reels, will highlight the first six weeks of operation. Other prizes include gifts at the door and road atlases for new savings accounts of $25 or more.

TO BROADCAST GOLF MEET

READY TO SCORE the participants in the Women's State Amateur Golf Championship, Brookside Country Club, June 24 through 28, is Marianne Tomlinson of WRFD Radio. Marianne will conduct interviews and feature highlights each day of the tournament from 6 a.m. until 6 p.m. on WRFD. The tournament is conducted for women golfers residing in Ohio.

Grain Sorghum, Barley and Oats Price Supported

Price supports in Franklin County for grain sorghum, barley and oats have been announced through Carl W. Schacht, chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation county committee.

Only farmers who divert at least 20 per cent of their total grain, sorghum and corn acreage to conservation use are eligible to receive support on sorghum and barley, though this is not a condition of eligibility for oats price support.

The 1963 support price on sorghum is set at $1.97 per hundredweight for No. 2 grade or better; barley support is set at 98 cents a bushel and the oats rate is 70 cents a bushel for Grade No. 3.

Details on premiums and discounts, loans and purchase agreements and terminal rates can be obtained from Schacht.

Play It Safe When Going Into Water This Summer

With the appearance of that warm June sunshine come droves of swimmers to the pools, lakes, streams, beaches and what-have-you, seeking the excitement and fun found near the water.

The sad part of all this is found in the fact that 6,500 of these swimmers will not return from their outing alive.

Thousands of Central Ohioans will be seeking the comforts of this summer pastime within the next few weeks and the memorizing and observance of a list of safety rules for swimmers should be an important part of any preparations for a visit to the water.

1. Always swim with a companion, and swim where there are lifeguards.
2. Stay out of the water when overtired, when overheated, for at least an hour after eating, and during electrical storms.
3. Watch your step. Walk, don't run, around a swimming pool.
4. Avoid wrestling and other horseplay around a pool. Poor swimmers have drowned by being pushed into deep water.
5. If you have a home swimming pool, it is safest to fence it in, to keep small children from falling into the water.
6. Keep small children out of the pool except when adults are present.
7. Separate deep and shallow water in your pool with a buoyed line.
8. Keep handy such rescue equipment as ring buoys and reaching poles, as well as a first aid kit.
9. Keep bottles and glasses away from the concrete pool deck.
10. Alcohol and swimming don't mix. Stay out of the water if you've been drinking.
11. Take precautions against sunburn, even on a cloudy day.
12. Keep clear of the swimming pool area immediately in front of the diving board.
13. Don't depend on inflated toys or tubes to hold you up in the water.
14. Don't dive in shallow water and check unfamiliar waters before diving.
15. Stay out of deep water if you aren't a good swimmer.
16. In ocean and river swimming, watch for riptides and currents. Lifeguards will tell you how to recognize dangerous conditions and how to save yourself if you are caught.
17. In long-distance swimming, always swim parallel to shore and always with a companion or an accompanying boat.
18. Stay away from piers and pilings while swimming.
19. If your canoe or rowboat overturns, stay with it. Don't swim away from it; it usually won't sink.

Shriners Plan Dinner

Men's Night will be held by the Frances Fitez's Shrine Class at the D. L. Auid Country Club Sunday, June 23. A swiss steak dinner will be served at 4:30 and entertainment will follow. Marilyn Smith, TR. 5-4566, is chairman.

Local Men Schedule Maytag Plant Visit

Howard Albrecht, Morehouse Fashion Company; Ken Bush of the Ken Bush Appliance; John Lucas, East Broad Appliance and Bill Owens, Bill Owens Appliance, will visit the Maytag Company's facilities in Newton, Iowa, as guest of the manufacturing company. Sunday the group will board one of the appliance maker's executive aircraft for the flight to Iowa. They will return to Columbus late Monday.

ELECTED

ALTON G. WEBER, 4323 Astor-av, staff supervisor of Installation and Outside Maintenance for the Ohio Bell Telephone Co, has been elected secretary of the Telengineers. Other officers include Harry Erb, president, Bruce Everson, vice-president, and Robert Hembree, treasurer. Telengineers is a group of engineers and headquarters personnel from Ohio Bell's Central Offices.

Air Conditioning Solves Problem

The old summer problem of closing the windows against dirt, noise and rain gets a complete turn-around when gas air conditioning is installed in the home.

"With gas air conditioning, you'll keep your windows closed all the time and still enjoy cool, filtered air regardless of the heat outside," said Elden H. Davis, central district manager for the Ohio Fuel Gas Company.

Davis explained that the central air conditioning provided by the installation of an Arkla-Servel gas air conditioner does away with the necessity for suffering the full effect of dirt and noise which may enter the house from the outside through open windows.

"You won't even have to worry about closing the windows against a possible rain shower when you leave the house," Davis added.

Another convenience to gas air conditioning, he said, is the elimination of need for window screens because windows need not be opened in summer.

Davis said that Arkla-Servel gas air conditioners are available in the All-Year models made in varying capacities to provide for the needs of any size home. The Arkla-Servel All-Year gas air conditioner supplies cooling air throughout the house in warm weather. Then, with a flick of a switch, the All-Year gas air conditioner supplies cooling air throughout the house in warm weather. Then, with a flick of a switch, the All-Year can be converted to a natural gas heating unit to provide warm air when the outside temperature drops.

Ice Cream Sodas Made To Order

One of the treats of every summer is the wonderful cold soft-drinks that can be easily prepared. The cooling and delightful beverage known as the ice cream soda has admirers in every age group. Remember your very first ice cream soda? What a wizard the man behind the soda fountain appeared to be! With a few simple ingredients, a stir of the spoon, a quick turn of the wrist with the ice cream scoop and presto! before your eyes there appeared a splendid frothy creation that merited your immediate and rapturous attention.

You can recreate this magic of yesterday at home or on a picnic this summer with modern ingredients from your pantry shelf. Quick chocolate or strawberry-flavored mixes are the secret ingredients of an instant, homemade soda. They are the very same mixes youngsters love as a flavoring in their milk and are easily available at the local grocery.

Serve chocolate and strawberry flavored ice cream sodas for a novel and refreshing summer dessert or snack. They're quick and easy to make and really hit the spot on a hot summer day.

HOMEMADE SODAS

For each soda combine in a glass:
3 heaping teaspoons of quick chocolate or strawberry flavored mix.
¼ cup of milk.

Stir briskly until blended. Add a scoop of ice cream and fill slowly with chilled sparkling soda water.

United Appeal Releases 'Thanks To You' Sheet

A total of $794,721 in United Appeal funds has been earmarked to help agencies located on the East Side meet the needs of the people they serve.

In the past year these agencies have served a total of 157,431 people with help of the UA funds.

These service and financial figures were released this week as part of UA's "Thanks To You" report on the use being made of contributed funds. The allocations and number served by East Side agencies include American Red Cross, 132,085 served, $518,626; Columbus Children's Psychiatric Hospital, 130 served, $8,129; Boy Scouts, 18,666 served, $111,750; Children's Mental Health Center, 1084 served, $26,126; Hearing and Speech Center, 878 served, $44,651; Multiple Sclerosis Society, 209 served, $35,064; Poison Control Center, 4130 served, $4,130; Florence Crittenton Home, 249 served, $46,245.

About one out of three persons in Franklin County benefit directly from UA services.

A complete, down-to-the-penny breakdown on the distribution of funds will be delivered to every home in the county with a guide to proper use of UA services.

The theme of the "Thanks To You" Observance this year is "People Helping People." United Appeal officials also reported the 12-year progress on fund raising, reducing of solicitations and cost control.

More than 98 per cent of its overall goals have been reached with $1¾ million increase in giving. With UA's Open Door policy which encourages qualified outside groups to apply, 14 new organizations have joined during the last 11 years and campaign expenses, plus year-round administration, have been maintained at five per cent of the total raised, compared with a 7.4 per cent national aver-

Hearing Set For Sawvel Water Study

Columbus City Council President Mrs. Golda May Edmonston announced that the first public hearing on the controversial Sawvel water rate study will be conducted in council chambers on Tuesday, June 25, at 10 a.m.

Hilliard officials are also waiting impatiently for the report, since talks on a possible Hilliard-Columbus water supply contract depend on the recommendations of the research firm.

Mrs. Edmonston said that J. W. Sawvel, of the Findlay consultant firm, will be available to answer questions.

Mrs. Edmonston set the public hearing date as the result of action taken in Monday night's regular council session by Councilman Tom Moody, who introduced an ordinance calling for the public hearing.

Mrs. Edmonston indicated that more than one public hearing would be necessary.

While controversary centers on the water rate section of the report, the Sawvel firm's study includes a sewer section. This section has not been completed, according to George Smith, administrative assistant to Mayor W. Ralston Westlake. Smith said he did not know when the delayed sewer report would be submitted to the city.

Lives Risked Daily

By JANE ROBINSON

Tragedy is brewing down on Lockbourne-rd at the site of the Walnut Creek bridge.

This is the conclusion of Hamilton Police Chief Frank Bonner, of representatives of the State Board of Health, of people living in the neighborhood, and of many motorists who have observed the traffic conditions.

But there is only speculation as to exactly how the tragedy will strike.

Will a boy dive from the bridge into the murky waters below and break his back or neck, or will he strike a floating log and suffer a fractured skull?

Will one or more cars be involved in a fatal accident in an attempt to avoid striking the kids, from kindergarten to high school age, who congregate on the narrow bridge and race across the highway with nary a glance to oncoming traffic?

Will the water-born bacteria in the sewage-contaminated water be the agent of death?

Or will the tricky Walnut Creek with its walk-offs and underwater wire entanglements simply claim one more drowning victim?

No one has a crystal ball that will answer these questions, but common sense dictates those who are swimming at this site are gambling not only with their own lives, but with the lives of others.

The only question that can be answered is, "How can the situation be corrected before it is too late?"

Chief Bonner is patrolling the area regularly to keep the highway and bridge clear, but states that his warnings are effective only while he is actually present.

He is at this time attempting to get an open affidavit from the owner of the land adjacent to the creek to allow on-the-spot arrest of those trespassing on the land.

It is not against state law to swim in open streams. However, the State Board of Health issued the following statement Tuesday through John E. Richards, engineer in charge of Sewage and Industrial Wastes Unit of the Division of Sanitary Engineers:

"As a department we do not approve of swimming in any unsupervised area.

"The quality of water in that area of Big Walnut Creek is not recommended for swimming as a number of sewage treatment plant effluent discharges empty upstream into either Big Walnut or its tributaries.

"Such effluent is not sterilized and always contains considerable bacteria.

"The danger of typhoid and eye, throat and ear infections is very real and the finger has been pointed to such water as a harbor of infectious hepatitis. Also, the polio virus has been isolated from contaminated water."

Howard Reynolds, assistant county health commissioner, pointed out that tetanus is also among the 85 water-born diseases and that the muddiness of the waters here would make recovery of a downing victim extremely difficult.

Mrs. Frank Peters, whose husband leases the bottom land by the "swimming hole," stated that their crops have been ruined year after year by the hordes tramping through and by the parked automobiles.

Prosecution of minors who are the major offenders (although adults are also misusing the area) is difficult as the law is made to protect the under age.

However, in the opinion of many, it is about time the public was protected from irresponsible youth.

Worley Baughman, teacher at Hamilton High, recently told Mrs. Peters that as he drove over the bridge after a late meeting a boy swung in front of his car from the overhead girders of the bridge.

The problem of keeping the teenagers and little children away from the danger spot is primarily the responsibility of the parents.

Chief Bonner believes that many parents are totally unaware that this is the place where their children are swimming and if the matter is brought to their attention they can and will bring it to a stop.

There are several public pools in the immediate area, clean and well supervised.

INTERESTED IN FLORIDA?

If you are, you'll want my report on a great new Florida community where retire-ment has become re-new-ment," says John Cameron Swayze, noted news commentator and reporter.

"I've watched a new Florida Gulf Coast community grow from a few residents to a beautiful "city in the country" where nearly 10,000 people are today enjoying the rich rewards of Re-new-ment Living. It's a fascinating story!"

FREE information! "Port Charlotte Today" — photo album based on Mr. Swayze's visit — plus full color brochure — are yours for the asking. Come in, call, or mail the coupon.

Be Prepared For Summer — Air Condition!

Suburban Heating Co. Has Enjoyed Very Rapid Growth

The rapid growth of Suburban Heating Co in the heating and air conditioning business in this area attests to the fact the firm has offered services that have been enjoyed by those they served.

Located at 1919 S. Sixth-st, Suburban Heating is distributor of American Furnace Co. products, which include heating and air conditioning equipment.

This manufacturing company has been in business since 1909 and is recognized as one of the most reliable of its kind in the country.

Suburban Heating is proud to be able to offer such outstanding lines as these and has recently expanded its facilities to more than 6,000 square feet, including a new warehouse, sheet and metal fabricating shop, offices and showroom.

Gene Severt, president of Suburban, states that air conditioning has been a very important part of their business success and at present the firm is enjoying a very fine growth.

The firm specializes in a complete air conditioning and heating package which is designed by factory trained personnel to meet the needs of the individual customer.

Any home can have air conditioning, he states, and they will welcome inquiries.

American Furnace units are adaptable to all types of fuel such as gas, oil, electric and manufactured gas.

Suburban Heating Co. also operates a complete plumbing service, specializing in remodeling and repairing for residential and light commercial.

The firm's trucks are radio-equipped and are on call 24 hours a day, anywhere in the Columbus and Franklin County area.

An invitation is extended by Severt to the public to visit their showrooms or call anytime relative to your heating and air conditioning needs.

Unique Gravity Cooling System Will Be Installed In New Tremont Medical Center

An airvec gravity air conditioning unit, combined with an Edwards Hydronic heating system, will be installed in the new Tremont Medical Building, according to S. Robert Davis, president and builder of the unit. The new center is under construction now at 3363 Tremont-rd, Upper Arlington, and will be completed ready for occupancy within the next four to five months, said Davis.

Airvec, developed and manufactured by Edwards Engineering Corp., offers many features and advantages for low cost air conditioning installations, according to T. J. Hughes, sales manager of Ohio Furnace Company. Airvec is a compact noiseless gravity cooling system that does not require an indoor fan and is distributed exclusively in this area by Ohio Furnace Co. The water chiller unit itself is completely packaged, which simplifies installation by the heating contractor.

The initial cost of an Airvec System is comparable to other central air conditioning systems. The operating cost is low, and maintenance is minimum because there are no fan bearings, no fan belts, no cooling-towers, no air filters. The elimination of air filters alone, of course, can represent a sizeable savings to a commercial building owner.

Ohio Furnace Co. has been serving heating and cooling dealers since 1945, when it was located on N. Fourth-st. The company moved to 1003 Kinnear-rd in April, 1957, where 33,000 square feet of space carries a $250,000 inventory of heating and air conditioning equipment, accessories and supplies. They also have a modern service department which is available only to dealers. The wholesaler distributes over an area of 45 counties in Ohio, and has a warehouse and offices in Dayton.

In addition to Airvec, Ohio Furnace also distributes Westinghouse and International cooling units from two tons through 200 tons, for residential, commercial and industrial installations. L. G. Hickok, president, and D. H. Kinnan, vice-president, have 33 years of experience in the heating and air conditioning industry.

Experience And Facilities Provide Munkel Customers With Low-Cost Interior Comfort

With 50 years of service to the residents of Central Ohio, Munkel Heating and Cooling, Inc., 595 N. Fourth-st, at Goodale, has developed a background of experience to complete any type of heating and cooling job, whether it be residential, commercial or otherwise.

Munkel also stresses the fact that indoor comfort is only as good as the installation. They point out that customer satisfaction, economy of operation and low maintenance costs are closely related to the installation and application of the heating and/or cooling unit.

Munkel installations need not be expensive. Volume operation, modern equipment, experienced mechanics and supervisors combine to contribute to the fact that Munkel offers the finest quality at competitive prices and correct installation techniques provide the purchaser with low operating and maintenance costs. A Munkel installation is designed and installed to keep these costs down.

Experts have pointed out that comfort, in summer or winter, depends directly on the proper distribution of air through each outlet in the system. The installation of a proper system by Munkel allows the units to "breathe" easily, allowing the furnace and air conditioner to operate more efficiently. A properly installed system can operate slowly, quietly and with a minimum of electric power because high air pressure is not neccesary.

This, coupled with the custom design made to order for each job, combine to provide Munkel's customers with the finest heating and air conditioning systems available and at a reasonable cost, before, during and after installation.

The public is invited to visit the Munkel show rooms and metal-working department. An experienced interior comfort expert will gladly discuss any heating or air conditioning problems and make recommendations at no obligation.

FISHING TIP

How deep to fish? Skip the in-between water, advise fishing experts. If surface or shallow running lures don't pay off, shift to completely opposite equipment and techniques. Go to the bottom, and don't be satisfied until you can feel your lure or bait bounding along.

Humidity Level Drops By Using An Air Conditioner

To use a room air conditioner, you don't need to know how it works. But you should know what it does.

When the conditioner is turned on, a fan or blower system draws in the warm, moist room air. The air goes through a filter which removes dust, lint, and other contaminants. It next passes over cold surfaces which cool and dry it; then it is returned to the room.

A thermostat maintains the inside temperature at the desired level. And grilles — or air directors — on the front panel direct the flow of conditioned air so that it will circulate most efficiently without causing drafts. A room air conditioner is not merely a "cooler." Depending upon its capacity, it literally wrings out of the air from 1½ to more than 9 pints of water per hour. As a combination cooler and dehumidifier, it balances the elements of cool and dry air.

High humidity makes you extremely uncomfortable. You'd be especially aware of its effect on a hot day after a sudden rainfall. Even though the rain might have pulled the temperature down 15 or 20 degrees, the relative humidity would be high and you'd still feel hot and "clammy." This is because moisture-saturated air slows down the body's own evaporative-cooling action.

The Weather Bureau expresses the "outdoor" summer weather comfort factor as the Temperature-Humidity Index — or THI. Discomfort Index, the original term for it, is more descriptive because that's exactly what it is — a high THI means a high level of discomfort. Air conditioning, by controlling both temperature and humidity, establishes a relatively low "indoor" THI.

DON'T TRUST WORN TIRES

Driving on hot streets and highways during the warm summer months is especially hard on tires. Before planning any type of summer trip be sure to check the treads on your auto tires and replace them if you find excessive wear.

HIGH TEMPERATURES Mean High Tempers

SPARE YOUR FAMILY

WITH YEAR-ROUND AIR CONDITIONING

by STEWART-WARNER

Lets your whole house breathe again!

A NEW WAY OF LIFE

Year-round air conditioning can bring you and your family an exciting new way of life. Comfort is the big thing of course. All areas of the home become livable and lovable. But, there are many other advantages.

NO HUMIDITY PROBLEMS

You'll never have irritated noses, throats and dry skin from thirsty indoor air. Winter drying of furniture and other household accessories will be drastically reduced. Damage from mildew and condensation in summer will be eliminated.

BETTER HEALTH

Cleaned, conditioned air not only reduces allergy and respiratory problems, but the whole family is healthier when they are not under the constant strain of discomfort. They eat better, too. The nurse's cap gets less wear.

MORE ENJOYABLE HOMEMAKING

There's no tired, dragged-out feeling from extreme heat, cold or steamy kitchens. You'll work in a clean, vibrant atmosphere. And your family will enjoy more what you do for them.

EASIER LIVING

If homes had respiratory ailments, as people do, it would be easier to diagnose cleaning and moisture problems that originate from poor heating and air conditioning.

CLIMATE CONTROL AT YOUR FINGERTIPS

One of the most exciting things about year-round air conditioning is automatic control, completely worry-free operation.

At the flick of a finger or the turn of a dial, you can have just the climate you want.

And automatic controls perform other important tasks for you. They watch pressures and temperatures to make sure your system operates safely and efficiently and gives the results you want.

And here's a tip! The best way to insure maximum comfort, safety and economy from your system is to have a reputable name on all your controls as well as on your thermostat.

A LOOK AT THE RECORDS

Hot Weather Holds No Terror For Those Who Are Prepared

By RON BARLOW

I don't know what kind of signs the old-timers look for when they say a cold winter is always followed by a hot summer, but I do know there have been a couple of days this month that might lead me to believe their theory.

Even though weatherman Joe Kremis won't make any long-term predictions, he did admit he had spent May 10 in his backyard garden. After about an hour in the blazing sun he decided to give it up in favor of a shade tree and some cool refreshment. Joe is the assistant chief meteorologist at the Port Columbus Weather Bureau and is a dandy man to know if you're planning a weekend out of doors.

And when it comes to the weather that has gone by Kremis is the man to talk to. He not only has a good memory but is armed with a multitude of record books which he gladly digs out and explains on a minute's notice.

The books reveal that this year we went through the coldest January since 1940, the coldest February since 1934, and the fourth wettest March on record. On the other hand we had the dryest May in 24 years and the temperature hit record lows on the first, second and 23rd.

On the books April's overall picture looked normal. A closer inspection, however, reveals a high of 82 degrees on the second, a low of only 26 degrees on the 10th and snow flurries on the 30th.

As everyone is well aware, the month of June arrived with mild temperatures and then presented us with some real scorchers on the ninth and 10th of the month. Extremes went from a high of 95 degrees on the 10th to a record low of 45 degrees on the 12th.

It all adds up to a pretty weird year so far, weatherwise, and the experts are still scratching their heads about what is to come.

The long-range forecast from the weather bureau sees above normal temperatures for the remainder of this month and the possibility of a hot summer to follow.

Weatherman Kremis, who is usually on the front lines when it comes to being blamed for strange happenings outside on weekends, say one of the bright spots in his life has been the fact that so far nobody has complained about the hot weather. He figures we went through such a cold winter that everyone is happy to get a chance to perspire a little for a change.

However, if the old-timers' theory holds water, he may be in for a lot of grief this summer if the early days of June are a sample of what's in store for Central Ohio. As for me, I've stocked up the refrigerator with popsicles and made a down payment on an air conditioner. As the old-timers say, "Better be safe than sorry," and I'm with the old-timers.

BEFORE AND AFTER AIR CONDITIONING

YOU ARRIVE HOME at 8 p.m. it's a hot and muggy evening. Under your arm you are carrying a new light-weight, do-it-yourself air conditioner just purchased for less than $150 and brought home in the car. You install it on the window sill, plug it into the wall socket and it begins to do its stuff. By 8:45 p.m. the air in your bedroom is cool, de-humidified and filtered. The third picture (not shown because it was too dark) was taken at 9 p.m. You have turned off the lights and are comfortably sleeping.

Enjoy Your Trip - Plan Ahead

Over 50 million Americans will take to the highways this summer on motor trips to the national parks, over the mountains, and to the shores and lakes to enjoy for the first time the pleasures of far off places.

Most of them will pack hundreds of miles and thousands of thrills into two short weeks. Some will return home relaxed, refreshed, and with renewed vigor. Others will experience an opposite effect. They will be tired, worn out, and in need of rest from their vacations.

Plan first for safety, of course. Your car should be mechanically sound before you start. Drive cautiously! You'll be reminded of this many times over by the widely publicized warnings of our traffic and safety councils.

But beyond these basic essentials are two other important ingredients for a successful vacation—rest and relaxation. Don't plan your motor trip on a schedule that requires days of grueling driving in order to meet reservations made in advance. Keep your plans flexible for easy-going days. Take occasional sidetrips or make unplanned stopovers.

Coast-to-coast television was demonstrated Nov. 8, 1953, by Radio Corporation of America between New York and Burbank, Calif.

Children Appreciate The Comfort Of Air Conditioning

Everybody loves a baby and every baby loves air conditioning. It's a proven fact that a comfortable baby is a happier, healthier baby.

Selective zone cooling is one of the most important advantages of air conditioning a house with room units.

Many families like the convenience and comfort individual units provide by supplying cooled filtered and dehumidified air where and when it's needed most. At the same time, zone control helps keep operating costs low.

For example, at bed time, room air conditioners can be turned on to help provide maximum sleeping comfort at an early hour for baby, and later when the parents retire. These rooms will be comfortably cool and refreshingly free of high humidity that often makes sleeping difficult.

Since windows are kept closed in an air-conditioned room, disturbing outdoor noises are blocked out. Baby falls asleep more quickly, and sleeps more restfully.

While the family sleeps, room air conditioners in other parts of the house can be turned to a lower setting or shut off completely.

Room air conditioners in living or family rooms can be regulated to provide cool comfort during summer parties. When guests are present, quality air conditioners can be adjusted to take care of the higher load, while cooling at normal levels is maintained by units in other rooms.

Where high humidity is a particular problem, such as basement recreation rooms, a room air conditioner is especially appreciated for its ability to remove moisture from the air.

Air Conditioning Research Provides Indoor Comfort

Is summer air conditioning ready for the home owner? Or is it still in the experimental stage — something to wait for until man reaches the Moon?

It's ready now, according to Arthur D. Bogen, president of Bogen Heating and Air Conditioning, 334 E. Livingston-av. Prices are within the reach of multitudes if not the masses, and your home can now be kept at the same comfort level during all four seasons.

Research in home air conditioning, for summer and winter, has been a continuous project of the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association since 1932.

For more than 30 years the national association's staff men have probed the mysteries of heating and cooling in a specially designed test residence on the campus at the University of Illinois.

In this structure, known as Research Residence No. 1, many pioneering steps were taken to make home air conditioning practical and economical for the average home.

Cooling, humidity control and proper air circulation were given more intensified study in a smaller one-story post-war home, Research Residence No. 2, starting in 1952.

Cost of air conditioning operation varies with the usage of different families, but it seldom costs more to cool and condition air on a hot day than it does to keep the same home warm and properly humidified with winter air conditioning on a comparably cold day.

For instance, many people who are comfortable in their homes when it's 72 degrees indoors and zero outdoors also are comfortable when it is 82 indoors and 92 outdoors.

Humidity, Bogen said, has a lot to do with it, and increasing or decreasing indoor humidity to the comfort zone is a real part of today's air conditioning.

TAKE THE SIZZLE OUT OF SUMMER

YEARNING FOR PEACE AND QUIET?

Southern Ohio Vacation Farms Come Up With New Wrinkle

By JANE ROBINSON

Does a week "down on the farm" appeal to you?

Nothing fancy, understand. Just a lot of fresh air, home-cooking, fishing and hunting, and peaceful nights slept to the tune of bullfrogs.

How often have you heard that you need a second vacation to rest up from the first?

Well, down in Pike county the Vacation Hills and Valleys Association has come up with a vacation idea that should do more to soothe a family of fettered nerves than a bucket of tranquilizers.

Farmers in the Southern Ohio county are opening up their homes and land to those who want to "get away from it all."

Accommodations vary from family to family, but those of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Picklesimer, owners of Green Top Farm at Beaver, give a pretty good idea of what it's all about.

They offer either a four-room cottage or a modern trailer as well as grounds for tents and camping trailers. When the dinner bell rings, you can traipse to the "big house" for country - style meals, or ignore it and use your own cooking facilities.

If you are athletic you can hike the hills. For the slightly less energetic, you can take to horseback, and for the persons who prefer to ride, there are Model A Tours in summertime, and horse - drawn sleigh expeditions in winter.

The farm ponds are well stocked, and the hunting is good.

Conventional recreation equipment such as basketball, volleyball and horseshoe courts, picnic tables and outdoor cooking facilities are at hand.

If you want to try out for the old thrill of a hayride, all you do is ask, and the "wishing well" with the old oaken bucket is always waiting.

At Miss Dixie Brunner's Pine Hill Farm at Stockdale, boats are available and being far from busy highways is ideal for children and pets to roam at large. You can rent a trailer, bring your own camping equipment, or she will furnish tent, Coleman burner, cots and air mattresses, gas lantern, tables and chairs.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. McGuire, Rt. 1, Waverly, will even share their big vegetable garden with you, and let you pick strawberries and apples in season. Mrs. McGuire loves children and will teach sewing and craft work.

The Black Angus farm of Hobart and Hazel McAllister at Rarden gives the freedom of the farm to guests, with one restriction, no one can harm the old bullfrogs which provide the bass melody for the summer evenings.

On the banks of Sunfish Creek, the Vacationland of Mr. and Mrs. Verlin K. Smith of Elm Grove offers superlative fishing with 12 and 15 pound muskies commonplace. For the Nimrod, raccoons, rabbits, squirrels, grouses, ducks and frogs abound.

John and Peggy Boggs of Waverly claim there are no whistles, no trains, no traffic and no neighbors at "Our Little House in the Woods." With cascading streams, natural springs, wild berries, cliffs and small animal dens, it is the epitome of rural quiet and solitude.

For those who are too inured to the ways of the urban world to take such rustic peace in too large a dose, only a few miles away are villages and public lakes, golf courses, drive-in movies, shopping centers and antique shops.

Though rates vary, no drastic strain is put on the usual family budget by one of these rural retreats, and you can go for a day, a weekend or the summer as inclination strikes.

If hustle, bustle and crowds are too much with you, why not give this new vacation idea a spin?

You can get any information you need by writing or calling the Association of the Pike County Agricultural Extension Service in the Federal Building at Waverly.

Good Reading Found In New Map-Guide

Best seller writers had better take note: New maps being issued are making for better reading than books.

A new map-guide published for the Northern Great Lakes Area is up to the minute in its ninth annual edition.

This free publication covering Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Ontario is far more than a map. But of prime interest to the motorist is that it is an excellent and practical highway map.

Produced by Rand McNally, it shows over 2000 changes in highways since last year. All the completed freeways and interstate highways are indicated as well as those still under construction.

The map is free and may be obtained by writing S. W. Lincoln, Secretary, Norglac, Room 1420, 14 E. Jackson-bl, Chicago 4, Dept. L.

If planning to visit Wisconsin, there's "Wisconsin Welcomes You" brochure that is the best seen to date for information on that state. It's available free at the Wisconsin Vacation Center in Chicago at 205 N. Michigan-av.

If the cold north holds more interest, you might check out the new folder on Alaska, complete with a schedule of sailings on the new Alaska ferry from May through September, which is available free from the Alaska Travel Division, P.O. Box 2391, Juneau, Alaska.

Further information on "Let's Go," the entertaining and informative student guide to Europe, may be obtained from Harvard Student Agencies, Inc., 4 Holyoke-st, Campbridge 38, Mass. The price is $1.25 postpaid.

DOUBLE TAKE—You won't even have to stray off the main arteries this summer to get the impression that the guys are catching up with the gals in the shorts department. Even on the wide expanses of Broad-st, the young ladies are doing a "double take" when the male of the species strolls by in short pants.

Gals Losing Ground In Bare-Knee Race

Don't look now, but the season for hairy legs and bulging calf muscles is with us once again.

Wait a minute, bud. Back up a minute. Did you say hairy legs?

THAT, WE DID—and we are speaking of the male variety. The days of guffaws and whistles when Junior passed by with bare knees have now taken their places in the modern attic with the dusty hulo-hoops and Davy Crockett chappeaus.

Lazarus men's sportswear buyer Bill Hefner helped document a feeling that we've had that sales of men's knee-pants are nearing a "catching up" point in relation to the purchases of the gentler sex.

Despite the cool weather, sales have been high this spring, and Hefner looks for the biggest year ever in men's shorts sales.

ALTHOUGH IT'S doubtful if men will ever surpass the ladies in this department, the barrier has been soundly broken. Minorities have a strange way of becoming majorities, especially in the realm of style.

So better suppress that wise-crack, brother. You've been outmoded.

Preparation Is The Key To A Successful Picnic

Family outings can be more fun for everyone if you develop a sort of "picnic knack" by using some of these short-cuts.

Always take a jar of sudsy water along. It comes in mighty handy for everything from sponging off sticky fingers and dropped silverware to cleaning up spills in the car.

Table coverings can be as simple as a length of paper towels unrolled along each side of the picnic table or as festive as red bandana kerchiefs used individually as place mats and napkins. Four kerchiefs put together with flat-felled seams fit a card table perfectly. If you use a paper tablecloth, take along some paper tape to fasten down the corners instead of counting on pickle jars to fight the breeze. Terry cloth finger-tip towels make elegant napkins that don't need ironing.

If you don't have an efficient thermos for that iced tea, make it up as ice cubes and pack them in glass jars wrapped with newspapers. They should melt to chilled drinking temperature by the time you reach your destination.

Glass jars are great for toting vegetable sticks in water, too. Much nicer than the dried-out variety wrapped in waxed paper. A plastic bag full of washed tossed salad makings will keep fresh. Add tomatoes, seasonings, and dressing when you are ready to eat.

If there are children in your group, take along enough extra paper plates for them to sail through the air flying - saucer - style while they wait for lunch to be ready. Some mothers keep the aluminum divided trays from TV dinners for picnic use. Dessert for the young ones can be a small sandwich bag of surprises for each one, such as an apple, marshmallows, a cooky or two, and, bubble gum.

The empty sacks are invaluable for collecting pretty leaves, acorns, and rocks they will want to take home as souvenirs, too. Always pack at least two large paper bags . . . one for garbage to be thrown away and the other for the dirty dishes you'll take home with you.

If your family's taste runs to soft drinks, try the canned variety with straws, instead of packing cups. An extra bottle opener kept in the glove compartment is a good idea for forgetful picnic packers.

Take along your old coffee-pot if you plan to cook out on your picnic. It's just right for warming baby's bottle, dousing the charcoal to make sure the fire's out, and, of course, for brewing that welcome cup of coffee at the end of the meal.

Wanted: Business Men Who'll Give Youth A Chance

A plea has been issued to large and small businesses in the Columbus area to give a chance to young men and women who are looking for summer and permanent jobs.

With schools out, time is heavy on the hands of hundreds of youngsters between the ages of 14 and 18, as well as some college students. When lack of funds and personnel forced the Sertoma Club, which has spearheaded the effort to place these young people to discontinue their program, the Ohio State Employment Service stepped in.

"It's just too important a project, to the teenager and to the community, to allow it to die on the vine," said Ralph Gabele, area manager, pointing out that employment is an essential blockade against delinquency.

Already more than 2000 young people have registered with the program, bringing with them a wide range of skills.

There are many youngsters who are anxious to mow lawns and baby sit. But these are also the younger boys and girls with few specific skills yet developed.

Many applicants lack only one thing—experience.

Not one of them can get it any younger.

Name a job, and in the file almost certainly can be found matching qualifications.

One unusual young woman who just graduated from high school, types well, takes shorthand and speaks and writes both German and Russian. Attractive and personable, she has done office work, some bookkeeping and even managed a retail fruit stand during one summer. Not planning to enter college, she certainly has valuable contributions to make to the labor market.

Another boy who will enter Journalism School at Ohio State University this fall has had extensive school newspaper editorial experience, is an outstanding English student and wants work this summer where he can utilize his skills.

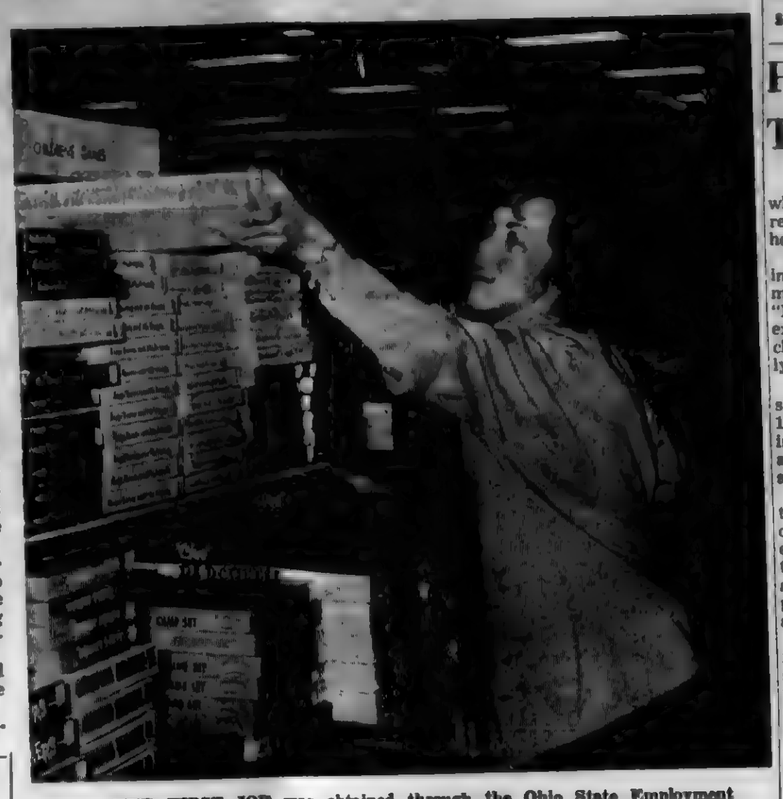
With the exception of downtown jobs, which are filled strictly on qualifications, an attempt is made to place the young teenager in the general area in which he lives, Gabele explained.

Tremendously pleased with the interest shown by these potential employes, Gabele says that now the success of the program rests entirely on the business men.

"If each man would spend only a few minutes considering where he could use just one young person on his staff, we can make this thing go," Joe Stoughton, service publicist, pointed out.

A recent letter to leaders of the city implored them to remember the employer who perhaps gave them their first chance, and in turn to give another "a break."

Stock boys, filing clerks, delivery boys, truck drivers, typists, switchboard operators, nurses aides, these are but a few of the jobs the employment service can fill instantly.



The recreational program of Columbus is a good one, but it can't take the place of jobs.

The opportunity to form dependable work habits and the maturity that comes with a sense of accomplishment will not only help mold our future citizens, but start to develop the skills business and industry need in the future.

"If you can help this program with a job, any job, no matter how small," Gabele stressed, "you'll be helping with a vital community effort."

All you need to do is call Youth Employment Service 228-2981.

How about doing it TODAY?

HER FIRST JOB was obtained through the Ohio State Employment Service on a part-time basis at Lazarus West Department Store while she was still a student at West High School. Now a graduate, Elizabeth Lord, 860 Salisbury-rd, is working into a full-time position in the store's toy department.

Pools Recommended For Therapy, Fun, Recreation

A Cleveland real estate man who lost his sight put in a residential swimming pool so he could keep fit and active.

A school for blind children in the same city has a swimming pool. Said a spokesman: "It's one form of vigorous exercise in which unsighted children can participate safely".

A California orthopedic specialist has counted some 125 exercises that can be done in water that can't be done, or are almost impossible, outside water.

Because the body is 22 times lighter in water than outside, he points out these exercises can be done with little physical effort, and that a person can operate in all planes—up and down, back and forth, and sideways.

As a consequence, exercises for heart patients can be started earlier. Such exercise, too, is ideal for patients after most general surgery, he says.

Thus swimming for therapy has taken on new dimensions in recent years.

For many years there have been therapeutic pools for persons handicapped by polio, accidents, arthritis, and various neurological disorders.

Veterans hospitals are using swimming as an aid in convalescence, including paraplegics in the program.

Most families, however, are content to get physical tone, relaxation and weight control from their private pools.

A national YMCA official has been quoted that "Most people would agree that swimming is the best all-around activity in which you can engage. It's good for all ages, both sexes, and has no disadvantages."

To which the N.S.P.I. adds the precaution: "If properly controlled."

Some medics consider infection the principal hazard, with most water pollution coming from the bathers themselves

The N.S.P.I. urges that when a pool is heavily used swimmers are required to shower before entering the water.

No one with a skin disease or other infection should be allowed to use the pool.

Finally, the water should be maintained in a clear, pure state through the proper operation of a recirculating filter, which will screen out all but a small percentage of organisms, and the use of chemicals to kill the rest.

Lex Mayers Lists Reasons For Success In Car Field

In the six short years since the opening of Lex Mayers Chevrolet, 2212 E. Main-st, Lex Mayers, owner and president, has built his dealership into one of the leading Chevrolet agencies in Central Ohio.

To what does Lex attribute this phenomenal success? The answer is based "simply on two things," according to Mayers.

1. Supermarket selling of cars has given the public large inventories of mechanically perfect cars in many models and styles. There's always a large inventory of new cars ready for immediate delivery.

Through this large volume selling power the customer benefits by setting the best possible deal with the security of a dealer big enough to back up his guarantees.

Lex insists that every car buyer be a satisfied customer. A large, modern service department is maintained to give quick, efficient, expert service whenever a car needs it.

2. Early in his career Lex Mayers realized that to have volume sales you must let the public know what you have to offer and create a desire to buy. This is the reason a major portion of his budget each year is allotted to advertising.

Hundreds of potential customers visit the new and used car lots at Lex Mayers' Chevrolet whenever there is a special promotion. They already know there is plenty of free fun and food in store for them, and they get the opportunity to see hundreds of cars, examine them and take advantage of special prices from a dealer who personally stands back of every car sold.

Thousands of people remember Lex's free ox roasts, barbecues and fish fries. Each year he brings TV fans many sporting events movies and other special programs. Lex personally does all his own commercials on these shows. His name is also familiar to radio listeners and newspaper readers through his many advertisements.

Through these many promotional and public interest projects, Lex has become as familiar to people as the mayor or governor. The success of Lex's formula is evident in the daily sales records and the number of customers who continue to return to Lex Mayers' Chevrolet time after time.

FAST SPUDS

Here's a recipe for a fast spud fry. Drain off liquid from a can of small white potatoes, and slice. Melt butter in frying pan, add sliced potatoes and onion salt or onion flakes. Cook over medium flame until browned.

Pools Increase With Autos

Peak years in automobile sales also have been outstanding in swimming pool construction.

And in 1963, both industries are pressing toward records.

The National Swimming Pool Institute credits the boom, which started late last year, to improved general economic conditions and the availability of more discretionary income.

A new construction high, surpassing the 70,000 of 1959 — the second best year to date — would boost the total of permanent pools well over the 500,000 mark.

There were 420,800 pools in the U.S. at the start of the year, nearly 300,000 of them with private homes. The total rose more than 200 per cent in the past five years.

Reasons for Spurt

Why this steadily increasing interest?

The N.S.P.I. suggests a number of reasons, among them:

- Swimming is our most popular activity next to driving and walking, according to the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review.
- Increased water sports activity and new emphasis on physical fitness.
- The National Safety Council's "Everyone Learn to Swim" program.
- The Amateur Athletic Union's age group competitive program.
- Other teaching programs that are bringing more people into swimming.
- Increasing pollution of former swimming waters.
- Improved pools, equipment, and services without any increase in costs.

ANTICIPATE FUTURE

The Columbus Auto Club reminds drivers that at this time of the year slow-moving farm equipment frequently is on the highway. This is one more reason for reducing your driving speed on hills and curves. The safe driver always anticipates what may be up ahead and reduces his speed accordingly.

★ TIPS FOR THE SINGLE GIRL ★

Win A Heart In The Summer

The adage "there's no time like the present" should take on even more meaning for single females — especially at this time of year when the roses are in bloom.

A poll of local young ladies showed that the summer is the best time of all to exercise certain Sadie Hawkins traits and set out to land your beau.

With all of nature working for you, chances are good you can twist him around your finger more thoroughly than the regal Miss who got Sir Walter Raleigh to spread his coat over a mud puddle.

All it takes is a little "moxie."

First of all, the spot check revealed, be sure to keep that smile on your sunburnt face. It'll prove to the man in your life that you're having fun and like to be with him.

DON A SAILOR'S CAP AND APPEAL TO HIS SEA-FARIN' INTERESTS

MAKE LIKE JACK NICKLAUS AND HEAD FOR THE GREENS

This is, of course, a little hard on picnics when the sun makes you squint but keep a stiff upper cheek bone.

Speaking of the sun, our lady experts advise that you don't make too much use of sun-glasses on an outing — unless, of course, it's absolutely necessary. "Most males would rather stare into the baby blues than to see their own face reflected back from a polarized lens," one girl commented.

Secondly, be sure to look the part. In other words, don't wear, say, sneakers if you're going to a yacht club party. And, on the other hand, leave the high heels at home if your heading for a fishing spot.

"Dress is very important at all times," said a comely blond interviewee. "But it's never more essential than it is in the out-of-doors when there'll be other eyes glancing your way."

Since trickery is the sincerest form of victory, use it, say the girls.

Even if you've never seen a golf club before, pretend that you'd like nothing better than to spend a few hours hiking over the fairways — especially with him on hand to give lessons.

Another neat trick is with photography, as attractive Columbus Model Sue Skeen demonstrates in one of the accompanying pictures.

Sure, it's more logical for him to take your picture gracing his 120-foot yacht, but think how flattered he'd be if you turned the tables and pulled our your camera to focus on his Barrymore profile.

Providing your film supply holds out, you can probably kill nearly an hour with this activity. On second thought, you might not even need to buy film — just click the shutter while he smiles at you. Girls, anyway, are supposed to be forgetful when the occasion arises.

A few day later (if the male has any, self-respect at all) he'll have to at least call you up to see how his portaits turned out. Just turn on the charm with something like, "Oh, what a silly-dilly I was. I forgot the film!"

You'll probably both have a good laugh over that one and it opens the gate for another session.

If you really want to get him hooked, though, leave the fishing poles and golf clubs and everything else at home. Just have Mom pack one of her old-fashioned picnic lunches and invite him. (The girls say this is socially acceptable.)

You can always rely on the fact that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. And, with Mom's cooking as insurance, you can't miss.

STUDY PHOTOGRAPHY AND OFFER TO SNAP HIS PICTURE . . .

TAKE FIRST AID KIT

No camper should be without a kit for minor emergencies, say the camping experts. Include a short candle, two needles, waxed threat, a small piece of heavy cloth for minor tent repairs, two dozen assorted nails and screws, side-cutting pliers, five feet of copper wire, darning cotton, and waterproof cement.

TAKE FIRE STARTER

Campers should make fire starters before their trip begins. One way to make quick starters is to roll up a newspaper, tie it at intervals, cut it apart between the ties, and dip the sections in melted paraffin. Empty waxed milk cartons are also good.

Considering the way some women drive, we'll agree their place is in the home.

Coate Brothers Enter Dwellings In 'Parade'

Bob Coate, Builders, Inc., made up of the brother team of Bob and Warren Coate, has built hundreds of fine homes throughout greater Columbus in the past eight years. Because of their close attention to every detail in home construction demand for a "Coate built" home has expanded steadily.

Over the past years their craftsmanship in new homes has found Bob and Warren busy in such areas of the city as: Kendale, Ridgewood Estates, Laurel Canyon, Pine Hills, Crestview Heights, Woodward Park, Old Orchard and Forest Park. Throughout any of these communities are found many Coate homes. Bob Coate, Builders, are not project builders, preferring to build to specific needs of clients.

The two Coate entries in "The Parade of Homes" are in the tradition of their other homes. They are moderately priced yet incorporate the finest of materials and design. Each home has all those features most wanted by today's home buyers.

SUMMERTIME is PAINT-TIME!

Now paint the outside of your home as easily as you paint a room

New Dean & Barry Velv-Ease brings you a wonderful new velvet-flat outside paint that lets you take it easy from start to finish.

Take It Easy. New Dean & Barry Velv-Ease gives almost effortless painting action—over previously painted or primed wood, unpainted concrete, asbestos shingles, masonry and brick. Get paint jobs done easier, faster, with less work. No laps, no streaks. Paint up to 1 hour before it rains. Start painting again when the rain stops. No need to wait until surface is completely dry.

Take It Easy. Save the work of moving ladders when doing 2-coat work. Dean & Barry Velv-Ease takes only 1 quick hour to dry. Easily clean brushes, hands, clothing with water when your new Dean & Barry Velv-Ease paint job is done. No messy solvents needed.

Take it Easy on the pocketbook, too. Do the average 6-room home with just 5 economical gallons of Dean & Barry Velv-Ease per coat. And remember: Velv-Ease brings you a whiter white and colors that stay fade-free bright for years. Call your painter-decorator. Or come in for your free color card today.

Auto Expert Gives Tips For Saving Cash

Are you afraid of the man who runs the neighborhood gasoline station? — Ashamed to ask him about that funny noise in your automobile engine for fear he'll know how ignorant you are about your car?

Look him right in the eye and ask him anyway — that's the advice of James B. Lightburn, a professional expert on car engines and on service stations who says it's no sin for the layman (or laywoman) to know less about the workings of today's complex and high-powered car engines than Grandpa did about the plumbing in his "Tin Lizzy."

"The pioneer driver was, by necessity, a 'do-it-yourself' mechanic. In his day garages and service stations were few and far between and Detroit recognized the fact by including a kit of tools with every new car," said Lightburn, an executive of a manufacturer of automotive filters.

"Today's car engines are more dependable and expert service is available everywhere —thus the modern driver has less cause to need a craftsman's knowledge of his engine; and, besides, modern living keeps him too busy thinking about other things," the executive said.

But a minimum of knowledge is essential if the motorist wants to keep his operating costs low and his trade-in value high, so Lightburn offers these 10 tips on car care as a "must" for sensible car ownership:

1. Don't "race" a cold engine. It was meant to operate at high temperatures and forcing it to work too hard when it's cold can cause serious damage.

2. Never let the gas tank get "almost empty." Water (condensation) forms in a nearly-empty tank and then mixes with the gasoline.

3. Add a lot of mileage to the life of your car — and put more mileage between the repair bills — by having your service station install a gasoline filter. It will keep impurities out of delicate carburetor mechanisms.

4. While the traffic light is red, give your engine a break by putting the automatic transmission into neutral — this saves strain on the transmission, too.

5. Add up to three more miles per gallon of gasoline by changing the air filter (it's inside that drum-like container atop the engine) every 10,000 miles of normal driving.

6. If your engine vibrates while you're standing still, the carburetor is probably out of whack and you are wasting gas. Ask the service station man to make the necessary adjustment.

7. On a cold night don't turn on your lights and radio until the engine starts. The extra strain can break your battery's back.

8. Change the oil and lubricate your car regularly, as required by your make of car and the way you drive it. Consult the service station man on this one.

9. Change your oil filter at least every 4,000 miles. It collects abrasive grit and the metal particles, carbon, condensation, and acids that are the "by-products" of engine operation. If not changed regularly, they could dump their load of harmful impurities back into the oil stream and make a job for the repairman.

10. If that little noise in the engine is a "ping!" try a tankful of premium gasoline. This should cure it and increase your power, to boot.

SUMMER'S GREATEST LEGACY

MORE THAN anything else, summer has become associated with "play ball" among the younger set who spend their school-free hours out on one of the country's many Little League diamonds. At right, batter Tom Rose, 9, of 4539 St. Ann-in, gets set to take a healthy cut at the pitcher's serving while ten-year-old Kenny Shoaf, 4518 St. Ann-in, performs backstop duties. Both youngsters are members of the Indians, a Minor League entry this summer in the Whitehall Boys Baseball Association.

Simple Rules Can Be Employed In Case Of Accident Involving Autos

Vacation time is near. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country and the exposure to automobile accidents will increase.

Knowing and observing the traffic rules and regulations and driving defensively will minimize possibilities of being involved in an accident. However, what should a person do if, despite all precautions, he is involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.

2. Render Aid. If anyone is injured: (a) Render first aid and stop the bleeding if you are knowledgeable in this area, and are sure you can help the injured person — not cause further physical damage; (b) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both, and (c) Do not remove an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.

3. Protect The Scene From Further Damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlight beams on the wrecked vehicles.

4. Call an Officer. Policemen, highway patrolmen, sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.

5. Gather Information — Write it down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess — be specific. Measure skid marks. Step off distances. Be sure to obtain names and addresses of witnesses. Mark down the make, model and license number of all involved vehicle operators. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the person or persons involved in the accident and to any police officer, if you are asked for it, and have it on your person. The other fellow must do the same.

6. Be Careful What You Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that the other driver was equally at fault, or more so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others, or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.

7. See Your Doctor if there is the slightest chance you may be injured. Serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.

8. Consult Your Lawyer Immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better he can advise you and protect your rights. He can obtain statements from the witnesses while their memories are fresh, and do many other things to insure that the true facts are preserved. Get your lawyer's advice before giving any interviews or statements to investigators or adjusters for the other side.

9. Inform Your Insurance Company Properly. Failure to do so may void your policy.

10. Report the Accident to the Department of Highway Safety, 240 Parsons-av, Columbus 5, O. This is required by law if there is any injury, death or damage to the property of any person in excess of $100. This report must be completed even though the accident has been reported to, and investigated by an enforcement agency.

It is recommended that these forms be carried in every auto so, that in case of an accident, they can be filled out at the scene. An official accident report form may be procured from the police, sheriff's department, Highway Patrol or Ohio Department of Highway Safety.

Weekend Drives Offer Variety

A summer drive along the back roads three miles southeast of Newark will reveal the starting point of the old Ohio Canal which connected Lake Erie with the Ohio River. A monument marks the spot along Rt. 79.

There are nearly 1,000 miles of old canals to be seen in Ohio, and several weekend trips can be planned to enjoy the scenery and uncover the history surrounding the old waterways.

For instance, in the area of Newark works of the prehistoric Moundbuilders cover some three or four square miles. These earthworks, including circular patterns and effigy mounds, such as the famed Eagle Mound, are the most extensive and diversified of any of the 10,000 and more Moundbuilders' works in Ohio.

The Ohio State Historical Museum, on the Ohio State University Campus, has a fine collection of Moundbuilder artifacts and relics of this ancient civilization.

Competitive Skiing Is Popular Sport

Water skiing, best known as a family recreation some five million Americans look forward to each spring, has another aspect — competitive skiing. This particular activity keeps some 5,000 skiers jumping from May to September.

Competitive skiing is organized by the American Water Ski Association, which sanctions over 100 tournaments during the season. At least two of them, the Masters Tournament, held at Callaway Gardens, Pine Mountain, Ga., in June and the National Championships in August, will be seen on network television this summer.

Skiers compete in men's, women's, senior men's, boys' and girls' divisions. There are three classes of competition: jumping, slalom and tricks, with the winners determined independently. Places in the overall standing are assigned according to each skier's performance in all three events.

In the slalom event, each contestant passes twice, in opposite directions, around eight buoys placed alternately on the right and left hand sides of the slalom course. Those skiers who make the run perfectly go through at increasing speeds, and later with shortened tow rope, until a winner emerges.

Jumpers are judged for distance jumped and for their form in the air and in landing. They are scored for the best of three tries.

In trick competition, the skier must pass twice through the course in a given time, completing as many and as intricate tricks as he can, chosen from an official selection which are graded by points according to difficulty. Highest point total determines the winner.

★ COMEDY ★ MUSIC ★ DRAMA ★

Summer Is Theater Time

Even before summer was official Columbus theatres had launched a new season. Already three musicals and a comedy have found their way to the boards, and audiences anxious for summer entertainment have found their seats.

Whether it be in Nature's own air conditioning — a cool breeze fluttering the tent flaps — or through man's own cooling efforts, anyone can see a different play every other night for the coming two months, in comfort.

Three ambitious groups — Playhouse on the Green, Stadium Theatre, and the Kenley Players—have scheduled a total of 30 attractions. Most of the productions are musicals and comedies, light entertainment for calming taut nerves that the heat of summer brings to people who can't be outside to enjoy it.

For extra variety, there is also a smattering of drama.

And what better time is there than summer to get out to the theater. TV reruns, at best, are a mere sedative. Broadcasters know this is the season people get out and do things.

Below are the schedules. Look them over now and promise yourself you won't let the summer get by without seeing as many as possible.

PLAYHOUSE

June 10-22 — "The Fantasticks," a musical about love, fathers and Indians, with book and lyrics by Tom Jones.

June 24-29 — "Come Blow Your Horn," a comedy on the rebellion in the family of an artificial fruit magnate. Written by Neil Simon.

July 1-6 — "Reclining Figure," a mixing of art and romance by Harry Kurnitz.

July 8-13 — "Complaisant Lover," a new twist to the eternal triangle in a comedy by Graham Greene.

July 15-20 — "Here Today" and gone tomorrow are the kind of people portrayed in the comedy by George Oppenheimer.

July 22-27 — "Sunday in New York," a comedy in which love and the best man carry the day. Written by Norman Krasna.

July 29-Aug. 3 — "Calculated Risk," a suspense drama by Joseph Hayes, author of "Desperate Hours."

Aug. 5-10 — "A Shot in the Dark," a French comedy about a very pretty girl. Adapted by Harry Kurnitz.

Aug. 12-17 — "Champagne Complex," concerning the effects of champagne on different people, by Leslie Stevens.

Aug. 19-31 — "Shanghai Gesture," in which a Chinese New Year sets the stage for vengeance in the grand manner. By William Colton.

STADIUM

June 18-22: "Harvey," the Pulitzer Prize comedy by Mary Chase about a 6'1½" rabbit and his friend, Elwood.

June 26 - July 8: "Little Mary Sunshine," Rick Besoyan, a satire on operettas.

July 9-13 — "Children of Darkness," a high comedy about Newgate Prison inhabitants in 1725, by Edwin Justus Mayer.

July 16-20 — "The Chalk Garden," a play by Enid Bagnold about a houseful of fantastic people.

July 23-27 — "Inherit the Wind," a play by Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee based on the famous 1925 Scopes "Monkey" trial.

July 31 - Aug. 11 — "Where's Charley?", a popular musical adapted from the famous farce "Charley's Aunt" by Frank Loesser and George Abbott.

KENLEY

June 18-24 — "Anniversary Waltz," a comedy starring Raymond Burr.

June 25 - July 1 — "Show Boat," starring Howard Keel.

July 2-8 — "Come Blow Your Horn," with Merv Griffin and William Bendix.

July 9-15 — "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," with Phyllis McGuire and Peter Palmer.

July 16-22 — "Song of Norway," starring Patricia Morison.

July 30-Aug. 5 — "Rain," with Edie Adams as Sadie Thompson.

Aug. 6-12 — "West Side Story," with original stars and Bobby Rydell.

Aug. 13-19 — "South Pacific," with Dorothy Collins in Rodgers and Hammerstein's classic romance.

Aug. 27-Sept. 2 — "Holiday for Lovers," with Bob Cummings in the spotlight.

Sept. 3-9 — "The Wizard of Oz," with Brenda Lee.

NANCY REARDON will appear in the upcoming Playhouse on the Green production of "Come Blow Your Horn" (June 24-29). POG and Kenley Players both import name stars, while Stadium Theatre recruits its talent right from the Central Ohio area. The general idea, however, seems to be—see the stars under the stars.

4-H Members Have An Opportunity To Practice Horticulture At Home

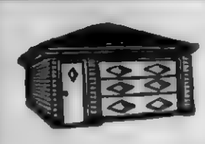
Since the early 1900's, 4-H boys and girls have watched the miracle of growth and enjoyed the bounty of nature through their garden projects. Hundreds of young horticulturists in town and country are literally knee-deep caring for their gardens, lawns, shrubs and trees.

Tested seeds, proven methods and latest scientific information for growing healthy plants are at the disposal of 4-H Club members enrolled in the garden program, reports the Cooperative Extension Service.

Beginners in the 10-12 year group may start right off by doing simple scientific experiments in seed germination. They also collect and identify weeds and insects.

Soil testing, plant study and experimentation with plant varieties are undertaken by older groups. The senior members, usually ranging in age from 15 to 21, continue with scientific exploration and become skilled at judging and demonstration.

Garden produce contributes one of the basic foods to family meals, while ornamental gardening beautifies the home for the enjoyment of all. Many 4-H'ers report cash profits from the sale of vegetables and flowers at roadside stands and local markets.



By the end of this year it is expected that close to 8,000 boys and girls in all 50 states will earn their first county garden medal. One deserving member will be selected for the state award which is a free trip to the National 4-H Club Congress. Eight national winners will receive $500 college scholarships, an increase of $100 over last year.

Awards are arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago, in cooperation with the Extension Service.

One accessory ever boater-photographer should own is a lens shade to keep the glare out of the camera eye, thus insuring sharper photographs. For those who like compactness, there are collapsibe lens shades to fit the skipper's pocket.

Enjoy Good Eating This Summer By Charcoal Cooking Your Meats

Remember the old Chinese fable of the man whose house caught fire and burned to the ground? As the story goes he found a pig in the remains and when he felt it, he burned his finger. It followed that the man popped his finger into his mouth to cool it, and found the taste of the cooled pig quite good. Thereafter, the not-too-resourceful man would build a house, place a pig inside, and burn the house down. As soon as the pig was charred the procedure was repeated.

Without placing too much faith in my recollection of the above account, it must be agreed that if a worthy pretext for so dangerous an experiment as setting houses on fire (especially in these days) could be assigned in favor of any culinary object, that pretext and excuse might be found in roast pig.

Rather than burning houses, why not try chips of wood for that wonderful outdoorsy flavor? Hickory, mahogany, oak, hard maple, mesquite and fruit woods such as apple and lemon, add that special something to meals that you can't get from the kitchen range.

To smoke-cook, you can use a charcoal fire in a barbecue with a hood or a lid that closes to make a smoker, a special smoke oven (Chinese type) or a smoke barrel.

Soak hickory chips in water or dampen hickory sawdust. Let charcoal fire burn down to low, even heat and add damp hickory or fruit woods. Place the food on a grill or spit and cover tightly. This is a slow process—you can't speed.

A tasty tip to remember is to brush liquid smoke or sprinkle smoke salt over the meat before cooking, or add it to the barbecue sauce.

The result can be a very tasty meal with all the flavor a well prepared outdoor meal can provide.

If Summertime Is Moving Time Prepare Yourself For The Worst

By FRANK RYAN

While the "good old summertime" is mainly thought of as a time for vacations, picnics and varied outdoor recreation, it is also a popular time of the year for the unpopular experience of moving.

The relocation from one residence to another with a minimum strain on the pocketbook and nervous system is possible if proper attention is paid to the important phase of "advance planning."

A move from one block to the next can cause something close to a nervous breakdown, while a 100-mile move can be accomplished with relative ease. The difference most often rests with whether you have looked over, or overlooked a number of important details.

If, for example, you are renting on a lease basis, you had better read the lease carefully before announcing your departure to the landlord. Most leases are specific regarding notification of intent to move. Unless you have arranged with the landlord for an exception to lease terms, it is advisable to plan your moving schedule consistent with lease terms.

If you are moving "into" a lease-rental agreement, read the terms carefully. You will be expected to live up to them. You can also expect that the landlord will meet his "lease" obligations.

A summertime move is particularly convenient where school children are concerned. It avoids uprooting the child in mid-term, and allows him time to acquaint himself with some of his new-neighborhood classmates. This can facilitate orientation for him in his new school.

But don't forget the little matter of registration, as far in advance as possible, in the new school, and notification of withdrawal from the present school. There is another important "registration" to take care of immediately upon moving — at the Board of Elections. If you are not currently registered, add this item to your list as a major responsibility.

Whether you are moving on a "do-it-yourself" basis, or turning the task over to the professionals, there are "advance planning" elements that can save time and money.

Time your moving so as to provide at least a couple of days overlap when you will have posession of both your present and future residence. This will allow you time to use the family car for moving most of the smaller items. Actual moving day can then be better organized for transport of bulky or heavy furniture and appliances.

Begin at least two weeks before moving date to pack and stack those items least likely to be used before you move. This is also a good time to toss out the mountain of junk you thought you "just might" be able to use some day. The "courageous" approach in this latter detail would be to have Mom clean out the garage, and Dad go through Mom's closet — with a guarantee of no questions asked.

Remember that moving day is an excellent time to have the smallfry visit "grandma." If she's not available, pick on a relative or friend at least a block from the moving scene.

When you have moved the final item into your new residence, stop by at the next door and introduce yourself to your new neighbors. Maybe they will invite you in for that much-needed cup of coffee.

Big Brother's Camp Now Open

Camp Oty'Okwa, a 526-acre camp for boys in the Hocking County State Park area, opened its 30th season of camping to all boys of the community June 14. Three one-week periods and two two-week periods are scheduled through Aug. 2.

This camp owned and operated by the Big Brother Association of Columbus, Inc., is being made available to all boys in the Central Ohio area between the ages of six and 17. Tuition is $26.50 for one week and $50 for two weeks.

This fee includes registration, transportation, camp counselling, food, lodging and insurance. There is no limit on the number of weeks a boy may attend. Boys are housed in groups of eight in Adirondack cabins, with a counselor for each group.

The camp director is assisted by selected college student counselors. Daily programs include swimming and life saving classes, camp crafts, overnight hikes, conservation, nature study and many other activities, including the use of donkeys as pack animals on overnight trips. Physical facilities include a dining hall, medical cabin, recreation building and a large modern swimming pool.

IN THE FINEST TRADITION of the circus, famed Ringling Bros. Barnum and Bailey Clown Lou Jacobs hams it up with showgirl Francesca Bishop. It's all part of another day when summer fun was anticipation of a seat in the Big Top with the stuffy smell of sawdust, the crispness of a barker's rasp and the sounds of a calliope. There may be a revival of interest with the Pollock Bros. Circus booked into Vets Memorial Nov. 27 through Dec. 1.

Summer Circus Fun Dies Here But May Return This Winter

By JOHN AUBLE, JR.

To anyone who's ever sat under the big top on a hot Saturday afternoon, the plight of circuses in the Columbus area is as hard to digest as stale popcorn.

Needless to say, the number of circuses in operation today is fast dwindling. The few remaining shows — Pollock Bros., Cole Bros, Clyde Beatty and the granddaddy Ringling Bros., Barnum and Bailey — are seeking greener pastures to pitch their big tents than the Columbus area.

There are a number of reasons for this this, as was pointed out this week by local promoters and booking agents.

First, there's a lack of space suitable for putting on a circus here. Talented promoter Ben Cowall told how he used to book the Ringling Show at the old Red Bird Stadium on Mound-st, and lamented over the lack of interest.

"It just wouldn't work outside," Cowall said. "you'd try to get lost in the circus magic and all of a sudden a glance at the right field fence and the whole image would vanish."

Seemingly the most logical location for a summertime circus would be the Coliseum at the Ohio State Exposition Center. But, according to Bill Onslow in the Exposition office, the Shrine Circus holds a five-year contract on that site which prohibits any other show from setting up shop there.

And even the Shrine Circus is not really a circus in the fines sense of the word. It doesn't have that certain traveling-road - show quality since it's usually various acts put together here for the benefit of dyed-in-the-sawdust circus lovers.

Cowall, in reminiscing about the old days of pink lemonade, snorting tigers and the curious smell of canvas, told of plans to bring the circus excitement back to the Capital City.

Alas, it won't be during the summer, but Cowall has booked the famed Pollock Bros. show into Veterans' Memorial from Wednesday, Nov. 27, through Sunday, Dec. 1. ("With half-price tickets for all kids," he says.)

Trying to capture circus thrills in the ultra-modern Vets auditorium may be a big task, but Ben thinks he can do it.

He's got a head start since the Pollock outfit is an authentic traveling road show with performers born into the circus world and credentials like these are what add to flavor.

Cowall visions clowns running up and down the aisles and is even bringing back the popcorn and peanut vendors who'll walk the far reaches of the auditorium selling their wares.

The 70x35-foot Vet stage will contain the customary three rings with calliope music piped in. It should be an interesting experiment here—and especially interesting since it'll be staged when snow should be covering the outside ground.

If nothing else, there are those who hope it'll revive a bit of Americana that has been lost too long.

Escape From Vehicle Under Water Possible If People Don't Panic

Lose your head and lose your life.

Every year about 400 persons in the country are drowned when trapped in cars submerged in water. Most of these deaths are unnecessary.

According to the Ohio State Patrol almost 100 percent of uninjured occupants of such vehicles could get out alive if they did not panic.

Extensive research has been made on escape techniques which anyone traveling this summer might well note.

Until recently, according to W. W. Middendorf of the Columbus Red Cross, the subject has been one entirely of conjecture and speculation.

In 1961, in cooperation with a graduate student of Indiana University who elected to write his thesis on this matter, the Michigan Police, the Michigan Health Highway Safety Council, the National Headquarters of the Red Cross and Scuba Divers conducted extensive tests to learn what happens when a car goes into water.

The incomplete study indicates that a pocket of air adequate for breathing will remain in the car long enough for the occupant to plan his escape.

Generally what must be done is to calmly allow the car to fill with water until inside pressure equals outside pressure and the doors may be easily opened.

The Ohio Patrol states that too many people spend their time frantically trying to open the doors ignoring the simple physical law of pressure and drown in the process.

Experiments showed that the weight of the engine will cause the car to descend vertically into the water regardless of its position at entry, and the windshield will be broken by the impact of the water.

As the water rushes in the air will be compressed into the rear of the car but in moments will reposition itself into the roof area of the car.

If the windows of the car are open, sometimes the car will come to rest in a wheels-up position which allows the air bubble to escape through the floor boards, lessening the chance for escape before drowning.

A small person may be able to float through a window before it is possible to open the doors, and the large rear window is made up of tempered glass which will disintegrate if given a sharp blow with a hammer or pointed instrument.

If the window is thus broken, the people in the car should wait until the water has stopped rushing in, as escape through the torrent is extremely difficult, and the air bubble is not affected by it.

Use of a safety belt is highly recommended as it will prevent the occupant from being tossed around during the accident and increases the chances of his remaining conscious.

However, it is suggested that once the car is motionless, that the passengers get into the back part of the car where most of the air will be trapped.

There is no hurry in leaving, as the air pocket will remain even with a wide-open door. Once ready to get out, one should take a deep breath and push for the surface. A conscious person can save an unconscious one by keeping the latter's head in the air pocket and then allowing him to float to the surface.

The State Highway Department notes that a spare tire makes an excellent life saver. Anyone witnessing others on the surface attempting to gain the shore can quickly throw a spare tire to the victims, as tests show that a tire with wheel will easily support four men.

Though Middendorf stressed that the results of the conclusions of the studies made are inconclusive at this time, all participating in the research agree completely that the life-saving secret is "Keep your head in the air pocket until the car is almost filled with water. KEEP YOUR SENSES AND DON'T PANIC."

Make Party Kabobs

Now that barbecue time lures us all outdoors here's a new kind of kabob, the "assemble-your-own" kind, to eat with the fingers. Most of the ingredients come from cans, so this is really a no-work barbecue — yet the combination is hearty and satisfying.

The secret is in the basting sauce, easily made by adding mustard, relish and mayonnaise to the convenient canned tomato sauce that blends them nobly together, without effort on your part. That good red sauce mingles the other flavors into one delectable barbecue medley.

Since the kabobs are planned to exactly fit hot dog rolls (you can measure them out in advance as well as prepare the sauce ahead of time), it's very easy to slip them from skewer to toasted roll. Serve with plenty of paper napkins, potato chips, and for dessert fresh fruit and cheese, thus leaving no clean-up after your feast. Too, this is an easy menu to prepare at the beach or park with a portable grill!

PARTY KABOBS

KABOBS:
- 6 wieners, each cut in thirds
- 1 (8-ounce) can whole onions
- 6 slices thick bacon cut crosswise in thirds
- 1 (8-ounce) can carrots

SAUCE:
- 2 (8-ounce) cans tomato sauce
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons prepared hot mustard
- 2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish

Library Has Many Books On Summer Fun Activities

"Operation outdoor" will begin shortly for many families as they begin summer vacations of camping, outdoor recreation, and sightseeing.

Numerous books that will be of interest to camping and outdoor enthusiasts are available at the Columbus Public Libraries.

One of the most comprehensive new manuals on camping is Leonard Miracle and Maurice Decker's "Complete Book of Camping", which covers every phase of camping from planning the trip and selecting proper equipment to outdoor cooking and living off the land.

Two other excellent recent guides — William Merrill's "All About Camping" and John Ledlie's "Camping Skills for Trail Living" — also offer invaluable advice for both the sportsman and vacationer.

Other available manuals include "The Complete Book of Camping and the Outdoors" by Larry Koller; "Woodsmoke" by Jaeger Ellsworth; "Outdoor Encyclopedia" by Theodore Kesting; 101 Camping-out Ideas and Activities" by Bruno Knobel; "Decentralized Camping; a Handbook" by Lois Goodrich; "On Your Own in the Wilderness" by Townsend Whelen and "Camping Annual" by Sports Afield Camping Annual.

Family camping, which has grown by leaps and bounds, is covered in newly published "Better Homes and Gardens Family Camping," Doris Patterson's "Your Family Goes Camping" and "Sunset Ideas for Family Camping."

Tips on woodsmanship, water travels, and how to survive in the wilderness are given in "Woodcraft" by Bernard Mason and "Cache Lake County" by Rowland John.

Up-to-date information on campgrounds, state and national parks and recreation areas in the U.S. and Canada is given in "The Guide to Campsites" by Camping Family Inc. and "The Handbook of Auto Camping and Motorist's Guide to Public Campsites and Campgrounds" by George Wells.

Material is also plentiful on boats and boating, fishing, hunting, nature study and other related material.

21 Miles Of New Park Hiking Trails

Twenty-one miles of new hiking trails have been opened to parkgoers at five state parks, announces V. W. Flickinger, chief of the Ohio Division of Parks. There are 14 new trails available. "Although the trails are being used at present, several are not yet marked with signs and the three trails at Hueston Woods; Butler and Preble Counties, are in the 'roughed in' state," cautioned Flickinger.

Here is a run-down on the new ones at Hueston Woods:

Tallawanda Trail — Two miles; starts near the cabin area, contains some scenic lookouts over Lake Action, goes through forest and open fields.

Gallion Run Trail — Two and one-half miles; starts at the camping area and is circular in design; goes through a remote and little-seen section of the park.

Hueston Trail—Two miles; goes from the camping area to the noted Hueston Woods, a virgin stand of beech and maple trees; trail also traverses a pine planting.

Lake Hope State Park, Vinton County, is offering four in addition to the existing ones:

Old Hollow Trail — One and one-tenth miles; starts south of the bridge at the upper end of Lake Hope and lies east of SR 278; passes the historic Hope Furnace graveyard that was started in 1853; offers excellent scenery, goes through a rock shelter.

Rocky Bluff Trail — Two miles; starts at King Road just off of SR 278; is circular in design, features beautiful scenery, cliffs and rock shelters.

Red Oak Trail — Seven-tenths of a mile; connects the camping area to the Habron Hollow Trail, traverses wooded slopes.

Habron Hollow Trail — Eight-tenths of a mile; goes through an interesting hardwood forest, is the finishing link from the camping area to Lake Hope.

Four new hiking ones have also been opened at Kiser State Park, Champaign County:

Lake View Trail — Five-tenths of a mile; begins back of the camping area and forms a loop, goes through a field of hawthorn trees; offers overlook of Kiser Lake.

Red Oak Trail — One mile; begins at the east side of the camping area, is circular in design, goes through an oak woods.

Possum Hollow Trail—One and one-tenth miles; begins on the southeast side of the lake near a picnic area, goes up a hollow and returns on a ridge; many wild flowers are seen here at certain seasons.

Pine Ridge — Eight-tenths of a mile; branches off of the Possum Hollow Trail, goes through a pine grove.

At Tar Hollow State Park, Ross and Hocking Counties, one has been opened and another is under development. The new one is called Ross Hollow Trail. It is three and five-tenths miles and begins at a parking lot near the Class C camping area and ends on the other side of the campground. It is not steep because it generally follows the contour around hills, goes through hardwood forest and some pines.

Opened late last fall were two at Findley State Park, Lorain County, that circle Findley Lake. Named the Pine Tree Trail and Hickory Grove Trail, they total three miles.

Swan Killers Get The Paddle

Last week our editorial by Jenkin Lloyd Jones drew much comment.

Down at Cincinnati this past weekend I was reminded of the article when I read a story in the Enquirer about the three boys who killed a swan.

Their punishment? The judge instructed the parents to use two wooden paddles in the right places, fined the boys $25 and ordered them to work until they were able to pay for the swan. After the paddlings the boys shook hands with their dads and apologized.

IN WHITEHALL, BEXLEY

Fireworks, Fun For Fourth

Stay-at-homers in Whitehall and in Bexley are assured of the most exciting Fourth of July holiday yet. Planning committees for the two celebrations have made it so.

Day-long programs in the two cities include events designed to appeal to the young-at-heart of any age.

Whitehall

Whitehall's opening parade down E. Broad-st at 1:30 p.m. will be followed by a continuous schedule of old-fashioned Fourth fun, with a midway, games and contests, baseball games, archery demonstration, pet shows, band concert and, in the evening, the "biggest-ever" fireworks display.

The parade's 25 units will include a marching band, honor and color guards and youngsters with decorated bicycles. Bicycles will be judged at 2 p.m.

Also at 2, an American Legion baseball game is scheduled on Whitehall High's baseball diamond.

A horseshoe tournament and the "midway," with booths operated by Whitehall organizations and churches, will be in progress on the Robinwood Plaza of Town and Country Shopping Center.

An archery demonstration, foot and sack races, and a tug of war for children are planned at 3:30 p.m.

Whitehall Fire Department will stage a water battle in the field south of Town and Country Shopping Center, across from the new post office on Robinwood, at 4 p.m.

Youngsters are invited to parade pets of all varieities at 4:30, and at 5, a dog show will be held with awards given to the winners.

Marches and typically Fourth of July music will be featured at the band concert at 6, and from 6 to 9 p.m., games will be held under a large tent at the end of the midway.

Whitehall Mayor Walter B. Moling will present awards won during the day at 7 p.m.

A teenage dance hop from 7:30 to 9 p.m., on the plaza's blacktop, will be emceed by disc jockey Bill Robinson.

At 9 p.m. a torch relay, moving from the plaza through Town and Country Shopping Center to Robinwood Field, will end with the fireworks display.

William LaRue, vice-president of the Eastern Columbus Jaycees, is general chairman of the celebration.

Bexley

From fireworks at 8 a.m., signaling the opening of Bexley festivities, to the fireworks display at 8 p.m., the program on the Fourth is jam-packed with fun.

All the holiday events, the huge parade, decorated bicycle contest, pool dedication and sidewalk art exposition are open to the public.

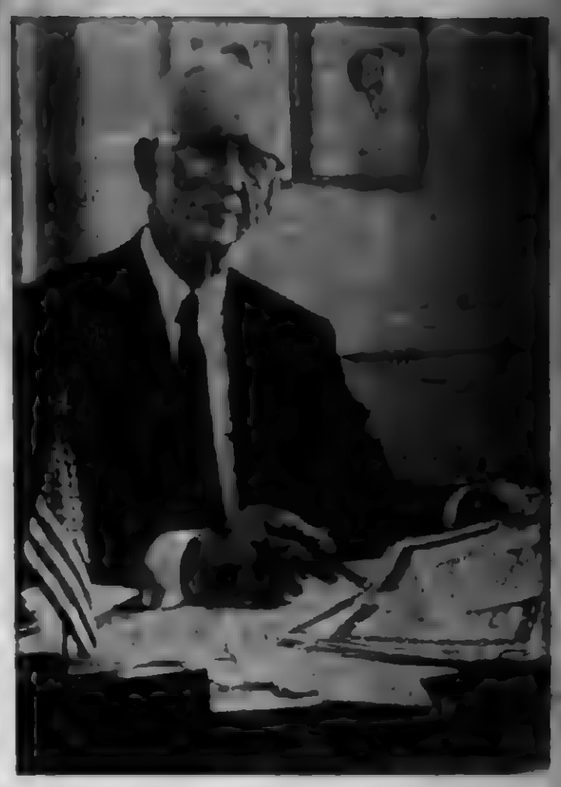
Only the evening fireworks display at Maryland School is restricted to members of the sponsoring Bexley Celebrations Association, their families and guests.

Membership in the association is open to any resident, and may be obtained through Dave Carruthers, BE. 7-1224 or CL. 2-1191.

The parade with more than 100 floats, all keyed to the theme "Famous American Sayings," will highlight the holiday. Preparations for the parade, all made in strictest secrecy, have been under way for weeks behind garage and basement doors.

C. C. Crabbe, 89 Bullit Park-pl, has been named honorary parade chairman this year, in recognition of his patriotic contribution to the community with his annual Flag Day celebrations.

Entries are still being accepted for the parade. Rules are simple and every resident, club or neighborhood group is invited to enter a float. Full information is available from Jim Legg, president of the Bexley Celebrations Association, BE. 5-1781.



The parade will begin at Maryland School at 8:45 a.m., move down Roosevelt-av to Mound-st, travel on Mound to Cassady, and end at Cassingham School.

Seven trophies for outstanding floats will be presented to winners during the fireworks display.

Children may enter their decorated bicycles in competition planned at 8:45 a.m. at Maryland School, and the smaller fry are invited to enter decorated tricycles in the contest at Cassingham School, scheduled immediately after the parade.

The new Bexley Swimming Pool at Jeffrey Park, in operation since last Saturday, will be officially dedicated on July 4, 3:30 p.m.

A sidewalk art exposition will be conducted by members of the Bexley Art Guild in front of First Federal Bank, 2450 E. Main-st, from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m.

C. C. CRABBE, 34, an attorney for 60 years and a past Ohio attorney general, was named honorary chairman of the Bexley Fourth of July Parade, in recognition of his service to the community with his annual Flag Day observances.

Bexley To Honor Its Distinguished Citizen At July 4 Celebration

By BETTY DAFT

One of Bexley's most patriotic citizens will be honored by a grateful city on, appropriately enough, the country's Independence Day.

C. C. Crabbe, 89 Bullit Park-pl, was selected as honorary parade chairman by the sponsoring group of the city's Fourth of July observance, Bexley Celebrations Committee, as an expression of thanks for his annual Flag Day program.

Launched nine years ago by Crabbe with the gift of new flags to six neighborhood children, the event has grown through each succeeding June 14 to its present proportions of an impressive ceremony with more than 400 attending.

Each year the celebration, started originally on Bullit Park-pl, has included more of the surrounding area until, this June, it had grown so big Crabbe organized a committee to help with the planning.

The resulting organization, acting on a motion made by Bexley Mayor William Schneider, named Crabbe president for life.

One of Ohio's oldest practicing attorneys and former attorney general of the state, Crabbe started his 60th year in the profession in June.

Looking back on a richly satisfying life of personal fulfillment of his ambitions, professional success in his chosen field with only an elementary education, and an enviable record of service to his community, city and state, Crabbe speaks with moving sincerity of a country in which all this is possible.

"In no other country could a man, without formal education, become a professional, and even hold a state office in his profession. Sixty years ago this could happen, by studying at night and passing an examination."

Born in a Madison County farm Nov. 1, 1878, third in a family of 11 children, Crabbe's only formal education was in elementary grades.

Since there was no high school in that section of the county, he was unable to attend secondary grades or enter college.

All but one of the family of 11 became educators, and Crabbe taught in a rural school for seven years while he studied law at night with the aid of books borrowed from London lawyers.

"Instruction was different then," he mused, "as different as today's schools are from those when all ages, six to 20, were taught by one teacher. Some of the students were about the same age as the teacher.

"Most learning was done by memory — we memorized everything and had such memory exercises as learning the ABCs backward."

That early memory training, sharpened by years of legal practice with the need to retain so much information in his mind, is much in evidence with Crabbe. He has an astonishing recollection of a lifetime of experiences.

Admitted to the bar in June, 1904, he began to practice law in London. Three terms as prosecuting attorney of Madison County, 1913 to 1919, was his first public office.

He served two terms in the state legislature, 1919 to 1923, and was speaker pro tem and majority leader of the House of Representatives.

Crabbe served as attorney general of Ohio from 1923 to 1927, and then retired to private practice of law. He is now head of the legal firm of C. C. Crabbe and Silliman, with offices at 8 E. Broad-st, Columbus.

A resident of Bullit Park-pl for 40 years, he reminisces on the changes in the area.

"It was quite different then. Mostly pasture and fields, with quail and rabbits and trees. Only 25 years before we moved there, in 1898, the land to the east was Camp Bushnell, and a troop of soldiers trained there during the Spanish-American War.

"Nice homes now stand on the open fields between Broad and Main that we used to cut across in the first automobiles, in 1908, '09 and '10."

Mr. and Mrs. Crabbe, married 59 years, are parents of a son, J. Roth Crabbe, of 22 S. Stanwood, also a prominent Columbus attorney and a member of Bexley Council.

They have one granddaughter, Mrs. Michael Dehlendorf, 2702 Burnaby-dr, and two great-grandchildren.

His youthful enthusiasm for life and all its opportunities makes no concession to advancing years.

At 84, Crabbe is at the office every day, welcoming each new challenge with the same eagerness that has guided him through the dramatic changes of practicing country law with its rustic fence disputes, to the more sophisticated legal problems of state affairs and city practice.

Don't Forget To Fly 'Old Glory' On The 4th

How long since you displayed the American flag on Independence Day?

Unfurling the flag and placing it in a conspicuous place has lately become a forgotten obligation for many persons who in time of need, would not hesitate to give their lives to protect the principles which it symbolizes.

It is easy to let the hustle and bustle of holiday planning and excitement of celebration make us forget what we are celebrating or why July Fourth has been set aside for special recognition.

Next week our nation will observe the 187th anniversary of the ratification of the Declaration of Independence by tht original 13 colonies.

This should indeed be a time for celebration, but it could also be an observance of the great event we are celebrating. What better way to mark this day than by proudly displaying "Old Glory."

If you have not yet joined in making your street an "Avenue of Flags," be sure to make plans now to add your flag to those of your neighbors.

Because of the many requests for the new 50-star flags being offered at a special rate by this newspaper, another supply has been purchased by Hartley Newspapers for Independence Day.

Included with the big 3x5 color-fast cotton flag is a six-foot wooden staff, halyard, top decoration, window socket and book on flag etiquette. This kit, which usually sells for $5.98, along with a one-year subscription to your favorite Hartley Newspaper, valued at $3, can be purchased during this limited offer for the special combination price of only $5.

On the inside pages of this paper you will find an advertisement telling you all about this offer. Fill in the coupon in the ad and mail it with your check or money order to Hartley Newspapers, 2465 W. Broad-st.

Your flag will be delivered immediately, and your subscription will begin with the next issue. If already a subscriber, one year will be added to your current subscription expiration date.

Don't let this Independence Day pass without displaying "Old Glory" in front of your home. Be sure to order your flag today.

Sitton Joins Hartley Staff

An experienced newspaper man and former publisher of the Pasadena, Tex., Daily Citizen, B. C. "Bill" Sitton has joined the Hartley Newspapers organization in the capacity of administrative assistant to C. Carlton Hartley, publisher.

Sitton was at one time advertising manager of ten metropolitan weeklies in Texas and until recently was business manager of the Arizona Journal at Phoenix.

He is a graduate of the University of Texas, 36 years old and father of three children.

WHITEHALL GARBAGE HASSLE

Mayor Vetoes Council 'Back Pay' Ordinance

Whitehall Mayor Walter B. Moling announced his veto of the controversial ordinance authorizing payment of $13,773 in retroactive garbage collection fees.

The mayor's veto is backed by a formal opinion from City Solicitor Paul Haytcher, who questions council's right to authorize such a payment.

"This is a matter of law which should be decided by the court," Mayor Moling declared. He said he would encourage councilmen to sustain his veto in order to expedite settlement of the problem through adjudication.

Haytcher based his legal opinion on a section of Ohio law dealing with local government contracts for work and services. A portion of the statute, seen by Haytcher as applicable to the garbage "back pay dilemma," concerns modification of contracts.

The state law stipulates that a contract modification does not take effect until so ordered by the service director and approved by the board of control.

Application of the state statute to the contract with North Haulage would require Service Director Robert Mickey to order the payment, subject to the approval of the Board of Control. The board is comprised of Mayor Moling, Mickey and Service Director Richard Moling.

"The Municipality," Haytcher said, "can only contract and obligate itself in a manner set forth in the statutes." This, he said, was the basic premise in reaching his legal opinion.

In citing a second premise, Haytcher said: "It is incumbent upon those entering into contract with the city to ascertain that the city has complied wih the statutes."

"Under the circumstances," Haytcher concluded, "I don't think that, in good conscience, the city should make this payment voluntarily."

Mrs. Ethel Wohlstein, 4669 E. Broad-st, sold furniture with a recent fast-action Hartley Newspapers' Want Ad. Everyting went and she received wonderful response. Put this result power to work for you and get extra cash for "don't wants." Dial BR. 4-1155 now.

North Firm Consultants End Contract

Whitehall Attorney James Maxwell, Jr., announced that the consultant firm in which he is a partner has terminated its contract for management of North Haulage.

Maxwell stressed that severing of all business relations with the garbage hauling firm was by mutual agreement, and that he will continue as legal counsel for North in the effort to collect $13,773 in back fees from the City of Whitehall.

Maxwell and Columbus businessman Joseph Smith were retained by the North firm as consultant in May of this year. Maxwell said that termination of the consultant agreement will also end efforts to purchase North Haulage from the present owners.

Confederate Jackpot Grows

There is $114 in "Confederate" cash awaiting the winner of the Hartley Newspapers' "Confederate Money" Contest Jackpot this week.

There were no winners last week, which means the entire total of $25 offered in last week's contest has been added to the jackpot.

Be sure and look for the "Confederate Money" story in this edition of your newspaper for rules and details of this contest. You could be $114 richer for the effort.

Early News, Ad Deadlines Set For Next Issue

Because of the July Fourth holiday, the Hartley Newspapers office will be closed Thursday, July 4.

Early deadlines have been set for all news and advertising material so that all papers can be published and delivered a day earlier.

General news matter and correspondence must be in by Monday noon. Wedding announcements, social and church news must be received by Saturday noon.

Deadline for classified advertising is 10 a.m. Monday for all papers.

Display advertising deadline for all papers is Monday noon.

BEXLEY POOL IS NOW OPEN

Bexley Community Swimming Pool, delayed by a series of small problems, was opened last Saturday at noon, with William Birch, president of the Bexley Civic Improvement Association, presiding at the ribbon-cutting ceremony.

Formal dedication of the pool will be held July 4, 3:30 p.m.

EASTVIEW METHODISTS TO BUILD NEW CHURCH

CONSTRUCTION ON THE NEW Eastview Methodist Church, to be built at a cost of $300,000 at 4456 Josephus-ln, Whitehall, is scheduled to start about Aug. 1. The structure will be ready for occupancy early in 1964. The new church will provide seating for 600 in the airconditioned sanctuary, and a church school area to accommodate 600. The 66 members of the original, charter congregation held their first service Oct. 3, 1954. The church, now numbering 759 members, has outgrown its first building at the Josephus-ln address. Ralph Orr and Son were architects of the building. General chairman of the Church Building Council is Robert Wyckoff, 976 Westphal-av.

Harper's Weekly carried Thomas Nast's first cartoon depicting an elephant as the symbol of the Republican Party, Nov. 7, 1874.

Sawvel Defends Rate Scale

The Sawvel water report controversy boiled anew Tuesday morning during a public hearing in Columbus City Council chambers as J. W. Sawvel, Findlay consultant, defended the plan he submitted to the city.

The Sawvel water rate formula has been criticized by the Development Committee for Greater Columbus because it failed to provide cost-of-service data. The Development Committee recommended that the city reject the water rate formula in favor of an across-the-board increase to meet immediate needs.

The Development Committee's evaluation of the Sawvel report called for a cost-of-service study to be completed within 18 months, and used as a basis for determining the most equitable application of permanent rates.

In an opening statement at Tuesday's public hearing, Sawvel was particularly critical of the cost-of-service study recommendation.

"Anybody who talks about a cost-of-service study doesn't know what they are talking about," Sawvel said. He set a cost of $100,000 on such a study and opined that recommendations of such a study would not be followed.

In a direct reference to the Development Committee, Sawvel said: "From some of the questions raised by the Development Committee, it is quite obvious that the report has not been studied."

Robert F. Mott, Development Committee executive director, read a short statement during the discussion period following Sawvel's opening remarks. Mott said he was "appalled" at the consultant's cost-of-service views. Mott left the meeting after his brief comment, but promised a further statement for the continuation of the public hearing Thursday afternoon in council chambers.

Mrs. Fritz Saenger, representing the League of Women Voters, told Sawvel and councilmen that the league believes that "any rate increase must be based upon an impartial and objective analysis of cost-of-service if it is to be acceptable to all who must use the service."

In listing specific league criticisms, Mrs. Saenger cited lack of a detailed analysis of all costs, lack of evidence of fair and equitable rates and lack of justification for surcharge increases.

City officials participating in the meeting included Mayor W. Ralston Westlake, City Council President Mrs. Golda May Edmonston and Councilmen Tom Moody, William Fornoff and William Hoermle.

'BIGGEST EVER' GIRLS' STATE CLOSES

17TH ANNUAL SESSION of the Ohio American Legion Auxiliary's Buckeye Girls' State came to a close on Capital University Campus June 23. The mythical government was organized and operated by 1200 girls in the largest session ever held. Among them were area girls and their offices, from left, back row, Frances McLaren, Bishop Hartley High, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. John P. McLaren, 1505 Pine-st, LAFB, State Auditor's Cabinet; Sally Seckel, Eastmoor High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Seckel, 2614 Berwick-blvd, superintendent State Schools; Joy Crook, Walnut Ridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crook, 1753 Jason-dr, state treasurer; Diane Tamanine, Walnut Ridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Tamanine, director Mental Hygiene and Correction; Kathryn Coleman, East High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Price, 1642 Franklin-av, State Representative; Lynda Medors, Bexley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Medors, 214 N. Cassady, president City Council, and kneeling in front, Ruthie Finley, Whitehall-Yearling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Finley, 991 Westphal, chief of Mental Hygiene; Angie Richardson, Eastmoor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Richardson, 3280 Columbus-ct, City Board of Education, and Carla Coffman, Bexley, niece of Mrs. Pettengill, 821 S. Cassingham-rd, press and member House of Representatives.

Named To Dean's List At Capital

Judy Holt, 1036 Grandonav, was one of the two students at Capital University who recorded a perfect "four point" grade average (straight A's) to head the list of 22 students from the Columbus area included on the Dean's List at the end of the current semester.

Also on the list of students attaining at least a 3.4 average is Jacquelyn Huget, 2154 E. Main-st, and Elizabeth Waymire, 3646 E. Main-st. Three points is a B average, four points is an A average.

Drives Will Be ReplacedQuickly

Residents of Livingston-av between Hamilton- and Country Club-rds were promised immediate access to their homes with work on the replacement of driveways already begun.

The improvement and widening of Livingston-av resulted in removal of sections of the driveways. The Complete General Construction Co. which held the street contract is having the work done by a subcontractor.

Sanitation Dept. Asks Assistance

The Division of Sanitation asks residents who have front pickups to place their containers at the front of their homes one day earlier than their regular pickup day. This request is being made because of the July Fourth holiday.

The division, which expects to do five days' service in four days' time, hopes to have all routes caught up to date by Monday, July 8. All crews will work until the routes are completed.

Trio Files For School Board Slots

Three Columbus men got the jump on the Board of Education race this week by filing their petitions as candidates at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday (today).

The men are: John E. Nippert, industrialist, 1615 Berkeley-rd; Donald E. Calhoun, Jr., attorney, 216 W. Beechwold-blvd, and Paul R. Langdon, 75 Powhatan-av, eight year veteran of school board service and incumbent board president.

Together with a fourth man, Dr. William Logan, 431 Blenheim-pl, the group has taken similar stands on board policies and duties.

Nippert is a former Hilltopper and vice-president and treasurer of Nippert Electric Products Co., 1759 W. Mound-st.

Two years ago he was named chairman of the local Statehouse Conference on Education. He has served on various committees for the Columbus Public School System, and has been active in PTA work at Marion-Franklin High School and was one of the founders of the Smith Road PTA.

Calhoun, a former South Sider and graduate of South High, maintains law offices on the North Side and was appointed last Jan. 2 to complete the term of Mrs. Ralph Davidson who resigned in December.

He is chairman of the citizens committee which last spring organized and held 138 local seminars throughout the city to air parent-school relationship views and discuss educational values.

The attorney said he was impressed by the present school administration which had "built another school system in 10 years," since enrollment has increased from 46,000 to 93,000 students in that time.

"I should like to be part of the continuing effort for quality development of the techniques and devices in the years just ahead for Columbus school programs," he stated.

Hilltopper Langdon has served on the board for nearly eight years and is in his second term as president of that body.

Area Law Officer Graduate Of Southern Police Institute

Capt. William O. Born, 2773 Bellwood-av, Bexley, member of the Columbus Police Department, was graduated June 14 from a course in police science and administration at the Southern Police Institute, University of Louisville, Ky., with a 94.3 average.

The institute is designed to give veteran police officers advanced training in the latest methods of law enforcement. Thirty officers from 13 states, the U.S. State Department, the Philippines and Thailand were in the graduating class.

Capt. Born, 43, joined the Columbus Police Department in 1946, and was promoted to sergeant in 1953.

Four years later he was made a lieutenant, and his promotion to captain became effective May 12 of this year.

He has attended Capital University, and has had Northwestern University supervisors' training.

Capt. and Mrs. Born are parents of a son, Russell, 17, and a daughter, Mrs. Linda Rich of 627 N. Columbia.

He has also been chairman of the finance committee, has been active in representing the local board and the Ohio School Boards' Association, to which he has been a delegate with education committees of the Ohio Legislature.

Langdon emphasized that "good business practices" must be applied when a school board spends millions of dollars each year.

In other activities, Langdon is currently president of the Columbus chapter, Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants and has served in several positions with the Financial Executives Institute.

He has also served as vice-president of the Columbus chapter, National Office Management Association, divisional chairman of the Vocational Guidance Committee and has been secretary to the Board of Trustees of Malone College, Canton, O.

Nippert said the four were generally agreed on ways to continue improving educational facilities for students who plan to enter college and on expanding the vocational education program for others.

He also said the board should publicize and increase adult education facilities in city schools, and to better the distributive education program.

ARC 25 Will Appreciate Your Support

Reynoldsburg's ARC 25, joining the council of Aid for Retarded Children in sponsoring the Sunday, July 7 performance of the Kenney Players' production of "Come Blow Your Horn," to be held in the Veterans Memorial Building, 250 W. Broad-st, say the support of all "First Nighters" would be appreciated.

"Whether you are a regular follower of the Kenley Players or would just like an evening of enjoyable entertainment, ARC 25 will need your help in this project," a spokesman for the organization stated.

Tickets for the 7:30 p.m. performance, starring Merv Griffin and William Bendix, may be ordered through ARC 25 president, Mrs. John Irvine, by calling 866-4409. Seats are $2.50 each.

Cub Pack 287 Holds Annual Dads Outing

By BOB SIEBEL

Bliss Carman wrote an open letter from a hospital bed, Christmas 1920, "There is virtue in the open; there is healing out of doors. The Great Physician makes His rounds along the forest floors."

With this thought in mind the fathers of Cub Scout Pack 287, sponsored by the Etna Road Elementary School Parent-Teachers Association, held their 12th annual Father-Son Outing at Tar Hollow State Park over the past [illegible].

Under the leadership of Cubmaster John A. Blair, 4564 Broadhurst-dr, this year's campout began on a cold Friday afternoon and ran through Sunday.

The fathers find that getting together in these organized activities brings each boy closer to his dad. Each hour they organized parties for swimming, hiking, nature walks and games. Nighttime found everyone grouped around the campfire until bedtime. Then the thrill of sleeping out with dad brings a flutter to many a young heart that has waited patiently for the annual event. Dad also got his opportunity to show his prowess behind the stove as each of the fathers formed a team to cook each meal and perform "KP."

As in each year in the past, the boys always seem to find a souvenir or two by bringing home o mom such valuable articles as live garter snakes, frogs, toads, turtles and salamanders. How much mom appreciates these nice gifts will probably never be known.

LED IN PRAYER by Wayne J. Cornwell, 4379 Allen-dr (standing), who held church service Sunday morning, the boys bow reverently in a circle. Other dads shown attending are, from left, Donald Hall, 682 Bernhard-rd, Edward W. Johnson, 4518 Broadhurst-dr, and Stanley W. Young, Jr., 870 Ross-rd.

CHOW TIME IS A HAPPY TIME for all. This was one time when it was no trouble to get everyone together at the same time.

Midwest Horse Show, Rodeo Set For Fairgrounds

More than half of the 50 states will be represented in the 15th annual Midwestern Horse Show and Rodeo to be held July 6 to 7 in the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

There will be 156 classes with divisions for Appaloosas, Arabians, Morgans, Palominos, Quarter Horses, Western Horses and Ponies, with a fine display of calf roping, calf cutting, rodeo and girls' barrel racing events.

Performances will be held at 7:30 p.m. July 3, 4, 5 and 6, and at 1:30 p.m. July 4, 6 and 7.

Admission is $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for children with no extra charges.

New ZIP Numbers Assigned

After July 1 Columbus and outlying post offices will join the nation in using the new ZIP numbers assigned. The ZIP (Zoning Improvement Plan) numbers, introduced to speed up the handling and delivery of mail, consist of three digits plus the resident's zone number.

As 432 has been assigned to Columbus and the center downtown Columbus is in zone 15, a letter addressed to the Capitol Building would use the Zip number, 43215. The five digits replace the use of a zone number and come after the name of the state.

As ane postmaster pointed out, "The ZIP code is literally the last word in mail addressing."

Central Ohio numbers include:

Amlin, 43002; Blacklick, 43004; Buckeye Lake, 43006; Centerburg, 43011; Delaware, 43015; Dublin, 43017; Etna, 43018; Gahanna, 43020; Galena, 43021; Granville, 43023; Hebron, 43025; Hilliard, 43026; Johnstown, 43031.

Kirkersville, 43033; Maryville, 43040; Mt. Vernon, 43050; New Albany, 43054; Newark, 43055; Pataskala, 43062; Plain City, 43064; Powell, 43065; Reynoldsburg, 43068.

Sunbury, 43074; Urbana, 43078; Westerville, 43081; Worthington, 43085.

Ashville, 43103; Baltimore, 43105; Brice, 43109; Canal Winchester, 43110; Circleville, 43113; Galloway, 43119; Grove City, 43123; Groveport, 43125; Harrisburg, 43126; Lancaster, 43130; Lithopolis, 43136; Lockbourne, 43137.

POST-COLOR CUES

We're so glad you've done it . . . let us color your hair, that is. We know you feel wonderful . . . younger, brighter, better-set to meet the world. Think of the compliments you'll receive when you leave our salon. Don't soar off on a colorful cloud until we give you some special advice. Colorful hair deserves special care.

TOSS AWAY YESTERDAY

Your new hair-shade has changed your skin's appearance. It brings out the glow of color-pigments you never realized you had. Now you're ready for different cosmetics such as lighter lipsticks, off-beat eyeshadow and colors you never before could wear. That's only half the fun of hair color . . . we'll show you and we'll tell you of special hair-color hair-care needs.

SHOW-OFF SHAMPOOS

Trust us to keep you at your colorful best! New-colored hair needs special formula shampoo care . . . one for tints, one for bleached shades. Even your "toner" helps determine the shampoo choice. Colored hair "handles" in a way all its own. We rinse in helpers to give you the new knack. Color is fun and flattering. Make your regular date with beauty with us now!

Calling All Young Clowns! Here's Your Big Chance

Boys and girls who've always wanted to be clowns will have their big moment Friday . . . right in front of City Hall.

At 2 p.m. June 28 youngsters from all over the city are invited to take part in a big clown contest sponsored by the City Recreation Department. All should be dressed in clown costumes and registered with a playground leader. Parents are urged to provide transportation.

Bob "Flippo" Marvin will be emcee. Four prominent judges will award three place ribbons in the following categories; cutest, saddest, happiest, funniest, most original, and special.

Boys are to assemble on the northeast side of City Hall; girls on the southeast.

Playground Tourneys Continue, Softball Starts

FEATHERED AND FURRY pets by the scores were proudly paraded by their youthful owners in annual sectional pet shows held last Friday night by the City Recreation Department. East area playgrounds participated in the events held at Schiller and at Krumm Parks. Entrants at Schiller included, at left, Nancy Mara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Mara, from Scottwood Playground, and her parakeet "Dusty." The replica of a bird, placed in the cage as a companion for Dusty, is so lifelike it takes a keen eye to distinguish the real parakeet from the pseudo bird. Nympha Thompson, at right, entered her black cat "Midnight" in the show. Nympha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haymen Thompson, 1635 S. Hampton-av, and represented Leawood Playground.

With pet shows behind them, city-supervised playgrounds are now shifting the theme to clowns. Clown contests will be held this week at individual playgrounds.

The city-wide clown contest will be held at City Hall Friday, June 28, 2 p.m. and is open to all boys and girls.

Playground tournaments in tetherball, four-square and horseshoes are continuing through this week, and sectional tourneys will be held July 2 and 3, before the city-wide finals.

Softball League play started this week, with Junior Intermediate and Senior boys and girls playing teams from other area playgrounds.

This week's reports from area playgrounds are as follows:

Willis Park . . .

Playground leaders for this summer at Willis Park are Don Davis and Janet Adams.

Crafts this week, will be making papier mache clowns, weaving, and painting, during arts and crafts hours, 1:30 to 3 p.m.

The pet fair was held last Thursday at Willis Park, with 73 contestants parading their animals.

Winner in the prettiest category was Andy Keenan, and winner of the smallest was George Snyder. Prize for the most unusual went to Steve Granlund who had a monkey as a pet.

The clown contest was held June 26 at Willis Park, and participants will compete in a city-wide contest held at City Hall Friday, June 28.

Tetherball, horseshoe and four-square tournaments will also be held this week.

Willis Park will have four softball teams at the playground, including junior boys, junior girls, intermediate boys, and intermediate girls. League play in softball started last week.

Junior Jets baseball teams are also organized and there is still time for any boys between the ages of eight and 12 years to join the teams before league play starts. Teams wil play most of their league games at 6 p.m., and each team wil play twice a week.

Courtright . . .

Courtright Playground had 19 entrants in its annual pet show June 20.

Third prize winners were Janet Schmittauer, Tim Lord, and Chris Wurtsmith with their dogs, and Susan Wiley with her kitten.

This week, Courtright will initiate a full atheletic program.

Junior Jet season will get under way with the eight and nine year-olds playing on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and the 10, 11 and 12 year-olds will play Mondays and Wednesdays.

Fairmoor . . .

At last Thursday's Fairmoor Playground pet show, 50 pets were entered and mort than 150 spectators and exhibitors were present.

The Junior Jet Leagues are beginning this week, with four teams in the eight and nine league and five teams in the 10, 11 and 12 league.

Coaches of the teams are Joe Pierce, Steve Gasto and Mark Gussler, Pat Zill, Denny Arnold and Rusty Powell, Tom Findley, Jay Tyo, Dan Fleming, Ron Harper and Terry Kinney.

The eight and nine teams play at 6 on Wednesday and Friday and the 10, 11, and 12 teams play at 6 on Tuesday and Thursday.

Make Legislators Pay City Tax, CIRC Asks

The Citizens' Industrial Research Committee of Reynoldsburg has called for a taxpayers' suit to force all state legislators to pay the Columbus city income tax.

In a letter to Columbus City Attorney John Young, the CIRC called attention to a section of the city tax law that includes "governmental bodies" in defining an employer."

The letter charged that "special interest groups appear to be exempt, while others must abide by the law."

The CIRC declared that 99 per cent of the gross earnings of Reynoldsburg residents, is subject to the Columbus city income tax. Reynoldsburg, the group contends, cannot impose a city income tax on its residents without "double taxation," because Columbus does not allow a reciprocity.

Columbus officials, the group contends, are reluctant to attempt collection from state legislators out of fear of reprisal legislation.

One state senator, a group spokesman said, admitted he did not pay the Columbus income tax, that he was "never pressed" for it, "and is not about to be pressed for it."

"The city attorney's office is aware of one county official and several judges who will not pay this tax," the committee member said. "We are advised they will not attempt to collect the tax because of possible repercussions."

In the letter to Young, Mrs. Frank P. Jones said:

"We believe collection of taxes from the now-exempt legislators is in order. If this cannot be done legally, we await explanation."

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

Unfortunate Incident Puts Tuna On Trial

Fruits—Peaches, watermelons, bananas, cantaloupes

Vegetables—Greenhouse tomatoes, new potatoes, home grown lettuce, cabbage, beets, snap beans

Meats and Poultry—Fryers, eggs, beef "specials," cured pork products, ground beef

Other—Milk, cheese, ice cream, canned food "specials."

Recently an unfortunate incident occurred in the tuna fish industry that has put this large food business on trial. Many consumers have dropped tuna from their shopping lists and the future of the industry is endangered. Is such precaution necessary for safety?

Mrs. Franks

Most people in this country enjoy the food they eat and have little doubt that it's wholesome. They are confident that the U.S. Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, along with five other consumer-protection laws, such as U.S. Department of Agriculture Meat Inspection, will insure that food are safe, pure, wholesome, and honestly and informatively labeled and packaged.

The Food and Drug Administration's jurisdiction, alone, covers about $110 billion worth of foods, drugs, cosmetics and hazardous household chemical aids marketed each year. In 1961, the FDA made 38,735 establishment inspections, collected 44,486 samples of products produced in the U.S. and 14,502 samples of imported products. They also made 1,038 seizures to remove illegal goods from the market and started 269 criminal prosecutions. These were only part of the many things done by FDA to insure that our food supply is safe.

Still, accidents will happen. In the case of tuna, the unfortunate incident occurred in Detroit, where a single can of tuna fish was found to be contaminated by Type E botulinus toxin. George P. Larrick, Commissioner of Food and Drugs, stated that this was the first botulism poisoning to come to FDA's attention in over 35 years, where canned foods commercially packed in the U.S. were concerned. Every precaution has been taken to insure that all tuna fish remaining on grocery shelves is safe.

Yet, tuna fish sales have dropped and a large industry is seriously endangered. A West Coast tuna packing company announced it was closing its doors and 800 employes would be out of work because of lack of tuna orders.

What can homemakers do? First of all, remember that the chances of getting unsafe food are very remote, but if you want to take additional precaution, Mr. Larrick urges all homemakers, as a matter of course, to smell any food—wheher prepard in the home or in a commercial plant—and to discard without tasting any which appear "off." The contents of any swelled or bulging can should never be accepted as suitable for use.

It's safe to say that eventually consumers will return to their normal buying habits, but the sooner they do, the smaller the harm that will be felt by those in the tuna industry.

THE SWEET TASTE OF SUCCESS

TOM MYERS (right) and Bob Marlow show their appreciation to two very hot putters Sunday afternoon after the pair nailed down berths for the $50,000. Professional Putters Association National Championship Tournament, scheduled for Cleveland next weekend. The pair topped a field of 13 golfers Sunday in a 72-hole qualifying round at the Putt-Putt Course on Hamilton-rd. Myers, from Savannah, Ga. finished with a four-over-par 148 while Marlow, of 2387 Indianaav, Columbus, closed out one stroke behind.

Who 'Killed' Scheffing: Management Or Labor?

Add the name of Robert Scheffing to the list of "strikeouts" in that hazy, crazy year-round game of manager shuffling.

It was Detroit GM Jim Campbell's turn to try the slight of hand last week and Campbell turned up Charley Dressen.

THE SCRIPT was the same. Only the names were changed. Scheffing took the ax graciously, whistling "just one of those things" while Campbell automatically repeated that old stock expression about "It's not the manager's fault, we just aren't winning ball games."

If Scheffing had any doubts about his standing with the Detroit organization, Campbell settled the issue several weeks ago with a vote of confidence—baseball's method of honing the blade.

In plain, simple American, Scheffing got the gate because Norm Cash and Rocky Colavito's collective BA is an unimpressive .226. How well Dressen can boost skidding averages will undoubtedly decide his term of office.

OF COURSE, Dressen's chances for success are infinitely better according to modern-day front office logic. After all, Charlie's been around — around Cincinnati, Brooklyn, Milwaukee and Washington.

Dressen is a prime example of thought that reads, "ex-managers never die, they just join the waiting list."

The American League has taken up the slack this year after the senior circuit tired of the game after a major upheaval in '62. Only Milwaukee switched skippers in the NL but "new faces of '63" opened in Cleveland, Boston, KC and Washington this spring.

THE LONGEVITY of the managerial term has grown so short in recent years that it's no longer uncommon to change horses in midstream. The end result has been a large crop of understudies waiting in the wings for their brief stint on the stage.

There is a front office misconception that the only cure for field collapse is a change in managers. This is probably more responsible than anything else for the heavy traffic.

After all, what better way is there to quiet howling fans and coddle difficult ball players than to replace the middleman.

YOU CAN CHIDE Phil Wrigley about keeping the Cubs out of the ballpark after dark, but don't be so quick to shortchange his "manager of the week" plan. All Wrigley actually is doing is keeping a ready supply on hand.

Even more popular than the shuffling game is the guessing game. Who's next? Best bets are LA's Walter Alston and Baltimore's Billy Hitchcock. Alston has weathered some pretty severe storms in his career but the magic of the Coast is begining to show signs of wear and Walt can't afford another '62 encore.

Hitchcock is bailing the same kind of leaky boat Scheffing abandoned. Preseason polls had the Orioles rated as contenders and nothing proves more deadly than a betrayed press. If Baltimore falls flat, look for the walls to come tumbling down.

BUT A SORE - ARMED pitcher, nervous front office and unfilled rave notices are not the only culprits. Managers have helped to dig their own graves.

Scientific, progressive baseball has made practically all of the decisions automatic. Strokes of managerial genius are few and far between. Could be the day is coming when the major league manager will be obsolete with the bat boy assigned the job of changing lineups and waving to the bullpen.

But as for now, security is but a dream and everybody keeps his bags packed. Leo Durocher says that nice guys finish last. Today the yardstick of success has been greatly shortened with most managers content just to finish.

GOLF ETIQUETTE - 2

A STEP IN THE WRONG DIRECTION

YOU MIGHT not step on your playing partner's golf ball on the green like this careless duffer is doing here, but the idea is to stay away from his line of putting altogether. One of the primary rules of green etiquette is to always walk around the area between the ball and hole. Putting the sometimes square ball into the round hole is difficult enough without additional complications provided by a thoughtless companion.

LEGION WRAP-UP

G-C Paces Gold Loop; Whitehall Leads Blue

Grove City and Whitehall (Comrade Post 490) continued their individual drives toward American Legion pennants last week with victories in their respective divisions.

Both teams picked up their fifth consecutive wins in games Sunday as loop play reached the halfway mark.

GROVE CITY, the Gold League's top defensive club, showed plenty of batting punch Sunday with a 16-2 win over Worthington. The pace-setters pounded out 14 hits and turned the game into a rout with a seven-run fourth frame.

Earlier in the week, G-C won by forfeit over Hilliard, 7-0.

CAMP CHASE, whose only loss came at the hands of Grove City, stayed hot on the leaders' heels with a pair of victories, 5-0 over Hilliard and 17-1 over Scioto Post (DeSales).

The winners pounded out 22 hits off two DeSales moundsmen, including homers by Baker and Welsh.

IN THE ONLY other Gold loop game Sunday, Ray Simendinger held Scioto to three hits while his Columbus Post teammates pounded out 10 hits, good enough for a 12-0 win.

OVER IN THE Blue circuit, Comrade Post (Whitehall) charged to the top of the heap with three victories. Dick Gray was instrumental in all three wins, topping Scioto (St. Charles), 10-4, and Hartley, 6-5, and teaming with Joel Brandt to down Capital City, 5-1.

Whitehall broke up a 1-1 deadlock with a four-run fourth inning rally as Brandt and Gray combined on their three hitter over Capital City. Dean Ishida's grand-slam homer provided the impetus for the victory over Scioto. Murphy homered for the losers.

Sunday, Whitehall hopped off to a 6-0 lead over Hartley and then hung on as the losers charged back to within one run before Gray put on the brakes.

SOUTHWAY POST stayed in contention with a pair of wins. Bob White helped knock Franklin Post (Eastmoor) out of the top spot with a four-hit, 11-1 win. Southway found the pitching of Jerry Aggas and Doug Cromer to its liking and banged out 11 hits which included a homer by Herb Klopfer.

George Maurer picked up where White left off Sunday as he bested Groveport's (Franklin Post 2) Pat Mentel in a tight pitching duel, 1-0. Klopfer's double, only one of three hits off Mentel, cashed in the lone run in the third. Maurer allowed but two hits.

Southway chilled a Groveport threat in the sixth inning by pulling off a triple play.

GROVEPORT was more successful earlier in the week as Jim Fox and Jack Manley combined on a five-hitter to earn a narrow 6-5 margin over Hartley (Bexley Post). The winners pulled the game out of the fire with two tallies in the final frame.

Jack Diamond, who yielded seven hits but was backed by six errors afield, took the loss.

Scioto's Carr and Frank Lally combined on a three-hitter as St. Charles overcame a 4-1 deficit to chalk up a 7-4 win over Capital City Sunday in the Blue loop's only other game.

The winners scored three runs in the sixth to knot the count and then pulled ahead to stay with three more tallies in the final round.

ThunderbirdsMaintainLead In Shadywood BB League

Jeff Little's third hit of the day drove in the winning run as the Thunderbirds edged the Athletics, 5-4, to maintain their hold on first place in the Shadywood Park Baseball League last week.

Greg Chalfant, who won the game in relief, set up Little's heroics by plating the tying tally with one of his two hits.

ROD SHARE'S three-run homer in the final frame provided the second-place Reds with a 6-5 come-from-behind win over the Coopers.

The Clowns pulled off the upset of the day by knocking the Giants out of a second-place tie with a 10-4 victory, helping to tighten the SPBL pennant race — the closest in four years of play.

In other games, the Pirates defeated the Ramblers, 10-3, and the Indians slipped past the Hawks, 10-9.

Here are the league standings:

Team	W.	L.
Thunderbirds	12	1
Reds	11	2
Giants	10	3
Clowns	8	5
Athletics	6	7
Indians	6	7
Pirates	5	8
Coopers	4	9
Hawks	2	11
Ramblers	1	12

Dean Fires No-Hitter

John Dean fired a no-hitter Tuesday evening as he paced his Major League Reds to a 6-0 win over the Cubs in a Whitehall Boys' Baseball Association game.

Dean allowed only two Cub runners to reach base, both on walks, as he fanned 10 batters.

White Bass Continue As Angler's Delight

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

Shooters and gun enthusiasts will be interested in a meeting of a new organization called the Citizen's Council for Promotion of Shooting Ranges. The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Thursday at Shelter House No. 1, North American Recreation Park, on Hamilton-rd.

Aim of these gunners is to promote rifle and pistol shooting as year-round family sports, and to support public shooting ranges.

That same day is the statewide fish and game hearing where persons can attend and speak their piece about hunting and fishing regulations. Location is Hearing Room No. 2, State Departments Building. Starting time is 9 a.m. Sportsmen will come from all over the state, and area residents are fortunate in that it is easy for them to attend.

FISHING NEWS is still coming from Lake Erie. White Bass are rampaging, according to Elden Hales, party boat captain, who operates out of Catawba Marine. "It's like it was eight to 10 years ago," he exclaimed, "with terrific white bass catches every day. We are still picking up smallmouth bass by casting, so fishing prospects continue to be excellent."

About a month ago we recommended the white bass fishing in Lake Erie as something spectacular and special. It is difficult to describe to a fisherman who has never spent some time around the islands in June.

When you get a good day, and weather is always a problem everywhere, you can catch as many fish per hour as anywhere on this continent. The action is as fast as any fishing you can find in Florida or northern Saskatchewan and points in-between.

WHEN YOU FIND a school of white bass, everyone on the boat gets a fish on every cast. If one fish gets away, another grabs your lure. As a hooked fish nears the boat, there will often be two or three bass still chasing the spinner hanging out of his mouth. This is fishing excitement that is difficult to duplicate, and it's right in our own backyard, so to speak.

We are not saying that everyone who goes to the lake comes back loaded with white bass. Far from it. Two things are necessary for this prime fishing—a boat with the ability to get around the island area and good weather.

Lake Erie is big water, and to a novice it looks too big to fish. But if you have access to it, then try these locations: west reef off of North Bass Island, around the rattles at Rattlesnake Island, the shallow area between Ballast Island and South Bass Island, and the reef running from Sugar Island to Middle Bass Island.

WHEN THE fishing is really hot, you can catch them from the shore of nearly any of these islands. It has been this way for about the last 10 days, but may not continue. The fish seem to move northward as the season progresses, and casting from shore may be about over. They move in closer early in the morning and again in the evenings, and these would be the best times to fish if you are shore-bound.

Any kind of spinner will take them, and you should have several of the ABU or Shyster type. With fish racing each other to grab lures, it's no time to run out of baits.

Spin fishing is ideal for white bass—the tackle is light enough to make landing these fish a lot of fun, and it permits you to cast maximum distances. Accuracy is not important, just heave the lure out in the water. Leave the rest to the white bass.

Steelmen, Robins Pace YYA; Tie In Both A-K Divisions

Martin's Market and Seymour Bakery are both running neck and neck with 4-1 records in the K Division of the Jewish Center A. K. League.

Martin's took a cliff hanger from Wolman's Insurance with a tie-breaking run in the sixth inning for an 11-10 win last week.

DAVE COHN hit two circuit blows for the Marketmen while Clem Margulies banged out three hits.

Stu Newpoff of Wolman's led all batters with five hits, including a home run. Ray Hoch and Larry Lawrence also hit four baggers in Wolman's 17-hit barrage. Milt Glas was the losing pitcher and rookie Bob Masser got his first win of the year.

SEYMOUR BAKERY led by Dennis Brouner's three hits (including a home run), defeated Kozy Kitchen, 10-3. Ilge Cohen pitched a neat six-hitter for his fourth win of the season. Ivan Gilbert was the only Kozy batter to get two hits.

Hackman Realty nipped Ontario, 3-2, to stay in front of the A division. Herschel Hausman picked up two hits for Hackman. Henry Grinsfelder had two singles for Ontario. Leon Mark was the winning hurler.

Julius Margulies mesmerized Muffler King with his right handed twirling, limiting them to three hits, as Outdoor Military shut out Muffler King 13-0.

Jim Jacobs, Bob Skuller and Al Press picked up three hits each in the 20-hit attack. Press also hit for the circuit to pick up five RBIs for the evening.

THE CENTER Y. Y. A. Slo-Pitch Softball League completed its second week of games with Columbus Steel Supply and Robins sharing the lead with two wins each.

Steel Supply blasted Gilbert Shoes, 18-2. Bill Mackin led the Steelmen with a home run and two singles. Jerry Topy, Mark Levine and Ron Cohen hit safely three times for the winners. Pitcher Don Berman limited the Gilbert team to six scattered hits.

ROBINS KEPT pace with the co-leaders by scoring a 16-8 win over Tommy's Pizza. Hitting home runs for the winners were Gary Chesen, Ron Erkis, Stan Ross and Mike Block. The Robin teams tallied eight runs in the first two innings to jump off to a good start. The decisive eight runs were scored in the third and fourth frames. Dave Mayer of Tommy's Pizza had a perfect two for two at the plate.

In the tighest game of the night, Rosati's Market nipped Burger Boy 4-3. Burger Boy jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the second inning when Joel Engelman blasted a home run. Dick Hyman doubled, then scored on a single by Stu Israel.

Burger Boy scored its third run on Herb Grodner's single and came in on a double by Ron Clowson. Rosati's tied the game at 3-all when Pete Blue homered.

MIKE BASOFIN singled and scored on Arnie Hendon's triple. Mike Rosen then scored Hendon on a scarifice fly.

The winning run was scored as Phil Finke hit his first Y. Y. A. homer. Phil also pick-

CLOSE CALLS BUT . . .

West, 'Hounds Remain Atop Summer Sections

West and Grove City remained undefeated and atop their respective sections of the High School Summer Baseball League Saturday but not without some timely, late-inning hitting.

The Cowboys, unbeaten in three doubleheaders now, beat down back-yard rival Ready, 10-2 and 6-4, but the hungry Silver Knights took the Broncos into extra innings before bowing in the nightcap.

GROVE CITY had a similar scare at the hands of upstart Grandview. The Greyhounds cruised in the nightcap, 6-1, but had to go one extra in the opener to eke out a narrow 7-6 win.

Arlington swept a pair from Johnstown, 10-8 and 10-2 but all other clubs split their twinbills. Hartley divided with St. Charles, South halved with Brookhaven and Watterson and Marysville exchanged victories.

West broke away from a narrow 3-2 edge in its opener with Ready, collecting seven runs in the fifth and sixth frames. Darrell Rohrer coasted to victory for the Cowboys on a two-hitter.

BUT IS WAS another story altogether in the nightcap as the Knights hopped on Bronco ace George 'no-hit' Shaffer for three second-inning tallies that gave Ready a 3-1 edge.

The margin stood up until West scored once in the sixth and again in the seventh to send the game into extra frames. Schaffer and Jack Compton battled through two scoreless innings before West picked up three in the tenth. Ready rallied in the bottom half of the inning but fell two runs shy.

Over in section two, Grandview hopped off to a 6-1 lead in the opener and Grove City spent the rest of the game catching up before pushing across the winning tally in the eighth.

BILL THOMAS and Tom Boos checked the Bobcats on four hits in the second game while G-C scored early to insure no encore of the opening game cliffhanger.

South gave Ttrry Emrich all the batting support he needed with a four-run first inning as the Bulldogs toppled Brookhaven in their opener Saturday, 4-0. The losers managed but three bingles off Emrich.

Brookhaven's dormat offense came to life in the nightcap, however, as its batters whacked out 13 hits against two South hurlers for a 6-3 margin.

HARTLEY AND St. Charles battled to a standstill. The Hawks took the opener, 4-3, with all the scoring coming in the first two frames. Hawk reliefer Tom Foley cut off the Cards without score after they had knotted the count at 3-all in the opening inning.

Tht proverbial shoe was on the other foot in the nightcap, however, as St. Charles turned the tables for a 4-2 win.

Bob Begland, who hurled six innings of the opener and took the loss, came in in relief in the second game in the first frame and blanked the Hawks the rest of the way to pick up the win.

Begland provided his own offense, breaking a two-all tie in the fourth with a two-run single. Hartley's lone hit came on a one-bagger by Randy Rodich.

DIAMOND MEMORIES—PART II

East 9 Tops In Early 1900's; South Winner In Snowstorm

(Second in a Series)

By CHARLES F. ODON

In the early 1900's East High School was recognized as having the top baseball team in Columbus. B. F. Dildine, a merchant and former player and student of the game, was manager of Groveport High.

Dildine informed East High that Groveport would not play East's second team (even though it was thought that that team would probably beat us).

ON EAST'S FIRST team that year were Janton at first base, Justice at shortstop and Billy Purtell (later quite well known in pro baseball) at third. The pitcher was Rink Barrington (later a star at OSU) and the catcher was Thurman, grandson of the "Old Roman," a U.S. Senator from Ohio.

When Groveport came to bat in the first inning, Chase Rarey, the leadoff man (and only lefthanded batter on the team), hit the first ball pitched into deep right field and into the orchard mentioned in the Westerville game.

The early offense rattled East slightly but that run was about all Groveport got the rest of the game. However, Groveport started a rally midway through the game. Out went Rink and in came Justice.

JUSTICE HAD about the widest and sweeping curve seen in those days, so the rally was nipped in the bud.

In another game that year (1903), Groveport played South High. Weilbacher, the South pitcher, hailed from the storage and transfer firm on the South Side.

The game turned out to be a tight pitcher's duel, 1-1, until the ninth when South pushed across the winning run. The two teams met again the following year in the early spring with practically the same lineups.

ON SATURDAY afternoon (all high school games were played then on Saturday instead of Friday), the weather became miserable but the game was played despite the adverse weather conditions.

One snow squall followed another and at times the outfielders became almost undiscernible. This time, there was no pitchers' duel as South High won in a romp.

RHODES GETS AWARD

ALVIN SCHOTTENSTEIN (seated right), Community Chairman of Bonds For Israel, presents Gov. James A. Rhodes with the "Outstanding Humanitarian Award" plaque from the State of Israel. Looking on are Paul Levine (right), executive director of bonds for Israel, and Harry Bruce (left), publicity chairman. The award cites Rhodes for work in "strengthening the ties of mutual understanding and friendship beteween the United States and Israel." Rhodes will be guest of honor at a special tribute dinner on Tuesday, June 25, at the Deshler Hilton. Isadore Topper, Columbus attorney, has been named chairman of the dinner. Aryeh Manor, Economic Minister of Israel, will also be present to make a special award to Governor Rhodes.

Jets Back In Town; Open 13-Game Stand

The Columbus Jets return to the Stadium Thursday evening to open their seventh home stand of the current season with four International League teams appearing here in a 13-game set.

The Jets open with Little Rock on Thursday and play four games with the Travelers with single games scheduled through Saturday and a doubleheader (1:30 p.m.) on tap for Sunday.

THE JACKSONVILLE Suns move in for a two-game set with single night games set for Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Atlanta's Crackers are next on the Jet schedule with the southern club playing a single game Wednesday evening before providing the Columbus club with its opposition in a big Fourth of July doubleheader, getting underway at 5 p.m.

Rochester closes out the current home stand with single games July 5 through 7—the final game a Sunday matinee, set for 2 p.m.

SPECIAL NIGHTS during the home stand will include Buckeye Stamp - Westside Neighborhood Council Night (July 2), Family Night (July 3) and the July 4th picnic and fireworks night.

On Family Night the ladies will be able to sit anywhere in the stadium but the box seats for 50 cents with men getting the same bargain for one dollar. Children, accompanied by an adult, will be admitted free. Fireworks will follow the game.

On the Fourth, stadium gates will open at 3:30 p.m. for those who want to eat in the picnic area before the first game (5 p.m.).

PLENTY OF picnic tables will be available in the right field bullpen area and free checking facilities will be available for those who wish to eat between games (45 minutes).

PIT STOPS

By BILL GRAY

Columbus Motor Speedway on Williams Road was a scene of much action over the past weekend. Friday night in the Flying stock feature, Don Gregory moved into the lead in the tenth lap to pick up his fifth straight win of the season.

Don has won 14 races at the Southside oval and has taken 15 second places.

Marvin Willet came in second in the feature followed by Garry Weist and Whitey Dodson. There were also ten winners in the game of Total.

SUNDAY NIGHT Urbana's Neal Sceva in his faithful No. 51 won the 25-lap feature over the flying Irishman, Ralph O'Day. Jack Morgan, Bob Smith and Don Townsend were close behind.

Kurt Kraft was leading the feature until the seventh lap when engine trouble forced him to drop out, giving the lead to Neal who was in second place at the time. Neal also won the semi. The first heat was won by Kurt Kraft; second heat by Larry Achenson.

Top man in the late models was Bob Bower. Bower was presented a trophy for his victory last week when after 15 years of racing, he took his first feature event.

DURING THE super-modified second heat, Frank Eggert flipped his car in front of the grand stands. He got out uninjured but snapped his shoulder strap.

Fran Fouts won the 15-lap late model helmet dash with Bowsher finishing second.

In Salem Ind., Sunday, Jim Cushman, starting at the pole position, finished one-half lap ahead of the pack to take the 100-lapper in his '63 Plymouth. Jack Bowsher finished 3rd.

Friday night the flying stocks again take to the Southside oval with the super-modified and late models running Sunday night.

BABE RUTH

Eastmoor Nine Edges Vikings

Tom Cooper's three-hit shutout and a run-producing double by Mike Ijams provided Eastmoor with a 2-0 win over Teays Valley Saturday as the Junior Warriors remained unbeaten in the American Division of the Babe Ruth circuit.

Cooper fanned 12 while besting T-V's Bill Dore on the mound. Dore allowed Eastmoor only four hits.

IN OTHER American Division games, Worthington used a nine-run fifth to supply the punch for a 15-3 win over Georgian Heights while Swan Club scored seven tallies in the second to upend Pearn, 12-6.

In the National League, Coffman Optical scored four times in the last frame to edge Sinclair Dinos, 12-11, while the West Side Boys Club slipped by E. C. Jones, 2-1, in another contest.

Ram Homers Sink DeSales

Four-hit pitching by Jay Ketzmier plus the long ball provided Whitehall with a 10-5 win over DeSales Tuesday in the High School Summer League.

The Rams scored in every inning but one as Ketzmier, Terry Tedder, Bobby Sherman and George Dreisbach all pounded out four-baggers.

In another area game, Westerville clipped Hartley's wings, 9-2, as Dick Wenzell set the Hawks down on a five-hitter.

Tennis Program Reopens July 8

Do You Know Your Sports?

(Fourth in a series)

The game of jai alai must be described as a sectional sport in this country. Although tried in Chicago, St. Louis and New York, the game's popularity is basically limited to Florida.

The game, which originated along the French-Spanish border centuries ago, is played with a ball (pelota) and basket (cesta). The ball, which resembles that used in handball, exceeds a speed of 150 mph when it is hurled against the 12-inch thick granite wall.

THE BALL, which is three-fourths the size of a baseball, is harder and more lively than a golf ball. The players throw it from a curved basket strapped to their hand, allowing them a running windup.

The ball costs $25., the basket several times that amount.

The game is played in auditoriums (frontons) in Miami, Palm Beach, Tampa, Daytona Beach and Orlando, Florida. The players, all from Spain, play an 100-night season in Florida from mid-December to April, before moving on for summer seasons in Cuba and Mexico.

PLAYER'S PAY for the sport ranges from $200. to $1,000. a week. Jai Alai is popular with Florida's betting public who make pari-mutuel wagers on the players with the same zeal shown at both horse and dog races.

Drivers Cleared Of Illegal Left Turn Charges

Fifty-one illegal left turn citations, issued to motorists for making left turns from College-av onto Berwick-blvd after a recent ban was put into effect, were cancelled by Municipal Court Judge Dean Strasbaugh last Thursday.

Judge Strasbaugh dismissed the charges after receiving a letter from Safety Director Albert G. Giles, who conceded that the 45-degree turn was not adequately marked.

Motorists who paid their traffic tickets will be refunded $10 each, while the 14 who have not paid will receive letters cancelling the tickets.

Thirty other drivers, who received tickets for making the 90-degree left turn from College onto Livingston-av will have to pay.

Courts Of Honor

Several troops in the White Oaks District held Courts of Honor during the last week, recognizing advancement by the boys.

Troop 369

A new charter was presented to Troop 369 at a Court of Honor June 21. Making the presentation was George Neibler, neighborhood commissioner.

Two boys, awarded the rank of star at the Court of Honor, were Danny Kirby and Roland Dillion. Boys receiving first class were Mike Crawford, Steve Heinz and Bill Prentice.

Merit badges were presented to Bill Prentice, Indian lore; Don Sturtz, first aid; Mike Neibler, printing; Steve Heinz, pets; Bill Friday, swimming and stamp collecting; Roland Dillion, fishing and cooking; Dennis Kirby, citizenship in the home, and Dennis Stickel, motor boating and fishing.

Troop 166

Also holding a Court of Honor was Troop 166, Monday, June 24.

A good deal of the advancement in the troop was accomplished during the preceding week spent at Camp Lazarus, the Boy Scout Reservation.

Receiving the rank of Life Scout were Jim Kelley, Alan Strickling and Jeff Macklin.

John White became first class and Steve Nelson, Mark Peters, Richard Bagley, Gordon Gray, Bill Moser, Tom Cullison, Danny Herrel and Brion Levin were presented with second class.

A total of 35 merit badges, covering all phases of Scouting, were also presented to members of the troop.

Lt.Col.Hoover Commander In Air Guard

An East area man will assume command of the 121st Tactical Fighter Wing, Ohio Air National Guard, in a change-of-command ceremony at Lockbourne Air Force Base Saturday, last day of the wing's annual two weeks of active duty.

Lt. Col. Paul E. Hoover, 4485 Ellery-dr, will succeed Brig. Gen. Dale E. Shafer, Jr., of Germantown.

Shafer will move to a headquarters post of the Ohio Air National Guard.

Hoover was the commander in Etain, France, of the 121st Tactical Fighter Wing, Ohio Air National Guard during the 1962 Berlin crisis. He first commanded the 166th Fighter Squadron, and later the federalized Ohio Air National Guard during their five-month stay in France.

Hoover, 43, was called to military duty in 1941, 1951 and 1961, and is now a full-time Guard officer. His decorations include the Bronze Star and Air Medal.

Profanity Is Educational?

"The Ox-Bow Incident," published in 1940, has become, in 1963, "The Whitehall Incident."

A controversy has developed over use of the book as assigned reading for 11th grade English classes at Whitehall-Yearling High School.

Objectors cite instances of profanity and blasphemy scattered throughout the book. The Whitehall Board of Education has ruled the book unobjectionable and will presumably continue the practice of class assignment, and sale through the school book store.

We have heard both sides of the question, and we have read the book.

We were able to give complete, quoted coverage to the school board's defense of the contested book. Our responsibility to give equally fair coverage to those who oppose the book as class assignment material is restricted.

It is discouraging to know that high school students can read (by assignment of teachers) language that we are forbidden by law and conscience to print in our newspapers.

We cannot spell out such words as "s.o.b.," "b....d," and "wh..e." Furthermore, we would not choose to use such words. And we see no reason or justification for feeding such language to children through any school system.

The Whitehall School Board statement ascribes to the book a lesson dealing with morality. We cannot help wondering how much of the "moral" lesson is offset by the interjection of profanity and blasphemy.

The school board statement alluded to a recommended list of 3,000 books from which the protested book was chosen. Surely there must be a sufficient number of books to teach a similar or equally worthwhile lesson without the use of profanity and blasphemy. If not, the list should be re-evaluated.

The "Ox-Bow (or Whitehall) Incident" raises the question: Is profanity less profane when used in the name of education? Of course not! On the contrary, it is the more damaging because it gives a form of silent consent from a trusted source.

We have previously editorialized against feeding printed garbage to our children. It is no less offensive as a "side dish" to the main course.

Ten Pillars Of Wisdom Boost Freedom

Last month ground was broken on the site of next year's World's Fair for a unique building frankly designed to sell free enterprise.

It is a new idea — using a building as a major exposition for the purpose of going over to the offensive in the debate with creeping socialism.

Jones

The estimated $2,100,000 which it will cost to lease the land, erect the building, fill it with exhibits and staff it during the fair's two-year life is being solicited frankly and openly from individuals and corporations who are sold on the advantage of a free market economy.

The building will stand in rebuttal to the expensive pavilions of socialist nations which can use their taxing power to create monuments to themselves.

Although the American Economic Foundation gave birth to the idea, persons from 40 states and 31 foreign countries will serve on its advisory council.

Among the 70 million persons who are expected to visit the fair during its two years it is estimated that 3.5 million will be foreigners. Some of these, it is hoped, will come away from the Hall of Free Enterprise with the realization that "people's capitalism" is different by a long shot from the grasping 19th century system of exploitation and cartels that Marxists like to pretend all modern free enterprise resembles.

The theme of the exhibit will be the Ten Pillars of Economic Wisdom. Here they are:

1. Nothing in our material world can come from nowhere, nor can it be free. Everything in our economic life has a source, a destination, and a cost that must be paid.

2. Government is never a source of goods. Everything that government gives to the people it must first take from the people.

3. The only valuable money that government has to spend is that money taxed or borrowed out of the people's earnings. When government decides to spend more money than it has thus received, that extra unearned money is created out of thin air, through the banks, and, when spent, takes on value only by reducing the value of all money, savings, and insurance.

4. In our modern exchange economy, all payroll and employment come from customers, and the only worthwhile job security is customer security. If there are no customers there can be no payroll and no jobs.

5. Customer security can be achieved by the worker only when the "boss" is allowed by the worker to do the things that win and hold customers. Job security, therefore, is a partnership problem that can be solved only by a spirit of understanding and cooperation.

6. Because wages are the principal cost of everything, widespread wage increases, without corresponding increases in production, simply increase the cost of everybody's living.

7. The greatest good for the greatest number means, in its material sense, the greatest goods for the greatest number which, in turn, means the greatest productivity per worker.

8. All productivity is based on three factors: (1) natural resources, whose form, place and condition are changed by the expenditure of (2) human energy (both muscular and mental), with the aid of (3) tools.

9. Tools are the only one of these three factors that man can increase, and tools come into being in a free society only when there is a reward for the contemporary self-denial that people must practice in order to channel part of their earnings away from purchases that produce immediate comfort and pleasure, and into new tools of production. Proper payment for the use of tools is essential to their creation.

10. The productivity of the tools — that is, the efficiency of the human energy applied in connection with their use — is highest in a competitive society in which economic decisions are made by millions of progress-seeking individuals, rather than in a state-planned society in which those decisions are made by a handful of all-powerful people, regardless of how well-meaning, unselfish, sincere and intelligent those people may be. The basic truth that people cannot divide more than they produce unless they steal or extort from someone else needs to be repeated in this age of pie-in-the-sky government promises.

Further, people need to be reminded that the human animal labors not for love of it but only if enticed by the carrot or goaded by the stick. Where the carrot of profit is removed, then the stick of punishment for failure to produce must be applied or general starvation is swift.

Primitive communism, such as that which prevails in China, has resorted to the stick in the most inhuman degree since the feudal tax gatherers of the Middle Ages went forth to flay the peasants.

More mature forms of communism, such as that of Russia, while continuing to whip recalcitrant workers with the stick of compulsion, have tried to reintroduce the carrot by reserving special bonuses and benefits for the better producers. This is a complete retreat from the Marxist theory of "From each according to his ability to each according to his need."

But even this half-way return to a system of individual rewards can't overcome the deadening anafu of centralized government planning.

In the face of these manifold failures of the Left it's time the forces of free enterprise stood up and crowed a little.

Jones' Delinquency Views Debated

To the Editor:

I read an editorial in the Eastern Review of June 20 by Jenkin Lloyd Jones about juvenile delinquency that really set my blood to boil. I feel rather strongly about the subject since I am a professional social worker and deal primarily with teenagers. Although at present my work is in a local East End Columbus agency, I will never forget the days of my graduate training in New York City nor the opportunity that it afforded me to work in a settlement house in the lower East Side of that city, an area that has one of the highest delinquency rates in the country.

The main error made by Mr. Jones and others of a like mind is that he attempts to give one answer to the problem of juvenile delinquency. This is simply impossible. A delinquent who comes from a good family background and one who comes from the slums with no family to speak of cannot be handled in the same way. Humiliation as a form of punishment suggested in the article is, generally speaking, a very poor method of treatment. It may, at best, be able to remove the symptom but will almost never correct the cause.

It is with this statement that I suppose I would be accused by Mr. Jones and others of being soft headed. Naturally there are such things as bad boys, incorrigibles; however, with a few psychopathic personalities excepted, most people are not born incorrigible but get that way somewhere along the way.

Mr. Jones in his article continues by stating that delinquency cannot be attributed to underprivileged children. Some can't and this is quite correct, but most can. Our cities are growing in size, and the inner city (today's polite word for slum) is producing a cancer on our society. The bulk of the residents of the inner city are members of minority groups. Teenagers who are Puerto Rican or Negro have the cards stacked against them before they start. The schools they go to are miserable and often staffed by the poorer teachers of the system. Jobs are impossible to find and those available are of the sweat shop veriety. Finally, if a boy or girl can fight all these odds there is the final almost insurmountable obstacle — prejudice and discrimination. In his recent address to the nation, President Kennedy gave a very clear and concise picture of unequal opportunity as the Negro sees it in this country. In some of the big cities of the North, the social status of the Puerto Rican is even lower than that of the Negro. The prime social institution of our society, the family, tends to degenerate rapidly under these conditions. All too often we found that the only answer a teenager at our settlement house would get from his family if something happened would be a rather severe beating from his father, if there happened to be one.

There are many more conditions which I could describe but time and space do not permit. But what can be done about it? The beginnings of an answer it would seem to me to be a broad overall attack at the problem. First and foremost should be the prevention aspects of delinquency. Settlement houses, Boys' Clubs, social welfare agencies, church groups all have a role. To give a brief look at an approach, a settlement house will not try to greak up a gang, but will rather try to divert it to more acceptable patterns of behavior, thereby helping the individuals in the group without stripping from them the protection and self assurance the gang offers and they need so badly.

Secondly, we must give more attention to our treatment agencies and welfare problems. Naturally our parole system frequently doesn't work. What kind of supervision and guidance can any parole officer give, no matter how well trained, if he has to carry a case load of between 250 and 300 per month? How well can a juvenile treatment agency function when, as is the case in Columbus, they have to sleep inmates on the floor because of overcrowding? What kind of a family environment can a man provide for his family if he is on relief and gets $25 a month for food and shelter per person?

Finally we must attempt as a nation to really provide equal opportunity for all. If a man has all the odds against him because either he is of the wrong race or religion, and/or doesn't have the necessary education and training to get a job, how long will human nature keep him trying without hope? The latter problem of skills will continue to get much worse as automation comes.

Nobody, not Mr. Jones, nor the social workers or other people in juvenile work have all the answers. There is certainly no pat answer, but one thing is certain. Studies throughout the country have shown time and again that dedicated professionals working under good conditions in some of the agencies and type of work I have described have managed to improve things considerably. We have much of the knowledge, but all too often, lack the funds and support that we must have.

Robert Sobolevitch

To the Editor:

Allow me to commend you and your good newspaper for publishing the excellent editorial by Jenkin L. Jones on juvenile delinquency.

I think Mr. Jones has something and he says it very well.

To the Editor:

I have been following with interest the editorials about juvenile delinquency appearing in the South Side Leader.

I do not know if Jenkin L. Jones is active in youth correction, but if not, he should be. The United States needs more people like him who can think the situation through and put some teeth into the solution.

Student Speaks Out

To The Editor:

Immorality and injustice was the basis of the Whitehall Board of Education's decision concerning the book, "The Ox-Bow Incident," to which Eugene Bednar objected.

The Eastern Review, dated June 20, reported that this book, which contains 11 profane passages, will be "recommended or assigned reading" for Whitehall juniors. This would deny the student the Christian right to remove himself "from all appearances of evil." That a school board would consider profane passages "unobjectionable" is immoral; that it would require students to think and to act under the same conviction is quite unjust. The board justified its decision by stating "the book is widely used." But profanity is also widely used and thus by Whitehall Board of Education's standards is justifiable.

The U. S. Supreme Court's decision denies religious training to the high school student. So the Board of Education's decision would require the reading of profane passages as a substitute.

Citizen: high school students, like myself, are going through that period of life in which character is being developed according to the influences on or about them. Forward-looking students want the right to choose to read those books which will help determine their spiritual outlook on life. Please don't allow authority to have full rein in molding their character or to have full power to force students to accept moral (really immoral) standards which they don't want to accept.

To the Board of Education: Give back to the high school student the God-given right to be God-like. Give back to their parents the right to show Christian concern for the cleanliness of their son's or daughter's mind.

Frosting On The Cake

"UNCLE DOC" ROSS — U.S.A.

Digits, digits, digits, swarming around us like June bugs at sundown. The nice thing about the annual swarm of June bugs is that they rarely last more than two days.

The telephone company has gone slap-happy on digits. The post office, too. If this keeps up, it will get so that every private citizen has to carry a complete dossier around his neck on a stainless steel plate, hung with a silver chain.

Who in the world started this latest frith and froth about digits anyway? There used to be a time when any bright kid of six could tell anyone his name, address, home phone number, and his mama and daddy's name. He already has on his person in some kind of memo, what shots he has had, what his eye and ear rating is, and those few things in his diet that he is medically allergic to.

From now on any man or woman who has achieved something in life will have to be constantly fortified with so much statistical armor that stepping out on the street without it would be courting sudden death or arrest.

There used to be a time when postoffice clerks could read letters as well as numbers. Route men learned the names and correct addresses of every home on his route. Many of them still do, but now the whole job is to remember 16 numbers in a row. And if the numbers are not all there, back to the deadletter office goes tons of mail that some tax-ridden citizen has paid for.

Now, if one wishes to make a phone call or ask where people have moved he has to get all set in advance to take down the answer with some high priced computer and pay the extra electricity to run the darn thing. Ain't we got fun?

My address still is Box 8415, Columbus 1, O. And for a while longer, at least, my phone number is AX. 9-3355.

JUNE WEDDINGS

Memo to a bride and groom:

You are entering upon a great adventure—one of the greatest and most sublime in human experience. You have pledged your love and loyalty, each to the other, and have promised before God and man to be faithful "so long as you both shall live."

Now you are responsible adults. Upon your shoulders and those of your generations, soon or late, must fall the burdens which we of an older group in time will no longer be able to bear. Perhaps you will forgive us if, as we fear, we shall have given you a heritage less worthy than we found it.

It would be foolish for us to wish that you will never have any troubles, for that would be impossible. Instead, we hope you will have the strength to bear them when they come.

If the future ever seems fearful, remember, it comes only one day at a time. And may each new day bring you memories of happy ones gone by and anticipation of still happier ones yet to come. May you in health and prosperity see the risings and settings of 10 thousand suns, and then 10 thousand more.

At last, and upon a golden day, after half a 100 years have passed, may you remember that a long time before, you stood, young and strong, before a golden Cross. There your faces shown as the sunlight, and from your eyes came the jeweled starlight of the skies. Afterward, as your love grew more tender with the years, you shared your hopes, your joys, and your fears.

Just one word of advice . . . hold fast to your faith —faith in God, faith in each other, faith in the worth and dignity of your fellowman. For without it you can do nothing worth while. With it you can do, not all the things you would like to do, but all the things you need to do.

It says here . . .
Faith lightens the pathway of reason.

Commends Ryan

So far as I can recall, this is the first letter I have ever written to a newspaper in response to anything printed in that paper.

Your editorial, "One Man's Opinion . . . A White Man's Prayer" has moved me to take this action. I sincerely commend you for this article and the obviously sincere and heartfelt expressions therein. We are, indeed, in critical times in this country and your editorial hit the point exactly on the head.

I have taken the Hilltop Record for years and, as of today, I have a great deal more respect for the paper than before. . . .

I personally believe that service clubs should be leaders in our social problems and that the problem of the Negro in our country is one which we must take firmly in hand and move positively forward to solve. We need your help every bit as much as the community needs ours.

Where Is The Church? Always Close At Hand

Our Methodist Men meets once each month. At this meeting they set out a miniature church. It has a slot in the roof, and the men put into it the pennies they have saved during the month. At our last meeting, which was a picnic supper, one of the group laid some pennies on the table and another was heard to say, "Where is the church?"

Rev. Loy

My reaction to this question was that it is never very far away from us. If we are driving around our city or traveling through the country, we will not go far until we see a church. Whether Jewish, Roman Catholic, or Protestant they have a message for each of us.

Right now science and technology are riding high with the arts trailing behind. In our culture the emphasis is on things, power and comfort. It is so easy for us to be caught up in the great whirl of materialism — we try to find meaning to life by giving ourselves to the things we can see, feel and touch.

The next time you pass a church remember that at its best it is saying to you and to me that no civilization can continue, no matter how successful it is in creating material means for living, if it neglects the spiritual ends of life. We need to remember Jesus' words in Matthew 15:26 "For what is a man profited, if he gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?"

Whenever we see a church it should remind us that we cannot stake our lives on the impermanance of things, that our only hope is to predicate our lives on something that abides, that is imperishable and eternal. In our world where change and decay are sure, the church would remind us of a loving Heavenly Father revealed to us in Jesus Christ, who seeks our allegiance and commitment. It is only the changeless God of Jesus Christ that can bring stability and peace to our human spirits.

When you go to work in the morning, when you take that trip to the mountains, or to the seashore, or when you go to the grocery or take the children to school you will see a church — it is always nearby. Will we hear its message? "Come unto me all ye that are weary and heavy laden and I will give you rest."

William K. Loy, Minister
Thurman Avenue Methodist Church

Funeral Services Held For Red Trautman, 73

Final rites for George M. (Red) Trautman of 28 Meadow Park-av, president and treasurer of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues (Minors) since 1947, were held Wednesday at St. Albans Episcopal Church.

Trautman, 73, acclaimed throughout the sports world as having preserved minor league baseball, died Monday at his home of lung cancer. He had returned home from a hospital two weeks ago.

Surviving are his wife, Jane; a daughter, Mrs. Charles Reading, Jr., 56 S. Ardmore-rd; son, George M. Trautman, Jr., 450 N. Drexel-av; brother, Fred, of Bucyrus, and five grandchildren.

A three-sports athlete at Ohio State University, where he was graduated in 1914, Trautman coached high school sports at Fostoria and then returned to OSU as a basketball and baseball coach, later becoming the university's assistant athletic director.

Appointed president of the old Columbus Red Birds of the American Association in 1933, his teams won two pennants and two Little World Series during his three years in the post.

He became president of the American Association in 1936, and 10 years later was named vice-president and general manager of the Detroit Tigers.

He had served as vice-president and chairman of the executive committee, National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, and after his election as president in 1947, moved its headquarters from Durham, N.C., to 720 E. Broad-st, in Columbus.

His interests in sports was not confined to baseball, but extended into many fields.

He was a member of the National Intercollegiate Wrestling Rules Committee, was in charge of the 1926 National Open Golf Tournament at Scioto Country Club, managed the 1931 International Ryder Cup golf matches at Scioto, and the 1932 final tryouts for the American Olympic wrestling team.

After he supervised the Columbus advent of the American Bowling Congress in 1933, he was named an honorary member of the ABC executive committee.

Trautman's busy life as a baseball official did not prevent active participation in civic, educational and government affairs.

He was chairman of Ohio's Commission of Conservation and Natural Resources from 1939 to 1946, chairman of the Living War Memorials Commission from 1945 through 1947, member of the Federal Security Physical Fitness Committee and the Ohio Water Commission's committee of the Water Management Advisory Council.

Trautman was also past commissioner of the Columbus area Boy Scouts of America, and held memberships in many fraternal, civic and sports clubs.

Cremation followed the funeral service.

Scholarship Is Awarded To Area Girl

Barbara Anne Smith, who will be a freshman at Ohio Wesleyan University this fall, has been awarded a National Methodist Scholarship by the Board of Education of the Methodist Church.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Smith, 186 S. Roosevelt, and a graduate of Bexley High School.

National Methodist Scholarship Awards cover tuition and fees up to $500, and are granted on the basis of superior academic standing, leadership ability, active churchmanship, character, personality and need.

Son To Deliver Sermon Sunday

Milton E. Peters, son of Rev. and Mrs. Olen A. Peters, 1175 Country Club-rd, will deliver the sermon at Reformation Lutheran Church, 1355 S. Hamilton-rd, where his father is the pastor, Sunday, June 30, at services beginning at 8:30 and 10:30 a.m.

Peters, a graduate of Wittenberg University, received a Bachelor of Divinity degree from Hamma Divinity School of the university in May. He will enter the graduate school of psychology at Bowling Green University in September to study toward a Master of Arts degree.

A congregational fellowship gathering will be held at the church in the evening beginning with a dessert smorgasbord at 5:30.

Rev. Harold A. Lindberg, Protestant chaplain at Ohio Penitentiary, will speak and present a film concerning prison life.

The wandering Albatross, of "Rime of the Ancient Mariner" fame, is one of the two largest birds. It attains a length of 53 inches, has a yellowish bill seven inches long, a wingspread of 11.5 feet and a weight of 20 pounds. In regions of strong winds and gales albatrosses do not flap their wings but glide for hours over rolling seas. When landed on a ship, they cannot take flight from the deck, and even become seasick . . . Encyclopedia Britannica.

Adventists Plan $12 Million Medical Facility In Dayton

Seventh-day Adventists will open a $12 million medical center in Dayton before the end of 1963, to be known as the "Charles F. Kettering Memorial Hospital."

The hospital is being constructed by the Kettering interests, and will then be given over to the denomination for ownership and operation.

The church is constructing a companion building, a $750,000 school of nursing, also expected to be completed before the end of 1963.

The hospital is the first step in a plan to make the Dayton area a well-known medical center and being brought into existence as a memorial to the late Charles F. Kettering, on whose estate the center is being constructed.

Eugene W. Kettering, son of the inventor and auto executive, said plans for the $12 million center call for the first unit to be a 304-bed general hospital, to be owned and operated by the Columbia Union Conference of the Seventh-day Adventist church.

In due time the proposed medical center will also include a school of nursing, a research center, a health museum and other projects of a medical nature.

The site of the new center is on a 32-acre tract of land which Kettering has deeded to the hospital corporation. In addition to 304 beds, the hospital will have extensive service, diagnostic, and therapuetic facilities.

Nearly two and one half years were spent in designing the building, which has one floor below ground and four floors above ground.

Patients' rooms feature an originally designed bedside unit which contains at the patient's fingertips, a telephone, controls for the electrical and intercom systems in the room, and provision for storage of the guest's personal effects.

The hospital is being financed by the Kettering interests, local and national contributions, and funds from the hospital corporation.

The $750,000 school of nursing building is being financed entirely by the Adventist denomination.

The STRENGTH of a Nation . . .

At this time, our thoughts are turned to our nation and the war that was fought to bring freedom to our land. Pictured here is a monument to the leader of our people at that time. The people were willing to give their lives that we might be free from tyranny, and have the right to worship as we please. God was with us then as he was with the children of Israel when Moses led them from Egypt. Upon receiving their freedom they sang . . . "The Lord is my strength and song, and he is become my salvation: he is my God, and I will prepare him an habitation; my father's God, and I will exalt him." Exodus 15:2

Help keep our Nation strong by relying on the strength of the Lord. Attend Church Regularly.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH . . . THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

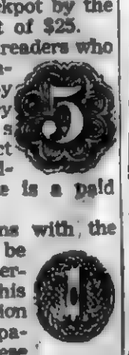
PLANNING ANNUAL JULY FOURTH PICNIC



PLANS ARE DISCUSSED for the coming July Fourth Orphans Picnic by Mother Madeline of St. Vincent's Orphanage and Mrs. Joseph Recchie, 955 Vernon-rd, representing the companions of St. Vincent. Some of the children who will attend the day-long event at the orphanage, 1490 E. Main-st, are seen with them. Shaded picnic grounds are available free for those bringing their own lunches. A delicious chicken dinner (75 cents for children and $1.50 for adults) will be served from 2 to 8 p.m. The year's event features rides, games and entertainment. Prizes, including two automobiles and four portable TVs, will be awarded. A goal of $33,000, about one-half of the year's operational costs has been set for this 82nd annual picnic.

Jackpot Reaches $114 In 'Confederate' Cash

A big shot in the arm this week for the rapidly growing "Confederate Money" jackpot has pushed the cash awaiting a lucky winner past the $100 mark.

The failure of those receiving "Confederate" emblems in their newspapers last week to collect any of the waiting cash has increased this week's jackpot by the maximum amount of $25.

This means the readers who discovers this emblem in his copy of his Hartley Newspaper this week can collect $114 in "Confederate" cash if he is a paid subscriber.

Twenty emblems with the number "1" will be placed in 20 seperate copies of this week's publication of Hartley Newspapers. Each of these emblems can be redeemed for $1 in "Confederate" cash by any reader if the advertisement containing the emblem is mailed to Hartley Newspapers, 2465 W. Broad-st.

All emblems are stamped in a color other than black on an inside page, within an advertisement. Deadline for submitting an emblem to claim "Confederate" money is noon on Monday following publication.

All "Confederate" money can be spent just like real cash at any place of business advertising in a Hartley Newspaper during the week the finder discovers the emblem in his paper.

The finder of the "5" emblem can claim $5 in "Confederate" money if he is not a paid subscriber. Any reader can claim $1 in "Confederate" cash for the "1" emblems.

This contest is not open to employes of Hartley Newspapers, including carriers, or members of their families.

FRONT END ALIGNMENT is one of the many auto repair services offered by Bartlett's Garage, three miles east of Reynoldsburg on Rt. 40. Owner and manager Paul Bartlett adjusts the gauges that will tell if this car's wheels are properly aligned.

Bartlett's Garage In Same Location For Past 39 Years

If years of experience can be used as a basis on which to judge quality work, then some of the finest automobile mechanical work in Central Ohio must come from Bartlett's garage, three miles east of Reynoldsburg on Rt. 40 at Wagram.

When Paul Bartlett first opened his place of business 39 years ago, "All I had to work on were Model T Fords and Fordson tractors, and there weren't many of those around."

Located in the same place since 1924, Bartlett's Garage has grown into a modern business establishment with the latest equipment, a staff of four mechanics and a service manager and facilities to handle four cars at one time. Fast, efficient and economical service has done much to contribute to this growth and modernization.

"Our low overhead has helped keep prices down and mechanics and equipment do all types of mechanical work from front end alignment to transmission repair has brought us many new customers and satisfied our old ones," Bartlett stated.

"We also keep a complete line of modern test equipment available, including a Du-Mont Scope to check out electrical systems and ignition problems," he added.

Although he doesn't do too much of the actual work any longer, Bartlett still supervises all repair jobs. Along with his wife, who has worked in the office since the garage opened, he takes care of the many business and bookkeeping problems that face businessmen today.

Free estimates are available for any type of mechanical repair work and all service is guaranteed.

A politician got this brief note from a constituent: "I don't want any liberals to liberate me from what our forefathers fought and died for; I want the conservatives to conserve it for me."

Grand Opening Planned At Dick Klamfoth Honda Sales

A complete selection of Honda Motorcycles and accessories will be on display at the Grand Opening Celebration at the new location of Dick Klamfoth Honda Sales and Service, 1962 E. Main-st.

New enlarged facilities and equipment at the Honda dealership will provide motorcycle fans with the finest in service and selection and a large lot will provide plenty of space for free parking of cars and motorcycles.

To introduce the new home of Klamfoth Sales and Service a week-long celebration has been planned to get underway Saturday, June 29, and will continue through July 6.

Gifts for the whole family include an orchid for the ladies, ball-point pens for the men and balloons for the children. Everyone will receive a free soft drink.

Free prizes to be given away at the conclusion of the celebration include crash helmets, motorcycle accessories and models of the Honda Motorcycle.

Klamfoth's new location will also offer complete service on motorcycles, safety helmets and a selection of riding clothes. All parts and accessories for the Honda Motorcycle will be available at the new facilities.

Pet Parade For Whitehall

Children and their pets will be the big feature at the Whitehall Fourth of July Celebration when the youngsters produce a Pet Parade and Dog Show beginning at 5:30 p.m. on Thursday, July 4.

Sponsored by the Eastern Columbus Jaycees, the prizes, sun-visors and arm bands are being donated by the Ken-L Ration Dog Food Company.

Children planning to participate should be present at 5 p.m. at the corner of E. Broad-st and Robinwood-av, where the parade is scheduled to begin. An entry blank is contained in an advertisement in this paper.

The parade promises to offer fun and an opportunity for the camera fan to get many pictures. Everyone is invited to attend the Whitehall celebration on July 4.

Time And Temp. Indicator On O. State Federal

The Ohio State Federal Savings and Loan Association, Gay and Third-sts, has announced the installation of a giant time and temperature indicator, with letters and figures 10-feet tall, atop their downtown building.

The new device, visible for up to three miles, tells the temperature within one degree and precise time, 24-hours a day. In case of a power failure the indicator will continue to work for as long as 10-hours with power supplied by a special carry-over unit.

A photoelectric cell and dimming transformers to increase or decrease the brilliance of the bulbs will insure maximum readability day or night.

Build Addition To Nursing Home

Construction of a new 90-bed convalescent home as an additional facility of the Sun Ridge Nursing Home, 881 Sunbury-rd, was started last week.

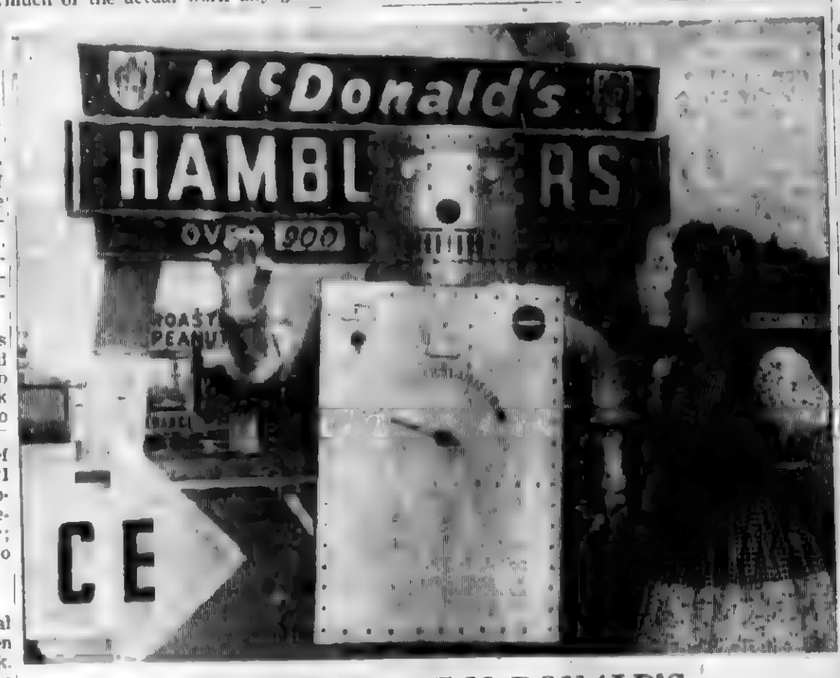
The new center will be located adjacent to the present older building and will contain dining areas and food preparation facilities, recreation and social areas, and therapy and treatment rooms.

Completion of the new Sun Ridge, Inc., project is scheduled for the early part of 1964, and is being constructed by G. W. Atkinson and Son, Inc., Contractors.

Jaycees Name Jones President

Stuart R. (Stu) Jones, Customer Relations Manager of Rodenfels Chevrolet, was elected president of the Columbus Jaycees at a recent meeting.

JONES



A native of Columbus, Jones is married to the former Jane Lloyd, has one son and resides at 1988 Edgemont-rd N. He has been associated with the Jaycees for the past three years.

The Inauguration Ball for newly elected officers has been set for Sunday, July 6, at the Fort Hayes Officers Club.

Jones said he felt the most important projects planned for the coming year is to increase the number of members participating in coming Jaycees endeavors and to add to the organization's membership. He added the Jayees will continue to promote community service projects and work for the welfare of the Columbus area.

NAA Awarded New Army Missile Contract

The U.S. Army's Cleveland Procurement District has announced the awarding of a contract for $80,000 to North American Aviation, Columbus Division, for work on the Redhead, Roadrunner target missile.

VISITORS AT McDONALD'S

LOCAL TV PERSONALITIES Cinderella and the Mechanical Man will meet at McDonald's Carryout Restaurant, 45 S. Hamilton-rd, on Sunday, June 30, from 3 to 4 p.m. to help celebrate the sale of the billionth hamburger by the popular restaurant chain. Free prizes will be given to visitors. The McDonald "Blimp" flying in the sky will mark the place of the celebration.

What's The First Stop For European Tourist? Traveler's Answer – 'There's Only One Paris'

By JACK WITTENMEIER

Ah — Paris!

What better way to spend a vacation than to mingle with the nearly three million people that compose Europe's most fascinating city.

WHAT MAKES Paris so special? It lacks the tradition of London, cannot boast of the old-new contrasts of Rome and sorely lacks the intrigue of Berlin.

The magic of Paris is an indefinable quality which can only be felt. Paris is romance. Paris is history. Paris IS France.

And if you're traveling to the "City of Lights" in a 13-year-old Mercdes Benz over French highways (the worst in Europe), Paris is the end of the rainbow.

IF YOU ARE not extravagant, Paris is the cheapest major city in Europe to spend your time. Comfortable hotel rooms (off the Champs Elysees) are available for as little as two dollars per night.

Best transportation is the Metro (like New York's subway) which will get you anywhere you want to go quickly and least expensively (providing you can make the the ten-second stops).

Most Parisians understand English even if they do not speak it. The French are reasonably friendly toward American tourists unless you mistakenly attempt to reenter the Louve on a Metro ticket stub.

THE NOVICE visitor to Paris is probably smartest taking guided tours which can can offer a three-hour panorama of the major sights for less than $2.50.

Paris has something to offer for everyone. For the gourmet, there's the world's finest wines, sauces, fish and pastry to sample. (Stay away from the liqueur-centered candy unless you're a good drinker).

But for the patron of the arts, there's the budding young painters brushing away along the Seine and of course, the Louve—world's treasure house of masterpieces — where the Mona Lisa is just another picture hanging on a wall lined with the talented efforts of centuries.

WHEN THE magnificence of the Arc de Trumphe and Eiffel Tower are masked in darkness, you might turn your interests to the Folies Bergere or Pigalle, lined with cabarets featuring more base entertainment. The Lido and Moulin Rouge are available for those with more depth to their wallets.

The sports-minded tourist can quench his thirst for excitement by dashing across Paris continual Grand Prix—the Champs Elysees — where rush hour runs 24 hours a day.

Or—if you want to really go "French" you can join the sidewalk cafe crowd, who daily settle back with beret and wine bottle to watch the rest of the world pass by.

THE BEST TRIBUTE we ever heard paid to Paris was encanted by a Luxembourg brewery owner who had traveled all over Europe during his lifetime.

"If we could visit only one place while in Europe, what would you suggest?"

"There is only one Paris," was his immediate reply.

We drank to that.

To Attend Insurance Meeting In New York

James R. O'Donnell, representative of Etna Life Insurance Company of Columbus, will attend the 35th annual meeting of the company's Corps of Regionnaires, Thursday, July 4 through 7, at Whiteface Inn, Lake Placid, N.Y.

Local Families Are Delegates

Daniel Held and family, 147 Midland-av, and Gerald Miller and family, 456 Madison-dr North, West Jefferson, left this week to serve as delegates to an eight-day international convention of Jehovah's Witnesses, scheduled for Yankee Stadium in New York, July 7 through 14.

Held is presiding minister of the West Unit congregation of the religious group.

On 'Enterprise'

James L. Metzger, ship's serviceman second class, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Metzger of 1715 Sullivant-av, recently took part in a joint United States-French military exercise in the Mediterranean early this month while serving aboard the attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise.

NEW GE PORTABLE

A NEW PORTABLE TV set built by General Electric is shown to Don Rice, left, appliance manager at Woolco Department Stores, by Richard E. Dunkel, TV-stereo sales manager of Bard Inc., 1070 W. Third-av. The new set, weighing slightly over 12 pounds, has a two by six inch speaker, 11-inch screen, transistorized UHF converter, a life-time guarantee on the etched circuit boards, and sells for less than $100. The new set went on sale June 1.

Civil Service Exams Start Friday, P.M.

Tomorrow is the last day to pick up applications for the Reynoldsburg Civil Service competitive examinations which will be held in the senior high school, 6699 E. Livingston-av, June 28 and 29.

Applications can still be obtained from Patti Egli in the Muncipal Building until 5 p.m. Friday, June 27.

The following job titles, as announced by Mrs. Phyllis Geohagan, secretary of the Reynoldsburg Civil Service Commission, are listed with starting salaries in parentheses and time and dates of examinations.

• Sewage plant attendant ($400 per month), 7 to 9 p.m., Friday, June 28.

• Equipment operator ($400 per month), 8:30 to 10:30 a.m., Saturday, June 29.

• Water plant attendant ($400 per month), 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday, June 29.

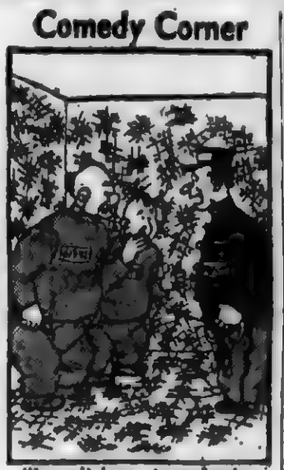
• General maintenance laborer ($380 per month), 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., Saturday, June 29.

All applicants must submit a health and physical examination record from the physician of his choice with their applications. Those desiring additional credit for military service must file their discharge papers from active duty, or certificed copies thereof, with their applications.

An examination fee of $1 will be collected at the time of the examination. Applicants will receive notice of their grades by Monday, July 15.

Council Nixes Zone Petition

Columbus City Council overruled recommendations of the City Planning Commission and staff in rejecting two petitions for zoning changes. The action followed public hearings conducted during the regular Monday night council session.



The petitions involved lots on both sides of Sylvan-av, from Joan-rd to Valleyview-dr, and between Southampton and Algonquin. Petitions asked changes to permit two-family units.

Introduced to council's zoning committee was a petition to rezone two parcels on the north side of Briggs-rd, west of the B&O Railroad, from residential to apartment and multiple family units. Council will set a public hearing date for the request.

In other action, councilmen passed an ordinance to proceed with improvement of Clarendon-av from Mound-st to the first alley south of Mound-st at a cost of $2,200, and approved a resolution declaring the necessity of appropriating real estate for the construction of the Dry Run Levee project.

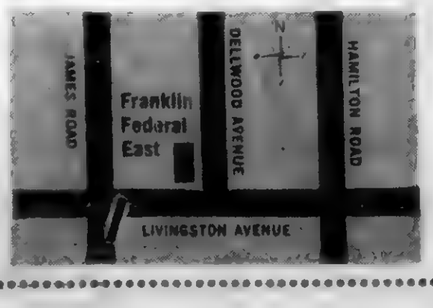
GRAND OPENING

NOW THROUGH AUGUST 3

FRANKLIN FEDERAL EAST

3870 EAST LIVINGSTON AVENUE



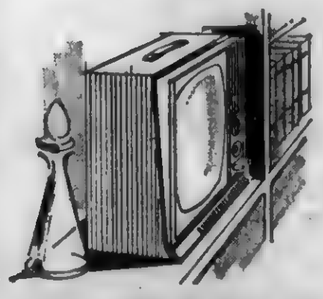
Saving is easier than ever now that there's a Franklin Federal near you! You'll find a lot of things to like about the new Franklin Federal East. Convenient location is one of them. We're right on the corner of Dellwood and East Livingston, next to the new Post Office. There's plenty of free parking at the door.

Savings earn handsome 4% dividends at Franklin Federal, too. And there's even a special savings window for children. Best of all, you'll get the same friendly welcome and personal attention at Franklin Federal East that have made saving at Franklin Federal's downtown office (Main and High) such a pleasant habit.

FREE GIFTS FOR EVERYONE!

Pick up a handy triple-fold yardstick at the door when you visit the new Franklin Federal during the Grand Opening.

GRAND OPENING HOURS:
Monday — Friday 12:00 — 8:00 p.m.
Saturdays 10:00 a.m. — 3:00 p.m.



FREE ATLAS... WHEN YOU OPEN AN ACCOUNT OF $25 OR MORE

Open a savings account of $25 or more between now and July 10 and you'll receive free a 95-page Hammond Road Atlas. This detailed Atlas covers roads, parks, population and mileage for the United States, Canada and Mexico.

PRIZES EVERY WEEK!

Just by walking in the door at Franklin Federal East and filling out a ticket, you're eligible to win one of these 60 prizes. Drawings will be held weekly after closing time on Saturday. You need not be present to win. Winners will be notified each Monday. We'll be giving these great prizes away through August 3, 1963, so don't forget to register.

Eastmoor Junior High Finished, To Open In Fall

School Plans Join Beauty With Utility

By BETTY DAFT

Decorative as well as durable; as pretty as it is practical Eastmoor Junior High, 3450 Medway-av, was designed with an architectural eye to beauty, color and utility.

The transition from outdoors to inside is an easy one, aided by a spacious, central courtyard colonnaded on all four sides, and a spacious lobby walled on one side with the building brick.

Slated to open next September, one year later than was originally expected, the $895,521 building had been planned for partial occupancy last September.

Opening date was advanced to January, and postponed again because school officials felt students would benefit more by continuing their study program undisturbed by a move in mid-year.

The academic atmosphere of the new Eastmoor Junior High was the primary factor in the school design, and placement of shop, music and athletic facilities was determined by this concern.

Shops and boiler room are at the extreme south side of the school, located near the loading zone for easy delivery of supplies and widely separated from classrooms. Large, roll-up doors in outside walls of the metal and wood shops permit direct deliveries.

Vocal and instrumental music rooms and the drama and speech department wrap around the stage at the rear of the auditorium. They are also isolated from classrooms.

The parking area is located in front of the building, allowing easy access for night events in the gym, located at FRONT LOBBY of the new Eastmoor Junior High School, set to open next September, keynotes the building's interesting design and "open air" appearance. The front entrance, not visible at the extreme left of the picture, opens from the school's central courtyard. The wall in the background, of the same brick as that used outside, and the stained glass windows of the administrative office, further the effect of bringing the outdoors inside.

THE SPRAWLING, C-shaped building wraps around two and a half sides of a courtyard, landscaped with trees and flowers in sunken planters and bordered with a covered walkway. From left are David Schackne, Jr., architect for Columbus Schools; Miss Mirian Hinton, vice-principal, and Norval Gross, principal. Architect for the building was William B. McDonald of the firm of McDonald, Cassell and Bassett. (More photos on Page 7)—staff photos by Groom.

Less Digits

In the age of digits it is refreshing to be told we will have two less numbers to dial come Sunday, July 14, when we want to make a direct long distance call. You will dial "1" instead of "112".

Phil Gibbs, district commercial manager of Ohio Bell Telephone Co., states that dialing "1" eventually will become the nationwide method for initiating any long distance, station to station call for which a toll charge applies.

Four-Month-Old Dies Of Burns

A four-month-old East Side boy died of burns received in a fire at his home, 1150 E. Rich-st, early Tuesday morning.

Tommy Donnell Garland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Labon Garland was pronounced dead at the scene by firemen.

Eight others, including the boy's parents, two brothers, a sister, and a cousin, George Chatfield, who reportedly caused the fire, were slightly injured.

Chatfield told firemen he threw a match into a can in the kitchen of the Garland home, not knowing the can contained gasoline, causing the fire.

The father and a neighbor, Reginald Shaw, 32, were burned while attempting to rescue the baby from its crib on the second floor.

Whitehall Garbage Problem Assumes Emergency Status

Whitehall Council Tuesday night heard a report by Service Director Robert B. Mickey that North Haulage Co. was unable to pay its past dumping bill, and therefore could no longer collect garbage in the city.

Councilmen also heard a proposal by Columbus and Southern Electric Co. to reduce electric rates in the city, and a request to rezone property east of Hamilton-rd and south of E. Broad-st to permit construction of a Holiday Inn.

Whitehall's garbage collection problems took on emergency proportions with announcement by North Haulage that collections would cease on Wednesday.

Service Director Mickey told council that the haulage firm has lost dumping rights due to non-payment of back bills.

A meeting of city officials and representatives of the North firm and its bonding company, was scheduled for Wednesday.

City Solicitor Paul Haytcher told council that if the announced intention of North to cease collections is presented in written form, it will constitute a breach of contract. Presumably the city would then ask the bonding company to fulfill the remaining six months of the contract.

Mickey reported that city dump trucks and crews have been picking up garbage during the latest service failure of the contract hauling firm. He said the city could continue pickups a short time.

In other action related to the city's mounting problems with North, Councilman Ray Shipley requested a copy of Mayor Walter B. Moling's message accompanying his veto of a $13,773 "back-pay" ordinance, passed by council at its June 18 meeting.

The ordinance seeks to pay the haulage firm retroactive fees allegedly due because the city failed to take annual dwelling unit accounts.

Council action of the veto was deferred until the next

A FIRST FOR BEXLEY and, as far as committee members can learn, a first for any community Fourth of July celebration is the sidewalk art show planned by Bexley Art Guild Thursday, 11 a.m. to 7 p.m., in front of First Federal Savings and Loan, 2450 E. Main-st. More than 60 water colors and oils will be exhibited by guild members. Paintings will be for sale. Mrs. Donald Cook, 41 S. Roosevelt-av, is exhibit chairman, and Leland McClelland, 246 S. Drexel-av, is Bexley Art Guild president.

Fuses Sputter On Fireworks For 4th Fun

Shades of old-fashioned fourths!

Planners of Fourth of July festivities in Whitehall and Bexley have reached far into the past for ideas for tomorrow's holiday. Features of celebrations, so popular that they live long in people's memories, have been updated for modern appeal and combined with brand new ideas for an exciting Fourth sure to please everyone.

Traditional parades, ball games, athletic contests, games, street dancing and fireworks will star, along with such innovtions as a sidewalk art show in Bexley and a midway at Robinwood Plaza in Whitehall.

And it's all planned with a purpose—to entice residents to stay at home, enjoy the holiday with friends and neighbors, and stay off the highways

Eastern Columbus Jaycees are sponsors of the holiday program in Whitehall, and Bexley Celebrations Committee, of the one in Bexley.

Schedule of events in the two communities is:

IN WHITEHALL

1 p.m. ..... Parade on Broad-st.
2 p.m. ..... Bicycle judging, horseshoe tournament at Robinwood; baseball game at Whitehall High.
3 p.m. ..... Archery demonstration.
3:30 p.m. ..... Boy Scouts tug of war.

WITH WATER AS ammunition and the field south of Robinwood Plaza as a battleground, four companies of firefighters will fight for glory and a trophy during the Fourth celebration in Whitehall. Mifflin I, Mifflin II, Reynoldsburg and Whitehall fire companies will compete at 4 p.m. A revolving trophy, furnished by Eastern Columbus Jaycees, will go to the winners. Whitehall firefighters shaping up for the first annual event are Paul Knobloch, left, and Jim Nemley. The trophy will remain with the company that wins it three years in succession.

"WHATZIT?" Best kept secrets around town for the past few weeks have been the more than 100 floats entered in Bexley's Fourth of July Parade. Not until tomorrow will the reason for a circular frame mounted on a tractor, as a base for a float, become known. As eager as other Bexley residents for tomorrow's parade are, from left, Jim Legg, president of the Bexley Celebration's Committee, sponsoring group for the holiday festivities; C. C. Crabbe, honorary parade chairman, and Al Wing, publicity chairman for BCC.

A HOLIDAY GIFT for their community will be the gigantic Fourth of July program in Whitehall, sponsored by the Eastern Columbus Jaycees Club. Profits from this year's affair will be used to finance similar celebrations in succeeding years. Posed in front of Robinwood Plaza, scene of most of the festivities, with a sign publicizing the event are, from left, Jack Jackson, Jaycees president; Virgil Domer, club secretary; Bill LaRue, general chairman of the event, and Whitehall Mayor Walter Moling.

Decorated bicycles will be judged before the parade at Maryland School, and decorated tricycles after the parade at Cassingham School.

East Sider Treasurer Of OSAA

Alex W. Krumm, 1146 S. Cassingham-rd, was re-elected for his 34th consecutive term as treasurer during the Ohio State Automobile Association convention that ended Friday in Akron.

Krumm, a retired vice-president of the Ohio National Bank, is also a member of the OSAA budget committee and has been treasurer of the Columbus Auto Club for 45 years.

Another Columbus man, Paul R. Gingher of 1725 Roxbury-rd, was named vice-president of the OSAA at the convention.

FranklinPark To Be Scene Of Dedication

This season marks the first summer playground program conducted at Franklin Park, and a 10 a.m. dedication ceremony of the playground will launch the area's Fourth of July celebration.

A pet fair with all varieties of pets will follow at 10:30, for youngsters six to 16.

First prize winners in each of four categories will be awarded a membership to the YMCA on Woodland-av.

Sponsors of the holiday program are the City Recreation Department, Division of Parks and Forestry, Franklin Park Area Council, and Mount Vernon Avenue Business Men's Association.

The dedication will include an address by J. Richard Lawwill, superintendent Parks and Forestry; remarks by Jerry Fedderson, City Recreation Department; a representative of the Recreation Commission, and Miss Margaret E. Day, chairman Franklin Park Council.

Rev. Russell Jones, former city councilman, will give the invocation and closing prayer.

A fireworks display will be held at the park at 8 p.m.

Brands Eyes Job As Acting Postmaster

Haskell E. Brands, 1498 Efner-dr, is one of the 30 men who have applied for the position of acting postmaster of Columbus.

The postal carrier is commander of Franklin Post, American Legion, and first vice-president of the 12th Legion District.

Though Jerry Ryan, local Democratic chairman, declined to identify the 30 men who have applied for the position since the death of Postmaster Allen Rowe Monday, Brands was one of the five applicants whose names were released from Washington, as they had gone through that channel.

Until President Kennedy names a permanent postmaster from Civil Service eligibles, Postmaster General Day will appoint an acting postmaster upon the recommendation of the local steering commitee.

Ryan expects to forward the recommendation within a week to ten days. Assistant Postmaster Erwin S. Merz, who has been with the department 49 years, is at the helm of post office operations until an appointment is made.

Eastern Civitans To Fete Patients At State Hospital

Eastern Civitan Club will conduct its annual ward picnic for patients at the Columbus State Hospital Wednesday, July 10, 4 to 8 p.m.

Otto Heinzerling is chairman of the event. Eastern Civitans will furnish entertainment, cigarettes, candy and ice cream, and do the cooking. The hospital will supply the food.

The picnics, held each week throughout the summer months, are sponsored by different clubs and organizations.

83d Division At Ft. Lee, Va. For Annual Unit Training

Residents heard the trucks rumbling out of the U.S. Army Reserve armories in the early hours Saturday. Many Columbus area relatives and friends were on hand to wave good-bye to loved ones for their two-week separation while the reservists of the 83d Infantry Division hit the dusty trail in their annual two-week training period at Fort Lee, Va., located near the historic town of Richmond.

Many of the units departed in style this year, with transportation being furnished by United, American and TWA airlines for eight of the 12 units departing from the greater Columbus area.

Local USAR training centers that were a beHive of activity to meet airline schedules were Whitehall, Roberts-rd and Fort Hayes.

United Airlines transported 13 men of the Second Brigade, 83d Division, from the Whitehall Armory; 32 men from Hq. and Co. A, Eighth Tank Battalion, 66th Armor from Roberts-rd Armory, and Fort Hayes sent 45 men from Hq. and Hq. Battery, 83d Division Artillery and and 18 men from Hq. Battery, Seventh Howitzer, 28th Artillery. Units from Marysville, Logan, Delaware and Marion also departed by air.

Many of the troops traveled by bus, leaving simultaneously from the Whitehall and Main Street USAR training centers. Eleven men of Co. C, 783d Maintenance Battalion departed from the Main Street Armory, located at 817 E. Main-st, and from the Whitehall Armory 50 men of the Hq. and Hq. Co. and 30 men from Co. A, 3d Infantry Battalion, Second Infantry, departed by bus. Company A, 783d Maintenance Battalion, sent eight men in this group.

The men will return to their respective training centers following the two-week training period.

Tom McNutt New County 4-H Director

Dublin High School vocational agriculture instructor, and well-known figure in vocational agricultural circles in Franklin County, Tom McNutt, took over duties Monday, July 1, as County Extension Agent for 4-H, replacing Richard Thomas who resigned Dec. 31, 1962.

McNutt's appointment was announced this week by County Extension Agent George B. Ganyard.

Ganyard said the appointment is subject to approval by the Ohio State University Board of Trustees, since the job also carries a faculty position at OSU.

The 29-year-old McNutt said he hoped to continue "the fine work that has been done in the past, and to expand the 4-H program to include urban members.

After five and one-half years at Dublin, McNutt's credentials include:

- Developing one of the first vocational horticulture courses in the state.
- Starting of a land laboratory at the high school, for use by horticulture, biology and general science classes, with the financial aid of the Dublin Kiwanis Club.
- Teaching of adult education courses for Young and Adult Farmer groups.
- Franklin County Fair Board publicity director in 1962.
- Member of the public relations committee and speakers' bureau of the Ohio Vocational Association.
- Member, education committee, Ohio Forestry Association.
- Past president, Franklin County Agriculture Teachers and Extension Workers Association.
- Past secretary, District Nine (Central Ohio), Ohio Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association.
- Member, Ohio and National Education Associations, and Ohio and National Vocational Teachers Associations.
- Earning a Master's Degree in agricultural education from Ohio State University, and working toward a Ph.D.

McNutt lives at 123 Franklin-st, Dublin, with his wife and two daughters, ages two and four.

The State Extension Service Advisory Board recommended McNutt's employment, and the recommendation was accepted by the Franklin County Agricultural Extension Advisory Board.

A replacement at Dublin has not yet been named.

50th Anniversary HighlightsCounty Fair This Year

"This is our 50th anniversary and the Fair will be bigger and better than ever," said Carl Crandall, secretary of the Franklin County Fair Board, in discussing improvements to be made in the facilities at the County Fairgrounds.

Bids will be sought for a floor to replace the gravel floor in the new commercial building. The building was used for the first time last year. Many manufacturers and dealers already have indicated their intention of displaying products at this Golden Anniversary exhibition, and requests for space are coming into the office almost daily, according to the secretary.

Painting of some of the buildings and general clean-up are also planned.

The grand opening will be at 6 p.m. Monday, Aug. 12.

The fair will run through Saturday, Aug. 17, and harness racing will be the big attraction on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

Census Conducts Repair Survey

Information on expenditures for residential alterations and repairs will be collected in the July Quarterly Household Survey, it was announced today by Director Hobert A. Yerkey of the Census Bureau regional office at Detroit. The survey will be conducted locally and in the 356 other sample areas of the country during the first 10 days of July.

In addition to the questions on alterations and repairs, inquiries will be made in the July Quarterly Household Survey regarding travel habits of Americans. These questions will cover destination, type of transport used, major reason for trip, overnight accommodations used, and related items. The travel questions are part of America's first Census of Transportation.

FRANKLN FEDERAL OPENS EAST OFFICE

IN THE FIRST TWO DAYS of operation more than 55 accounts were opened at Franklin Federal East's new offices, 3870 E. Livingston-av. During the Grand Opening celebration the new savings and load branch featured weekly drawings for TV sets, bicycles and fishing rods and reels. All visitors received a triple-fold yardstick. Customers opening a new account of $25 or more received a 95-page road atlas.

A FRONT VIEW of one of the newly constructed apartments in the Greenbrier Apartment project on Eaton and Miner-avs shows the design of the southern colonial motif used throughout the development. White brick and stucco, accented by charcoal roofs and shutters was used to emphasize the attractive design by George Deffet and Associates who promoted the development.

Deffet Co. Finishes Construction On New Greenbrier Apartments

George Deffet, president of Deffet Real Estate, 3225 W. Broad-st, has announced the completion of work on the $250,000 Greenbrier apartment project on Eaton and Miner-av, west of the South Freeway.

The new project will offer apartments that are moderate in rent and especially attractive to persons working in the downtown area. The decor of the development is a southern colonial motif with gleaming white brick and stucco accented by charcoal roofs and shutters.

Other projects currently under construction include a $90,000 commercial building in Upper Arlington, residences located southwest in the $25,000 price range and apartments in the company's $600,000 Riverview complex of 66 units in North Columbus west of Olentangy River-rd, south of Riverside Methodist Hospital.

Land is currently under option in several other locations, including Dayton. Leases are also being acquired for a $500,000 three-story office building in Clintonville on N. High-st. Other land for apartment construction is currently in the engineering stages and the company has announced it is considering additional locations in the Franklin County area for residential home building.

Announce Coming Movie Schedule For City Parks

Nature films have been scheduled to be shown out-of-doors each Tuesday night at Darby Creek Park; Wednesday nights at Blacklick Woods and Thursday nights at Blendon Woods Park.

All programs are scheduled to begin at dusk and benches are provided on a first come—first serve basis. Visitors may bring their own chairs and cushions.

The schedule for July is as follows:

July 9, 10 and 11. "Realm of the Wild." Big game animals and smaller animals in our national forests. "North Dakota, The Changing Picture," a story of North Dakota from its fat cattle to its lush wheat fields.

July 16, 17 and 18. "The Island Way," a trip along the southern coast of Finland. "Everglades; Gateway to Water Wilderness," a cruise into the mysterious Everglades.

July 23, 24 and 25. "Mobile, City of the Old South," the story of the Mardis Gras, Azalea Trail and Bellingrath Gardens. "Just For the Fun of It," a pictorial presentation of lakes in the South which have been created by the Army Corps of Engineers.

July 30, 31 and Aug. 1. "Pennsylvania Dutch Country," a tour of Lancaster County, Pa. "A Tree Is Born," story of how researchers produce hybrid pine trees.

Johnson Trains At Philadelphia

James L. Johnson, 1724 Pickering-dr, Reynoldsburg, is undergoing two weeks' concentrated instruction in Naval techniques at the U. S. Naval Base, Philadelphia.

Johnson was a member of the first troop train movement in a doen years to come directly to the East Coast base direct from two weeks active duty at Great Lakes. Conditions during this training simulate actual conditions at sea besides giving each reservist instruction for promotion.

Seaman Johnson also will receive instruction in fire fighting and atomic biological, and chemical warfare.

Training Classes Develop Skills, Abilities In City's Unemployed

Training programs for unemployed persons in Columbus have spiraled from one class a year ago to five at the present time.

Classes are held on topics ranging from retail food training for blind adults to a welding course. One hundred and six persons are attending the classes, sponsored by the Columbus Board of Education and held under the auspices of the Manpower Development Training Act.

A 13-week program for blind persons, aimed at training them to be managers of food stands or cafeterias, began June 10.

The students, housed at the Beta Theta Phi Fraternity house on 15th-av, will learn from raised graphs and charts, tape recorders and a retail sales unit installed in the fraternity house.

The 24 blind students range in age from 18 to 59 and from one who has less than a high school diploma to another who has a master's degree in chemistry.

Instructors are John Mulherin of Clinton Junior High, and David Cary, South High School.

Carleton Bankes, coordinator of Manpower Development Training for Columbus Public Schools, said he was "particularly proud" of a welding class that started Mar. 18 and will conclude June 30 at Central High School.

Men in the welding class will have had 400 hours of class instruction when the course is finished. Main subjects covered are the theory of welding, blueprint reading, shop math and arc, acetylene and inert gas welding.

Teachers have been Roger Chaney of Central High, and Walter Kefauver, Roosevelt Junior High.

A machine shop training course at Central High School started June 17 and will continue until next March. The men will receive 1,065 hours of classroom training, attending 40 hours a week during the summer months and 25 hours a week during evenings after school opens in September.

Teaching the shop course are William Sedor of Linden-McKinley High, and Isaac Reid of Central High School.

Two other courses, one at Central High School for clerk-typists and another for office machine operators at Whetstone High, have an enrollment of 44 women.

The clerk-typist course will meet for 11 weeks, 30 hours a week, and has an enrollment of 25. Women enrolled in the course needed additional training to meet the hiring standards of employers, according to Bankes.

Teacher in the course is Don List, business teacher at Central High.

The office machine course has an enrollment of 19 women and is taught by Grover Cook, a Whetstone teacher.

The need for courses in the Manpower program are determined by surveys conducted by the Ohio State Employment Service. The OSES selects persons for the course, the Columbus Board of Education is responsible for training them, and the Employment Service then places the students.

Purpose of the training is to develop a skill in order to be employed.

Grand Opening Observed For Walnut Heights

Walnut Heights, a brand new community development on Noe-Bixby-rd, between E. Livingston-av and Rt. 33, observed the Grand Opening Celebration for five conventionally built model homes on Saturday and Sunday, June 29 and 30.

One hundred and 13 new homes, priced from $12,500, will be constructed in the development, all including three bedrooms, attached garage and concrete driveway.

Walnut Heights has a Columbus Board of Education elementary school site set for construction and plans for a shopping center have been approved for the area. Streets are already paved and paid for by the builder, George A. Skestos, who has been in the construction business since 1956.

Skestos, a former attorney in Columbus, and his companies have constructed some 4,000 homes in the Midwestern United States.

Special guests at the Grand Opening celebration were movie actress Diana Dors and former Ohio State All-American Jerry Lucas.

RESERVISTS CITE PAPERS

RECEIVING A CERTIFICATE from the Ohio Department of the Reserve Officers Association is Marcus T. Orr, Hartley Newspapers' managing editor. The award, presented on June 10 by Brig. Gen. Donald J. Campbell, Ohio ROA president, is in recognition of Hartley Newspapers' editorial support of reserve forces of all military branches in the Columbus area. Gen. Campbell is commander of the 302nd Troop Carrier Wing (Reserve), Clinton County AFB, Wilmington, which has openings for pilots and navigators who are lieutenants and captains. For details contact Air Force Reserve Major Fred Wright, BE. 1-0000.

Jerry Spears Co. Observes 35 Years Of Area Service

The Jerry Spears Co., 2693 W. Broad-st, is observing 35 years of service to Columbus area residents by calling attention to four "firsts" which the organization has accomplished at its modern Hilltop chapel.

The company was the first in the Hilltop area with exclusive ambulance service, complete with inhalator and air conditioning; the first on the Hilltop with elevator service to casket and apparel displays rooms and conference room; the first on the Hilltop with a fully air-conditioned funeral chapel and parlors and the first on the Hilltop to offer a pre-arranged service.

Both Jerry Spears, Sr., and Jerry Spears, Jr., have restated their long-honored policy to aid the family in making arrangements to suit preferences and price range, using no pressure; to provide pre-arranged service only when the family desires; to participate and give full support to all civic projects and activities which contribute to community betterment; to provide ambulance service as well as funeral direction; and to refrain from all commercial methods or policies which might be construed as pressure tactics.

HOME AGAIN

PAT CLINGO, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Clingo, 7011 Shanlis-dr, returned home June 28 from Buckeye Girls' State, which was held at Capital University. While there Pat served as director of Civil Defense and as a notary. She was on the Board of Health and the Safety Committee. "We all had a wonderful week here," she said in summing up her experiences. Pat will serve as vice-president of next year's senior class at Reynoldsburg High School.

Auction Set At Steelton Parking Lot

Though it's two months until the annual auction, the Southside Businessmen and Industrial Association are making plans for the Sept. 12 event.

The charity sale will be held on the new Steelton Merchants parking lot east of Parsons-av, which is tentatively scheduled for Grand Opening the same day.

Joe Ronson, chairman, has announced that Howard Sales, 757 Parsons-av, and Hoermle's Appliances, 1894 Parsons-av, will serve as pick-up stations and are ready for donations now. Anyone with items too large to carry can make arrangements for a truck to collect them by calling Ronson at HI. 3-1580 or the either of the two stores, 443-4613 and HI. 4-2195.

Trucking Co. Owner Dies

Funeral for Arthur A. Slonaker, Jr., 49, late of 1573 Graham-rd, was held Saturday at Gosnell Funeral Home.

He was owner of the Reynoldsburgf Trucking Co., and a member of the Knights of Pythias.

Surviving are his wife, Evelyn; two sons, James A., of 816 Pleasant-dr and Michael, at home; two daughters, Mrs. George Lorentz, Mrs. Ronald Burke, also of Reynoldsburg; brother, Kenneth of Winter Par, Fla.; three sisters, Mrs. James Azin, Mrs. Harold Harlan, Mrs. Samuel Decker, all of Zanesville; stepmother, Mrs. Arthur Slonaker of Zanesville; eight grandchildren; several nieces and nephews.

Rev. Charles V. Clark officiated at the funeral. Burial was at Glen Rest.

TO BUILD ADDITION

Paul Tolliver, 1180 S. Waggoner-rd, has received a permit to build a one-room, frame addition to his home valued at $1,500.

CHIEF NOT HORSIN'

CHIEF ROB FLESHER, a senior at Canal Winchester this fall, won't be satisfied with trinkets. The chief is after the big trophies at the 15th annual Mid-Western Horse Show and Rodeo, July 3 to 7, at the Ohio State Fairgrounds Coliseum. Bob, who works with his aunt and uncle, Charlie and Betty Ept of Valee Acres, Pickerington, has appeared in many shows, most frequently in the Appaloosa Costume Class, the specialty of the Valee Acres Farm. This is just one of the 156 classes being offered at the Mid-Western Horse Show and Rodeo. There are also divisions for Arabians, Morgans, Palominos, Quarter Horses, Western Horses and Ponies, Calf Roping, Cattle Cutting, Rodeo and Girls' Barrel Racing events. Performances will be held at 7:30 p.m. July 3-6, and 1:30 p.m. July 4, 6 and 7. Mid-Western show officials report that entries are coming in from at least half of the 50 states.

FOOD MARKETS THIS WEEK

July A Good Month For Food Shoppers

THIS WEEK LOOK FOR:

Fruits — Watermelons, cantaloupes, plums, bananas, peaches, lemons.

Vegetables — Sweet corn, greenhouse tomatoes, new potatoes, homegrown lettuce, celery, cabbage.

Meat — Fryers, beef "specials", wieners, hams and picnics, ground beef.

Other — Cheese, ice cream, frozen lemonade.

July might be called "Best Eating Month" of the year . . . that is, if you like that good 'ole homegrown flavor of vegetables and fruits. In addition, you can look forward to a good supply of shipped-in produce and plenty of beef, poultry and dairy foods.

Mrs. Franks

Roasting ears will start coming from nearby farms next week. The supply will be light at first and increase substantially by mid-July. You'll like the better quality of the early corn this year because many producers are growing new hybrids that eat much better than the early sweet corn of past seasons.

Harvest of field-grown tomatoes has started in southern Ohio and there will be a good supply of greenhouse tomatoes throughout July. Other salad vegetables will also be plentiful and of high quality, if good growing weather continues. If you are in the mood for cooked fresh-from-the-garden vegetables, there are lots of good snap beans, beets, cauliflower and squash, at lower prices.

Fresh fruits have had a hard time this season in Ohio. However, locally-grown black and red raspberries, currants and gooseberries are short season fruits you'll want to watch for during the next three weeks. At this writing, the prospects for these fruits look good. This is the time also for red sour cherries, but there will be fewer around than usual—about one-eighth of a crop in Ohio and a small crop throughout the country.

Shipped-in fruits in good supply are watermelons, cantaloupes, southern peaches, plums and western grapes. Fresh apricots and nectarines are other short season fruits to enjoy during July.

Meat prices are not expected to change much for the next several weeks. Despite good summertime demand, beef steaks from the loin and rib are expected to stay lower priced than last summer. You're likely to see low-priced specials on chuck roasts, rump roasts, and round steaks in the next few weeks. This may be a good time to replenish beef supplies for the freezer or locker. Forequarters are being offered by quantity meat suppliers at very reasonable prices.

In the poultry line, broiler supplies will be seasonally heavy during July; many turkeys will move from frozen storage at reasonable prices; egg prices may move a little higher on the grade A large as production drops off seasonally, and as more of the smaller and middle-sized eggs appear.

Park Concerts Set For Summer

Sunday evening concerts are being revived in city parks with much interest being shown, according to J. Richard Lawwill, superintendent of Parks and Forestry.

With the cooperation of the Civitan Clubs of Columbus, the following schedule has been set up for the Park of Roses, N. High-st, at 7:30 p.m. each evening.

July 14 — Buckeye Chapter Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Singing in America novice quartet contest.

July 28 — Columbus Chapter Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Singing in America concert.

Aug. 11—Columbus Maennerchor.

Aug. 18 — Buckeye Chapter Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Singing in America concert.

To end the season arrangements are now being made to have the Lockbourne Air Force Base band perform on Aug. 25 and the Eastern Star choral group on Sept. 8.

At Goodale Park, through the cooperation of the Near Northside Council, two concerts will be given.

July 14 — North High School Band.

July 28 — Whetstone High School Band.

Tentative plans call for the North American Band appearing at Franklin Park on Aug. 25 through the cooperation of the Franklin Park Advisory Council.

Soroptimist And Suburban Clubs Award Scholarships To Mrs. Mary Montebello And Mrs. Nicole K. Jeffers

MRS. MONTEBELLO

Soroptimist Club of Columbus has awarded its ninth $800 scholarship to Mrs. Mary Montebello, 1267 Pierce-av. This marks the second consecutive year that Mrs. Montebello has received the scholarship.

She is an elementary school principal and for the past three years has been a graduate assistant and PhD student at Ohio State University.

Any woman resident of Franklin County who has completed her undergraduate work may apply for the $800 scholarship award. The applicant may select any field of study and may attend any accredited school of her choice.

Other conditions of eligibility are high scholarship, financial need and her intention to contribute in service to her community as well as to her personal and professional advancement.

Application forms may be obtained by contacting a Soroptimist.

Suburban Women's Club, an affiliate of the Ohio and General Federation of Women's Clubs, has awarded a $400 nursing scholarship at Ohio State University School of Nursing to Mrs. Nicole Kessler Jeffers, 1413 King-av.

Mrs. Jeffers is a 1960 graduate of North High School.

The scholarship is for the 1963-64 school year.

This scholarship, based on character, financial need and grades, was one of the major educational aid projects of Suburban Women's Club for the 1962-63 club year.

The club received a $500 award for its educational aid projects in a national contest sponsored by the Shell Oil Co. and the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

It was open to any high school graduate in Franklin

Board members will serve as hostesses.

Dennis L. Lombard will talk on home decorating.

Robert E. Morgan, president, will conduct a short business meeting following the program.

New Gray Ladies Needed To Fill Hospital Vacancies

Red Cross is seeking new volunteers to wear the uniform of the Gray Lady Service.

For years these ladies in gray have given services that have contributed to the comfort and recovery of the sick, the injured and the handicapped in hospitals and institutions.

Although some 200 women actively serve in this program many more are needed to meet new requests for Gray Ladies by hospitals not presently served and fill vacancies in hospitals and institutions that already have Gray Lady units.

Interested persons may call the Franklin County Chapter of the American Red Cross, 995 E. Broad-st, CL. 3-8511.

Soda-Sippin' Surprise . . .

Sipping sodas is a warm-weather delight that's almost as old as summer itself! So wouldn't you like to know about a tasty new one to add to the refreshing pleasure of this great American pastime?

A Florida Sambee is a whiz of a soda, having lovely looks, super flavor and a definite plus, nutritionally speaking. Luscious, fresh-frozen Florida orange juice concentrate is the basis of this scrumptious soda, and its high natural vitamin C content and other nutrients are great for helping restore energy sapped by hot weather and summer's active sports.

Your choice of fresh or frozen mixed fruit and fruit sherbet are added to the reconstituted orange concentrate to make a Sambee. Srawberries, blueberries, raspberries, melon balls, diced peaches or pineapple are delicious in a variety of combinations, and orange, pineapple or lemon sherbet gives a cool touch.

FLORIDA SAMBEE

1 can (6 ounces) frozen Florida orange juice concentrate

1½ cups fresh or frozen mixed fruit (diced)

½ pint orange, pineapple or lemon sherbet

Reconstitute orange juice concentrate according to directions on can. In three tall glasses, add a generous spoonful of diced fruit and fill three-quarters full with orange juice. Add a spoonful of sherbet and garnish with remaining fruit. Yield: three servings.

Boys And Girls Spin On Whirligig Of Summer Activity

Family and playday activities are being featured this week at all Columbus Recreation Department playgrounds, with a variety of picnics, games, contests and family events planned.

League play at all Junior Jet baseball areas started last week.

Sectional tournaments in four square, tetherball and horseshoes were held, and winners will compete in the city finals, to be announced.

Sectional track meets, in preparation for the Junior Olympic Track and Field Meet at Ohio State Stadium on Aug. 3, will be held next week. Playgrounds in the South and East sections will compete at South High School on July 11.

Latest reports from local playgrounds follow:

Leawood . . .

Many activities are now under way at Leawood Playground.

In Junior Jet Baseball, Team One is the league leader with a record of two wins and one loss. Skipper Storts, Buddy Brown, Scott Redding and Del McKray have played very well this past week.

In physical fitness, 12 people passed their tests this past week. They are Dale Thompson, Darell Sanson, Vickie Clifford, Barbara Berman, Sheridan Sanson, Bill Brown, Rebecca Manundic, Linda Schiff, Bob Stein, Richard Mills, Mike Wods and Debbie Fox.

Winners of last week's clown contest are, according to categories and places:

Special — 1, Graig Pierano; 2, Billy Ebert; 3, Betty Ebert, and most original — 1, Cristy Ferrin; 2, Nympha Thompson; 3, Lee Held.

Cutest — 1, Janis Blosser; 2, Mark Ryan; 3, Gary Ryan, and happiest—1, Danny Fox; 2, Michele Fox; 3, Mike Peirano.

Funniest — 1, Norma Thompson; 2, Dale Thompson; 3, Donna Schiff, and saddest —1, Chuck Long; 2, Donny McFarland, and 3, Lorn Hall.

Junior girls' softball team beat Willis Park, 6-5, in its first game last Thursday evening. Lee Held hit a home run in the first inning while Donna Schiff hit the final drive that won the game.

The girl's next opponent is Pine Crest.

Team members also include Norma Thompson, Lee Held, Cristy Ferrin, Debbie Wright, Donna Schiff, Michele Fox, Bonnie Collette, Debbie Fox, Phyllis Berman, Michele Samelson, Vickie Scott and Vera Thompson.

The horseshoe, four-square and tetherball championships were also held last week. Horseshoe champions are Buddy Brown and Dale Thompson — the former in the nine to 12 age group, and the latter in the 13 to 15 age group.

Four-square champions in the various age groups are as follows:

Eight and under — Greg Charles and Mark Collins; nine to 12 group — Barbara Dahnke, Lee Held, Buddy Brown, Bob Held, and 13 to 15 group — Dale Thompson, Billy Brown, Linda Schiff and Vera Thompson.

Tetherball champions are, according to age groups:

Eight and under — Loval Thompson and Darlene Collette; nine to 12 group — Michele Samelson and Buddy Brown; 13 to 15 group — Mickey Schorr and Peggy Collette.

Drama Festival will be held July 19.

Leawood children will go to Indian Dav Camp the week of July 29. The necessary forms are available from playground leaders.

A dance was held on the playground last evening for children and parents.

Willis Park . . .

During this week, Willis Park is holding sectional tetherball, four-square and horseshoe tournaments.

Also during this week, in arts and crafts, children are making paper beads, weaving, painting and making lanyards and bracelets from gimp.

Last week in arts and crafts, the children made papier-mache clown heads, pot holders and finger paintings.

Willis Park held its clown contest last Wednesday. Winners who captured first prize were Jody Primmer and Mathew Mastenbrook, saddest clowns; cutest clowns, Edye LeVine and Jerry Chambers; funniest clowns, Carla Chambers and Charles Smith, and most unusual, Becky Brown.

Willis Park also attended the sectional clown contest held last Friday at City Hall.

During the past week, sectional horseshoes and tetherball tournaments were held at the playground, with six boys and four girls participating.

League play in the Junior Jet League started last week. Three games were played last week, and Team Two will play Team Three at 6 p.m. Friday.

Four softball league games were played last week.

The junior girls lost a thriller to Leawood in eight innings, giving a final score of 6-5. Intermediate girls lost a scoring duel to Courtwright, 21-14, and the intermediate boys won against Leawood, with a final score of 6-1.

STUDENTS may move across the courtyard for a breath of fresh air when the weather is nice, instead of changing classes throug the school halls.

HUGE AND IMPRESSIVE, the auditorium's features are in keeping with the building's plan of being pretty as well as practical. Wall propections, needed for the acoustics, are done in brilliant primary colors. Wide steps in front of the stage not only seem to bring the audience closer, but eliminate the need of risers for choral programs.

Krumm Park . . .

Sectional tetherball and four-square and horseshoe tournaments will be held July 2 and 3 at Krumm Park.

July Fourth finds the playground closed.

On July 10 there will be track and field meets at North, South, and Central High Schools. Our contestants will be seen at South.

A happy group enjoyed the wiener roast this week. Attending were Jerry Wise, Karma Huckelby, Bobby Powers, Sam Houston, Lenny Miller, Gay Vaughn, Robina Vaughn, Dottie Priest, Charles Blunt, John Sullivan, Jessie Houston, Johnny Paolucci, Debra Harkless, Jimmie Dodge, Rita Miller, Joyce Fuchs, Mr. Collin and Mr. Hendren.

Mr. Capuano will show his zoo animals with the skunk, capucin (Brazil), ferret (Europe), Red fox from Ohio, Patas monkey from Africa, squirrels (Michigan), mona monkey (Africa), ancuchi (Brazil) squirrel monkey from Panama.

Otis Roddy is umpiring Junior Jet games.

Joyce Fuchs tried to be the saddest clown; Rita Miller, the funniest; Debbie Harkless, the most original, and Melbourne Eldridge, the funniest, with Mike Priestas as a team mate.

July 15 marks the start of sectional volleyball tournaments. On July 26 the sectional lantern parades will begin.

Pinecrest . . .

In Pinecrest's clown contest, Jeff Lewis won first prize for the cutest; prize for saddest went to Pam Hamilton; happiest, Joyce Ramer, and most original, Peggy Peck, Gregory Peck, Bob Hanners, Dave Hanners and Lynn Miller.

Special award went to Gary Rockefeller.

Pinecrest week at Indian Village Day Camp in the week of July 29. All boys and girls from eight to 12 years are welcome. Cost is $2.50 per child, and this includes transportation, insurance, milk and general craft materials.

Children will be transported to camp each day by bus. The bus will pick them up at Leawood School at 8:30 a.m., and return them by 5 p.m. each day.

More information about Day Camp may be obtained by calling BE 5-2133, and asking for Mr. Golden.

Junior Jet Baseball is off to a good start. The Minor League finds team three in first place. The Major League team D is in first place.

Shepard . . .

Shepard School Playground held its clown contest last Wednesday. Dale Rucker, Kitty McGhee, Jeanette McGhee, Sharon Mixon, Karl McGhee and Lorraine Rogers walked off with prizes.

The Junior Boys ages eight to 12, lost a squeaker to Krumm Park 12 to 10. The girls lost to Maryland Park, but the Intermediate Boys salvaged some glory with a 12 to five victory over Krumm Park.

The game was highlighted by the pitching of Bob Eiland, the hitting of Dewight Cartier, the fielding of Larry Burke, and daring base running of Raymond Muse.

All ball teams will play again this week.

Hanford . . .

Hanford Playground will participate in the district horseshoe, tetherball and four-square tournaments at Poindexter Recreation Center next week. Four-square competition will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m.; tetherball Tuesday, 2:30 p.m., and horseshoes, Wednesday, 1:30 p.m.

Physical fitness tests have started. Tests for both boys and girls will continue through the summer.

Hanford's intermediate boys' and girls' softball has started. The boys jolted Fairwood's team, 17-13, and the girls rocked Palgrove's team, 28-19.

A Junior Leaders Club has been formed for the purpose of assisting playground leaders. Members of this club are Cheryl Keyes, Deborah Tartt, Lynn Wright, Cindy Jennings, Carol Holliman and Etta Eskridge. The club welcomes new members.

James Rd. . . .

Junior Jet program is in full swing at James Road. Teams number two and four are leading their respective leagues with two wins and no losses.

James Road softball teams played two games last week. The Intermediate Boys were beaten by Fairmoor by a score of 11 to 3. Junior Boys were more fortunate, winning over Pinecrest by 12 to 4.

All boys and girls interested in the South Sectional Track and Field Meet, to be held at South High School July 11, can get information from Miss Hayhow or Mr. Cooper.

Volleyball tournaments will begin the week of July 15. All boys and girls interested in playing on a team in this tournament should come to the playground for practice.

Scottwood . . .

Scottwood's Junior Jets season is well under way, with eight teams competing in two leagues.

On Thursday, June 27, Steve Georgeff pitched a one-hitter as team 4 defeated team 2, 5-0.

In the eight and nine-year-old league (American), teams 1 and 2 are leading the field. Outstanding players so far are Chuckie Kletecka, Jeff Bommer, Chris Ortman, Dave Nichols and John Donneman.

Scottwood's Junior softball team has started the season with a big bang, defeating Leawood 32-0 on Dicky Traphagan's no-hit pitching.

Tetherball, four square, and horseshoe tournaments continued on the playground this

Opening of the junior high in September will result in the reorganization of Eastmoor Junior-Senior High as a senior high school only, with grades ten through 12.

Since the opening of Eastmoor Junior-Senior High a few years ago, Johnson Park Junior High was opened in 1959 and enlarged in 1962. It has a capacity for about 1250 students.

Enrollment at the new Eastmoor Junior High is already about 700, the planned capacity of the building.

held Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 1 for children week. Playground winners will compete in the sectional tournament.

Arts and crafts classes are eight years old and younger, and on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 1 for children nine years old and older. Last week paper mache puppets and figurines and gimp key chains were made.

Winners in the annual Scottwood Clown Contest held June 26 on the playground were: cutest clown, Janice Georgeff, first and Eileen O'Leary, second; saddest clown, Corinne Shaevitz, first and Jerri Aberman, second; happiest, Mark Cameron; funniest, Barbara Marin, and most original clown, Beverly Courtney, first, and Joan Johnson, second.

Judges were Mrs. L. Gene Lanier and Miss Linda Ritter.

Varied activities, including dodgeball and kickball, quiet games, informal singing, dramatics, folk dancing, and storytelling are offered on the Scottwood Playground each week.

Boys and girls interested in participating should contact

ALLEN M. ROWE

Retirement Only 6 Months Away, City Postmaster Dies

Allen M. Rowe, 28 Bullitt Park, Columbus postmaster for nearly 15 years, died at Riverside Hospital Monday, apparently following a heart attack.

Rowe had confided to associates that he planned to retire Dec. 1, just six months from the day of his death.

At 69, the postmaster had been under a physician's care for several months.

Funeral service was to be held today (Wednesday) at 10 a.m. in the Schoedinger State Street Chapel, 229 E. State-st, with interment in Fairmont Cemetery, Jackson.

Rowe was active in the Democratic Party, and served as a member of the Franklin County Executive Committee and as delegate to the Democratic National Convention in 1938.

He was a Navy lieutenant, and was on the honorary Navy retired list as a senior grade lieutenant.

He was also a member of the Press Club of Ohio, Columbus Country Club, the Elks, FOE and Broad Street Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include his wife, Toulon; Allen Jr., Austin, Tex.; daughter, Mrs. G. Byron Engholm of Willowwick and four granddaughters.

Rowe's brother, Merrill, is postmaster at Portsmouth, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Harold E. Rowe, is postmaster in his home town, Coalton, Jackson County.

Two other brothers, Arthur L., a Columbus attorney, and James, a retired state employe, also survive.

DOWNING, Eleanor JoAnn, 706 Yearling-rd, died at age 50. Survived by daughters, Mrs. Pauline Blair and Mrs. Norma J. Ratcliffe; son, Clyde R. Preest; nine grandchildren, mother, three sisters, three brothers. Requiem Mass was offered at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, Grove City, Saturday, June 29. Interment at Eastlawn Cemetery with arrangements by Norris Funeral Home.

MULROONEY, Michael S., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mulrooney, 3280 E. Seventh-av. Graveside service at Glen Rest Cemetery Friday, June 28. Arrangements by Egan-Ryan Co.

BAER, Mrs. Alberta E., 48, of 1761 Lattimer-dr, died at Grant Hospital, Saturday, June 29. Survived by husband, Lawrence C.; two sons, two daughters, two brothers, sister and mother. Service was held Tuesday at O'Shaughnessy Funeral Home. Interment was at St. Joseph Cemetery.

DeVOE, Donald J., Sr., 49, of 232 Wevant-av, died Friday, June 28. He was a meat cutter and veteran of World War II. Survived by wife, Geneva; two sons, four daughters, six brothers, four sisters and 11 grandchildren. Service was held Monday at Egan-Ryan Funeral Home. Interment was at St. Joseph Cemetery.

FREY, Carol Curtis, 2897 Dover-rd, died Friday, June 28, at St. Anthony Hospital. Retired teacher in Columbus Public Schools. Member of Ohio, Franklin County National Retired Teachers' Association. Member of Christ the King Parish. Survived by three sisters, aunt, nieces and nephews. Requiem High Mass was offered Monday from Christ the King Church. Interment was at St. Joseph Cemetery by Egan-Ryan Funeral Home.

NEMETH, Michael, 66, of 3032 Templeton-rd. Member of William Penn Lodge. Survived by wife, Julia, and two daughters. Service was held Monday, July 1, at Cook and Son Chapel. Interment was at Green Lawn Cemetery.

OFIELD, James, of 1314 Bryden-rd, died Wednesday, June 26. Survived by granddaughter, Barbara Jean Cardwell; sister-in-law and cousin. Service was held Tuesday, July 2, at the temporary chapel of Williams and McNabb Funeral Home. Interment was at Eastlawn Cemetery.

SCHLEPPI, Rose, 85, of 730 Montrose-av, died Friday, June 28, at home. Widow of Christian Schleppi. Survived by two daughters, daughter-in-law, seven grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. Member of Christ Lutheran Church, Gold Leaf Club of Bexley and Master Farm Homemaker of Ohio. Service was held Monday at Schoedinger State Street Chapel. Interment was at Green Lawn Cemetery.

SNIDER, Mildred L., 49, of Carroll, died June 27. Survived by husband, Karl; seven sons, two daughters, two brothers, sister; four grandchildren. Funeral service was held June 30 at J. E. Grimes Funeral Home. Burial at Betzer Cemetery.

Mrs. Smith Dies Monday At 49

Funeral service for Mrs. C. Louise Smith, 49, of 3628 Seabrook-dr, was to be held Wednesday, 2 p.m. at Woodyard Funeral Home. She died Monday at Lincoln Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

She was an organ instructor at Summers and Son for the past six years.

Surviving are her husband, Richard S.; three sons, Richard, R. James and Jack Harvey; daughter, Mrs. Cherie Kovach, all of Columbus; parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Teal of Phoenix, Ariz.; brother, Jack Teal of Columbus, and seven grandchildren.

Council

regular session. Haytcher told council that ten days must elapse between an executive veto and any legislative action on the veto.

Legislation passed by council permits the reduction in Whitehall electric rates, effective at the first billing after meters are read next time.

Reductions in rates for residential service will amount to a $1.35 minimum bill, as compared to the present $1.40, with corresponding decreases in bills.

Small commercial rates will also be reduced.

Holiday Inns of America propose building a 120-unit inn adjacent to the Ohio National Bank, at the corner of E. Broad-st and Hamilton-rd.

The commercial building, housing a restaurant and meeting rooms would face on Broad-st, and entrance to the rental units would open onto Hamilton-rd.

East boundary of the land would be near the Columbus Country Club property.

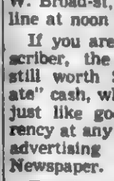
GOOD AT ANY ADVERTISER'S

Look For 'Confederate Emblem: It's Worth $139

Now is the time to check the advertisements inside this paper. One of those ads might contain a small emblem worth $139 in Hartley Newspapers' "Confederate" cash.

That's the amount of the jackpot being offered in this week's "Confederate" Money Contest sponsored by this paper.



To win the jackpot you must first find the emblem which looks like this but printed in a color other than black. It will be found in only one of the more than 75,000 papers published by Hartley Newspapers this week. You must also be a paid subscriber to a Hartley Newspaper and you must bring the page containing the lucky "5" emblem to the Hartley Newspaper Office, 2465 W. Broad-st, before the deadline at noon next Monday.

If you are not a paid subscriber, the "5" emblem is still worth $5 in "Confederate" cash, which can be spent just like good ol' U.S. currency at any place of business advertising in a Hartley Newspaper.

Twenty newspapers published this week contain emblems like this placed in the white space of an advertisement on the inside pages. Like the "5" emblem, these too are printed in a color other than black.

By mailing or bringing the emblem into the Hartley Newspapers Office, you will receive $1 in Confederate" money. You need not be a paid subscriber to win $1 "Confederate."

There's gold in them pages and any paid subscriber is eligible to win the big money. Don't hesitate another second. Start looking for a winning emblem now. This paper could contain a bonanza in "Confederate" cash for you.

Employes of Hartley Newspapers, including carriers, and their families are not eligible to participate in this contest.

Columbusites Attend Synod

Official delegates attending the General Synod, United Church of Christ in Denver, Colo., from Columbus are Carl C. Bair, 181 Amazon-pl; Rev. Chalmers Coe, 444 E. Broad-st; Mrs. Frank Tocci, 2485 Findley-av, and James L. Wagner, 1299 E. Innis-av.

Oregon Choir To Sing Here

Rev. Dale E. Hency announces the forthcoming Warner Pacific College Touring Choir concert to be held Monday, July 15, 7:30 p.m. at the Whitehall Church of God, meeting in the Beechwood Elementary School, Beechwood at Etna-rd.

The choir, under the direction of Louren B. Sykes, is from Portland, Ore. Each year the group tours the country, presenting programs of sacred music liturgy.

The public is invited to this free program.

Airman Returns

Airman 3/C Richard G. Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stone of 4513 St. Ann-ln, is returning to his Air National Guard unit at Lockbourne AFB, following his graduation from an Air Force technical training course for jet aircraft mechanics at Amarillo AFB, Tex.

The airman, a graduate of Whitehall-Yearling High School, attended Ohio University.

TO BUILD GARAGE

Charles N. Burns, 1387 Shady Lane-rd, has received a permit to construct a two-car, concrete block garage valued at $1,750.

Bishop Hazen G. Werner On Lakeside Speaker Agenda

On Saturday and Sunday, July 6 and 7, laymen and ministers of the Methodist Church from all over Ohio will journey to Lakeside, for the School of Spiritual Concern, running through July 12. The school has been planned jointly by the Boards of Evangelism of the Ohio and Northeast Ohio Conferences of the Methodist Church.

Hazen G. Werner, resident Bishop of the Ohio Area Dr. Ralph Sockman, pastor emeritus of Christ Methodist Church, New York City, and Dr. Robert Browning, professor at the Methodist Theological School in Ohio, will appear on the program.

The Ultimate in Satisfaction

When we were children, the ultimate in satisfaction was an ice cream cone, a nickel's worth of candy, a handful of homemade cookies. But now that we are grown-up, God's spirit has shown us there are more important things in life than satisfying our appetites. There is a higher plane of living — that of loving and serving God and one's neighbor. God wants us to respond to His love by showing this same kind of love to others. The church is the place to center your mature living. Attend church this Sunday.

"When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things." I Cor. 13:11.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

July 5 Important Day, Too

Independence Day can be a personally gratifying experience, or it can be just another holiday. It is a matter of individual choice.

July 4 will be a day of parades, picnics, brave words and fireworks. Across the nation we will exhibit our military muscle and will hail our great nation as the Free World leader.

But what about July 5 — and the days following until our next proud national birthday? These are the days that give body and substance to Independence Day.

The grand parades of pageantry and fun should serve as a symbolic reminder of the more solemn responsibility to join the parade to the voting booths each election day. The brave oratory is hollow if Mr. John Q. Citizen does not take his personal stand on issues of HIS community and HIS nation.

It has been said that "It is easier to act yourself into right thinking than to think yourself into right acting." The quality and frequency of our ACTION as citizens will determine the value of the "birthday present" we buy ourselves as a nation.

Strength of Our Nation

HBA At Work Early

You'll have to get up pretty early in the morning to get ahead of the Hilltop Business Association — at least on Thursdays.

A civic committee of the HBA, led by Jerry Spears, Jr., has met every Thursday for breakfast and brainstorming on matters of importance to the community.

The meetings have been faithfully attended and have proved beneficial in establishing guidelines for the entire organization. The extra measure of effort has not gone unnoticed by Columbus city officials.

A commendation is in order for the HBA and its "Dawn Patrol." May their influence continue to be felt early and often.

Happy Lawsuit, CDL

We see by the papers that Citizens for Decent Literature and Motion Pictures, Inc. (Chicago) celebrate its first birthday by being presented with a new suit. The happy birthday greeting was a lawsuit filed by a New York publishing and distributing firm.

The "new" suit, first of its kind to be directed against a private citizen group, charges that the firm was put out of business in the Chicago area.

We offer our congratulations on your first birthday. Here's hoping you "wear out" your first suit in a hurry, and outlive all other suits that may come your way.

Frosting On The Cake

By "UNCLE DOC" ROSS — U.S.A.

Headaches, headaches — seems the only thing we hear about any more. And like the weather, everyone talks about 'em, but never does anything.

If all the tranquilizers and pepper-uppers were poured down the drain and everyone learned how to stop supporting the "two snakes in the Garden of Eden"—hurry and worry—the headache medicine people would all go broke.

As things are now, millions take a pep pill to get going in the morning, keep going on coffee and worse, then take a big "snifter" before dinner and eat too much of the wrong kind of food. They wind up the day taking a dope pill so they can get to sleep.

Add to all this folly a violent cathartic every other day, and then wonder why people have headaches. In most cases their trouble is not pathological at all. Migraine suffering is a symptom, not a disease.

So, what to do about it? Become a free mind and a free soul; liberate yourself from the "seven deadly sins." Slavery to things, instead of devotion to real sanity, is the genesis of multi-million fortunes acquired by the hucksters.

Learn how to "have a little visit" every day with that "Wise Old Man Upstairs" and you, too, can become your own dragon slayer.

Variety . . . by I. F. Howell

We say we live under a democracy. We don't. Our government is a representative, constitutional republic. It is another example of the misuse of words, or rather the change in this meaning.

The word democracy comes from the Greek demokratia, deriving from demos (people), and krateo (rule). So, regardless of how used, it means the power of the people applied directly or indirectly to regulate their affairs affecting each other.

Athens, 2500 years ago, was a village small enough for Plato and others of the Golden Age to meet in one place and make rules for the conduct of all. Women and slaves were excluded, so that left only a few to make decisions and formulate policy.

Here, the thing most comparable to Greek democracy was the New England meeting in colonial times. Excluded, too, were women and slaves, or rather indentured servants. Even free men had to own property, and for a time had to be church members in some places.

In our time, the only practical, possible way for the people to govern themselves is to select, as we do, a few to execute the mandates of the many. It makes little difference whether we say republic or democracy. It all comes out the same if we mean it in our frame of reference.

Democracy is temporary acceptance of lesser evils as a weapon to destroy the greater. Democracy is dealing with the here and now with the tools we have until we can get better ones. It means freedom.

It says here . . .

Our democratic freedom will live only so long as we assume the responsibility that is its twin. It must be both or neither.

STRICTLY FRESH

Fashionable pointed-toed shoes seem to prove one point: women can stand more pain than men.

It seems to take longer to get to the country from the city nowdays, probably because where the country used to be is called suburbs now.

Some say that the person who thinks he is better than average usually is of average intelligence and is average for saying so.

It's said about the average taxpayer: He's alive and kicking!

When you feel like criticizing the younger generation, just remember who raised them.

Individual Actions Can Deter Communism

Will communism overcome us by 1970?

Whatever happens in this decade or in the future, we want to know that we are not responsible. What a terrible awakening, if communism should conquer our nation, that we have been as responsible as others for this horrible tragedy! Communism has already conquered one-third of the world. Do we have any responsibility for this horrible tragedy?

Rev. Lorenz

We can determine our responsibility by facing these words of our Lord Jesus Christ, "This people draw near Me with their mouth and honor Me with their lips, but their heart holds off and is far away from Me. Uselessly do they worship Me, for they teach as doctrines the commands of men." How are we worshipping the Lord? Do we have our hearts far away from the Lord when we pray? If so, we must share the responsibility for the spread of communism in the world.

Perhaps you have never been convinced that your heart is far away from the Lord. Are you easily provoked? Are you touchy, fretful or resentful? Are you conceited, arrogant, and inflated with pride? Put your heart into the test tube, the Sermon On the Mount, and you will know. Can you turn the other cheek, go the second mile, and love your enemies? If you cannot control your tongue, but swear and take His Name in vain, you are holding your heart away from Him. Jesus said, "What comes from the mouth, proceeds from the heart, and this defiles a man."

Read the Epistle of James, Ch. 4. Meditate on verse 8. In this manner you draw near to God, when you pray earnestly "Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?" The Bible says, "Purify your heart, ye double minded." True worship demands complete obedience to the Will of God.

When you worship with your heart, you are determined to be obedient to the Will of God. You will soon discover that your whole life is being transformed through prayer. You are no longer touchy. You no longer take His Name in vain. Jesus said, "A good tree cannot bring forth corrupt fruit; nor can a bad tree bear excellent fruit."

You can fully know yourself by the things that come from your mouth. It is better to have the terrible awakening now that we must share the responsibility for the spread of communism, than to have it later when it might be too late. "Draw nigh to God, and He will draw nigh to you."

If you are not a Christian, put yourself in the right environment to learn about Jesus, and you will become a Christian. Now you can also help to keep communism from overcoming the world.

An Editor's Outlook . . . by Jenkin Lloyd Jones
College On The Cuff Plan Has Merit

Why should taxpayers, most of whom have not had the advantage of college education, continue to subsidize students in state-supported universities who have enrolled, generally for the frank purpose of earning more than the average citizen?

Jones

A few weeks ago, while wandering around the magnificent buildings on the University of Minnesota, I encountered a group of sign-carrying undergraduates urging everyone to turn out for a mass protest meeting because the legislature was threatening to raise tuition $30 a semester.

The Minnesota student who smokes spends about $50 a semester for cigarets.

The cost of tax-subsidized higher education is big and growing. Professors, who used to work for peanuts, now want money. Laboratories grow more complex. The era of expensive teaching aids is just beginning. College administrations are desperately seeking grants from the federal government, the foundations and private industry for scholarships, research and buildings.

In California, where in-state students at the tax-supported schools pay no tuition and only nominal fees, the cost of instruction alone, per student, is $700 a year. Add another $300 per student for the amortization of the physical plant. One thousand dollars worth of education for practically nothing.

Why don't the students who are getting these benefits pay their cost? The answers come easily. The student has no money. The parents may have little or none. The state needs educated people. Therefore, the state must help.

But California Assemblyman John L. E. "Bud" Collier of Los Angeles has come up with a perfectly sensible solution. Let the student take a loan from the state. Let him pay off the loan from the benefits he will realize from his college education.

Why not?

Mr. Collier's California Assembly Bill 1155 would provide that the actual cost of a student's instruction, based on the number and type of courses he is pursuing, be estimated by the state university system, and that the student sign notes to reimburse the state.

These notes would be insured, guaranteeing the state full payment of the unpaid balance in the event of the student's premature death. Payment would start a year after graduation at one per cent interest. They could be spread over 20 years.

By thus relieving the state of the heavy burden of college instruction costs, Collier argues, more money would be available to aid primary and secondary schools.

Assemblyman Collier's plan might be improved in detail. It should be argued that the one per cent interest charge wouldn't cover the life insurance, let alone creeping inflation, and that the figure should be more like five per cent. The beginning of repayment might be delayed as much as five years after graduation, and loans could be increased to provide board and room, too.

In short, every high school senior who could pass the college entrance requirements could be assured of an undergraduate and even a graduate education with full expenses, if necessary, borne by the state. But he'd have to pay it back.

Insurance companies have estimated that four years of college adds from $175,000 to $200,000 to lifetime earning power. Since people are now trained to buy houses, automobiles, furniture and even vacations on time, what's wrong with education on time? A degree on the easy payment plan would be the biggest bargain the student will enjoy.

There remains, of course, the matter of ordinary scholarships, granted by various organizations and industries to youngsters who show particular aptitudes. They are much more plentiful than most people realize. Hundreds of them go unapplied-for every year.

But a lot of the boys and girls who could do great things with a college education are late starters. They don't qualify for academic scholarships. Yet it is to the interest of us all that the skills and general knowledge of our young people be increased as much as possible.

You can't get a 100-watt light out of a 10-watt brain, but every 100-watt brain ought to have a chance to shine with 100 watts of current. We no longer need whitewings and hod-carriers, and we are about to phase out elevator operators and dish washers. Yet the electronic age finds us far short of technicians. Schools are crying for teachers. The supply of new doctors keeps falling farther behind the case loads. We need all the fast pitching arms we can develop.

But because the individual profits directly from his higher schooling, he should pay for it, just as he pays for a suit of clothes or a grand piano. He shouldn't shove the bill for his own enlightenment off on taxpaying cab drivers, waitresses and field hands who will never see the inside of a lecture room.

Let's get on with the tuition notes and the easy-payment plan. It makes sense. It's fair. And it would release many millions of dollars of college subsidies to help hard-pressed grade and high schools.

'Put Scenes Of Life In Words Of Life'

To The Editor:

Boy! Just for once I wish a newspaper editorial would follow its arguments through to its logical conclusion.

I am referring to the "Whitehall Ox-Bow Incident" which your newspapers evidently decided to take exception with and have trumpeted a Three Monkey Educational course: Hear No, See No, Speak No.

First of all, never have I known a word or phrase, such as you describe as "profane," that corroded a person's mind or caused a person to commit a wrongful act. To those who propound the opposite, I say it's the person who should be worried about, not the word.

To back up this statement, I refer you to the Supreme Court which contends that a word is not profane or obscene in and of itself; it must be taken into context with the entire offering.

Secondly, you ask, by "wondering, how much of the 'moral' lesson is offset by the interjection of profanity and blasphemy." (You ask, but end the sentence with a period, thereby inferring that it does.) The reason you must ask, of course, is that you cannot prove how much the moral lesson is offset, or even if it is. I say, "Nothing is," and challenge you to disprove it.

Thirdly, you lament that "it is discouraging to know that high school students can read (by assignment of teachers) . . . such language." Well, Shakespeare is usually assigned, and I'll bet you can find some duzys in his writings. Other writings that have been assigned from time to time in various courses include such authors as Balzac, Boccacio, Chaucer, Hemingway. The national newsweekly Time is assigned at least once in a high school student's life, and it doesn't pull any punches with words. Oh, yes. The dictionary. It is prescribed as a reference book in high schools and "those" words are included. I doubt if you would say that reference book editors have no conscience.

According to your argument, a Bible could not be assigned reading by Sunday School instructors because of "those" words. After all, paraphrasing your argument, I could state "Is profanity less profane when used in the name of religion?" And, I add: "Of course not! On the contrary, it is the more damaging because it gives a form of silent consent from a most trusted source."

For "those" words, such as "b——d" and "wh—e" are scattered throughout the Bible.

("Which brings up the point that you say newspapers by law and by conscience forbid you to use such language. But it doesn't stop newspapers from using "illegitimate son" or "house of ill repute" or "party girl" because, I suppose, they sound "nicer." Rubbish! It's one and the same idea being forwarded. Maybe it would be better to editorialize against so-called "naughty sounds.")

So, it appears to this reader, that though you listened to both sides and read the book, it didn't change your mind.

Whether or not a moral is involved, the scenes of life, the experiences of life, can only be expressed in the words of life.

Is History Repeating?

To the Editor:

Patterns of history do "repeat," and may be studied and considered the basis upon which presently applicable plans may be predicated.

The platform of 1860 contained a wise and presently valid statement — one which the Kennedy brothers and Americans generally, should heed NOW!

This "plank" appeared in the 1860 platform upon which Lincoln was elected: "The maintainance inviolate of the rights of the states, and especially the right of each state to order and control its own domestic institutions according to its own judgment exclusively, is essential to that balance of power on which the perfection and endurance of our political fabric depends; and we denounce the lawless invasion by armed forces of the soil of any state or territory, no matter under what pretext, as among the gravest of crimes."

The observations of a few writers who are students of American history seem in agreement as to a logical conclusion concerning the Civil War and its effect upon states' rights, i.e. the Civil War decided ONE issue—and this issue concerned the right of a state or several states to dissolve the Union.

Pleads For Crippled Man

Is it possible to help a deserving person through the means of your newspaper?

The man's name I have forgotten but he used to be a neighbor.

Everyone in the area of Schottenstein's Department Store would know him as he is today. I try to think back when he was able to work every day.

He is the man in the wheelchair who sits by the west entrance of Schottenstein's.

I saw him one morning coming down Third-st—he was as far as Town-st. A few mornings later he was as far as Sycamore—and always he is pushing that wheelchair by hand.

Isn't there something the neighbors in the South Side could do to help get a motor-equipped scooter or chair?

It's all I can do to keep from stopping and putting him in the car, but that would not solve his problem so I want to pull over to the curb and cry.

I think any one who has lived through the physical pain and operations he has needs a helping hand from others who are in good health.

Article 'Honest Analysis'

There have been many devious and evading articles written on the cause and effect of race consciousness in America, but the writer generally analyzes the other fellow.

The article written by Mr. Frank Ryan, June 19, is the most forthright and honest analysis of the situation that I have ever seen.

However, I believe he has made a slight error when he said that his tongue was controlled by his spiritual nature.

The spiritual nature dictates to the tongue that which is right and just. But mortal nature intercepts the message and makes the tongue say what is good for himself as a selfish earthly being.

By this I do not mean to take away the dignity and justice of Mr. Ryan's article.

This is not only a race struggle but it is a fight against any principle which could be used against any identifiable group, to weaken an otherwise strong country by dividing it into small groups working against one another.

I wish Mr. Ryan God speed in his writing and wish to thank the paper which sponsored such a timely article.

'Can't Excuse Delinquents'

Although I am still a teenager myself, I must say I completely agree with Jenkin L. Jones.

It may be true that most delinquents have some type of family situation or environment that they would rather not face, but the fact that they pick crime and injury to other human beings as the method is not excusable in my eyes.

I'm sure that there are a few cases in which a sympathetic word instead of a prison sentence would set a misguided youth straight, but in dealing with great social problems the few have always suffered for the good of the many and I believe this holds true for crime prevention also.

I was glad to hear some one speak out for the other side for once.

Senior Citizens Center

275 McDowell-st

Many senior citizens are looking forward to the Golden Age Hobby Show, which will be held Sept. 12-14 at the Columbus Gallery of Fine Arts at 480 E. Broad-st.

Some of the interesting facts from last year's show are that there were 302 exhibitors who displayed 700 items. This year there are over 100 possible categories to enter, with entries being divided into three classifications: 1. Needlecraft, 2. Arts and Crafts, 3. Arts. There are three grand prizes of $5 each and in each classification there will be a $3 blue ribbon, $2 red ribbon and $1 white ribbon.

Basis of judging will be:

A. Judging of handicraft exhibits is based on workmanship and beauty.

B. Judging of literature is based upon literary merit and interest of entry.

C. Judging of collections is based upon rarity, age, size of exhibit and interest of entry.

D. Judgment of amateur standing is to be determined by judges.

E. In the event that only one item is entered in a category, the lone exhibit will be judged solely on its own merit. Only if exceptional will a first prize be awarded; otherwise an honorable mention will be given.

The items entered should be new ones made in the last year.

Working on the 1963 Golden Age Hobby Show are: General Chairman, Mrs. A. L. Greenspun, 347 S. Gould-av; co-chairman, Mrs. Howard Bevis, 1976 Northwest-blvd;

Chairman, special events, Mrs. Robert Draper, 104 S. Westmoor-av; chairman, transportation, Mrs. Edward F. Wagner, 242 S. Chesterfield.

Fly Your Flag

Independence Day Is Opportunity To Salute American Way Of Life

In these times, when our nation is represented all over the globe in projects of keeping and protecting the peace of the world, it would seem especially fitting that we who enjoy the peace and freedom of the heartland of our great nation place extra emphasis on the celebration of Independence Day, July Fourth.

What better way to observe this important holiday than by displaying the American Flag in front of our homes and places of business? In this way we can join with servicemen, Peace Corps volunteers, foreign service officials and representatives of our government in displaying our patriotism and reaffirming our belief in the American way of life.

As a special offer, for a limited time only, Hartley Newspapers is making a beautiful 3x5 cotton flag available to its readers at a tremendous savings. The large colorfast flag, including a six-foot pole, top decoration, halyard, window socket and book on flag etiquette is usually priced at $5.98. During the time of this offer, the complete flag kit and a one-year subscription to your favorite Hartley Newspaper, valued at $3, is being sold for the combination price of only $5, a savings of nearly $4.

If already a subscriber, one year will be added to the termination date of your current subscription. Your beautiful new flag will be delivered immediately.

The flag pole comes in two sections, which means it can be taken apart and stored with the flag in the heavy cardboard container in which it is delivered. It will then be easily accessible for all patriotic holidays.

Be sure and join your neighbors in observing each patriotic occasion by displaying "Old Glory" in a prominent place. This will be your salute to the way of life we enjoy as members of a free American Society.

HungarianPicnic Set For Fourth

The William Penn Hungarian Club has announced plans to hold a Fourth of July Picnic at Schultz Park on Bixby-rd, just off of Groveport-pk.

The event, open to the public, begins at noon and features Hungarian foods, refreshments, free dancing to Hungarian and American music. There is no charge for admission to the grounds. Events are scheduled even in case of rain.

Information is available from Chairman Fred Bendetti at HI 3-4437.

Twirlers Compete In Festival

First annual Holiday Twirling Festival will be held Saturday, July 6 at Grandview High School gymnasium.

Twirlers from all parts of the country are expected to participate in the U.S. Twirling Association - sanctioned contest, sponsored by the Vicky Paige Dance and Twirling Studio. The contest is open to all. Two trophies will be awarded.

Vernon Fult, 921½ Avondale-av, is one of four Ohio experts chosen to judge. Spectators will be admitted free.

Rabies Vaccine Is Compulsary For All Dogs

The Boards of Health of Franklin County, the City of Columbus, Grandview Heights and Upper Arlington have compulsory rabies immunization regulations requiring that all dogs be vaccinated.

Franklin County has been under an indefinite period of rabies quarantine and the city began its rabies quarantine on Mar. 21 and has continued the quarantine through Sept. 21.

The quarantined dogs shall be confined to the premises of the owner or keeper, unless under leash or under the control of a responsible person. Over 130 quarantine violations have been filed against dog owners who permitted their dogs to be at large. Some of these were also charged with not having had their dogs vaccinated against rabies and registered for license. The Humane Society, will continue to rigidly enforce the rabies quarantine, the rabies vaccination regulations, and the state law requiring that all dogs be registered for license.

The bite of a rabid animal is fatal unless lengthy, painful treatment is begun immediately. But rabies can be controlled if all dog owners will see that their dogs are given rabies vaccination.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

187 years ago a new conception of freedom was proclaimed to the world . . . a new nation was born, dedicated to the proposition that "all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness."

As we proudly celebrate our nation's birthday, let us dedicate ourselves anew to the principles for which its founders pledged to each other their lives, Fortunes and sacred Honor.

Summer's For Skiing...

SOMEONE ONCE SAID, "Water skiing is as simple as rolling off a log." But he failed to explain how you get up on the log. There's no difficulty here, however, as this young trio of future ski stars breezes along the Scioto River with the greatest of ease. From left to right are: Lowell Grube, Judy Levitt and Greg Jones—three youngsters who know how to beat the summer heat. Here the three practice for the state tournament, scheduled for the Scioto site July 19-21.

AIRBOURNE IS the word for Lowell as he soars through space in perfect form after a run up the ramp jump. Lowell will be aiming for honors in the Boys' Division of the state tournament soon in the slalom, tricks and jumping events as well as the barefoot competition. He will advance to the Men's Division next season after reaching his seventeenth birthday.

IF YOU THINK just riding the waves on two pieces of wood is tough, try turning around in mid-air over a wave yet- as Judy demonstrates in picture on the left. This wake jump is only one of several tricks Judy will perform at the state tournament as she tries for her expert rating. Only 15, Judy has advanced quickly and has only skied in competition for two years.

...And Trying A Jump

Frequent trips to the Scioto River in mid-March for groups equipped with boat and fishing pole aren't the least bit unusual.

But when the car trunk includes things like tow lines, life belts and water skis, it's an entirely different story. Folks motoring down Route 33 north of Hayden Run Bridge might have been doing a double take when they spotted three heads bobbing up and down in the water early this spring.

BUT THE EXPLANATION is simple enough. If good skiers are to become better skiers, practice time is valuable. And with the state tournament scheduled for mid-July, you can't afford to wait for those 90 degree temperatures.

Such was the case with Paul Grube, 385 S. Warren-av, and three young skiers whom he has high hopes of seeing rise to the top of skiing competition in the near future.

The eldest of the talented trio is Grube's 16-year-old son, Lowell, a senior at West High School. Lowell, who started his skiing at the tender age of eight years, is in his third year of competition and is the most promising of the Columbus Aqua Club's Boys' Division.

LOWELL HAS gained expert ratings in tricks, slalom and jumping and belongs to the American Water Skiing Association's two-minute Barefoot Club (skiing without skis).

As he is approaching his seventeenth birthday, Lowell will soon advance to the Men's Division, along with five other boys rated as the top upcoming competition skiers in the state.

As a warmup for his state tournament test, Lowell recently competed in the Wyoga Lake Ski Beavers Open, copping first-place honors in the slalom, a third in the jumps and a fourth in tricks.

Lowell, who exercises during the winter months to stay in shape for his skiing, practices up to five days a week with his father who operates the tow boat. When he's not on skis, he keeps his interest in the waterways by working part time for M. W. Rockenbaugh, Inc.

A TOUCH OF feminine grace is added to the trio by 15-year-old Judy Levitt, 150 Brehl-av — the young lady of the threesome. Judy, a sophomore at Central High, started her skiing four years ago and is in her second season of competition.

Judy already holds a first-class rating in tricks, slalom and jumping and has progressed to the point where she will try for her expert rating at the state tourney.

It's no coincidence that Judy is a top-rate skier. She comes by her talent honestly. Her father, Bob Levitt, can handle a pair of skis and sister, Linda, held the title of North American Champion in Mixed Doubles with partner Dave Finkel when she was competing.

Unlike Linda, Judy will stay with individual skiing and figures to become a member of the CASC team in the near future.

THE JUNIOR MEMBER of the trio is 14-year-old Greg Jones, who has been skiing for three years but only turned his interests to competition early this spring.

A ninth-grader at Marion-Franklin High School, Greg has advanced quickly and already holds second-class ratings in tricks and slalom. Paul Grube, who has been working with Greg throughout the spring, figures his first-class ratings are just a matter of time.

A matter of time might summarize the future of all three of Paul Grube's pupils; Skin-tingling tumbles and unintended mouthfuls of water lie ahead for Lowell, Judy and Greg. But they'll be coming back for more. That's the way it is when you're shooting for the top.

City Hosts State Ski Tourney, July 19-21

The city of Columbus will host the Ohio State Water Skiing Championships, July 19-21, under the sponsorship of the Columbus Aqua Ski Club.

The weekend tourney will take place on the Scioto River, north of Griggs Dam (off Route 33) at the Hayden Run Bridge.

THE TOURNAMENT will include three major events — slalom, jumping and trick skiing. There will be eight age divisions—men (17-34), women (over 17), boys and girls (13-16), senior men (over 35), senior women (over 30) and junior boys and girls (12 and under).

A total of 88 trophies will be up for grabs as individuals and teams from all over Ohio compete for honors. Trophies will be awarded for irst, second, third and overall in each event plus first through third place cups for the mixed doubles, first in barefoot and a team trophy.

Scoring, which is basically figured on form, allows a maximum of 1000 points for the winner of each event with other places receiving points in proportion to the winner's total.

IN TOURNEYS of this type there is no distinction made between professional and amateurs. The July competition will take on an added sidelight in that it will be the first time a state tourney will include competition in the junior boys' and girls' divisions.

Another first has been added to the July competition with the announcement that Bernadette Poole, one of the area's top women skiers, will serve as chief judge — the first time a woman has ever held that position in a state tourney.

The slalom course runs 315 yards in length by 25 yards in width. Between two entrance gates, the skier must negotiate an outside-in slalom pattern, remaining outside the six buoys for three runs with the speed increased two MPH on each run.

The slid jump, which is 14 feet by 24 feet, must be tackled five times with scoring based on both form and distance.

TRICKS CAN include a wide variety of efforts but the division is split into four basic groups — water surface turns, wake jump turns, ramp tricks and miscellaneous (back swan, back swan recovery, deep-water back start, etc.).

Tricks extend in difficulty from a simple 180 degree turn (30 pts., water surface turn, 2 skis) to the exacting somersault, worth 570 points if executed in good form off the ramp in mid-air with a single ski. Other tricks include toehold and stepover turns with points varying in relation to degree, classification (surface or wake) and number of skis.

All these efforts—slalom, jumping and tricks—will be on display July 19-21 at the State Tournament on the Scioto River. The Columbus Aqua Ski Club invites local residents to stop by and watch them go through their paces. Admission is free.

TAKING A SPILL? Not on your life. Greg is simply turning the corner on his run through the slalom course, churning through the water as his body leans almost parallel to the surface. The youngest of Paul Grube's skiing pupils at 14, Greg has learned quickly and first-class ski ratings are just around the corner if he progresses at the fast pace he has shown since he began competition skiing early this spring.

Do You Know Your Sports?

(Fifth in a series)

Hand ball is recognized as the oldest of ball games. The game was originated in Ireland in the 10th century and came to this country in the 1880's with one of Erin's best players, Phil Casey.

Casey introduced the game at police and fire stations around Brooklyn and the game grew in popularity until it spread all across the United States.

THE GAME WAS played then as it is now — by simply slapping a rubber ball against a wall with either hand. There is no bat, no paddle, no racket —just the ball and the hand.

As of last year, 5,000,000 Americans were engaged in the sport which calls for a court which is 34x20 feet and includes a wall 16 feet high.

Today, it's uncommon to find a college, YMCA or athletic club which does not have facilities for hand ball. Only equipment necessary is the hard rubber ball (two inches in diameter, 23 ounces in weight) which costs $1. Expert players might purchase gloves, ranging in price from $2 to $5.

WOMEN ENGAGE in the sport but usually on a leisurely basis since the game demands a great deal of stamina and speed.

A game consists of 21 points which are scored in this manner: The server bounces the ball and then slaps it against the wall to bring it back across the prescribed line. The receiver must hit it back against the wall on the fly or first bounce. Players alternate returns until one fails to make a legal return.

The U.S. Hand Ball Association (4101 Dempster-st, Skokie, Ill.) has its major national championships Apr. 22 to 28 at Seattle, Wash.

Muskies Run At Seneca; Bald Eagle Victimized?

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROB COCHRAN

Word from Seneca Lake is that muskellunge are hitting. Nothing really big reported as yet, but anglers are taking quite a few smaller ones. The biggest muskie caught there so far is an 18½-pounder taken some time ago. Artificial lures trolled in the north end of the lake seem to be most productive.

Situated south of Cambridge in one of the most scenic areas of the state, Seneca is a popular fishing lake. Years ago, crappies went crazy there and someone took Lowell Thomas to fish for them. His day was such a huge success, he gave the lake national publicity. Crappie fishing was fairly good there this spring, but nothing like the old days.

A camping area is available, although it is not large and facilities do not appear to be up to state park standards. There are rental boats here, too.

ANOTHER FISHING excursion that might entice anglers from this area would be to Clark Lake. This area is several miles east of Springfield and is north of Route 40. The lake is small, and was built by the Division of Wildlife as a fishing impoundment.

Bass and bluegills are the prime species here, and with the arrival of hot weather they may be difficult to catch. Mornings and evenings would be the best times to try for them.

This is a family lake, with picnic tables, water pumps and toilets available. There is a gravel boat launching ramp.

HAVE YOU EVER been to Hargus Creek Lake? I'll wager you've never even heard of it, but it's nestled in A. W. Marion State Park, a few miles east of Circleville. For some reason the lake has never been really red-hot for fishing. It looks good—plenty of snags and cover for bass and bluegills. Rental boats are available if you want to try these waters, or there is a boat ramp if you want to take your own rig.

Hagus Creek also calls for a family outing, although there is no swimming beach. Because of this the park is usually uncrowded.

NATIONAL EMBLEM GOING, GOING . . .

IT WILL BE particularly ironic if our way of life in these United States will kill off our national emblem, the bald eagle.

But that may be just what is happening.

According to the National Wildlife Federation, it has been estimated that fewer than one thousand bald eagles remain alive in the 48 mainland states. And within recent months no less than 45 of these magnificent birds, found dead or in the throes of death, have been sent for pesticide residue analysis to the Patuxent Wildlife Research Center.

All but one of these eagles contained DDT in their tissues, apparently obtained from eating poisoned fish which had eaten smallforms of aquatic life that contracted pesticides from the water. Four more dead eagles were in transit to Patuxent for analysis on June 6.

ACTIVE BALD eagle nests probably number less than 12 in Ohio, and in Michigan, biologists have located a total of 42 nests in the Upper Peninsula and only 14 in the Lower Peninsula this year. In the Chesapeake Bay area only 25 active nests—less than half of the 53 found last year —have been located.

That bald eagles are disappearing is a fact. No one is ready to point his finger at pesticides yet, but the evidence may be accumulating.

CENTER WRAP-UP

AK Titles Undecided; Steelmen Lead YYA

The first round of the Jewish Center A. K. Softball league will go right down to the wire next Thursday as both divisions will be fighting for the top positions.

Seymour Bakery dropped an 11-7 decision to Division A. leader Hackman Realty. An eight-run fifth inning, keynoted by eight hits, turned a close ball game into a rout.

HITTING STARS for Hackman included Lenny Haas, Hal Block, Hirsch Hausman, and Leon Marks. Marks was the winning pitcher.

Seymour Captain Jules Vogel led his team with three hits. Marv Grossman, Ed Baier and Irv Rubin all had two hits in the loss.

OUTDOOR MILITARY stayed in contention for Division A honors by defeating Ontario, 7-3. Al Press, Al Rosen, Julius Margulis, Spencer Alexander and Milt Pinsky led a 14-hit assault on Ontario. Margalis was the winning pitcher.

Stu Newpoff's two hits, including a home-run, led the Ontario attack. Sam Baker, Bob Gill, Harvey Roth and Henry Grinsfelder all picked up two hits in the loss.

WOLMAN'S INSURANCE blasted thirteen hits to drop a hard-fighting Muffler King team 12-4. Ray Hoch and Larry Laurence stroked four-baggers to lead the Insurance men. Laurence had three hits to lead all hitters.

Charley Young hit for the circuit and W. J. Krech had two hits as part of Muffler's 12-hit production. Milt Glass picked up the win.

Kozy Kitchen dropped Martin's into a tie for Division K. League honors with a 9-7 win. Although outhit 20-16, a six-run fifth inning opened the flood gates.

Ivan Gilbert and Ben Braff led the Kozy attack with three hits each. Marty Friedman continued leading the league in hitting with four hits (including two home runs). Jack Gaiser, Martin's captain, stroked three hits in the loss. Ben Weis was the winner.

AFTER THE third week of play in the Jewish Center's YYA Slo - Pitch Softball League, Columbus Steel Supply leads with a 3-0 record. The Steelman won over Tommy's Pizza, 7-4.

A four-run inning put the game in the bag for the winners. Mike Stein drove home one run with a long fly. Ron Golden with two singles and a triple led Columbus Steel at the bat.

Steve Rosenthal hit safely three times for Tommy's Pizza.

BURGER BOY trimmed the Robin's Club, 14-10, to gain its first win. Eight runs scored by Burger Boy in the fifth and sixth innings proved to be too big a deficit for the Robin's team to make up.

Burger Boy tallied six times in the fifth inning when Mark Peppercorn's delivered a three-run homer, and then singles by Howard Schliezinger, Joel Engelman, Lee Siegel, Stu Israel and Jeff Nedelman produced three more runs.

Rosati's Market picked up its second win, defeating Gilbert Shoes, 13-10. "Corky" Friedenberg led the batters with four for four, including a home run. Arnie Hendon hit safely three times for the winners. Ron Boster belted a single and triple for Gilberts.

THE CENTER'S Slo-Pitch Softball Pony League was thrown in a three-way tie as the Red team dropped two games last week.

Marv Ballen's Blue team defeated Ben Friedman's Gold team, 20-12, while Jetcoat Corp. handled the Red team, 13-5. Jetcoat picked up its second win of the season, trouncing Capitol Post J.W.V., 22-5. Then the Gold team tripped the former leaders, the Red Club, 10-4.

GOLF ETIQUETTE – 3

TAMING THE SAND TRAP

PROBABLY THE greatest curse to the golfer is the sand trap which sometimes seems almost impossible to escape. Here our hero fights a losing battle in his effort to reach a disappearing green. The moral or the story is not to hit into the trap but if you do, please be considerate of the next unfortunate. Just as it's good golfing etiquette to replace your fairway divots, it follows that you shouldn't leave the sand trap looking like some barren wasteland. Oh, incidentally—those pockets of sand aren't outdoor ashtrays or burial grounds for an embarrassing scorecard.

Sporting Propositions And Golfing Tranquility

Just about one month ago, this newspaper offered youngsters an opportunity to place free want-ads. This, we believe, was a step in the right direction towards improving conditions between the newspaper and its public.

Unfortunately, the helping hand is extended only to the kids. We were hoping that papers such as the Sporting News and slicks like Sports Illustrated might follow suit by offering the same kind of deal once a year to professional athletes and big time sports.

Since they have not responded,, we would like to provide this service for this countries' athletes who might have need of advertising:

EVERYTHING must go! Racy sports car, sport coat wardrobe, lightweight cue stick, assorted Mamie Van Doren pictures. Write B. Belinsky. Honolulu, Hawaii. (no stamps, please).

SEASON PASS to 1963 OSU football games. Cheap, good seating location. Call J. Fullen (293-3148), Cols., O.

WILL TRADE. One worn rhyming dictionary for rubber mouthpiece (large size). Contact C. Clay.

SELL OR TRADE. Three large-sized one-owner catcher's mitts. Good condition. Will accept cash or infielder as trade. Contact Baltimore Baseball Club, Baltimore, Md.

DO YOU NEED a professional-style putter? Dirt cheap. Used only in '63 U.S. Open. Wire A. Palmer, care of Big Three plus Julius Boros Inc., Box 404, Latrobe, Pa.

LET US IMPROVE your voice. Professional experience in broadcasting field. Write today to Dean-Reese School of Speech, CBS-TV. Free singing lessons to first 25 applicants. Offer void to all family, friends and acquaintances of Joe Garagiola.

TRADE. Three pairs first-class, capitalistic-style track shoes. Desire travel accommodations to United States. One way, please. Write V. Brumel, USSR Track Squad.

WANTED! All shapes, sizes, types of baseball players. Opportunities unlimited. Be a part of an up-and-coming big league operation. No experience neccessary. Write or call G. Weiss, Polo Grounds, New York, N.Y. (no collect calls accepted.)

HELP WANTED — Need three young, entergetic baseball coaches. Wonderful chance to break into big league baseball on a part-time basis. No night work. Must share accommodations with ten others. Write Wrigley Field, Chicago, Ill., or call SPearmint 2-3456.

AFRAID OF the dark? Learn to defend yourself. Let me teach you the art of self-defense. Write F. Patterson, New York, N.Y. Lessons $5 per hour. Rates subject to change after July 22.

FOR RENT. One pair football shoes, large size shoulder pads and face-guard helmet. Will rent for one year. Second year optional. Write A. Karras, Box 263, Detroit, Mich.

SEASONAL JOB desired. Can emcee athletic banquets or speak at ice cream socials or neighborhood cookouts. Have slides and .200 batting average. Write J. Piersall, New York, N.Y.

WANTED — AAU - NCAA mediator. Must be sober, patient, fair-minded and tolerant. Must replace (sick and) tired, old soldier. Write Olympic Relations Committee, Washington D.C.

THE WORD from Nick Barack at the City Recreation Dept. is that everything is still 'go' for the proposed Municipal Golf Course on N. Hamilton-rd.

Nick's 'board of inquiry,' which included a cross section of both local pro and amateur golfers, inspected the site last week and were of the opinion that interference caused by low-flying aircraft approaching Port Columbus would not be a major distraction to the peace-loving golfing public.

THE GROUP, which spent better than an hour strolling around the site during the heavy air traffic period, agreed that the flights were infrequent enough with engine rumbles confined to just a few seconds.

Next problem is deciding if the land tract of 135 acres (less 20 acres for a buffer area around landing signals which halve the course site) will be adequate for 18 holes, parking facilities and a club house.

Barack's next step will be a get - together with golf course designer Jack Kidwell, who has volunteered to study air photos of the site and figure if the course can be constructed inside the boundaries.

Whitehall, Grove City Eye Legion Pennants

Grove City and Comrade Post (Whitehall) picked up ground in the American Legion divisional baseball races during the week as G-C notched two more wins and Whitehall split a pair with second-place Southway Post.

Scott Anderson and John Warden continued their mound mastery over opponents as Anderson picked up a 5-2 win over Camp Chase and Warden stopped Scioto Post, 7-2, on a three-hitter Sunday for G-C's seventh straight victory.

The victory over Camp Chase was a key win as it dropped the losers two full games off the pace in the Gold running. G-C took a 2-0 lead in the second frame on singles by Ed Harris, Dave Beets, Ralph Reeves and Mel Williams.

Anderson, who pitched shutout ball for six innings, got relief from Warden in the seventh when Chase scored its only runs. Warden yielded two walks and a single but fanned Grossman to end the game.

EDDIE HARRIS' two singles topped the hitters but Eyer and Paul Frasure hit back-to-back triples to give the winners some insurance tallies in the seventh.

Over in the Blue Division, Whitehall suffered its first setback as Southway pulled out a 4-3 extra-inning win in the first half of a Sunday doubleheader.

Bob White, Bill Howard and George Maurer combined on a six-hitter to check the Rams, whose biggest hit came on Jim Pyles' homer.

MAURER KEPT Whitehall on the ropes in the nightcap, nursing a 1-0 margin through the first three frames. But Comrade tied the count in the fourth and then won it in the fifth with three big runs. Maurer yielded but three hits but wasn't as stingy in the run department as Whitehall's Joel Brandt and Bill Dildine, who split mound duties.

Brandt was the master earlier in the week as he pitched Comrade to an 8-1 decision over Eastmoor, scattering four hits.

Biggest advance in the Blue Division standings was made by the Scioto (St. Charles) club, which racked up three wins without defeat during the week.

TOM MURPHY and Carl Asmo proved to be the hottest ingredients to Scioto's surge. Asmo picked up two of the wins in relief, turning back Bexley Post Sunday, 10-4, and Capital City, 9-4, earlier. Asmo also spelled John Pettorini in Scioto's third win — 9-5 over Southway.

Murphy's bat was potent in in all three victories. Tom collected a homer against Southway and then pounded Capital City pitching for a triple, double and single in three plate appearances.

Bexley Post (Hartley) managed two wins in four tries during the week. Jack Diamond's three-hitter gave Bexley a 4-2 Blue loop win over Capital City but Whitehall and Scioto provided reversals.

DICK GRAY picked up the Whitehall win while Scott French homered for Bexley against Scioto. Scioto's Green also hit for the circuit.

Bexley Post overcame a seven-run first inning by Capital City to notch its other win, 15-10, in a slugfest. Steve Ortman homered for the winners.

Dave Williams' squeeze bunt provided Hilliard with a 6-5 extra inning win over Columbus Post in another Gold League game. Mike Ryan picked up the win on a two-hitter.

CAMP CHASE also took the measure of Columbus Post, downing the DeSales entry, 4-3, on Lyn Fitzer's six-hitter.

In other games, Groveport's Jim Fox and Southway's Maurer battled to a 3-3 mound deadlock in a game called after six due to darkness. Doug Cromer's two - hitter chilled the Cruisers Sunday as Eastmoor chalked up an 8-3 win.

Broncs, G-C Increase Summer Loop Leads

West and Grove City put more mileage between themselves and the runner-up teams in their respective divisions by sweeping doubleheaders in Saturday play of the High School Summer League.

The Cowboys trimmed second-place Arlington by identical 6-3 scores while the Greyhounds outslugged South twice, 11-7 and 6-3.

ALL OTHER area teams split twin bills. St. Charles halved with Brookhaven; Ready divided with Watterson and Hartley swapped victories with Grandview.

George Shaffer, Mickey Piess and Darrell Rohrer combined on a six-hitter in the opener while Mike Carney provided batting power with a home run for West.

John Goodin and Piess toed the mound in the nightcap, limiting the Golden Bears to a single hit while the Broncos slammed out 10 bingles.

G-C SLUGGED it out with South in the opener but a seven-run third frame proved too much for the Bulldogs. South hung on with a 4-3 deficit in the nightcap until the sixth when the 'Hounds picked up two runs to ice the win.

Bill Thomas and Tom Boos checked the South club on a single hit.

Pat Ellis went the distance to grant Ready a 6-4 verdict ever Watterson. The Siver Knights knotted the score in the fifth, 3-3, and then plated three markers in the seventh to rack up the win.

Watterson's five-run third settled the score in the nightcap, 6-2, as Ready managed but two hits.

TIM ROONEY stymied Brookhaven on a single hit as he paced St. Charles to a tight 2-1 decision in the Cards' opener Saturday. Brookhaven turned the tables on the Carolians in the nightcap, however, to score a 3-0 victory, despite Bob Begland's five-hitter.

Tom Foley's relief job plus a five run sixth-inning explosion gained Hartley a come-from-behind 10-8 win over Grandview after the Bobcats had taken the opener 10-3.

The Hawks, who could muster only four hits in the first game, found their punch in the nightcap, solving three Grandview hurlers for 14 hits.

IN THE LOOP'S weekday action, Linden toppled Franklin Heights, 5-1, and Whitehall blanked Hartley, 3-0.

Tom Bryant's seventh-inning single spoiled a no-hit effort by Linden's Bob Brewer, who fanned 13 Falcons while picking up the win.

Steve Ortman's single prevented Terry Tedder from accomplishing a like feat against Hartley. The Ram pitcher bested Scott French in a tight pitching duel, the latter permitting but five Whitehall hits.

PIT STOPS

By BILL GRAY

An afternoon downpour flooded the pit at the Columbus Motor Speedway, forcing the speedway officials to call off Sunday night's races, the first cancellation of the season.

This coming Thursday night, July 4, the Williamsrd raceway will run its "Firecracker Championship" races. The super-modified and the flying-stocks will put on the program, that will be highlighted with a 50-lap modified championship feature and a 35-lap stock championship feature.

Immediately following the races, there will be a big fireworks display.

LAST FRIDAY evening, Don Gregory who had won 13 straight events, had his win-streak snapped by Joe King, who beat him out in the first heat race.

Gregory had to settle for third in the first semi and was forced out of the feature with mechanical difficulties. He was trying for his fifth-straight feature win.

Thursday, is the speedway's game of "Total," there will be $200 in the jackpot, for the fan or fans who can pick the first five finishers, in order, in one of the feature races.

Time trials, for the championship races, will begin at 7 p.m. and the first race is set for 8.

Kull Jewelers Has Show Of Oval Gems

A special showing of many unusual oval-shaped diamonds to be displayed through Friday, July 12, can now be seen in the windows of the Kull and Sons Jewelry Store, 205 S. High-st.

The display, entitled "Oval Elegance," was created by the same diamond firm that cut the famous Yonker diamonds.

This large collection, according to Jack Kull, includes both mounted and unmounted stones varying in weight from one-fifth to two and five-eighths carats. Of particular interest are the many original and unusual designs in engagement, wedding and special occasion rings.

Ferguson Elected Union President At Western Elct.

Clete Ferguson was elected president of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local 2020 at the Western Electric Plant in a union election held Thursday.

A run-off election to determine the office of vice-president will be held at a later date between Joe Mara and William Trott.

Other officers named at the Thursday election were Mary Mackley, recording secretary; John Stead, financial secretary; Jacque Poe, treasurer, and Dave Atkins, Edgar Edmunds, Robert Grant and Richard Murray, executive board members.

Antique Collecting Grows In Popularity, According To Owner Of The Dublin Barn

A large barn, three miles north of Dublin at 8511 Dublin-rd, has been converted to contain a treasury of historical items and antique furnishings that would be difficult to find anywhere else.

Beautiful pressed glass, allverware, lamps, chairs, desks, tables and imported antiques can be found among the extensive collection that has been put together by owner-manager, Jay Suiter, 8351 Dublin-rd.

Suiter, who has several years' experience as an interior decorator, spends several months each year in Europe collecting items of interest for his customers in Central Ohio. Many of the antiques found in the shop are decorator items and can be adapted to fit an antique decor.

His own collection of pressed or patterned glass has been displayed throughout the United States at various antique shows, and the collection for sale at the Dublin Antique Barn has brought interested customers from throughout the Midwest.

Suiter makes a point of knowing some of the history connected with each antique offered at his place of business and will gladly explain to the novice or amateur collector why a certain item is unique and where it originated.

Suiter, who opened his shop four years ago in his home, moved into the larger building three years ago when the collection outgrew its quarters.

According to Suiter, many young couples are developing an interest in antiques and have discovered that certain items can be purchased and restored to their original beauty at much less cost than you would pay for a contemporary copy. Suiter explained that many persons enjoy restoring an antique and having conversation pieces.

The antique shop owner added that he found historical items and antiques were becoming more popular as gifts for weddings and birthdays than they have in the past. He said he felt this was due to the interest the First Lady had generated by her interest in antiques, and also by the fact that many American families were beginning to build a tradition of their own.

No matter what the reason, however, it is a fact that collecting antiques has grown in popularity during the past several years and antiques will continue to increase in value as the years pass.

Descriptive Diploma June '64 Innovation In City High Schools

The Columbus Board of Education announced Tuesday that descriptive diplomas will be initiated with graduating classes in June, 1964.

The new program is thought to be the only one of its kind in the United States.

Three types of diplomas will be issued to graduating seniors under the new move—diploma of graduation with distinction, diploma of graduation and diploma of completion in the modified course.

Columbus schools will only be issuing descriptive diplomas next June in schools where principals find that the present school program has progressed to the point where such diplomas should be awarded.

It will probably be several years before the program will be fully in effect because students need to meet descriptive diploma requirements, Supt. Harold H. Eibling cautioned.

Supt. Eibling, an advocate of such a program for the past several years, said the purpose is to promote excellence of achievement, to provide additional incentive for youth to remain in school and to complete high school and to recognize individual differences in a realistic, kindly and discriminating manner.

The descriptive diploma has been under study by Columbus school administrators since 1959.

L. W. Huber, director of secondary education for the Columbus schools, headed a committee composed of L. M. Evans, Central High School principal; T. H. Mayer, Brookhaven High School principal; D. E. Thatcher, Walnut Ridge Junior-Senior High School principal, and H. D. Washburn, Medina Junior High School principal.

Huber said that research disclosed that other cities in the United States awarded differentiated diplomas. He explained that the diplomas are indicative of course work a pupil completes — vocational, occupational, college preparatory or commercial.

The new descriptive diploma can be earned by pupils in any one of the fields of specialization.

The diploma of graduation with distinction will be awarded to pupils who meet the following requirements:

- Earn at least 18 units of credit in grades nine through 12 and meet all state and city requirements.
- Maintain at least a 3.0 (B) average.
- Attend regular or able-learner classes.
- Be in able-learner classes to earn at least two units of credit.
- Earn four full credits, or more, in the senior year.
- Attend a Columbus high school or North Central Association accredited school for a full year before graduation with at least one semester of attendance in the high school from which the pupil is graduated.

The diploma of distinction can be earned by pupils in any one of the four following areas:

- Earn units of credit in three years of academic science, three years of academic mathematics (this excludes general math 9, business arithmetic, and shop arithmetic), and three years of a language (or two years each of two languages), with any of these subjects taken in the eighth grade counting toward these requirements.
- Follow the prescribed curriculum in bookkeeping or stenography with distinction and take two units of mathematics (including algebra), and two units of a language.
- Specialize with distinction in the fields of the arts (fine arts, music, and speech) or in journalism, and also take two units of academic science, two units of academic mathematics, and two units of a language. Such specialization may be considered as three units in any one of the above named subjects or may be a combination of them.
- Major with distinction in vocational education, industrial arts or home economics, and take two units of academic science, two units of academic mathematics, and two units of a language.

The diploma of graduation will be awarded to pupils who earn at least 16 units of credit and meet state and city requirements. Pupils earning this diploma must take courses for graduation. These courses must include, however, regular or able-learner classes in American history, 11th and 12th grade English and principles of democracy.

Diploma of completion in a modified course will be awarded to pupils who attend grades nine through 12 for four years, earn 16 units of credit plus required health and physical education, complete three years of English, two years of social science, including American history, one year of mathematics and one year of science.

Pupils in the modified course may earn up to one-half credit per semester for approved out-of-school experience if a working permit is maintained and the project is approved by his school principal.

The diploma of completion is designed to allow a boy or girl who would have difficulty with regular academic work to prepare himself to be a good citizen and to have the essential understandings and skills for making a living.

Superintendent Eibling summarized six distinct objectives in favor of the descriptive diplomas:

- To award diplomas which will fit our pattern of education in which we teach pupils on levels of achievement, according to students' needs.
- To promote excellence of academic achievement in the able-learner and regular classes.
- To give incentive to youth to do their best in their school work.
- To provide a mark of success for all students who will stick with the job and will work to potential capacity.
- To recognize individual differences in a realistic, kindly, discriminating manner.
- To provide a flexible system in which a student can change his pattern of education as his incentives, maturity and/or abilities change.

The Board of Education's Curriculum Committee, composed of chairman, Dr. Watson Walker; Donald E. Calhoun, Jr., and Homer Trantham, said they felt the long-range effect of such a system would strengthen the value of diplomas and provide incentive for students to achieve at their highest levels of ability.

The committee cautioned that at commencement exercises graduates should receive diplomas in an order irrespective of the type of diploma granted.

Only public evidence of a student receiving a certain kind of diploma might be the announcing of "diploma with distinction" after the name of a pupil granted this honor.

Lou Klass Opens Bexley Office Center

Lou Klass, prominent Hilltop businessman for 17 years and owner of the Hilltop Typewriter Service, 2423 W. Broad-st, has announced the opening of a new branch office, to be known as Bexley Office Machines, 2264 E. Main-st.

The new office machine dealership, to be located opposite Capital University, will feature sales and service, free pick-up and delivery and free loaner service for all types of office machines.

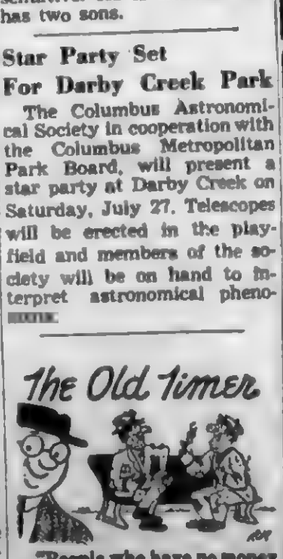
Klass said his new branch will be the authorized dealer for Hermes office machines and Underwood-Olivetti typewriters, office machines and supplies. The center will also act as dealer for Smith-Corona, Royal and Remington products.

Jerry Wein will act as service manager and Bud Roberts will be in charge of repair work at the new operation.

The grand opening celebration of Bexley Office Machines will be held Saturday, July 6, with free refreshments for all visitors.

ANNIVERSARY

STEPHEN STIGLEITNER, section chief in operating the Columbus Works of the Western Electric Co., Inc., celebrated 35 years with the company on June 18. He began his career with the organization in Chicago in 1928. A veteran of the U. S. Marines, Stigleitner and his wife Alice live at 4327 Sideway-av. The couple has three married children.



MacDonald Named To Ohio Bell Position

The Ohio Bell Telephone Co. has announced the elevation of William E. McDonald, Jr., 115 N. Remington-rd, from general commercial manager to operating head of the company's southwestern area, with headquarters in Columbus.

A graduate of Bexley High School and Ohio State University, McDonald joined Ohio Bell in 1941 as a service representative. He is married and has two sons.

Star Party Set For Darby Creek Park

The Columbus Astronomical Society in cooperation with the Columbus Metropolitan Park Board, will present a star party at Darby Creek on Saturday, July 27. Telescopes will be erected in the playfield and members of the society will be on hand to interpret astronomical phenomena.

Safety Program For East Side

The third annual community-wide Safety Exposition and Vehicle Safety Check will be held Saturday and Sunday, July 6 and 7, from 1 to 5 p.m. in front of the Columbus Works of the Western Electric Company, 6200 E. Broad-st.

The program is a repeat of the successful community-wide off-the-job safety check programs of 1961 and 1962.

Several changes, however, have been made in the format of the last two years. The program itself has been extended to two days and will include demonstrations, exhibits and band concerts.

Highlight of the program will be the free 10-point car safety check conducted by experts representing the American Society of Safety Engineers and other organizations.

Four inspection lanes will be available to insure a prompt and thorough inspection of all vehicles. Items to be checked will include brakes, lights, turn signals, steering, tires, exhaust system, windows, windshield wipers and washers, rear view mirror and horn. A "Safety Checked" windshield sticker will be presented to those car-owners having no defects noted by the inspectors. Ample parking space is available.

Safety, law enforcement and government organizations are actively supporting and participating in the event.

DR. JEKYLL sits up, his benign look belying the Mr. Hyde who lurks so near the surface.

WARNING! VICIOUS DOGS PATROL HERE

At Lockbourne AFB live not one but 24 Dr. Jekyll-Mr. Hydes.

And in the "hours of darkness" they roam.

But there is no cause for alarm, as these split-personalities are either confined or leashed at all times.

Yet it is rather terrifying to see the German Shepherds patroling the restricted areas of the base at night change from amiable and thoroughly "hummish" pets playing dead-dog and begging to snarling, lunging, blood-thirsty beasts.

A demonstration of the transformation was given Saturday afternoon as part of the open house held by one of the base squadrons.

It takes no witches' brew from a seething cauldron to work the switch—merely a change of collar.

While undergoing obedience training or traveling from one area to another, the dogs wear chain choker collars and are relatively mild-natured, striving only to please their handler. But the moment a heavy leather collar is substituted, the dogs know it's time to go to work and become alert, vicious sentries.

Used for night patrol because of their remarkable sense of smell, the canines have three duties: first, to detect the presence of a stranger; secondly, to alert the air policeman who is walking patrol with the dog, and finally to attack and hold if necessary.

EVEN THE HEAVILY-padded suit he wore did not save him from some discomfort, when Kennel Master S./Sgt. Donald Douglas lost his hand-grip deep in the sleeve, and the mighty jaws of the attacking dog settled on his wrist with vise-like strength. Though he's been through extensive training to earn his title of "Kennel Master," Douglas still maintains a healthy respect for the sentry dogs, knowing the least false move can bring a vicious bite.

The sentry dogs, all trained at Lackland AFB in Texas, have learned their lessons so well that once enlisted their enlistment is for life, explained Lt. Dudley Dewar, 543 Ivyhurst-dr, who is OIC of the canine section.

The dogs can never again safely enter civilian life, and when no longer able to work are painlessly anesthetized.

After screening at Lackland the dogs, either donated or sold by their previous owners, undergo eight weeks of intensive training. Though other breeds are adaptable by intelligence and temperament, the Air Force accepts only German Shepherds as their coat will adjust to any climate, and they can be used in Alaska or Pacific jungles.

Once arriving at its assigned base, the dog has only one master, a hand-picked air policeman who is the only person whom the dog is taught to obey and love.

Kennel Master, S/Sgt. Donald Douglas, 921 Duke-rd, confirmed that the devotion between a sentry dog and his handler surpasses the usual affection of a household pet and his master.

It is a sad time when an airman's enlistment is over, and he knows that not only must he leave his dog behind, but assist in retraining the dog to reject him and accept another man as his personal god.

Working in shifts, the animals patrol each night for six hours, a task they look forward to, eagerly jumping in the truck that in true Air Force tradition allows them "to ride to work."

With their resident vet, excellent care and high protein diet, the dogs are usually able to stave off the occupational diseases of arthritis and weak legs until about ten years old.

Though dogs have been used for sentry duty since the time of Napoleon, the increasing demand has developed a need for more German Shepherds than the air Force can easily obtain.

Anyone who is interested in furnishing a dog to serve in the Air Force may write to the Animal Procurement Officer, PO Box 52, Lackland AFB, Tex.

Any German Shepherd between one and three years old, at least 26 inches tall at the shoulder and weighs 60 or more pounds, is eligible for testing.

At government expense arrangements can be made to ship the dog to Lackland for testing. Some "recruits" flunk-out, usually from lack of aggressiveness or failure to obey readily, and these dogs will be returned home if the owner wants them.

Why would an owner want to give up his pet?

Lt. Dewar stated that often dogs which have proved mean around children are offered, that a large dog such as these sometimes proves to be more care and expense than the owner contemplated, and others feel giving their dogs to the Air Force is an act of patriotism.

Fair Sex Cycles, But Casually

By JANE ROBINSON

Sunday afternoon it appeared that all roads led not to Rome, but to the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

On all highways could be seen fleets of motorcycle enthusiasts heading for the Charity Newsies motorcycle races.

The rule of the day was a mixed-tandem arrangement with the fairer sex jauntily astride behind, though this order was sometimes reversed.

The difference in dress, which was fairly well standardized for each sex, brought a question to the mind:

Which is really the weaker sex?

While the boys wore heavy boots and trousers, their companions, to a girl, settled for sneakers, knee socks and bermudas.

Though goggles were necessary to protect the eyes of the stalwart males, sun glasses were good enough for the gals.

And while the lads looked to the preservation of their skulls with crash helmets, a wisp of net to hold their curls in place filled the bill for the lassies.

"Frailty, thy name is woman."

Sorry, William Shakespeare. It looks like there's a new breed of damsel around.

"Remember when the village square was a place—and not a person?"

Courtright . . .

The softball season at Courtright School had a bright beginning.

The Junior Boys won over Willis Park 15 to 1. The Intermediate Boys conquered Pinecrest 11 to 10. The Intermediate Girls won over Willis Park 21 to 13.

Outstanding in the Junior Boys win was Bruce Herman and Richard Hunter, with three hits each. The Intermediate Boys were led by the hitting of Randy Keatum, Tom Gornall and Steve Langerman, and the fine fielding of Jeff Williams.

The horseshoe champs at Courtright are Bob Brock, Seniors; Dennis Leach, Intermediates; and Mike Fields, Junior Boys.

Courtright Playground hosted the Sectional Four Square Tournament last Monday.

Fairmoor . . .

JJL action began last week at Fairmoor with the eight and nine-year-old National League playing on Wednesday and Friday.

On Wednesday, Steve Casto and Mark Gussler's team 2, led by the pitching of Eric Ireland and Pat Curto's home-run, beat team 1, 14 to 11. Dave Hylton's hitting led Pat Zill's team 4 to a 21 to 5 win over team 3.

On Friday, Pat Zill's team 4, led by the combination no-hit pitching of Brent Petherich and Dave Hylton, and Jim Zill's bases loaded triple, beat team 1 by the score of 19 to 1. In other action, John McLain's pitching and Jim Shopoff's hitting and solid defensive play led Denny Arnold and Rusty Powell's team 3 to an exciting 9 to 8 decision over team 2.

In the 10 to 12 American League, which began Thursday, the action was just as thrilling with fireballing Tim Pettorini pitching a one-hit shutout, striking out 15 batters in five innings, and hitting two homers and a double to lead Terry Kinney's team 5 to a 12 to 9 win over team 2. Ken Roush backed up his teammate with a grandslam homerun and a triple.

In other action, Danny Shafer's clutch pitching and homerun, and Bob McFerin's homerun offset a homerun by Gar Storck and the fine hitting of Tom Maraffa, as Tom Findley's team 1 beat team 3, 5 to 1.

In softball, the Intermediate Boys team, led by the pitching of Mark Gussler and the hitting of Ron Nordman (4 hits, including a triple) and Kal Fuzy (2 hits, 3 RBI's), beat James Road 11 to 3.

In other softball games, the Junior Girls beat Pinecrest 10 to 4, and the Intermediate Girls lost to Pinecrest 17 to 6, although Asuman Kurtis hit a three-run homer.

Fairmoor held its horseshoe, tetherball and four square tournaments last week with the following winners: horseshoes—Rezzan Kurtis, Martha Arnett, Dan Shafer and Bruce Powell; four square — Jim Smith and Wayne Ellis, Dan Shafer and Nick Piermont, Asuman Kurtis and Jerri Smith, and Rezzan Kurtis and Sibyl McCualsky; tetherball—Joyce Feathers, Jim Smith, Dave Neubauer, and Rezzan Kurtis.

Assistant leaders this year are Jim Smith, Denny Nordman, Joyce Feathers, Janis Feathers, Mike Boggs, Connie Willard, Jim Iles, Denny Arnold, Kal Fuzy, Rusty Powell, Mark Gussler, Marilyn Walsh and Jay Tyo.

Umpiring for the JJL and softball games is done by Jim Iles, Jim Smith, Warner Sippola and Jay Tyo.

On Monday, July 8, at 6, there will be an old-timers' game with boys from 13 to 21 playing the adults in softball.

At the same time there will be a mother-daughter volleyball game.

Worst-Kept Secret of 1963

"More Fritsche Homes are being built in holly hill"

FIVE NEW MODEL HOMES NOW OPEN

...and we wanted it to be a surprise.

But almost every day since Section 6 sold out, we've had visitors asking about the new streets being put in, wondering when the models would be open, wanting to make reservations.

Seems that people who already live in Holly Hill (in Fritsche homes, of course) have been telling their friends. Some of the contractors have admitted spreading the good word. Even our sales manager dropped a hint. We realized some time ago that the secret was out. So we hurried along with the new model homes and we're now officially open for business

If you've a mind to buy a new home in west Columbus, please visit Holly Hill today. We have only 83 lots available and, through no fault of ours, some people are already in line ahead of you.

Every Fritsche Home is protected by Ernest G. Fritsche & Co.

Five-Year Warranty

$9.95

TOTAL CASH DOWN PLAN AVAILABLE

TOTAL MONTHLY PAYMENTS FROM $91.00 INCLUDING TAXES AND INSURANCE

HOURS:
Sunday Noon to 8 p.m.; weekdays 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Saturday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Other times by appointment

DIRECTIONS:
Drive to 3900 W. Sullivant Ave.; turn south; follow signs to model homes.

'Uncovered' Letter Reveals Sawvel Report Promised As 'Good Story'

By FRANK RYAN

A closely guarded "feather in the hat" letter from Findlay water rate consultant J. S. Sawvel was revealed Tuesday to Hartley Newspapers by C. Wayne Freeman, Columbus finance director.

Freeman was pressed for full contents of the letter following reports Sawvel had assured councilmen of the political "safeness" of proposed water rate hikes in his survey for which the city has paid $22,000.

In the letter to Freeman, Sawvel wrote that he is "convinced that the adoption of the proposed rates, together with the proper publicity, will enhance the political stature of the present (Westlake) administration and will be a 'feather in its hat.'"

The letter, dated June 12, 1962, was accompanied by a 15-point rationale for acceptance of the report findings and titled: "Reasons Why The Proposed Water Rates Should Be Adopted And The Water Freeze Lifted And That The Program Is Not A Political Question."

Freeman said the letter and "rationale" were accompanied by a series of suggested news releases. In the letter to Freeman, Sawvel said of the proposed news releases: "... with proper publicity we are confident that the two newspapers, the public and others would look upon the proposed water system program most favorably as an achievement and accomplishment of the present administration."

"We have a good story to tell," Sawvel wrote. "It will be further noted," he continued, "that in all my rate studies I have never experienced a situation where water consumers considered their water bill as a tax nor where there was any apprehension by the political party in power towards making an increase in rates—even where rates have been increased by as much as 50 percent. We are confident that practically everyone considers his water bill as a utility bill the same as his electricity, gas and telephone bills."

The Sawvel letter indicated that consideration had been given to raising rates only for commercial and industrial users, with no increase for residential accounts. Under the heading "Residential Bills Must Be Increased," the Sawvel letter said:

"The question was raised at our last conference as to the possibility of increasing only commercial and industrial bills and eliminating the increase on residential users. I have given further consideration to this possibility and have reached definite conclusion and opinion that it would be highly inadvisable to contemplate such a program for the obvious reason that all other residential rates are tied in and limited by the Columbus rate. Further, it is highly undesirable to leave the largest group of consumers unaffected."

Sawvel dealt with the controversial Columbus water "freeze" policy in listing the 15 reasons for adoption of his report. He reported:

"The lifting of the water freeze that has been in effect for many years (making it possible for new water consumers to receive water service without subsidy on the part of the Columbus users) should in itself result in most favorable publicity and will be a credit to the existing administration. As in the case with the rates, the newspaper publicity would be prepared in advance and given to both papers."

Sawvel's advice on wording of proposed news releases was not followed, Freeman said, because "wording of the first news release was not what they wanted." Freeman identified "they" as himself, members of council's service committee and "the administration."

Freeman also explained that adoption of the Sawvel report would not constitute an actual lifting of the water "freeze," but would replace the present policy with a form of economic rather than actual freeze. (Proposed rates for areas outside Columbus call for a 50 percent increase in incorporated areas and 100 percent increase for unincorporated areas.)

GLORIA McBRIDE, participating in the Miss Universe pageant now underway in Miami, will be gowned in a gold and silver brocade, floor-length sheath for the final competition.

Councilmen Okay New Dwellings

Construction of 20 twin-single dwellings on a seven-acre tract at the southwest corner of Astor and Sheridan-avs was approved during regular session of Bexley Council Tuesday night.

Council voted to accept the Sheridan Park-ct plat and approved an ordinance authorizing Mayor William A. Schneider to enter into contract with the developers for necessary street improvements.

Sheridan Investment Corp. President Sidney Marks assured council that the developers would pay their share of improvement costs. Council will determine the amount of the assessment for the new street.

Council referred to City Solicitor Howard Park the offer of an anonymous donor to pay for shrubs on Clifton-av at the Bexley Swimming Pool. Parks will determine the legality of using city labor

Garbage Woe Is Eased In Whitehall

Whitehall's garbage collection problems have lessened—at least for the present, according to Service Director Robert B. Mickey.

Mickey said that North Haulage, contract garbage hauler for the city, is now making pick-ups without the aid of city trucks and crews.

The firm had notified Mickey last week that collections would be halted. Dumping privileges had been denied the firm due to non-payment of fees, Mickey was told. Mickey said the North firm had regained dumping rights by paying a fee on a day-to-day basis.

The present arrangement, allowing North to continue garbage collections, was reached following a meeting of Whitehall officials with representatives of the North firm and its bonding company. Mickey said that the

WHITEHALL SCHOOL BOARD

Approve Expenses, Appointments

Whitehall School Board Wednesday night approved paying $1,526.86 tuition for district students to the School for Retarded Children, and the $1,171.78 cost of painting the old portion of East Main Street School.

Members also approved purchases of supplies for the coming school year totaling $2,677.

The board had previously announced the resignation of veteran school board member Walter Olpp, who left his post after 35 years' service on the board because he had moved into Columbus. Olpp will continue to serve as clerk-treasurer.

The appointment of a new vice-principal at Whitehall High and assignment of other Whitehall administrators were also announced.

Glendon Evans, new assistant principal of Whitehall High School, has served as principal of Gallipolis High School for the past two years.

Before that he was local executive (superintendent) of Racoon Local School District in Gallia County, and earlier, local executive in Licking County.

He has also been a teacher and coach at Utica High in Licking County.

Evans received his bachelors degree from Ohio State University in 1947, and his masters from OSU in 1952. He is married and is the father of three.

Evans replaces Ray Schick in the post at Whitehall High.

Schick, formerly athletic director and supervisor of the school, as well as vice-principal, will devote his entire time to physical education.

The continued growth of the school made the division

Columbus Girl Eyes Miss Universe Crown In Pageant At Miami

By BETTY DAFT

Ohio, her fame for buckeyes and beauties already known nationally, is making a bid for world-wide recognition of her specialties this week.

This year's Miss America, a resident of Sandusky, has already proven that the country's most beautiful girls come from Ohio.

And Columbus' own Miss Gloria McBride is representing the state in the spectacular Miss Universe pageant, in progress through next Monday at Miami. Gloria lives with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Cummins, 1376 Stelzer-rd.

Miss McBride, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Margaret Barber, of Canal Winchester, left early Wednesday morning in a flurry of last-minute preparations.

Gloria wasn't officially notified until Monday that the original Miss Ohio, Andrea Getzlaff, of Solon, was disqualified because she would not be 18 when the contest started.

Gloria was first runner-up in the state contest held June 3 in Cleveland, trailing the winner, Andrea Getzlaff, by one point.

Miss Getzlaff had received a temporary restraining order preventing anyone else from representing Ohio in the contest. A phone call from Cleveland Monday notified Gloria that this was lifted and that she was eligible to enter the pageant as Miss Ohio.

With stars in her eyes and her feet barely skimming the ground, she was launched in a whirlwind of activity.

There was an exciting Monday afternoon session at her sponsoring store, and an equally thrilling Tuesday morning fittings on gowns made especially for her.

The 17 ensembles include four floor-length gowns and half a dozen short cocktail gowns of sequins, satins, brocades and floating chiffons, and an assortment of street clothes to carry her through the five-day affair.

"Miss USA" will be chosen from contestants representing every state in the union, and the winner will compete with beauties from 60 other countries for the crown of "Miss Universe."

Sharing in Gloria's elation is her mother and grandparents, who agree that "Even though she doesn't win or even place in the finalists, the experience is a marvelously happy one."

As Miss Ohio, Gloria would have an exciting year with a busy schedule for personal appearances.

Mrs. Cummins will not accompany her granddaughter to Miami, although she did go along on the Cleveland trip. "It's the plane," she confided. "I just don't care to fly. But they will keep in close touch by phone, and I will surely be watching television next Monday night."

She won't be alone. Most of Columbus will join the Cummins and Gloria's friends at the TV set next Monday evening.

Gloria was graduated from Groveport High School and is employed at White-Haines Optical Co. She is 21.

Start $1 Million Building Program At Capital U.

Capital University moved ahead on its $10 million "Decade of Decision" expansion program with the announcement of a million dollars worth of construction to begin this summer.

Scheduled to be completed by fall of 1964 are a new women's residence hall and an administration building.

Total cost of the three-story, face brick women's residence hall will be $396,176. It will be attached to the present Settlerlin-Lohman-Schoedinger Halls on the southwest corner of E. Mound-st at Pleasant Ridge-st, and will house 106 women.

The administration building, to be named Yochum Hall in tribute to Capital's president, Dr. H. L. Yochum, will be constructed at a cost of $671,827. The name was a stipulation by Ray and Mrs.

EARL SPICER (right), 1302 Dellwood-av, and son Skip take a good look at $139 in "Confederate" cash which was last week's jackpot in the Hartley Newspaper contest. Hartley circulation manager Jack Schisep has just made the presentation of the money to the winners and is seen holding a copy of the winning paper. The "Confederate" cash can be spent at face value at any place of business advertising in last week's Hartley papers.

Brand New Jackpot Begins In Hartley Newspaper Contest

It's gone again! The "Confederate" jackpot has been emptied, this time by an East Side family, and a new jackpot has been started.

Earl Spicer, 1302 Dellwood-av, came up with the winning "5" emblem last week and walked off with $139 in "Confederate" cash. This money can be spent, just like the real thing, at any place of business advertising in a Hartley Newspaper during the week the winner finds the lucky emblem.

The Spicer family has subscribed to a Hartley Newspaper for the past four years. According to Spicer, part of each week has been spent searching the pages of his paper for the winning emblem since the contest started.

The winner said it was Friday before he started his weekly search. At first he didn't believe he had come up with the lucky insignia. "I called my wife and asked her if she had been writing in the newspaper as a joke," he said.

When convinced it was no joke and the brightly colored emblem in his newspaper was a jackpot winner, Spicer lost no time in bringing the lucky paper to the Hartley News

Bexley's Community Pool Is Dedicated In July Fourth Rites

"A pool of our own," the aim of Bexley Civic Improvement Association in its campaign to finance and build a swimming pool for Bexley residents, was dedicated the afternoon of July 4.

On hand for the ceremonies were Congressman Samuel Devine, Bexley Mayor William Schneider and the city's council members, as well as BCIA board members and president, Bill Birch, and Bexley Recreation Director Bill Bernlohr.

John Hardgrove was master of ceremonies and C. C. Crabbe spoke and presented the flag, raised by a color guard from Bexley Post, American Legion.

Rev. Robert E. Leake of St. Alban's Episcopal Church gave the invocation, and Fr. Thomas L. McLaughlin, assistant pastor of St. Catharine's Church, said the benediction.

The $110,000 facility, financed through non-interest-hearing loan bonds of $100 denominations and through donations, was the project of the BCIA.

A building housing the office, locker rooms and snack bar, a kiddie pool and an area with tables shaded by colorful umbrellas are located on the upper deck.

Stairs lead down to the lower level and the main pool.

Any Bexley resident, non-members as well as those holding memberships, is welcome to swim at the pool. Swimming lessons, however, are available only to bond-holding members.

Don DeJong is pool manager, and Mrs. John Ferguson, office manager.

Staff members include Kit Butler, Susan Antle, Sue Helmick, Cindy Levoff, Barbara Smith, Jim Ringer, Rick Davis, Jeff McClelland and Frank Gruber.

Deliver New Area Phone Books Soon

New 1963 telephone directories will begin arriving at Columbus area homes on Thursday, July 11, and should be completely delivered by July 17. An estimated 380,000 copies will be delivered by 650 phone company representatives.

According to phone company officials this year's book will be bound in a cobalt blue cover and contain 1,240 pages, four less than last year. It will weigh three pounds and seven ounces.

About 40 per cent of the subscribers listed in the new edition are listed with alldigit numbers and by the end of 1966 all telephones in the Columbus area will have an all-number calling number.

On Sunday, July 14, all telephone users in Greater Columbus will begin dialing "1" instead of "112" to direct dial a long distance call. In addition, the phone company said "424" will become the city-wide number for repair service.

THE "NATURAL" LOOK

This is the opposite of artificiality . . . in style lines, hair "feel" and hair color. Naturalness is the newest watchword in the beauty profession! We don't use hair coloring that doesn't look as though Mother Nature had it in mind and we won't give a wave that couldn't have been "born" in your hair. It's your assurance that you won't have a "set" look and this new mood of natural beauty is one of our secrets for keeping you younger!

TEMPORARY OR "PERMANENT"?

Temporary or permanent may be the toughest decision! Temporary color (a rinse, for example) creates an illusion, rather than direct change. Ideal for blending newly-grey strands black to deeptones. It puts blonde glints into "dishwater" hair, silver into yellow-grey and highlights galore. Temporary color can't make a blonde of a brunette. Still want to? We'll do it!

HI-LITE FOR GLAMOUR

A few lucky lassies get a "break" in greying. These are the fortunate women whose grey strands concentrate at the temples or near the widow's peak. Our professional stylist make the most of Mother Nature's windfall. We can pick up a few strands next to the grey and "silver" them. Now you can have a streak of light to shine through your darker coiffure! We design a hairstyle that brings out the dramatic "silver sweep" and you'll feel like a million dollars! Parade

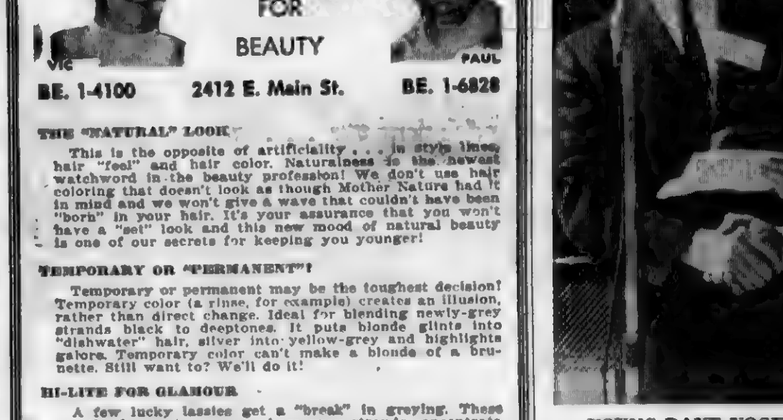
Several units from the White Oaks District participated in the Whitehall Fourth of July parade.



In the parade were Troops 373, 278 and 369, and Explorer Post 278 and Ship 371. After the parade the units took part in the festivities, including a tug of war contest which Troop 369 won.

Boy Scout Summer Camp is now in its fourth week at both Lazarus and Greenhills reservations. Troop 335 is the only troop from the White Oaks District at either camp, and they are at Lazarus.

Since this is the first year for the Greenhills Reservation and the type of camping is more primitive, fewer troops go there. The only troop scheduled from White Oaks for the rest of the summer is Troop 277, during the fifth period.

The schedule of troops from this area for the rest of the year at Lazarus is as follows: Fifth period, Troop 195; sixth period, Troops 271 and 278; seventh period, Troops 107 and 326, and the eighth period, Troops 370, 369, 126 and 274, and Post 369.

The second section will extend along Noe-Bixby-rd from near the New York Central Railroad to the subdivision, north of Refugee-rd.

The Logan Construction Company will install the new line.

The Fabric Doctor

"How Often Should Curtains Be Drycleaned?"

—Mrs. F. W. R.

Dear Mrs. F. W. R.

The National Institute of Drycleaning recommends cleaning at least once a year. There are good reason for that. Curtains and drapes attract soil you cannot see, especially in winter. This soil with sunlight and radiator heat, weakens the fabrics. Regular cleaning will remove soil before it can do too much harm.

I know that you keep an exceptionally clean home and do not understand how soil can get into your curtains and drapes. Here is what happens. Cooking oils and ordinary gases gather in any home, especially in winter, from heating with gas or oil. They infiltrate drapes and curtains because they are especially handy.

Few home-makers realize it, but color will change in a curtain, drapery or even in clothes hanging in a closet simply because oxides of nitrogen in the air slowly change the color in dyed fabrics. Any type of combustion in the home will do this — a gas stove, electric stove, fireplace or even an automobile exhaust if you have a basement garage.

Having your curtains and drapes cleaned regularly, at least once a year, will remove soil and do more to preserve color and durability than anything else.

Sawvel Soaking Tank

Sawvel Rate Report Politically Motivated

The Sawvel Water Rate Study, promised as a "feather in the cap" of the Westlake Administration, may prove to be a political "bone in the throat."

Findlay consultant J. S. Sawvel defended his report during two public hearings. He stressed the right of the city to use an "ability to pay" formula in placing a top-heavy portion of the cost hike on industrial and commercial users.

Mayor Westlake indicated a preference for the Sawvel rates by declaring himself in favor of a lower rate for "pensioners and others in the low income bracket."

Perhaps the reasoning behind Sawvel's approach to the proposed rate structure would be more readily understood by the public if he had gone into details of a letter sent last summer to a Westlake Administration official.

The letter not only promised that adoption of the report recommendations would be a "feather in the cap" of the Westlake Administration, but went on to advise that all the administration had to do was tell the people and they would be glad to pay. Sawvel advised that adoption of the report would be a good move, politically.

As political strategy the Sawvel report may have some merit. Certainly there are more votes to be gained from residential water consumers than from the industrial-business population.

But the political strategists seemed to have overlooked one fact. The "man in the street" has learned through previous experience that he pays more in the long run for any financial break he gets at the expense of industry and commerce. Any added production or operating costs of business must necessarily be passed on to the consumer—and usually with a little extra charge to cover the cost of the added business investment.

Notwithstanding the political overtones, the report is open to question in several important areas.

For example, the city charter says that water rates "shall be fixed by ordinance of council . . . in an EQUITABLE manner and in such amount as will fully cover the COST OF SERVICE." (our emphasis.)

The Development Committee for Greater Columbus has challenged the Sawvel report because it doesn't include cost-of-service data. Sawvel brushed aside the suggestion with comments that costs of such a study would run from $200,000 to $300,000, and that recommendations would not be followed.

Left unanswered by the consultant and Mayor Westlake is the question of how equitable rates can be determined when the cost of service is unknown.

A less-discussed but equally disturbing aspect of the Sawvel report is the philosophy proposed for dealing with areas outside Columbus. The implied and expressed theory is that the city has the right to levy whatever charges it pleases to areas outside Columbus without thought to balance of cost and service.

Agreed that Columbus is the most logical central source of water supply. But evolution of an integrated water system for Franklin County, unhampered by imaginary boundary lines, calls for cooperation—and cooperation is a two-way street. (It was just a short time ago that the Westlake Administration was complaining of the potential dangers of monopoly in providing an open field for another utility. It seems that the "shoe on the other foot" theory comes into play here.)

There is one other point that the Westlake Administration would do well to consider before brushing aside recommendations of civic committees it seeks out for advice.

Committees such as the Development Committee for Greater Columbus are not on a trial basis. They have proved on numerous occasions that they stand ready to work for the betterment of the total community. They have contributed time, effort, knowledge and money.

Such committees cannot continue to function properly if they are afforded cooperation from local government ONLY when their findings coincide with the thinking of the political administration.

The Sawvel report is a case in point. It has been much too long delayed in its final presentation. It was brought forth in time, however, to serve as a "white charger" for Mayor Westlake's bid for re-election. The Sawvel report, as it now stands, is the message to the "little man" that he is getting "something for nothing—or close to nothing."

"Something for nothing" is as old as politics. It is the rigged wheel that just won't pay off the bettors.

"Feather" or "bone" — the Sawvel report has cost Columbus taxpayers $22,000. And to date it is a case of "nothing for something."

An Editor's Outlook . . . by Jenkin Lloyd Jones

Worm's-Eye View Of War Is Different

By mid-day 100 years ago last Thursday the outcome of the American Civil War had been decided.

At noon on July 4, 1863 a drenching rain swept the green hills around Gettysburg, Pa. It washed the open mouths of Pickett's dead on the gentle slopes of Cemetery Ridge. It blanketed with a gray haze the view from the hastily-erected Union lookout towers. And then in muck and agony and disappointment the Army of Virginia began to move backward.

Jones

First, it was only the ambulances — jolting, springless wagons filled with moaning or screaming men who begged the drivers to leave them by the roadside. Then in the dripping dusk the columns crawled away—the first corps under Longstreet, the second under Ewell, the third under A. P. Hill.

And in the midst rode a pensive man with a white beard and an erect bearing, a man who had rarely moved this way before but who would taste retreat often now. The road to Cashtown and the fords of the Potomac was also the road to Appomattox. Robert E. Lee was going home.

The historians and the West Point professors and Ike Eisenhower and Winston Churchill and the battlefield guides and all the rest who have since become experts on Gettysburg can see it all now. With the prescience of 100 years they say:

"If Ewell had pressed the attack on the first day — Good God! He still had four hours of daylight . . ."

"If Warren hadn't discovered the importance of Little Round Top in the nick of time . . ."

"If Lee hadn't ordered the frontal assault . . ."

"If Meade had pursued quickly and sealed the river crossings . . ."

It's all easy to say now. We have the bird's-eye view. We move the tin soldiers here and there on the sand table. We know how it was and how it could have been.

But the worm's-eye view was different. Tired men. Men with inadequate maps. Men who could only guess the strength of the smudged lines of gray and blue lying along the fence rails. Fragmentary news from the distant, waving signal flags. Garbled reports from the breathless couriers on their lathered horses. This is the way history is made.

At the moment the rain began falling on Gettysburg the sun was shining at Vicksburg, Miss. Just before noon Pemberton's army marched out of its fortifications, stacked its arms, and, while the Union bands joyfully played "Hail, Columbia," 31,600 Confederates surrendered themselves and the town.

With our bird's-eye view we understand the significance of Vicksburg. It was the double-whammy — the opening of the Mississippi, the divorcement of the West from the Confederacy. Because this happened at the very moment Lee began his retreat in Pennsylvania we call it a "turning point." It is easy to chart the turnings of the road from the eminence of time.

But on that Fourth of July there was little joy in the Sixth Wisconsin Battery. For on the day before, when the surrender negotiations were getting underway — well, let a 17-year-old private in the battery describe it in his diary.

> "After the flag had appeared on the left and the firing had ceased on both sides, and the men carelessly exposed themselves to miscreant — yea a brute in human form — took one life when under other circumstances he would have failed. Alvah B. Page, a gunner of the second piece, was shot in the left ear while sitting on the piece, instantly killing a noble life and one of the best shots in the battery. His last words were the hopeful ones 'I guess they are gone up.' He lived to sight the last gun fired at the enemy's stronghold. A siege gun was to be given him the very morning he was buried in a soldiers grave, 2 p.m."

The diary-keeper was my grandfather.

In the great stream of history we can easily see how insignificant Gunner Page really was. He is one in the orderly ranks of crosses in the Vicksburg Military Cemetery. His comrades are all gone. The parents who mourned him, the brothers and sisters are gone, too.

The old casualty lists have lost the quality of flesh and blood. They have returned to the dust of names and numbers. We cannot understand the white-hot anger of the young artilleryman from Wisconsin whose day of victory 100 years ago was ruined by the passing of a name, the elimination of a blurred, grinning face in a tintype taken at Memphis.

We know there were miscreants on both sides . . . brutes and cowards and noblemen and heroes. From the altitude of a century we enjoy looking down on the old battlefields and playing the game of "might-have-been." But the hate of those distant hours seems strange and unreal.

Yet, in the worm's-eye view it made sense. These Johnnys (or Yanks) were to be killed, and it's hard to kill without the help of passion. So the stories of brutality and treachery passed around the campfires and in the heat of battle you ripped at the paper cartridges with your teeth and yelled as you jabbed and slashed with your bayonet. War is not a judicious thing. Let the unborn sit in judgment.

And 100 years later the unborn have. The family follows the guide around and the kids wear those silly little Union or Confederate caps and Pa tries to impress them by saying: "Now, if Pemberton had only joined Joe Johnston like he was supposed to . . ." or "If Longstreet hadn't sat on his behind for two hours before starting the barrage . . ."

And time is a wonderful thing.

'What's Done . . .'

To the Editor:

Recently, Whitehall Councilman Ray Shipley stated that he done things while on Council. For once I must agree with him.

He DONE loaded Whitehall with apartments, drive-ins, filling stations, etc.

He DONE started a trend that will make most streets in Whitehall a strip, comparable to the strip we have on Main-st at night. With all its neon signs it looks like Broadway in New York City.

He DONE started this strip on Yearling-rd by putting apartments, filling stations (one station has never been opened since it was built) and so forth.

He DONE started improving Maplewood-av so he can have another strip, and when Hamilton-rd is finished God help the people in that vicinity.

He DONE voted to repeal the one o'clock closing law (Feb. 20, 1962) for taverns and by so doing he done throwed the City of Whitehall open on Sunday morning for all the drinkers after adjoining communities have thrown them out.

Anger, Well Controlled, Can Be Constructive

Matt. 21:12—Jesus went into the Temple of God and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the moneychangers, and the seats of them that sold doves.

Jesus traveled many miles in and around Jerusalem during his earthly ministry. It was the common people who mostly came to hear Him. He also learned any things from these people.

Rev. Young

One of the things that caused Him much concern had to do with temple worship and sacrifice. Prices for the sacrifice animals were so high, many common people found when they arrived at the temple that they could not make a sacrifice. This had disturbed the native people for many years. Jesus also had heard of those who came from far away places who were being cheated and shortchanged as they changed their money for temple script. He had watched the activities in the outer court as men hawked their wares. He was very displeased at what He saw and heard.

The custom of sacrifice was not foreign to Jesus. Their religion had been carried on this way for many years, but when the temple became a money making machine for the high priest and the rest of the Sadducean clique, instead of a place of worship it was time for the Son of God to do something about it.

One day He entered the temple with anger in His eyes, seized a whip and drove the money changers out, saying to them as they departed, "My house shall be called a house of prayer; but you have made it a den of thieves."

This is not the only place where Jesus showed anger during his earthly ministry. Did His showing of anger on several occasions make Him less divine? I think not. I think we have so long overemphasized the fact that God is love, that we have forgotten; God also sits in judgment, where justice will be handed out and righteousness will prevail.

If Jesus used anger for the good of the Kingdom, can we as His people also use anger for the same cause? We have thought anger is all bad only because it is usually used as a vice and shows our immaturity. It usually rises out of pettiness or selfishness.

Did it ever enter our minds that God gave us this instinct for a purpose, and we are misusing it? Therefore we are sinning against ourselves, our fellowman and God.

We need to ask God to help us control our anger, so that we never generate more than we have the capacity to hold. When we use our anger, let us be sure that the size of the thing we use it on is big enough for us to spend ourselves on.

If the people who are called Christian in this world would use constructively the anger they can generate, and spiritually dedicate it, evil would cower before us. A little Godly Christian anger could smoke out a lot of crime. Many of the evils of our day thrive under our noses only because we keep still.

Jesus saw what was happening in the temple so He used what God gave Him and went into Action. Abraham Lincoln saw the slave woman auctioned off in New Orleans, something arose in his soul; and when the day came that he could do something about it, he did.

When will you and I, as the Church, allow something to arise in our souls that will send evil fleeing? This will never happen until we recover from our illness, known to Jesus as "lukewarmness."

Frosting On The Cake

By "UNCLE DOC" ROSS — U.S.A.

Mr. I. F. Howell, my fellow columnist each week on your editorial page, has written a classic about June weddings.

That marvelous column of his gives me a natural opportunity to put in my two cents worth about this love business. Genuine love is much more than just "many wondrous things."

First of all, of course, is the honest and decent "love life" between two fine adults of opposite sex. Only within the last few years has it been possible for teeners to get sane and honest guidance from teachers who have attained that mental station in life where they are qualified.

Then there are many fine and inspiring "love affairs" of the mind and spirit between thousands of genuine students of life. These fall in the category of admiration and respect for other individuals of both sexes who are also people of taste and achievement. Ever since I was ten years of age I have been in love with marvelous women—teachers, great artists, successful writers. They are thoroughbreds in the art and science of full and compensating living.

No one who knows such women as Helen B. Paulsen, Carolyn McCartney, Viola Jordheim, Christine Carr Minor, Gay Zanola McClaren, Eleanor Sikes Peters, Dr. Margaret Mead, Dr. Irene Dunn, can become acquainted with such tremendous female personalities without becoming extremely fond of them.

Mrs. Ross and I just celebrated our own 48th anniversary, and as we look back together over the many marvelous things we have lived through together it makes sense to say we too have had our share of "frosting on the cake." Mr. Howell has said something vastly important. I hope thousands of this year's crop of brides and grooms will heed his wisdom. One thing they must do, and that is to leave each other's personality alone. Thousands of women are still "making a man over" for some other woman.

"Sorry, sir, but I'll have to consult my lawyer before I answer that question!"

Stout Elected Trustee Of Kiwanis International

Hilltop attorney Phillip V. Stout was elected Kiwanis International trustee July 4 in Atlantic City.

He is the first Columbus man to be named to a Kiwanis International office since the 1925 presidency of Ed Arras.

Stout, 52, will go to Kiwanis headquarters in Chicago, Aug. 1, for his installation. Along with 11 other trustees, he will help establish policy of the service organization which serves 262,000 members in more than 5200 clubs in the United States, Canada, Mexico, the Bahamas and Western Europe. His first official duty will be to attend the Alabama District Convention in Mobile in August.

Stout has been assigned to a leadership training committee.

In 18 years of Kiwanis affiliation, Stout has taken on steadily increasing responsibilities. A charter member of the Hilltop club, he became its president in 1950. He was lieutenant governor of the Tenth Division during 1952 and advanced to governor of the Ohio District in 1959. A year ago he was named international chairman of education and fellowship, and interclub relations.

In community life, his activities have included Hilltop Shrine Club, Hilltop Community Council, HBA, West High Boosters, Columbus Recreation Commission, and local, state and national bar associations.

Stout and his wife, Nellie, live at 2494 W. Broad-st. A son, Roland B., is an architect. There are three grandchildren.

In Antarctica the winter temperatures average 50 to 80 below zero and occasionally plummet to 125 below. Summer temperatures seldom go above freezing. Winds rage up to 200 miles an hour through glacial passes. Most of the land lies depressed beneath an ice sheet 7,000 feet thick and, except for a rare patch of lichens or a few venturesome birds, there is no life. Some of the icebergs are 50 miles long.

Youth Saves Three From Drowning

The alert heroics of Pleasantville lifeguard, Paul Schiff, 17, prevented the possible drowning of three young Greenleaf-rd children July 2.

The three, all daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Skaggs, 1260 Greenleaf-rd, were put into the car during a light shower at Jackson Lake, just south of Lithopolis.

Curiosity got the best of them though, and, Carolyn, one of the 2½-year-old twins, jumped into the front seat and released the emergency brake, letting the car roll downhill toward the lake.

After attempts to stop the car by the girls' mother, young Schiff jumped in and stopped the vehicle just as the front end was dipping into the lake.

The other two girls were Marilyn, the other twin, and Sandra, 1½ years old.

Boy Scout News

Parade

Several units from the White Oaks District participated in the Whitehall Fourth of July parade.

In the parade were Troops 373, 278 and 369, and Explorer Post 278 and Ship 371. After the parade the units took part in the festivities, including a tug of war contest which Troop 369 won.

Scout Camp

Boy Scout Summer Camp is now in its fourth week at both Lazarus and Greenhills reservations. Troop 335 is the only troop from the White Oaks District at either camp, and they are at Lazarus.

Since this is the first year for the Greenhills Reservation and the type of camping is more primitive, fewer troops go there. The only troop scheduled from White Oaks for the rest of the summer is Troop 277, during the fifth period.

The schedule of troops from this area for the rest of the year at Lazarus is as follows:

Fifth period, Troop 195; sixth period, Troops 271 and 278; seventh period, Troops 107 and 326, and the eighth period, Troops 370, 369, 126 and 274, and Post 369.

Mrs. Vorys Selected As First Area United Appeal Chairman

Mrs. John W. Vorys, 2380 Bryden-rd, will be the residential division vice-chairman in charge of the entire eastern division of Franklin County during the coming October United Appeal campaign. Her appointment was recently announced by Mrs. Arthur Loeb Jr., 3040 Ebern-av., the general chairman of the house-to-house phase of this year's drive.

Mrs. Vorys is one of five vice-chairmen working directly under the division chairman in organizing and conducting the county-wide solicitation. This will be the first year the vice-chairman has been used.

Included in Mrs. Vorys' area will be Reynoldsburg, Whitehall, Bexley, Berwick, the east side of Columbus and the eastern reaches of the county. She will appoint a chairman to directly head the solicitations in each of these areas.

Mrs. Vorys has many years experience as a UA worker, having served as captain, colonel and area chairman. Her civic activities include membership on the Board of Columbus Federation of Settlements and Junior League.

Mrs. Vorys said she considers the UA "a most important drive because you are working for 85 agencies in one campaign."

MRS. JOHN W. VORYS, recently named eastern division vice chairman in the United Appeal coming residential campaign, like most active UA volunteers, also serves as a mother. With her are her four children. From left are Jeanny (3), Diane (16), Margo (13) and Jay (10).

PREPARED FOR A PARADE

DECORATIONS FOR THE PARADE WEREN'T completed in a day, either. Each of the playgrounds featured bike decorations the day before. Here at Mills School, under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Norman, the boys and girls stand beside their colorful bikes. From the front are Bruce Arbaugh, Merilee Funk, Maureen Freggens, Tommy Bell, Richard Athey, Sarah Wyatt, Rose Marie Callahan, Karen Kohl, Vickie Bell, David Starling and Brad Funk. Miss Freggens wants it known that her bike display really belongs to Lisa Nahas, who had to be absent at the time.

Eric Bjorns Sailing To Scandinavia Soon

Mrs. Eric T. Bjorn, recently retired director of Friendship House, 115 W. Main-st, will sail with her husband Saturday, July 27, from New York for a month's tour om England and Scandinavia.

Fulfilling the dream of a lifetime, the Bjorns will take the S.S. Nieuw Amsterdam for Rotterdam. They will fly from Holland for a 26-day tour of Denmark, Norway, and Sweden. Special emphasis will be placed on their visit to Stockholm, the former home of Mr. Bjorn's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bjorn then will enplane for a colorful five-day trip through England, for generations the home of Mrs. Bjorn's side of the family.

Mrs. Bjorn culminated over 50 years' service in social work with her retirement as director of Friendship House Sept. 1, 1962. Her career began with 10 years' supervision in recreation and playground work prior to the first World War. Then during World War I she volunteered for an assignment to Camp Pike, Ark., as a member of the War Camp Community Service. She met Mr. Bjorn while he was soldiering at the camp.

After the war, Mrs. Bjorn took time out to rear her family. Then, until her appointment as director of the Columbus Servicemen's Club in World War II, she spent more than a decade in casework. In 1943, she started her career in settlement house work, joining the staff of the Central Community House. Later, she went to the Friendship House.

Mr. Bjorn also dedicated his life to the community. April, 1963 saw his retirement, after a quarter-century of service, from the Traffic-Engineering Department of the Columbus Safety Division.

An example of automation: A 19-ton bar of fiery steel enters a mill at one end and emerges at the other end at a speed of 27 miles an hour in a great metal ribbon nearly six feet wide, over a mile long and a tenth of an inch thick—entirely unguided by human hands. The mill is computer - controlled and makes a better product faster and more economically.

The $1.2 billion Arkansas River, project, scheduled for completion in 1970, ranks as America's biggest single works project. It tops even the St. Lawrence Seaway, in which American participation totaled $1 billion.

Deliver New Area Phone Books Soon

New 1963 telephone directories will begin arriving at Columbus area homes on Thursday, July 11, and should be completely delivered by July 17. An estimated 380,000 copies will be delivered by 650 phone company representatives.

According to phone company officials this year's book will be bound in a cobalt blue cover and contain 1,240 pages, four less than last year. It will weigh three pounds and seven ounces.

About 40 per cent of the subscribers listed in the new edition are listed with alldigit numbers and by the end of 1966 all telephones in the Columbus area will have an all-number calling number.

On Sunday, July 14, all telephone users in Greater Columbus will begin dialing "1" instead of "112" to direct dial a long distance call. In addition, the phone company said "424" will become the city-wide number for repair service.

Australian mound-builder birds are hatched fully feathered and fly and live an independent life immediately after emerging from the eggshell.

March 20, 1922, Pres. Warren G. Harding ordered the withdrawal of all American troops from Germany, following World War I. Those who were concerned that the action might speed the rehabilitation of Germany following its defeat had their worst fears realized when, less than one year after Harding's action, Adolf Hitler began his rise to power that was to result in World War II.

Dollar Day At Zoo Park

Dollar Day will be observed once again at Gooding's Amusement Park Saturday, July 13. For the purchase of a dollar ticket patrons may ride every ride in the park as many times as they like from noon until 10 p.m. According to Hal Elfort, general manager of the park. Located across from the Columbus Zoo, park rides include the Dodgem, Roller Coaster, Witch Castle and live ponies.

Patrons can use the free picnic grove, 17 acres of shady area, in case they bring a picnic lunch.

Dean Miller To Head New Morning Show On WLW-C

Network television star and native Ohioan Dean Miller has been signed by WLW-C, TV-4, to host its hour and a half studio audience - participation show each weekday from 9 to 10:30 a.m.

Miller, well known for his characterization of Matt Henshaw on "December Bride" and as the master of ceremonies on "Here's Hollywood," will include regulars Stan Robinson, Jeanne Cummins and the Al Waslon Quintet on the new "Dean Miller Show." The new program will hit the airways on Monday morning, July 29.

Features of the program will include interviews with personalities visiting in the Columbus area, interviews with authorities on local problems, contests for in-the-studio and at-home viewers, top prizes and two special attractions in which Miller will interview the wives of famous persons and people who work with well-known people.

Joining the cast of regulars will be a new female singer, 19-year-old Nancy Dawn, who has made many appearances on "Midwestern Hayride."

The format and on-the-air look of the new show will be the responsibility of producer, Edith Johnson, and director, Jim DeBoid.

Miller is a graduate of Ohio State University, a member of Phi Delta Theta Fraternity and won a letter at OSU in baseball. He worked as an announcer for WCOL following graduation.

He is the owner of Radio Station WLMJ in Jackson and has several business interests in the Cincinnati area. He is married to the former Idy Wagner of Sidney, O., and has one daughter. The Millers are expecting a second child in November.

Set Test For Peace Corps

A Peace Corps placement test has been scheduled for the Columbus area at 8:30 a.m. July 20 in room 204 of the Tonti Building, 34 N. High-st. The non-competitive test must be taken by anyone wishing to become a Peace Corps volunteer. This will be the last test given for persons hoping to enter training for a Peace Corps assignment in September or October.

Those selected for training will spend 10 to 12 weeks on a college campus or at a Peace Corps camp in Puerto Rico, studying the language, history and culture of their host country. Volunteers agree to spend two years in the Peace Corps, including training time. Minimum age is 18 and there is no upper age limit.

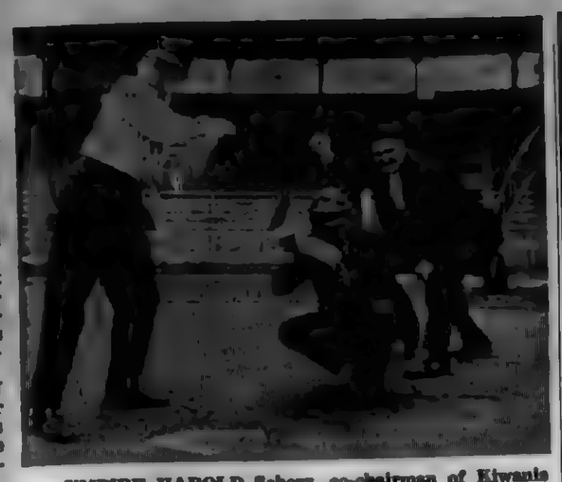
Kiwanis Nite Set July 17

All the Kiwanis clubs of Central Ohio have banded together to make this year's Kiwanis Night at Jet Stadium the best ever.

Kiwanis Night will be held Wednesday, July 17 at 8 p.m. when the Columbus Jets meet the Arkansas Travelers. To insure a good time for all members of the family, a fireworks display will follow the International League game.



GENERAL ADMISSION tickets are now on sale for $1.25. There are 6,000 tickets available. All profits will be used to help the youth of Central Ohio.

Tickets may be obtained from the Kiwanian neighbor in your area. For tickets contact: William J. Dawson, Jr., or L. B. Swinford (Hilltop); George F. Weber (West Side); Robert E. Horowitz or Dr. Charles Greiner (South Side); James M. Leonard or Jerry Hendricks (East Side); Eldon Berg or Fred Keeling (Reynoldsburg), or Bob Maxwell or Herbert C. Coram (Dublin, Grove City, Hilliard, West Jefferson and Lincoln Village areas).

HE'S NO. 1

CHARLES A. SWAIN, Cape May, N.J., businessman, was elected president of Kiwanis International, July 4, at the service organization's 48th annual convention in Atlantic City. Representatives of all Columbus area Kiwanis clubs were present. Swain will be official spokesman for 5,200 clubs in five nations. Phillip V. Stout, Columbus attorney, was chosen an international trustee.

UMPIRE HAROLD Schorr, co-chairman of Kiwanis Division 10E, signals a strikeout for General Chairman Dick Murphy (at bat) while catcher, Frank Jones, publicity chairman for the '63 Kiwanis Night at Jet Stadium, looks on. You won't strike out if you attend the big Kiwanis Night game, set for July 17, when the Jets meet the Arkansas Travelers. (See story).

4-H Horse Show Slated At County Fairgrounds

The Hilliard 4-H Equestrians will hold a junior horse show on July 20 at the Franklin County Fairgrounds, Hilliard.

At 10 a.m. there will be qualifying classes open to Franklin County 4-H members. At 2 p.m. classes will begin and are open to any exhibitors 21 years of age and under.

Winners in the afternoon open classes will be awarded trophies, ribbons and cash.

Refreshments will be provided on the grounds. Further information may be obtained by calling TR. 6-7293 or TR. 6-7557.

New Scout Camp Open At Greenhills

Central Ohio Council, Boy Scouts of America, opened the newest Boy Scout camp in Ohio this past week when the first group of 249 Scouts and leaders moved into Greenhills Scout Reservation for the minimum six days and nights necessary to qualify for long-term camping experience.

This group, the first of over 1,000 Scouts and leaders who will attend during the summer season, came from Franklin and Fairfield counties.

The camp, which is being developed with funds raised in the recent capital development fund drive, is located four miles southeast of Logan. It contains 1,200 acres in the picturesque, rugged hills of Hocking County.

Scouts attending the camp live in tents and practice the patrol method, doing their own cooking and handling all the chores of outdoor living, on a "share the work" basis. Their scoutmaster or post advisor direct their program.

Program facilities include modern swimming pool, rifle and archery range, burro packing, a three and one-half acre lake for boating, canoeing and fishing, miles of nature trails and a modern axe and rope yard.

The summer season at Greenhills Scout Reservation runs through Aug. 3. The program, under 15 trained leaders, will allow Scouts to qualify for most of the 25 outdoor merit badges.

Mrs. America Will Visit Jamestown

According to a spokesman for the C. V. Perry Co., realtors, 40 W. Gay-st, Mrs. America, Marilyn Mitchell, will be the guest of honor for the Grand Opening Celebration of Jamestown, built by Regency Homes, Inc. Jamestown is a new community located on Karl-rd, east of Worthington.

The beautiful wearer of the Mrs. America crown will greet visitors to six brand new homes in the newly developed area Sunday, July 14, from 1 to 6 p.m.

Scheduled to arrive in Columbus Thursday night, Mrs. America will make several area personal appearances Friday and Saturday on behalf of Regency Homes.

The new area features split-levels, bi-levels and ranch designs in the six homes which will be open for inspection during the celebration. Each home contains a long list of most-wanted features, catering to a wide variety of home-buying tastes. Each model points up the slogan of the builder, Regency Homes: "Good Living For Your Best Years."

Sale of the new homes is being handled by the C. V. Perry Co.

Five thousand visitors attend the Azalea Trail Festival in Mobile, Ala., each year.

What makes the tall corn grow TALL?

Sunlight. Water. And fertilizer—modern fertilizer that is made using natural gas as a chemical raw material.

Through the fantastic new science of petrochemistry, chemical engineers break natural gas into its basic elements — carbon and hydrogen — then combine these with other elements in the manufacture of hundreds of modern products including plastics, fertilizers, and fibers for use in the home, on the farm, and in the factory.

Because gas is versatile and controllable, there is virtually no limit to its industrial adaptability. In the home, and industry alike, natural gas is truly the "ageless" fuel.

All-Star Game Proves Yank Stars Only Human

By JACK WITTENMEIER

CLEVELAND, O. — That bit of baseball magic spelled Y-A-N-K-E-E-S lost a little luster here Tuesday at the 34th annual All-Star Game.

A partisan American League crowd, who had little more to cheer about after Hal Woodeshick and Don Drysdale put the silencer on their boys' bats, spent their vocal cords on AL skipper, Ralph Houk, and his pin-stripped underlings.

EVEN BEFORE Joe Pepitone fanned the first time, it was obvious that Houk was going to have to go a long way to do anything right.

The big surprise came, however, when the Yankees went from bad to worse instead of shutting their critic's mouth with the timely hit or the great stop afield.

Richardson ran into Versalles in a mixup at second and Pepitone elected to race Willie Mays to the bag while what proved to be the winning run scooted in from third.

IT WAS ROUGH enough for little Bobby to bang into one double play but with one out in the ninth and fans screaming for Norm Siebern (the AL's last pinch hitter), it seemed impossible for a repetition of history. The situation had "made for the Yankees" written all over it.

But it happened, proving, we guess, that the New York crew is just as human as anyone else.

But you can't blame the Yanks for the AL loss. Nellie Fox showed his age when the little White Sox infielder tried to beat Tommy Davis' peg from left field in what could have been a big first inning for the AL.

AND THE AMERICANS had NL hurlers on the ropes in most of the innings but only twice were they able to cash in with some scoring.

But it was still two-to-one for a Yankee "choke-up" among the paid admissions as the stadium crowd dispursed. And you can bet your last All-Star stub that that big first baseman in Boston will have a smile on his face twice as big as his batting average next time he crosses paths with Ralph Houk.

Tedder, Ketzmier Pace Whitehall's 3-0 Victory

Terry Tedder's six-hitter saddled Westerville with its first Summer League baseball loss Friday as Whitehall gained a 3-0 win.

Tedder fanned ten and walked but two, scoring what proved to be the winning run in the first frame on Joe Ketzmier's triple.

Enter Hobby Show At Coming State Fair

Pat Ziegler, 1431 Cunard-rd, was one of several Franklin County youngsters who recently entered exhibits in the Junior Division of the coming 110th Ohio State Fair, according to Ralph LaRue, Junior Fair Division manager.

Ziegler will vie for top honors and valuable premiums in the Hobby Show at the coming exposition.

HAWKS "STEAL" 9-4 WIN

Harley's Hawks literally stole a 9-4 victory from De-Sales Tuesday in a High School Summer Baseball League game.

The Hawks pilfered 10 bases and got four-hit pitching from Scott French.

Almost 2000 miles of divided, limited-access highways were completed in 1962, according to the National Association of Travel Organizations.

A MOMENT OF TRUTH . . . .

. . . FOR SOME ANXIOUS DRIVERS

BUT FOR OTHERS . . . .

. . . A TRIP TO THE PITS

SUNDAY WAS Soap Box Derby Inspection Day of Grandview High School. With pounding hearts and anxious expression, competitors for Saturday's annual race took their cars through the weigh-in and careful, fine-tooth comb check of Jaycee officials. Hartley photographer Harley Groom catches the expressions of the Derby check with this strip of pictures. At top, Pat Sergio, 502 Mithoff-st, keeps his eyes on the scale as Bob Held checks out his total weight. Ralph Loeseberg, 4090 Elna-st, anxiously watches officials check his car's brakes and steering in the second picture. But everybody didn't breeze through the inspection. In third photo, John Kelly, 85 S. Gift-st, wears the mask of bad news as Jaycee official (right) details alterations John will have to make before receiving the race "OK." In bottom photo, John ponders the list of adjustments in the pit area. Officials added a happy note to John's momentary gloom by explaining that the corrections were minor and shouldn't keep him out of the Derby race.

LEGION WRAP-UP

Comrade Post, G-C 9's Nab Division Title Ties

Grove City and Comrade Post (Whitehall) nailed down title ties in their respective American Legion divisions Sunday and need only one win in their remaining two games to secure berths in the district tournament next week.

Grove City, unbeaten in eight games now, had to scrap its way to a pennant share, downing upset-minded Columbus Post Sunday, 5-4.

WHITEHALL'S win came much easier as the Blue Division leaders enjoyed a forfeit win over Groveport.

Grove City hopped off to a 3-0 first-frame lead after two outs on consecutive singles by Dave Beets, Pat Mogan, Mel Williams and Bob Neely's two-[illegible].

William's second hit of the day, a triple, scored Beets, who reached base on a Columbus Post bobble, as G-C took a 3-2 lead in the third.

BUT POST bounced back with the tying runs in the fourth, forcing Grove City to kick up its winning tally in the bottom of the inning on a single by Paul Frasure, Dick Cuthiel's sacrifice and Dan Thatcher's run-producing single.

George Fannin and Scott Anderson blanked Post the rest of the way and G-C had its title share. The winners picked up two exhibition game wins during the week, 13-2 over Mt. Sterling and 8-1 over Springfield.

Neely and Mogan were the batting stars, the former collecting a grand slam homer vs. Springfield, the latter batting in four runs with three hits, including a triple against Mt. Sterling.

ELSEWHERE, Scioto (St. Charles) Post kept dimming Blue loop hopes alive by defeating Eastmoor, 7-2, in extra innings. Ted Ellerbrock and Pete LaFramboise (single and triple, respectively) provided the punch as Scioto pushed across five big runs in the second extra frame.

John Pettorini picked up the win in relief. Scioto faces Comrade Post Sunday but needs outside help to gain a title tie as the Whitehall club holds a two-game lead.

Also in the Blue circuit, Southway Post exploded for seven runs in the fifth inning to pull away from Capital City, 10-0. Rick Coverdale's three-hit pitching held CC in check while Bob White provided Coverdale with all the offense he really needed with a home run.

GLEN BAIRD blanked De-Sales on two hits but had to go two extra innings before his Hilliard mates could provide a 2-0 Gold League victory.

Gene Farington's three-hit mound work and a three-run home run blast by Don Clark were the big factors in Camp Chase's come-from-behind 10-4 win over Worthington.

Chase erased a possible mathematical elimination from the Gold title race, wiping out a 4-1 Worthington lead with a seven-run fourth frame. The winners pounded out 16 hits.

JIM SMITH'S bloop single off Tom Cherubini proved to be the lone hit as Lyn Fitzer and Cherubini toppled Comrade Post for Chase, 5-1, in an exhibition tilt Thursday. Jim Workman's long home run was the winner's big hit.

Unless G-C and Comrade Post get nipped with upsets, the pair should meet in the district playoff Wednesday and Thursday (July 17-18) in a best-of-three series at Grandview. Game time is at 5 p.m.

If a third game is necessary, the two clubs will play the following Saturday at 1:30 p.m.

CENTER WRAP-UP

Triple Tie In YYA; Cap Tops Teen Loop

Moving into the final games of the first round, the Jewish Center Y-YA Slo Pitch Softball League has three teams tied for first place.

At the top of the league with 3-1 records are Columbus Steel Supply, Rosati's Market, and Robins.

IN A BATTLE to escape the cellar, Tommy's Pizza gained its first victory of the season, defeating Burger Boy, 9-3. With the score tied 2-2 going into the fourth inning, Tommy's Pizza broke loose for four runs on singles by Jeff Gordon, Rick Bender and Steve Lipson followed by a long home run by Steve Rosenthal.

In the fifth inning, Tommy's put the game out of reach as the Pizzamen scored three more runs on three singles and two doubles. Jeff Gordon led Tommy's offense with two singles and a home run.

Marv Katz, Bender and Lipson all had two hits for the victors. Joe Engelman and Lee Siegel led the hitting for Burger Boy with two hits.

IN A ONE-SIDED affair, the Robins team bombarded Gilbert Shoes, 21-6. With the Robins Club leading by four runs after the second inning, they turned the game into a rout by scoring seven runs in the third inning.

A long home run by Stan Ross ignited another rally by Robins in the fifth inning. Doubles by Ron Erkis and Herb Wasserstrom sparked the inning. Pres Gurwin and Wasserstrom each had three hits for the Robins Club, while Ross collected a triple along with his home run.

Ron Boster continued his excellent hitting with four singles, while Jack Alexander had a single, double and home run for the losers.

IN THE CRUCIAL game of the night, Rosati's Market handed Columbus Steel Supply its first setback of the season, 9-6. The victory enabled Rosati's to move into a tie for the lead along with the Steelmen and the Robins team.

After the first inning it looked as if Columbus Steel would continue along its winning ways as they scored four runs on six hits. This was their only big inning as Len Greenwold, Rosati's pitcher, held the Steelmen to two runs the remainder of the game.

The turning point of the game came in the fourth inning as Rosati's sent 13 men to the plate in a six-run inning. With one out and two men on base, Corky Friedenberg and Wes Rosenthal hit consecutive doubles which started the comeback. Phil Finke drove in the other three runs.

Norm Eig and Marks led the winner's attack with four hits apiece. Ron Golden led the losers with two hits, one a home run.

TWO TEAMS are tied for first place in the Center's Slo-Pitch Softball Pony League as a result of last week's set of games.

The Gold Team held on to first place, along with the Blue Team, by defeating Capitol Post, JWV, 17-7. In a battle for first place the Blues outlasted the Reds in a wild 12-inning marathon.

With the scored tied 6-6 going into the twelfth inning, Marv Ballen's Blues broke loose for six runs in the top of the inning. Bruce Roth and Randy Davis picked up the mound wins.

ACTION IN the Center Teen Softball League saw Capital AZA trip Epsilon, 3-1, and Pops Dworkin AZA defeat Heart of Ohio, 16-10.

Capital is now the league's only undefeated club with two wins. Mark Boster led the hitters with three hits. Mike Talis produced the Epsilons lone run with a circuit clout in the sixth inning. Morris Negrin picked up the win.

In a slugfest Pops Dworkin gained its 2nd win. Dworkin sluggers included John Hoffheimer with four hits and Phil Finke with a home run. Gary Stewart of Heart of Ohio hit safely three times while teammates Bob Kamry and Mike Shavitz clouted home runs.

Patience Prime Factor For Fishing Success

INSIDE ON THE Outdoors By ROD COCHRAN

The sun was a fast-disappearing red ball in the West when the first white bass was caught and hauled aboard. There were four of us on the boat, anchored off North Bass Island, and we were all glad to see this fish. We all cast toward the shore where a school must be feeding, and suddenly all of us had a fish.

It had been a long day. Al Hare, Ellis Foster, Ron Carlson and I had left home at 4 a.m. on our trek to Lake Erie. And the white bass did not show themselves until an hour before dark.

BUT THAT hour of fast and furious fishing made the trip worthwhile. When we could no longer see, we put our rods away and returned to Put-in-Bay for the night, guided by the beam of the Perry Peace Monument.

Fishing was not slow — we caught eight kinds of fish on artificial lures. Our catch included smallmouth bass, sheepshead, two goldfish, a carp a walleye, a perch, rock bass. Now white bass were added to the list. It was a satisfying day of fishing, and we came in tired after hours spent in the sun.

There was a lesson to be learned that Saturday, and that is if you expect to catch fish you must keep fishing. West reef had been full of boats all day that kept milling around looking for white bass. Most of the anglers gave up and began casting for sheepshead, or fishing on the bottom for perch.

ALONG ABOUT 4 p.m. the parade back to the dock began, and we joined in. But the important thing is that we returned after eating to find exactly five boats on the reef, and while we reaped our silvery harvest there were only two other boats in sight.

Just about 99 per cent of the fishermen missed the good fishing, because they took their 9 to 5 work day into the outdoors with them. This time of year you must put in some overtime to get good fishing.

White bass schools have scattered, and are by no means as easy to find as they were two or three weeks ago. Some of the old "pros" who specialize in catching white bass, and who catch a hundred or more in an hour or so, have given it up for the year.

BUT YOU CAN find schools out in the lake through July and August, but you must look for them, and often they will leave after only a few minutes of fishing.

Our impression after two days of fishing was that the lake must be full of sheepshead. They provided fishing action almost the whole time we were out, and everyone hit an artificial.

Many of them hit near the surface of the water, grabbing the lure almost like a smallmouth. They do not leap or jump, but their battle is dogged as they bore towards the bottom.

MORE THAN one angler's day has been saved by these unsophisticated fish that take live bait or artificials.

Lake Erie is much cussed and discussed, and it's certainly true that a walleye is now a rare catch. But even so, the fishing potential that yet remains is almost astounding to a down-stater.

There are little bays, points and reefs all around the islands that seem to be overlooked by the fishing crowd, and they all offer adventure and fishing. An angler from this area would do well to try Lake Erie a time or two each year.

SUMMER LEAGUE

West, 'Hounds On Top; Playoff Set Saturday

West and Grove City will place perfect 10-0 marks on the line Saturday when the two divisional winners meet at G-C's Community Field (2 p.m.) for the Summer High School Baseball League championship.

The Cowboys rolled over Watterson twice Saturday, 11-5 and 8-5, to gain their title, banking on early scoring in both games.

THE BRONCS jumped off to a 5-0 lead in the first game but the Eagles bounced back with that same amount of markers to gain a 5-5 tie after three frames.

The Cowboys sent all eight of their nightcap runs across the plate in the first three frames while Watterson did the same in two innings.

Grove City broke up a tight pitching duel between the Greyhounds' Tom Boos and Hartley's Scott French by pushing across a final-inning run for a 3-2 squeaker in the opener.

Boos allowed Hartley but two hits while French scattered six G-C bingles.

THE 'HOUNDS didn't fool around in the nightcap, however, hopping off to a 7-0 lead after three frames, enroute to a 10-1 verdict.

Bill Thomas cut the Hawks off with a single hit while Ron Burkett and Rich Murphy banged out back-to-back homers in the third to key a 12-hit offense.

Bishop Ready got route-going mound performances from Pat Ellis and Bob Helcher as the Silver Knights swept a doubleheader from Johnstown, 3-2 and 6-4.

South moved into the runner-up spot behind Grove City with a double whammy over St. Charles, 3-1 and 7-3.

Terry Emrich spaced six hits in the opener while the Bulldogs scored all their runs in a big first inning. The Rebs used the same script in the nightcap, scoring five in the first while South's Selvage and Emrich limited the Cardinal sluggers to four bingles.

Council Approves Additional Cash To Improve Waverly-st

The appropriation of additional monies to pay the city cost of improving Waverly-st and the authorization for the director of public service to enter into an agreement with Tannenbaum Electric Co. to perform electrical work in hangar building 39 at the Columbus Municipal Airport was given by the Columbus City Council at its regular Monday night meeting.

Another ordinance authorizing the director of public service to enter into a supplemental agreement with American Airlines to provide for a reduction of 583 square feet on the second floor of the Columbus Muncipal Airport was also passed.

In other action council passed an ordinance to rezone the west side of Elizabeth-av, 140 feet north of Livingston-av, from a residential district to an apartment and office building district.

A second ordinance to rezone two parcels of land on the north side of Livingston-av, between Walnut Creek and Lonsdale-rd, from apartment-residential to industrial and from restricted residential to apartment-residential.

Left-Turn Ban Now Enforced

Enforcement of the left-turn ban at College and Livingston-avs, postponed for a month to allow motorists to become familiar with the new signal system, was started Monday.

When the signals were originally installed, about 57 south-bound motorists were arrested at the intersection.

At Mayor Westlake's request, Safety Director Albert G. Giles ordered $10 fines returned to 34, and citations against the remaining motorists dismissed by the court.

Giles halted arrests at the intersection until new signs were installed and motorists could become acquainted with the system.

Reynoldsburg Opens Police Radio Dispatcher Exams

Reynoldsburg Police Chief William (Bruce) Umpleby announced an open competitive civil service examination for the position of police radio dispatcher to be conducted in the City Council chambers, second floor of the Municipal Building, on July 20.

Sectional Track Meets Highlight Playground Programs

Scottwood . . .

Scottwood Junior Jets are going strong. Brent Lilly hit two home runs over the fence to lead Team Two to victory.

Junior Boys' Softball team beat Courtright 2-0 last week.

Last week children in arts and crafts made sit-upons, lanyards and paper mosaic designs. Arts and crafts classes for boys and girls nine years and older are held Tuesdays and Thursdays at 1 p.m. Classes for boys and girls eight and younger are held Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays at 1 p.m.

Jo Traphagan won the Junior Girls' Sectional Horseshoe Tournament at Schiller Park last Wednesday.

Junior Girls' Softball team played Fairmoor last Friday and won 12-8. Two new team members are "Hooker" Stuart and "Hazel" Bollie.

Scottwood Playground Family Night is July 12, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. Parents are invited to come and participate in the regular playground activities.

Pinecrest . . .

This week is registration time for boys and girls, ages eight to 12, for the Indian Village Day Camp. Cost is $2.50 for the entire week. Transportation will be provided to and from camp. For information call BE. 5-2133.

Last week the four-square and tetherball tournaments were held. Winners in the girls' four-square were Maria Mormino and Rhonda Gibson (9-12) and Sandy Schaub and Cheryl Mox, (13-15). Among the boys winners were Mike Lynch and Don Hoffman (8); Ron Quinn and Sim Pignatelli (9-12), and Rick Cashin and Dana Morrison (13-15).

In tetherball, winning boys were Jim Marcantonio (8) and Joseph White (9-12). Sandy Schaub was the girls' winner.

Jim Marcantonio and Joseph White went on to win the sectional tournament in tetherball, and the team of Schaub and Mox won the girls 13-15 age group in the Sectional Four-Square Tournament.

Leawood . . .

Drama Festival will be held Friday, July 19. Leawood Playground's production is "When You Wish Upon a Star."

Cast members are Greg Held, Linda Hall, Lee Held, Dale Thompson, Richard Mills, Carol Miller, Donald Storts, Annette Redding Nympha Thompson and David Hyder.

Bob Held is chairman of the scenery committee. Georgia Schiff, Norma Thompson, Vera Thompson and Bud Brown are committee members.

The Traveling Zoo visited the playground last week. Many parents brought their younger children.

Children who are eight to 12 years old and have not registered for Indian Dav Camp should do so before July 17. The bus leaves Leawood daily at 8:30 a.m. and returns at 5:30 p.m. The camp has many activities not available at the playground, including daily supervised swimming.

The Lantern Parade will be held July 26. Activities for the event have already begun. Lanterns will be started next week.

In Junior Jet baseball, Team One is in first place with a 3-0 record. Teams Two and Four are tied for second with 2-2 records. Team Three has a 1-3 record.

Krumm Park...

The Krumm Park softball team defeated Shepard 10-8, with Ted Urban fanning 10 batsmen and hitting a home run with the bases filled.

Boys on the first team in the Junior Jet League are E. Douglas, Mike Priestas, M. Wollett, H. Gray, E. Phipps, B. Powers, M. Hines, H. Wilkes, C. Price, T. Sims, W. Potter, W. Elzey, R. Carder and R. Lee.

Tetherball team members representing Krumm at Poindexter Playground Sectional Tournament were Mike Smith, Gay Vaughn, Mary Welch, Jennie Goodman, Carmen Huckleby and Leslie Rhyan.

Milburn Eldridge will return next week from vacationing with his two aunts and uncles in South Carolina and in Lexington, Ky.

Advisory council includes J. J. Priest, affiliated with Ohio State University; Clarence Gray, Judy Ford and Katherine Jakeway.

Day Camp registration should be made before July 22.

Fairmoor...

Fairmoor had two winners in the sectional tournaments held last week in four-square, tetherball and horseshoes. Jim Smith won the tetherball championship and teamed up with Wayne Ellis to capture the four-square crown.

The undefeated Intermediate Boys' Softball team won a victory over Scottwood.

Intermediate Girls' Softball team won a 21-11 victory over Willis Park, led by the hitting of Asuman Kurtis (three hits, including a home run), Joyce Feathers (three hits), Barb Hefner (three hits) and Marilyn Walsh (two hits), and the clutch pitching of Martha Arnett and Marilyn Walsh.

Other members of the team are Sue Ehlmann, Janis Feathers, Rezzan Kurtis, Barb Hackman, Jeri Smith and Judy Tyo.

Junior Girls' team lost its first game to Scottwood 12-8.

Members of the team are Karen Slane, Linda Pennington, Debbie Jacobs, Mary Pat Ehlman, Debbie Smith, Gay Marsh, Beth Reece, Susan Koelbel, Carol Neubauer, Nancy Walsh, Sheryl Arnold, Sibyl McCualsky, Kathy Veit, Dale Wirt and Mary Sziuser.

Fairmoor's opportunity to use Indian Village Day Camp is the week of July 29. All boys and girls from eight to 12 are welcome. The $2.50 cost per child includes milk, transportation, insurance and general craft materials.

In Junior Jet action last Wednesday, Terry Kinney's Team Five, sparked by the no-hit, shutout pitching of blazing Jim Pettorini, beat Ron Harper's team 4-0. Pettorini's no-hitter and 16 strikeouts offset a fine pitching job by Phil Mirvis, who struck out 13 batters and gave up only one legitimate hit, a home run by Pettorini.

This game was the rescheduled game originally intended for last Tuesday.

In eight and nine year old National League last Wednesday, John McLain had a double, triple, and grand-slam home run. He drove in nine runs to support teammate Steve Veit's pitching, as Rusty Powell and Dave Todt's team Three beat Team One 35-7.

The losers were led by Jerry Belt, Terry Jones, and Jeff Polley.

The winners got fine performances from Kevin McDaniel (two hits), Karl Schultz (triple and double), and Steve Veit (two-run triple).

Teams Three and Four played a game which will be completed this week. At this time the score is 9-8 in favor of Team Three in the last half of the final inning.

Tom Derr hit a two-run home run and Dave Trout had two hits for Pat Zill's Team Four, and Gus Bowman had two hits to back Eric Ireland's fine pitching for Steve Casto and Mark Gussler's Team Three.

In National League action on Friday, Mark Gussler and Steve Casto's Team Three beat Team One, 26-21. For Team One, Bryon Ward had four hits, Mike Curto had four hits including two home runs. Ricky Neff had three hits, and Terry Belt had three hits.

For Team Three, Pat Curto had two home runs, two singles and a triple, plus seven runs batted in; Tom Stavroff had a home run and four RBI's; Steve Rymer had three hits; Gus Bowman had four hits and played fine defense, and spark plug Monty Hannah closed out several of Team One's rallys with sensational fielding at shortstop and also found time to hit a home run and a triple and drive in five runs.

Pat Zill's Team Four won over Team Three, 10-9, helped by Jim Zill's three-run triple and Bob Danko's two hits. Steve Veit had two triples and three RBI's for the losers.

This Is IMPACT!

When a community reads that its schools are better, or worse, than average — that's IMPACT!

When a town learns its police department is corrupt, or incorruptible — that's IMPACT!

When a suburb learns it is to have a new industry or a new recreational center or a new municipal building, or it isn't — that's IMPACT!

When you want to keep up with integration in Birmingham, developments in the Far East, and Rocky's wedding in New York, the Big City Dailies provide the answer.

But if you're interested in what's happening on Main street, in village elections, and in the schools, you'll read about it in your local paper and nowhere else — that's IMPACT!

Just imagine the IMPACT if you didn't have a local suburban paper. Who would attend the Village Theatre productions, subscribe to the Boy Scout fund drive, or know when to — and when not to — sprinkle the lawn?

And when Kiwanis sold its peanuts, the Lions aided the blind, and the Little League was holding a Pancake Day, how would you know where to go to help out — that's IMPACT!

We recognize our obligation — to our readers, our community, our churches and schools, our advertisers — to maintain the impact of good journalism, outstanding effort and a desire to serve.

We appreciate your plaudits, the responsibility you have cast upon us, and reaffirm our pledge to do what's right for our community.

Langdon, 75 Powhatan-av, and John E. Nippert, 1615 Berkeley-rd, filed their petitions with M. W. Carruthers of Groveport, assistant clerk of the Board of Elections, June 26. Calhoun, Columbus attorney since 1951 and member of the Board of Education since January, 1963, is chairman of the city-wide Citizens Committee for "Neighborhood Seminars on School Program and Finance." This spring the committee held 138 local sessions dealing with parent-school relationships. Langdon, president of the Columbus Board of Education, is manager of finance and accounting at Battelle Memorial Institute. He stated that "It is essential that schools use good business practices while they spend millions of dollars." Nippert, vice-president and treasurer of Nippert Electric Products Co. on W. Mound-st, states a need "to improve college preparation. For those who will not go to college, we must expand vocational and technical training facilities."

Labeled for PROTECTION

Some medicines may be taken internally; others are for external use only; therefore labels caution us as to their proper use. These precautions are for our own protection and good.

All things in life are not so clearly marked as to their proper use. The Bible is our source and guide, our label.

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.

Psalm 119, 105

ATTEND CHURCH, STUDY GOD'S WORD

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which shows will and him how to live as a child of God.

In addition, there will be door prizes, free refreshments, pony rides, horseshoe pitching and races. Pictured above, seated, are Thomas M. Hinton (left), general committee chairman, and Richard McDonald, games. Standing, left to right, are Michael Ginley, prizes; Denny Reynolds, pony rides, and Joseph M. Murphy, membership. The picnic and outing is for members and their families only. Those desiring membership should contact Joseph M. Murphy, 263-0190.

Be Prepared For Holidays; Order Your Flag Kit Now

The passing of Independence Day, 1963, has pointed up the fact that many local families either do not possess an American flag or did not bother to display it on their nation's birthday. In many cases only one or two homes prevented a neighborhood from presenting a complete "Avenue of Flags" on the Fourth of July.

Until the limited supply is gone, Hartley Newspapers will continue to offer a 50-star American flag kit and a one-year subscription to any of the seven Hartley Newspapers at a special reduced rate, in the hope that every home which did not display a flag will be able to do so in the future.

This kit contains not only a beautiful 3x5 colorfast cotton "Star Spangled Banner" but also a six-foot wooden staff, top piece, halyard, window socket and book on flag etiquette. This kit ordinarily sells for $5.98.

For the remainder of this offer, the flag kit and a one-year subscription to your favorite Hartley Newspaper valued at $3, are being offered for the special combination price of only $5. This is a savings of nearly $4.

Hartley Newspapers have already made several hundred of these flag kits available to local readers at this special, reduced rate. Only a few of the flags are left, and the offer is limited to the current supply.

If yours was one of the few homes in your neighborhood not displaying "Old Glory" on the Fourth, be sure to get your order in as quickly as possible. Mail your name, address, and specify the name of the Hartley Newspaper to which you wish to subscribe, to Hartley Newspapers, 2465 W. Broad-st, Columbus. Be sure to enclose your check or money order for this special combination price.

Don't let another patriotic holiday pass without being prepared to display your national emblem in front of your home.

BUSINESS REVIEW

Eastmoor Electric Equipped For Wiring And Installation

Specializing in rewiring and electrical repair service for older buildings and the installation of electrical circuits in new structures, the Eastmoor Electric Co., 500 N. Stanwood-rd, was started in 1954 and has been a successful enterprise ever since.

Originally the company specialized only in residential wiring and electrical work, but has now expanded facilities to take care of commercial and industrial wiring and installation.

Radio-equipped service trucks, which are usually found in all areas of Central Ohio, are available for fast, efficient service and can be dispatched on a few moments' notice by the Columbus office.

Many of the jobs handled by the organization are done on a contract basis and free estimates for any type of electrical service or rewiring job are available by contacting the company's main office.

A member of the Ohio Home Builders' Association and the National Electrical Contractors Association, the organization maintains a large supply of equipment and employs a staff of qualified electricians to furnish service for any type of electrical project.

Past projects include industrial wiring at the Columbus North American Aviation Co. plant, wiring and special lighting effects for the Columbus Baptist Temple, various housing projects, including Kar-Mel Village, and several school construction projects.

The company is managed by W. D. (Darrell) Horne, who is assisted by electrical engineer Tom Lindner and the chief of residential electrical work, Al Smith.

'OVAL ELEGANCE'

OVAL-SHAPED DIAMONDS are displayed by Jack Kull, manager of Kull and Sons Jewelers, 20 S. High-st, as part of the large window display entitled "Oval Elegance." The unusual gems are being shown through Friday, July 12. Kull said the large collection is comprised of both mounted and unmounted stones varying in weight from one-fifth to two and five-eighths karats. It was created by the same diamond firm that cut the famous Yonker diamonds. Of particular interest are the many original and clever designs in engagement, wedding and special occasion rings.

Air Conditioning Makes Difference In Discomfort

People who are uncomfortable on many summer days should buy a relative humidity meter, according to Arthur D. Bogen, president of Bogen Heating and Air Conditioning, 334 E. Livingston-av. This device, according to Bogen, might make them feel a little better to know when their complaints are justified.

Such a meter, Bogen stated, frequently comes in combination with thermometer and barometer, decorative enough for a place in the living room. Or one can be purchased where room thermometers are sold, sometimes for as little as $1.

Armed with a humidity meter, the uncomfortable person can quickly determine whether or not it is the humidity level that is causing his discomfort. Research indicates, Bogen said, that many people will be uncomfortable if the humidity is 90 per cent and the temperature is higher than 71 degrees.

Following are other discomfort situations, drawn by the National Warm Air Heating and Air Conditioning Association from a U. S. Weather Bureau temperature-humidity index graph:

Relative humidity at 80 per cent and temperature over 72 degrees, relative humidity at 70 per cent and temperature over 73 degrees, relative humidity at 60 per cent and temperature over 74 degrees, relative humidity at 50 per cent and temperature over 75 degrees or relative humidity at 40 per cent and temperature over 77 degrees.

The drier the air, the hotter you can stand it, but even with a 20 per cent humidity, you're likely to be uncomfortable if the temperature climbs into the 80's.

In areas such as Columbus and Central Ohio, where humidity levels are high throughout the summer months, an economically operated all-electric complete home air conditioning unit is the best method of insuring a constant comfort level. In addition, these units remove dust, pollen and air-borne bacteria from the air to provide a cleaner and more healthful atmosphere, Bogen concluded.

Miami Valley Steam Threshers Plan For Fourteenth Annual Show

The Miami Valley Steam Threshers Association, Inc., a non-profit organization, will hold its 14th annual show Friday, July 26, through July 28 at Goshen Memorial Park, Mechanicsburg, O.

Features of the display and program include parades, antique displays, old-time threshing exhibitions, the sawing of wood and shingles, and a working flint mill. On Friday evening Stradling's Rodeo will present a two-hour program.

On Saturday morning exhibitions of the various steam machines at the show will be featured, followed by a parade of the engines led by the Mechanicsburg High School Band at 1:30 p.m. Saturday night's program includes a western horse show at 7 p.m. and a western square dance beginning at 8 p.m.

Sunday's activities will get underway with church services at 10 a.m., featuring music played on a steam calliope. The service will be conducted by Robert E. Price, Logansport, Ind., chaplain of the association.

Sunday afternoon highlights include the grand parade of engines starting at 1:30 p.m. and an antique auto parade at 2:30 p.m. Threshing and other activities will complete the show on Sunday afternoon.

Meals and refreshments will be served on the grounds. Admission charge to the grounds is 75 cents, with children under 14 admitted free.

Conservationists have calculated that more than 200 species of mammals and birds have vanished off the face of the earth—because of man—since the beginning of the Christian era. In the 20th century, mammal species have been disappearing around the world at the rate of one a year.

Simpson Elected To CPA Group

Theodore R. Simson, a Bexley certified public accountant, has been elected a member of the Ohio Society of Certified Public Accountants, with offices at 79 E. State-st.

Simson is associated with First Investment Co., 2244 Mock-rd, and his home is 289 S. Roosevelt-av, Bexley. He holds a CPA certificate obtained by written examination.

Michigan is the only state in the Union to be completely split in two parts.

Ceremonies Opened City Safety Exposition

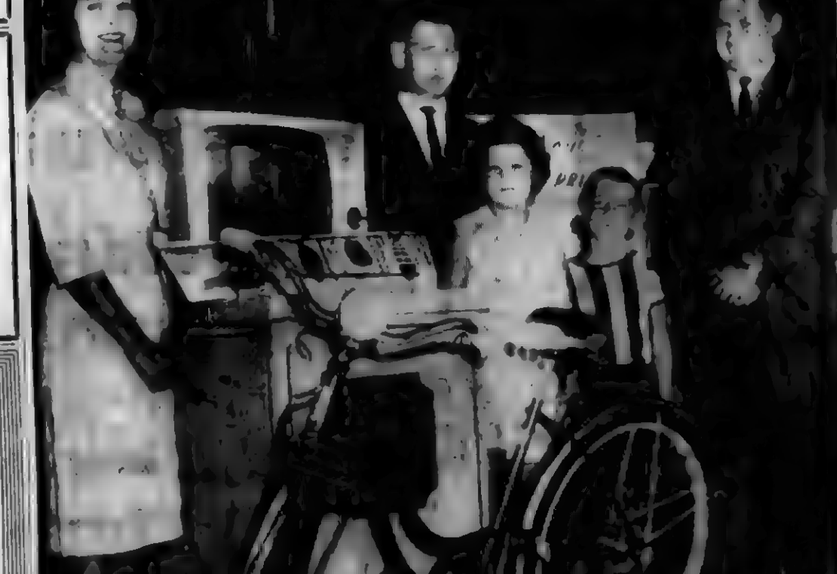
Ribbon - cutting ceremonies took place in front of the Western Electric plant, 6200 E. Broad-st, at 12:45 p.m. Saturday, July 6, officially opening the third annual community-wide Safety Exposition and Vehicle Safety Check.

Columbus Mayor W. Ralston Westlake was represented at the ceremony by Albert Giles, Columbus Director of Public Safety, and Chief Walter Strickfaden of the Columbus Fire Department, who participated in the ceremony with a member of Western Electric's management.

Al Lipfert Celebrates Grand Opening Of Texaco Station

Alvin (A1) Lipfert, well-known Lockbourne Texaco dealer, has announced the opening of a new service station, the largest Texaco station of this type in the district, opposite the main gate of Lockbourne Air Force Base, at Alum Creek-rd and Rt. 665.

According to Lipfert, the new station will feature nine service bays and offer all types of automotive maintenance along with popular Texaco products.



Alvin Lipfert

Lipfert also is the owner of a Texaco bulk plant and is an authorized dealer for Firestone products.

The Grand Opening Celebration will get underway Monday, July 15, and continue through July 21. Free prizes for visitors and customers include two Dalmatian puppies, fire chief's hats for the children, lighter fluid and car lubrications. With each purchase a ticket will be presented to the customer entitling a child to a ride in a helicopter for $1. Helicopters will be present at the station each evening of the celebration from 4 to 7 p.m. to take the children for a ride over Columbus.

Lipfert, a resident of 1491 Rahmell-rd, has operated a service station in the same area for several years and is well known for his participation in civic affairs. Early in March he was named the Ousanding Southern Kiawanian for 1963 by the Kiwanis Club of Southern Columbus. Lipfert served as chairman of the club's license tag sale and the Key Club.

COMING TO McDONALD'S

LOCAL TELEVISION PERSONALITIES Cinderella and the Mechanical Man will meet at McDonald's Carryout Restaurant, 3643 S. High-st, at the Great Southern Shopping Center, Saturday, July 13, from 3 to 4 p.m., to help celebrate the sale of the billionth hamburger by the popular restaurant chain. Free prizes will be given to visitors. The McDonald "Blimp" flying in the sky will mark the place of the celebration.

AWARDS FROM FRANKLIN FEDERAL

LUCKY WINNERS OF THE GRAND OPENING CELEBRATION prizes at the new Franklin Federal, East, located at 3780 East Livingston Avenue, are from the left, Fern Curry of 1257 Dellwood-av; Arthur Kaplan, 1246 Pierce-av; Jo Ann Williams, 1289 Dellwood-av, and Larry Capehart, 1218 Carolwood-rd. Branch manager James W. Bope looks on from right. Other winners of similar prizes in the past were Linda Carol Luft, 1760 Lattimer-dr; William Fleming, 3943 Groves-rd; Erwin Wagenknecht, 1701 E. Livingston-av; Becky Rutherford, 1219 Carolwood-av; Robert Hite, 1328 Beechwood-rd, and Mary M. Lower, 4564 Dundee-av. Awards will continue through Aug. 3.

Shepard . . .

Anyone interested in track and field is invited to come to Shepard School. It is not necessary to be fast. Anyone who is not a runner can enter events in shot put, discus, high jump, softball throw, pole vault, broad jump and the hop, step and jump.

Intermediate Boys defeated St. Dominic 14-0. Bob Eland pitched a shutout game. Two home runs by Raymond Muse, one with bases loaded, and a home run by Ken Brown were all the hits needed.

Good fielding support by Stan Shepherd, Larry Burke, Dewight Cartier, Don Johnson and Bill Davis helped Shepard get its second straight win.

Shepard Girls defeated Pilgrim 14-12. Mona Hicks hit a grand slam home run and Carolyn Collins was the winning pitcher.

Shepard Junior Boys lost to Maryland 11-4 in a close game.

Duane Clark starred both in the field and at bat. Good fielding by James Gwen, Gary Mixon, Herbert Wilkes and Jeff Johnson, plus some long hits by John Doaks, Moe McClaine and Mark Ballard, went by the boards when Maryland came up with six runs in the last inning.

Junior leaders for the week are David Bridges, Jackie Eiland, Marilyn Rutledge, Teresa Vincent and Dale Rucker.

Anyone interested in dramatics may ask Miss Holloway about the Shepard Minstrels.

Indian Village Day Camp for the Shepard area will be the week of July 22. Cost is $2.50 for a week. Those interested should make reservation as soon as possible, for there is limited room available at the camp.

Willis . . .

Willis Park Drama Festival will be held Friday, July 19. The play will be "The Sentimental Scarecrow."

This week's program in arts and crafts is papier-mache work, painting, hand plaques and making jewelry from sea shells. During the past week string paintings, lanyards and gimp bracelets were made.

Willis had two winners in the Sectional - Four - Square Tournament held last week. The winners, Gail Frost and Janice Gillespie, will play in the city tournament.

Junior Jet baseball started last week. The first two games were rained out. On Wednesday Team Four beat Team One 13-9.

In softball, the Junior Boys beat Pinecrest 8-6. Junior Girls outscored Pinecrest 18-9. The winning streak ended when Intermediate Girls lost to Fairmoor, 18-12.

The following Junior Jet games will be played this week: Monday, One vs. Four; Tuesday, Three vs. Two; Wednesday, One vs. Three; Friday, Two vs. Four.

Courtright . . .

Courtright Playground craft program continues to grow larger. One July 3, May Hartman, crafts specialist, made her bi-weekly visit and taught children how to make gimp bracelets. Craft period is held daily from 1 to 3 p.m.

In the Sectional Horseshoe Tournament at Schiller Park, Cheri Compton was victorious in the Intermediate Girls' division. Other finalists were Bob Brock in Senior Boys, Dennis Leach in Intermediate Boys and Linda Crosley in Junior Girls.

In Sectional Four-Square Tournament at Courtright School, George Sims and Terry Card were winners in the Junior Boys' Division, and Steve Grubb and John Johnson won in the Intermediate Boys.

for planting of the shrubs.

Use of city labor, Parks explained, would allow purchase of a greater number of plants.

Council President C. J. Kurtz, Jr., referred to the service committee a petition asking council to vacate the first alley east of Parkview-av, north from Main-st.

Residents of abutting property termed parts of the alley "an eyesore" and said the narrow alley has never been improved. If vacated, alley property would revert to owners of abutting property.

paper office to claim his $139 in "Confederate" money.

Asked what he was planning to do with the jackpot cash, Spicer replied, "I'll turn the money over to my wife. She'll probably go on a shopping spree."

Other winners in last week's "Confederate" Money Contest each claimed $1 in Hartley Newspaper cash. They were Robert E. West, RFD 1, West Jefferson; Mrs. L. C. Andrews, 986 Bucknell-dr, Whitehall, and Lewis E. Wetzel, 68 W. Town-st, West Jefferson.

This means the new jackpot, which starts this week in all Hartley Newspapers, is worth $17 in "Confederate" money. All money not claimed in each week's contest will be added to this amount to establish the following week's jackpot.

Any reader can claim the $1 in "Confederate" prize money by simply mailing the advertisement containing the winning insignia to Hartley Newspapers, 2465 W. Broad-st.

Twenty of these insignias are placed in 20 separate newspapers each week and are always printed in color other than black. The "1" emblems are just like the one printed in this column.

The reader who finds the "5" emblem, like the one in this column, is eligible to win $5 in "Confederate" cash. However, if the finder is a paid subscriber and brings the entire paper containing the winning emblem to the Hartley Newspaper office, then he will win the entire amount of the current jackpot. Like the "1" emblems, the "5" is always printed in a color other than black.

All entries must be received by Hartley Newspapers not later than noon on Monday following publication of the paper. This contest is not open to employes of Hartley Newspapers, including carriers, or their families.

Saylor of Berea, who donated $100,000 toward the project.

The administration building will be constructed on the south side of Mound-st directly east of Huber-Spielman Hall, on a site now occupied by three dormitory annexes. Work began this week on razing the three houses.

Yochum Hall will contain a basement level and two stories. It will be constructed of brick with Bolardi tile panels at the entrance and in the windows spandrels. The entire building will be air conditioned.

Most of the administrative offices are presently located in Lehmann Hall. Upon completion of Yochum Hall, residence space for an additional 40 men will be made available on the first floor of Lehmann Hall.

The women's residence and administration building are the second and third buildings to be constructed within Capital's $10 million expansion program. Dedicated last fall was Schaaf Hall, a 102-man residence hall.

State Civitan Conference Slated Here

Ohio Civitan officials will hold a district conference Saturday, July 13, at the Everglades Restaurant, W. Broad-st, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Officers of 21 service clubs from 16 Ohio cities are scheduled to attend.

George V. Hull, Nashville, Tenn., recently elected vice-president of Zone Five, Civitan International (which includes Ohio), is slated as the luncheon speaker at the gathering.

His speech will be an outline of the relationship between the local club and the international organization.

The morning session will consist of reports from the recently - held international convention and a discussion by Ohio District Governor W. Wallace Stover, 2140 Lane-rd, on more effective Civitan service in Ohio.

The afternoon session will be devoted to workshops for leaders of the various Civitan projects and classes of instruction for newly-elected officers.

Stanley J. Taylor, 4950 Hamden-wy, lieutenant governor of the Greater Columbus area and former West Columbus club president, is in charge of registrations.
